A large manufacturing plant drawing the bulk of its supply from this area is the M. & R. Dietetic Laboratories, Inc., located in the city of Columbus, Ohio. This one plant receives approximately as much milk as all of the Columbus fluid milk handlers combined. It formerly maintained Columbus inspection on a sizeable portion of its milk supply. In 1931, it received milk from 1,362 inspected farms as compared to 2,198 farms for all fluid milk handlers in Columbus. It is engaged in the manufacture of whole milk powder, powdered ice cream mix, a special ice cream paste, and a baby food known as "Similac." These products are sold in large quantities in States other than Ohio. Similac is advertised nationally by both Sears, Roebuck & Company and Montgomery Ward & Company. This company sold 2,977,000 pounds of dry whole milk powder and 3,975,000 pounds of ice cream mix paste to the Army in 1944 for consumption outside of Ohio.[6]

The large plant of the Nestle's Milk Products Company at Marysville, Ohio, receives milk from the following counties which also supply inspected milk to Columbus: Champaign, Clark, Delaware, Franklin, Knox, Licking, Logan,

Madison, Morrow, and Union. This plant receives two grades of milk. One grade approaches the Columbus fluid milk supply in quality. A portion of it was formerly a part of the Columbus fluid milk supply. This company manufactures whole milk powder, evaporated milk, nonfat dry milk solids, and a baby food known as "Lactogen," all of which are sold in large quantities in States other than Ohio.[7]

The Pickaway Cooperative Creamery Company at Circleville, Ohio, receives milk from the following counties included as part of the Columbus milkshed: Pickaway, Franklin, Madison, and Fairfield. In addition to receipts of milk from dairymen, it has purchased on occasions inspected milk not needed in the Columbus fluid milk market. Fluid milk from this plant is sold in Ashland, Kentucky, in Beckley, West Virginia, and in other fluid milk markets. Approximately 3,600,000 pounds of milk per year are sold in West Virginia from this plant. Over 100,000 pounds of skim milk were sold from it in Columbus, Ohio, during the first three months of 1945. On other occasions large quantities of skim milk have been sold to the M. & R. Dietetic Laboratories, Inc., Columbus, Ohio. Butter manufactured in this plant is sold outside of Ohio, particularly in Parkersburg and Huntington, West Virginia, and in Kentucky.[8]

Other manufacturing plants which draw milk or cream supplies from counties in the Columbus milkshed are operated by the Carnation Milk Company at Coshocton, Ohio; the Cudahy Packing Company, Washington Court House, Ohio; the Pickerington Creamery Company, Pickerington, Ohio; and the Beatrice Creamery Company (Blue Valley), Columbus, Ohio. These plants manufacture evaporated milk, cheese, nonfat dry milk solids, and butter."

In addition to these manufacturing plants, facilities are operated by certain Columbus fluid milk handlers for the production of butter from cream that is not required to meet inspection by the Columbus Board of Health. At the plant of the Fairmont Creamery Company, in Columbus, about 4,000,000 pounds of butter (80,000,000 pounds of 4.0 percent milk equivalent) are made annually and disposed of throughout Ohio and nearby States. Cream is purchased for this plant from dairymen in the Columbus milkshed and from areas extending over other parts of the State and into Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, and Indiana. Between 5 and 10 percent of such cream (4,000,000 to 8,000,000 pounds of 4.0 percent milk equivalent) is received from outside of Ohio. To its butter plant is transferred about 600,000 pounds of Columbus inspected milk per year for use in making "starter" for butter. In addition to such quantity of milk, this plant periodically utilizes a small percentage of butterfat from Columbus inspected milk in the production of butter. It also manufactures condensed milk from Columbus inspected milk, received from both producers and other handlers. The Fairmont Creamery Company has its principal office in Omaha, Nebraska, and operates plants throughout many Midwestern States.[10]

Another Columbus fluid milk handler, the Moores and Ross Company (a division of the Borden Company having its headquarters in New York, New York) manufactures a minimum of 300,000 pounds of butter annually (6,000,000 pounds of 4.0 percent milk equivalent). About 4 percent of the cream received for butter making, or approximately 240,000 pounds of 4 percent milk equivalent, comes from Indiana and a small volume from West Virginia. A small amount of the butterfat from Columbus inspected milk is intermingled with this uninspected cream in the manufacture of butter. Condensed milk manufactured by this company from Columbus inspected milk is sold in part to bakeries and to other establishments not requiring Columbus inspected milk for their products.[11]

The close tie-up between the Columbus inspected milk market, the nearby manufacturing milk market, and other fluid milk markets is shown further by the following transactions. Inspected milk produced for the Columbus fluid milk market is transferred either from fluid milk plants, or directly from farms, to plants where manufactured milk products are made. Skim milk not needed for fluid use was transferred to the Nestle's Milk Products Company in 1944. A handler witness testified at the promulgation hearing that: "Just this week I had to take 14 cans of 40 percent cream to the creamery and sell it at 52 cents a pound (butterfat)." In the same statement he said that at the same time his plant was so short of skim milk that it was unable to make cottage cheese. The producers' association diverted milk to the Pickaway Cooperative Creamery Company at Circleville in 1944. Fluid milk route returns of Columbus handlers are used in the manufacture of milk products. In 1938, a total of 8 or 10 loads of inspected milk discontinued deliveries to the Columbus fluid milk market. This milk was subsequently received by the M. & R. Dietetic Laboratories, Inc., for manufacturing purposes. On another occasion, one or two loads of inspected milk were transferred from the Columbus fluid milk market to the Nestle's Milk Products Company for manufacturing purposes. The Nestle's Company was able to keep the producers transferred to its plant only after it had agreed with the producers' association at Collumbus to pay for the milk at prices similar to those which it would bring on the Columbus fluid milk market. The milk is still going to the Nestle's Company under those arrangements. Moreover, milk is transferred by tank truck, from the fluid milk plant of the Westerville Creamery Company at Westerville, Ohio (a handler under the proposed marketing agreement and proposed order), to its manufacturing plant at Covington, Ohio, which latter plant disposes of condensed milk in Mississippi.[12]

Milk is produced in the vicinity of West Liberty, Ohio, for the Columbus fluid milk market, the Dayton-Springfield market (this market is now under Federal regulation), and the Cleveland fluid milk market. One load of inspected milk received at Columbus is on call for Cleveland at any time it is needed there. Milk received at a Wellington, Ohio, plant, which is approximately 30 miles from Cleveland is a regular part of the Cleveland fluid milk supply but finds its way in part to Columbus in the form of cream and ice cream mix to be sold in competition with ice cream produced from the Columbus fluid milk supply. Cream received from this source is equal in quality to cream made from the regular Columbus fluid milk supply and is eligible for fluid cream consumption in Columbus.[13]

Roughly, 800,000,000 pounds of milk are produced annually in the counties from which the Columbus fluid milk supply is drawn. This milk represents a large part of the supplies for both the manufacturing plants in the vicinity of Columbus and the Columbus fluid milk plants. The milk supply for any one plant, or type of outlet, is in competition with the supply for other plants, or outlets, drawing milk from this general area. Approximately one-fifth of the total milk supply is delivered to the Columbus fluid milk market. Conditions under which it is bought and sold there have a dominant influence upon the price paid for all milk produced in the area. This effect is demonstrated by the prices paid for manufacturing milk in the Columbus milkshed and in areas where the production of milk for manufacturing purposes is not so greatly affected by a large fluid milk market. The M. & R. Dietetic Laboratories, Inc., consistently has paid its farmers more for milk than have other manufacturers located in areas where the effect of competition for supply from large fluid milk markets is less acute. That Columbus fluid milk prices intimately affect the manufacturing milk market is indicated further by the interest shown by operators of the manufacturing milk plants in prices arrived at for inspected milk in the Columbus fluid milk market.[14]

There is a substantial shifting of producers among the fluid milk handlers, among nearby manufacturers, and between manufacturers and fluid milk handlers. During the recent wartime period of heavy demand for fluid milk, Columbus fluid milk handlers have sought additional producers. In one month of 1942 there was a shift of 175 producers from the manufactured milk market to the fluid milk market. In 1944 there was an increase of 123 producers on the fluid milk market between February and December. This increase is a net change and does not include the changes in producer numbers which offset each other. Between January 1 and December 11, 1944, there were issued by the Columbus Health Department 2,171 farm permits to ship inspected milk to Columbus but on the latter date only 1,999 were shipping. This indicates that 172 producers had left the market during the year. The net increase of 123 plus the 172 producers who left the market and were replaced indicates that a total of 295 producers entered the market in 1944. One handler who normally receives milk from approximately 200 producers took on between 40 and 50 new producers in 1944, with a net gain of 18 producers. Such shifting represents a substantial turnover in numbers of producers. There is no real barrier except added production costs in relation to higher prices which prevents dairymen from shifting from the manufacturing milk market to the fluid milk market. Instances have already been cited where shifting has taken place in large numbers. The results of such shifting are decreased supplies for the manufacturer and increased unit costs of handling and processing milk. There are also economic conditions under which there is an incentive for producers to transfer from the fluid milk market to the market for manufacturing milk. Producers on the Columbus fluid milk market can make this transfer at any time without making burdensome changes in their production setup.[15]

Because of the effects of the shifting of producers from the manufacturing milk market to the fluid milk market, ceiling prices, designed to arrest these transfers, were issued in January 1943, by the Office of Price Administration, with respect to prices paid producers of milk for fluid use in all markets, including Columbus.[16]

In order to arrest further the shifting of milk from manufactured outlets to fluid milk outlets, War Food Order 79, limiting the volume of fluid milk and cream sold in city markets, was issued in September 1943. This order was issued because the increases in fluid milk sales were seriously curtailing the production of manufactured milk products needed for direct war uses. A supplementary order, War Food Order 97–17, was issued October 4, 1943, to accomplish this purpose in the Columbus market. That fluid milk sales would have continued to increase in the Columbus market without such an order is indicated by the fact that handlers petitioned the War Food Administrator to raise quotas for fluid milk by 15 percent over those permitted by War Food Order 79–17. This petition was denied, but had it been granted, the supply for the additional sales would have had to come primarily from farmers who were then supplying milk to the nearby manufacturers of dairy products."

Columbus fluid milk and milk products are sold by handlers in competition with other large quantities of milk and milk products, produced and sold without inspection by any health authority.

Isaly's Inc., distributes fluid milk and milk products from its Columbus plant in Ohio communities located up to 75 miles from Columbus. In many of these communities it distributes fluid milk and milk products in direct competition with fluid milk and milk products derived from uninspected sources. A witness from the Isaly Company testified at the promulgation hearing, "We are paying too much for ice cream manufacturing right now under the present bases to compete, as we have to do, with uninspected milk in other near areas." One-third of the ice cream made in the Isaly plant is sold outside of Franklin County, Ohio."

The Moores and Ross Company furnishes ice cream to Portsmouth, Ohio (a portion of which is redistributed in Kentucky), and to other markets. Shipments of inspected milk and milk products made from inspected milk are sent to markets located in Indiana, West Virginia, and Kentucky."

A considerable amount of milk and milk products have been sold by Columbus handlers to troop trains moving out of Ohio, and to military establishments located geographically within the State, but which are under the complete jurisdiction of the United States, including the Columbus Depot, the Lockburne Airfield, and Fort Hayes. Milk products such as butter, evaporated milk, cheese, powdered whole milk, and Similac are sold in Columbus, though they are made from milk not required to meet Columbus inspection.[20]

Proprietary handlers maintained throughout the promulgation hearing that the Columbus fluid milk market is not in interstate commerce nor directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products. In taking this position, they admitted that relationships and effects of the type described earlier in this report prevail for milk markets generally, but stated that such relationships and effects do not pertain to Columbus, because Columbus is an "isolated" market. It was contended that the receipts of inspected milk from producers at Columbus correspond closely to the requirements of the fluid milk market, thus making a balance between supply and demand and an absence of substantial effect upon the manufacturing milk market. They attributed this situation partly to the Columbus health ordinance which sets quality standards for the production and handling of milk used as milk, cream, and other milk products, including ice cream, and partly to their own operating efforts, especially their efforts to minimize the effects of seasonal variations in milk production as a surplus problem. It was alleged that the "complete coverage" of the Columbus health regulations make inspected milk a "separate and distinct commodity" from the uninspected milk going to manufacturing plants in the area, with no more interrelation existing between the two kinds of milk than between Columbus inspected milk and poultry or poultry products.

Also handlers admitted that there is some shifting or overlapping between the Columbus fluid milk supply and the supplies of other fluid milk markets and manufacturing plants, but minimized the effect of this, stating that the small amount of milk involved has no substantial effects on other fluid milk markets or on the market for manufacturing milk. But apparently they did recognize some effect of the Columbus fluid milk market on the manufacturing milk market and on other fluid milk markets because they repeatedly referred to the effect as not being "substantial."[21]

There is an abundance of evidence in the hearing record to show that the Columbus fluid milk market is not "isolated" from other fluid milk markets or from the market for manufacturing milk. This evidence may be summarized briefly, as follows:

(1) Columbus fluid milk handlers compete for supplies with nearby manufacturing plants selling manufactured milk products in interstate commerce, and there is a considerable interchange of producers between these two outlets for milk;

(2) A portion of the Columbus inspected milk supply is disposed of by fluid milk handlers through manufacturing facilities operated by them. This milk when used for these manufacturing purposes is commingled with uninspected milk or cream, part of which is obtained from outside Ohio. The products so manufactured are sold in other States and within Ohio in competition with similar products produced in other States. Occasional transfers of Columbus inspected milk are also made to manufacturing plants operated by others where it is commingled with uninspected milk in the manufacture of milk products similarly disposed of;

(3) Handlers distribute Columbus inspected milk and products made therefrom in communities where such sales are made in competition with milk and milk products, some of which come from uninspected milk;

(4) Columbus fluid milk handlers sell limited quantities of inspected milk and products made therefrom in markets outside of Ohio;

(5) Milk products manufactured from milk not subject to inspection by the Columbus board of health are sold in Columbus, even though handlers maintained that Columbus has a "complete coverage" health ordinance. The health ordinance perhaps does partially shelter the Columbus fluid milk market. Health regulations are not an unusual feature of a fluid milk market. Practically all large fluid milk markets require milk to be produced and handled in accordance with high quality standards, but this does not create isolation;

(6) The Columbus fluid milk market is not reserved for any particular number or any particular group of producers, and likewise producers are free to transfer from the Columbus fluid milk market to the manufacturing milk market;

(7) Skim milk is received at Columbus from a plant which receives milk for manufacturing purposes and which disposes of large quantities of fluid milk and milk products in States other than Ohio; and

(8) Prices paid Columbus fluid milk producers are related to prices paid in other fluid milk markets and prices paid for milk at nearby manufacturing plants. In this connection a handler witness, in discussing his experience as an official of the Office of Price Administration, stated that such agency was unable to successfully establish ceilings over producer prices for fluid milk on a nation-wide, or even on an area basis, without having to make adjustments occasioned by the intimate connection between fluid milk prices in different markets one to another, and between fluid milk market prices and the prices paid for milk produced for manufacturing purposes. He stated that these market differences had to be recognized, and the nation-wide program establishing ceiling on prices paid producers for fluid milk was therefore handled on an individual market basis. It was pointed out earlier in this report that the individual market approach also has been regarded as the most workable method for stabilizing conditions in fluid milk markets under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended.

If Columbus were an isolated fluid milk market and had no effect upon other fluid milk markets or upon the market for manufacturing milk, it presumably would be possible to establish prices at any level without affecting other outlets for milk. However, it was admitted by the same handler witness that Columbus was no exception to the general problem of inter-relationships with which the Office of Price Administration was confronted in establishing ceilings over fluid milk prices.[22]

(b) Marketing conditions justify the issuance of a marketing agreement and order.

There are two principal reasons to support the issuance of a marketing agreement and order for Columbus, Ohio. There is a need in the market for a well-defined price plan which will (1) correct the methods and practices of price-making that have resulted in the past in chronic inequities in the prices paid to producers, and (2) assure an orderly adjustment of prices based upon sound economic considerations and an equitable distribution of the market surplus. Such a plan would play an especially important role during and after the transition from a period characterized by wartime controls and by heavy demand for the fluid milk and milk products produced in the Columbus area to a period of relaxed controls and a probable shifting of market outlets. An order would promote a more stable supply situation for Columbus and thereby would promote similar stability of supply for the manufacturing plants competing for milk in the same general area. It would minimize uneconomic shifts in supply between the fluid milk market and the manufacturing milk plants. The ultimate effect of this would be to assist materially in the orderly marketing of the milk produced throughout the entire Columbus milkshed.

It is evident from the hearing record that history of the Columbus market has been characterized by instability and unrest. The market has lacked a price plan which would assure producers (1) a fair degree of uniformity, and (2) a dependable price over a period of time. Until August 1943, producers were paid according to the quantities of "base" and "surplus" milk delivered. Bases were computed by the handler and allocated to producers at the handler's discretion. The base plan lost all meaning in respect to the volume of fluid milk sold, and the fact that the handlers refused to allow a complete and dependable audit placed producers at the handler's mercy. Under this procedure producers received a myriad of prices and became dissatisfied because of the uncertainties involved in the pricing mechanism. Producers also charge that both remote and specious allegations have been often set forth by handlers in bargaining proceedings to obtain price concessions, but that a lack of market information has prevented a sound appraisal of such allegations.

Because of the pressure caused by high wartime demand for milk, handlers adopted in August 1943, the "flat" price method of paying producers. However, under neither this plan nor the former base-surplus plan did handlers pay for milk based upon its use. In September 1944, under the flat price plan, one handler sold 56.1 percent of his producer receipts as fluid milk while during the same month the sales of another handler were 106.3 percent of his producer milk receipts. Such conditions encourage excessive price-cutting and other forms of discount among handlers, because of differences in the value of the milk sold through the various channels. Excessive price-cutting was widely practiced in Columbus prior to the war, and to some degree, during the months preceding the hearing, although the heavy demand for fluid milk and the wartime controls in effect have had a stabilizing influence. On the other hand, the same administrative heads are in charge of distribution in Columbus and it may be expected that the base and surplus plan will reappear as the method for arriving at the individual handler's cost of milk. A strong indication of this is the fact that handlers' pay statements to producers still state a base quantity and a surplus quantity of milk delivered by each producer although the producer is paid a similar price for each designated quantity under the current flat price plan.

Another indication of the impropriety of past pricing methods in the market are the differences by which the producer prices have exceeded the prices paid to farmers shipping to nearby condenseries. These price differences varied from 3 to 63 cents per hundredweight between September 1941 and June 1942. It is highly questionable that the extra costs involved in supplying the fluid market varied to that extent.

Because of circumstances already outlined, the future of the Columbus fluid milk market is uncertain. Producers lack confidence in their market because voluntary bargaining has not evolved a plan which guarantees a fair market price to all producers or which fixes a reasonable relationship between the price of inspected milk and that paid for manufacturing milk produced in the same area.

Manufacturing milk produced in the Columbus milkshed is sure to feel the impact of changes brought about by the end of the war. Much of this impact will be the result of conditions prevailing in the fluid milk trade in the Columbus marketing area. The issuance of an order can furnish the means of keeping inspected and uninspected milk prices in their proper alignment, of preventing an uneconomical dislocation of supplies, and of helping maintain reasonable prices for the producers of inspected milk by eliminating price wars carried on at their expense. Orderly marketing conditions at Columbus would be of substantial benefit not only to Columbus producers of inspected milk but also to dairymen supplying milk to the manufacturing plants drawing their supplies from the same general area.

Milk distributors contended at the promulgation hearing that marketing conditions do not justify the issuance of an order for the Columbus, Ohio, marketing area.

They contended that producers are getting a fair price for milk and that relationships between producers and handlers are satisfactory. The fact that the Central Ohio Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc., petitioned the War Food Administration for a hearing, submitted a proposed marketing agreement and order, and made strenuous efforts to obtain the issuance of an order, presents a strong indication that many producers at least are not satisfied with present marketing conditions in Columbus, Ohio.[23]

(c) The Columbus, Ohio, marketing area should include the city of Columbus, the townships of Montgomery, Bexley, Clinton, Franklin, Marion, and Mifflin, and the village of Upper Arlington in Perry township, all within Franklin County, Ohio.

The proposed marketing area includes towns and communities, which, together with the city of Columbus, form an integral and compact market, in which fluid milk and its byproducts are freely marketed under highly similar conditions.

The marketing area originally proposed by producers extended over and included all territory within Franklin County, Ohio. However, it would appear that such a marketing area would place some communities in Franklin County under the proposed order without much purpose. It would cover several communities in which there are no distributors of milk other than producer-distributors and some localities, such as Canal Winchester, from which no milk is distributed in Columbus or its suburbs. The latter area is believed to be unnecessarily large.[24]

(d) The term "producer" should be restricted to those farmers whose milk normally is sold in the marketing area to supply the requirements of the "fluid milk industry." It is not proposed to include dairy farmers whose milk is sold to plants which are not engaged in the disposition of milk in fluid form.

The term "handler" should include primarily all persons receiving milk at fluid milk plants for disposition in whole or in part as Class I milk. It should include also any association of producers with respect to producer milk diverted from fluid milk plants to other outlets. It is not proposed to include those plants which are engaged exclusively in the manufacture and sale of ice cream and other milk products.[25]

(e) There should be four classes of milk as defined in the proposed marketing agreement and order which is part of this report.

The original classification plan proposed by producers provided for four classes of milk, but with a somewhat different grouping of the items to be included in the various classes than appear in the proposed marketing agreement and order. At the hearing this proposal was amended with a request for three classes of milk.

The principal discussions concerning classification were directed toward the proper classification of milk used in (1) ice cream and related products, (2) flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, and buttermilk, (3) whole milk powder, and (4) starter.

Producers originally proposed that milk used for making ice cream products be designated as Class III milk. They later proposed that such milk be designated as Class II milk. The weight of the evidence was such, however, that milk used for these purposes has been specified as Class III milk.

Although handlers contended that milk used for flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, and buttermilk should be Class II milk, it has beer designated as Class I milk. These products are disposed of in a form and for a use more nearly similar to the form and use of fluid milk than of any milk product.

Producers requested also that milk used for making powdered whole milk and starter for butter be designated as Class I milk. However, this proposal appeared to be based mainly upon their proposition to include a manufacturer of milk products located in Columbus, Ohio, under the definition of handler. Milk used for such purposes is utilized in products which must compete with similar products made from uninspected milk. Therefore, milk for these purposes is priced accordingly through its classification as Class IV milk in the proposed marketing agreement and order.[26]

(f) The class prices should be set so as to reflect the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for milk, to insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and to be in the public interest.

It is estimated that a blend price of $3.38 per hundredweight for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat would have resulted had the formulas and prices proposed been in effect during the 12 months ending May 31, 1945. During such 12-month period the parity price, on the basis of milk of similar test, averaged $3.25. The parity price for 3.5 percent milk in June 1945, as shown by the hearing record, was $3.03. If converted to a 4.0 percent price basis, the June parity was approximately $3.28.

A reasonable differential should be maintained between the price paid for milk produced for the fluid milk market and that paid for milk produced for nearby manufacturing outlets. It is proposed that the price received by the producers on the Columbus fluid milk market shall fluctuate as manufacturing milk prices change. However, in view of the fact that the wartime demands for milk and milk products have resulted in a substantial shifting of the outlets for milk and have created the necessity with the return of peace for a substantial degree of conversion within the industry to meet peacetime conditions, bringing with it an unsettled price condition with respect to manufacturing milk, it is felt that for a temporary period during such transition from wartime to peacetime economy a reasonable level of prices will be insured for the coming fall and winter months only if a fairly rigid structure of prices is established.

The price plan proposed would provide for immediate class prices as follows:

Class I milk—$3.50 per hundredweight;
Class II milk—$3.25 per hundredweight;
Class III milk—$3.10 per hundredweight;
and Class IV milk—$2.97 per hundredweight (approx.). The Class I, Class II, and Class III milk prices would remain at such minimum levels at least until April 1, 1946. To the extent that the class price formulas adopted will result in blended prices exceeding such parity level they are fully justified on the basis of evidence concerning the price and supplies of feeds and other economic conditions affecting market supplies and demand for milk and to such extent the parity level is not reasonable.

The estimated blended price of $3.38 per hundredweight referred to above compares with the currently prevailing prices in the market as follows: The prevailing price paid producers for the bulk of the inspected milk supply has been $3.30 per hundredweight for 4 percent milk for a number of months. However, during the last four months of 1944 bonuses were paid to all producers, which raised the average annual price to approximately $3.34 per hundredweight for 1944. In addition to this, some milk has been purchased from producers at a price as high as $3.50 per hundredweight.

The pricing of milk with reference to a butterfat content of 4 percent follows the custom of the market. Producers proposed the fixing of price with reference to milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content but did not give convincing evidence that this would accomplish any substantial purpose.

The class prices set forth above are based upon the separate values of butterfat and skim milk according to its classification.

The butterfat differential proposed is in direct proportion to the price of butterfat established for the major uses of butterfat in Class IV milk and would be approximately 5.5 cents per point at the present time.[27]

(g) The market-wide type of pool should be employed for the purpose of computing the uniform price to producers. Under this type of pool all producers would receive a uniform price computed on the basis of the combined classification of milk by all handlers.

Producers proposed an individual-handler type of pool, under which the uniform prices paid producers by each handler would vary among handlers with differences in the classification of their milk. Producers maintained that the individual-handler pool would improve handler-producer relations and encourage competition among handlers for fluid milk sales.

Handlers on the other hand supported a market-wide pool plan. They opposed an individual-handler pool on the grounds that it would establish as "many different producer prices as there are handlers in the market," that it would breed dissatisfaction among producers, encouraging them to shift from handler to handler; and that it would discriminate against handlers whose milk uses are principally in the lower classes.

Because the facilities for handling substantial quantities of surplus milk are limited to a few plants, the market-wide pool should be more workable at least at the beginning.[28]

The following proposed order is recommended as the detailed means by which the above conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not set forth in detail in this report because its substantive provisions would be identical to those set forth in the proposed order.

and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The issuance of this order regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and all the terms and conditions of this order, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the said order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) Milk to be regulated by this order is in the current of interstate commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products; and

(4) The issuance of this order is the only practical means pursuant to the act to advance the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area.

It is hereby ordered, That such handling of milk for the Columbus, Ohio, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce, or as directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products, shall from the effective date hereof be in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

SEC. 4. Classification—(a) Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. Skim milk and butterfat contained in (1) all milk, skim milk, cream, and milk products (except in the case of milk products disposed of in the form in which received) received during the delivery period by a handler at a fluid milk plant, and (2) all producer milk caused to be diverted during the delivery period in the manner described in section 1 (f) (2), shall be classified by the market administrator in the classes set forth in (b) of this section.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in (c), (d), and (e) of this section, the classes of utilization shall be:

(1) Class I milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat (i) disposed of (except that which has been dumped or disposed of for livestock feeding) as (a), milk; (b), skim milk; (c) buttermilk; or (d), flavored milk or flavored milk drinks; and (ii) not specifically accounted for as Class II milk, Class III milk, or Class IV milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat disposed of (i) in fluid form as sweet or sour cream; (ii) in fluid form as any mixture of cream and milk (or skim milk), including eggnog, which contains more than 6 percent of butterfat; or (iii) as cottage cheese.

(3) Class III milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat used to produce, or dispose of as, condensed milk and condensed skim milk (except evaporated milk or skim milk hermetically sealed in cans), ice cream, ice cream mix, ice cream novelties, ice sherbets, or frozen cream.

(4) Class IV milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat specifically accounted far as (i) having been used or disposed of in any form other than as specified in (b) (1) (i), (b) (2), and (b) (3) of this section; (ii) having been dumped or disposed of for livestock feeding; and (iii) actual plant shrinkage but not in excess of 2½ percent, respectively, of the total receipts of skim milk or butterfat, not including skim milk or butterfat received from other handlers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (1) In establishing the classification of skim milk and butterfat as required in (b) and (d) of this section, the burden rests upon the handler to account for the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat received by him and to prove to the market administrator that such skim milk and butterfat should not be classified as Class I milk.

(2) Any skim milk or butterfat classified in one class shall be reclassified if later used or disposed of by a handler in another class, in accordance with such later use or disposition.

(d) Transfers. (1) Subject to the conditions set forth in (c) of this section and (3) and (4) of this paragraph, skim milk and butterfat when transferred by a handler from a fluid milk plant to any other milk distributing or milk manufacturing plant in the form of milk, skim milk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, or buttermilk, shall be classified as follows:

(i) In the class as agreed upon by both handlers if transferred to another fluid milk plant, except one as referred to in (ii) of this subparagraph;

(ii) As Class I milk if transferred to the fluid milk plant of a handler who receives no milk from producers or associations of producers other than such handler's own farm production; or

(iii) As Class I milk if transferred to any such plant not a fluid milk plant: Provided, That if the seller on or before the 5th day after the end of the delivery period during which such transfer is made furnishes to the market administrator a statement signed by the buyer and the seller that such skim milk and butterfat was used as a product covered by Class II milk, Class III milk, or Class IV milk and that such utilization may be audited at the receiving plant, such skim milk and butterfat shall be classified accordingly.

(2) Subject to the conditions set forth in (c) of this section and in (3) and (4) of this paragraph, skim milk and butterfat when transferred by a handler from a fluid milk plant to any other milk distributing or milk manufacturing plant in the form of cream shall be classified as follows:

(i) In the class as agreed upon by both handlers if transferred to another fluid milk plant, except one as referred to in (ii) of this subparagraph;

(ii) As Class II milk if transferred to the fluid milk plant of a handler who receives no milk from producers or associations of producers other than such handler's own farm production; or

(iii) As Class II milk if transferred to any such plant not a fluid milk plant: Provided, That if the seller on or before the 5th day after the end of the delivery period during which such transfer is made furnishes to the market administrator a statement signed by the seller and the buyer that such milk and butterfat was used as a product covered by Class I milk, Class III milk, or Class IV milk and that such utilization may be audited at the receiving plant, such skim milk and butterfat shall be classified accordingly.

(3) The utilization of all transfers made pursuant to (1) (i), (1) (iii), (2) (i), and (2) (iii) of this paragraph, shall be subject to verification by the market administrator.

(4) No agreement or statement made relative to transfers as provided for in this paragraph shall operate to deter the prior subtraction of other source milk pursuant to (f) (1) of this section or the prior subtraction of skim milk or butterfat pursuant to (f) (2) of this section. Any quantity reported for allocation to a particular class but not eligible therefor because of (f) (1) or (f) (2) of this section shall be reclassified by the market administrator as Class I milk, pending his verification.

(e) Computation of the classification of all skim milk and butterfat for each handler. For each delivery period the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the delivery period report submitted by each handler and compute separately the respective amounts of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk, Class II milk, Class III milk, and Class IV milk, as follows:

(1) Determine the handler's total receipts by adding together the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream received, and the pounds of skim milk and butterfat used to produce all other milk products received (except milk products disposed of in the form in which received without further processing in the fluid milk plant) regardless of source;

(2) Determine the total pounds of butterfat contained in the total receipts computed pursuant to (1) of this paragraph;

(3) Determine the total pounds of skim milk contained in the total receipts computed pursuant to (1) of this paragraph by subtracting therefrom the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph;

(4) Determinine the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk by: (i) computing the aggregate amount of butterfat disposed of in each of the several items of Class I milk; and (ii) adding all other butterfat not specifically accounted for as Class II milk, Class III milk, or Class IV milk;

(5) Determine the total pounds of skim milk in Class I milk by: (i) computing the aggregate amount disposed of as each of the several items of Class I milk; (ii) subtracting the result obtained in (4) (i) of this paragraph; and (iii) adding all other skim milk not specifically accounted for as Class II milk, Class III milk, or Class IV milk;

(6) Determine the total pounds of butterfat in Class II milk by computing the aggregate amount of butterfat disposed of in each of the several items of Class II milk;

(7) Determine the total pounds of skim milk in Class II milk by: (i) computing the aggregate amount of milk, skim milk, and cream disposed of in each of the several items of Class II milk; and (ii) subtracting the result obtained in (6) of this paragraph;

(8) Determine the total pounds of butterfat in Class III milk by computing the aggregate amount of butterfat used to produce each of the several items of Class III milk;

(9) Determine the total pounds of skim milk in Class III milk by: (i) computing the aggregate amount of skim milk and butterfat (in whatever form) used to produce each of the several items of Class III milk; and (ii) subtracting the result obtained in (8) of this paragraph;

(10) Determine the total pounds of butterfat in Class IV milk by: (i) computing the aggregate amount of butterfat used to produce each of the several items of Class IV milk; and (ii) adding actual plant shrinkage of butterfat computed pursuant to (b) (4) (iii) of this section; and

(11) Determine the total pounds of skim milk in Class IV milk by: (i) computing the aggregate amount of skim milk and butterfat (in whatever form) used to produce each of the several items of Class IV milk; (ii) subtracting the result obtained in (10) of this paragraph; and (iii) adding the actual plant shrinkage of skim milk, computed pursuant to (b) (4) (iii) of this section.

(f) Computation of the classification of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk for each handler. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute separately the respective amounts of skim milk and butterfat of producer milk in Class I milk, Class II milk, Class III milk, and Class IV milk for each handler by making the following computations in the order specified:

(1) Subtracting from Class IV milk (beginning with butter manufactured) the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, received as other source milk, up to the amount of Class IV milk available;

(2) Subtracting from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in the lowest-priced available class or classes, the skim milk and butterfat received from any other handler who received no milk from producers or associations of producers other than such handler's own farm production;

(3) Subtracting from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class, respectively, the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat received from other handlers (except those referred to in (2) above) and used in such class: Provided, That if milk allocated by agreement to any class exceeds the amount remaining in such class after the subtractions made pursuant to (1) and (2) of this paragraph, such excess amounts shall be deemed to be Class I milk, subject to audit by the market administrator;

(4) Subtracting pro rata from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk, the remaining skim milk and butterfat received as other source milk; and

(5) If the total amount of skim milk or butterfat in all classes after the subtractions made pursuant to (1), (2), (3), and (4) of this paragraph is greater than the skim milk or butterfat in producer milk, decrease the lowest available class, or classes, by such excess.

SEC. 5. Minimum prices—(a) Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk prices. The basic formula price per hundredweight of milk to be used in computing the minimum prices for Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk provided in this section shall be the higher of the prices per hundredweight determined pursuant to (1) or (2) of this paragraph: Provided, That the basic formula price for each delivery period prior to April 1, 1946, shall be the price so determined, or $2.50, whichever is higher.

(1) The average of the basic (or field) prices ascertained to have been paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received during the delivery period at the following places for which prices are reported to the market administrator by the companies listed below or by the Department of Agriculture:

(1) The price per hundredweight of such skim milk shall be the price determined as the value of skim milk pursuant to the provise in (a) (2) of this section, divided by 0.96.

(2) The price per hundredweight of such butterfat shall be the price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period, multiplied by 120: Provided, That the price per hundredweight of butterfat made into butter shall be such price per hundredweight, less $3.60.

(f) Prices of Class I milk and Class II milk disposed of outside the marketing area. The price to be paid by a handler for Class I milk or Class II milk disposed of outside the marketing area shall be the same as the price applicable within the Columbus, Ohio, marketing area: Provided, That Class I milk or Class II milk disposed of in another marketing area covered by a Federal milk marketing agreement or order, issued pursuant to the act, shall be the price applicable within the Columbus, Ohio, marketing area, pursuant to this section, or the price applicable for milk of similar use or disposition in the other marketing area, whichever is higher.

(g) Emergency price provisions. (1) Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining minimum class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy, or other similar payment, being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk, or product, associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any such subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price, or if the specified price is not reported or published and the Secretary determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to or comparable with the price specified.

(2) Whenever the Secretary finds and announces that the price of Class I milk or Class II milk computed for any delivery period pursuant to (b) and (c) of this section is above a level which is in the public interest, the price of Class I milk or Class II milk for such delivery period shall be the same as the corresponding price for Class I milk or Class II milk for the delivery period immediately preceding.

SEC. 6. Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Computation of total value of producer milk for each handler. The value of producer milk received by each handler during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator by multiplying by the respective class prices for skim milk and butterfat, the hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat therein according to its classification pursuant to section 4 (f), and adding together the resulting amounts: Provided, That if such handler received milk, skim milk, or cream from a handler who received no producer milk other than that of his own production and disposed of the skim milk or butterfat contained therein as other than in the lowest priced use of the receiving handler, there shall be added an amount equal to the difference between (1) the value of such skim milk or butterfat at the price of such lowest priced use and (2) the value computed in accordance with its class use: Provided further, That if such handler, after subtracting all receipts other than producer milk has disposed of skim milk or butterfat in excess of the skim milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited as having been received in producer milk, there shall be added a further amount equal to the classification value of such skim milk or butterfat: And provided also, That if, in the verification of the reports or payments of such handler for any previous delivery period, the market administrator discovers errors which result in payments due the producer-settlement fund or the handler, there shall be added, or subtracted, as the case may be, the amount necessary to correct such errors.

(b) Computation of pool value of producer milk for each handler. The pool value of producer milk received by each handler during each delivery period shall be the total value computed for him pursuant to (a) of this section, subject to a butterfat differential adjustment computed as follows: (1) determine the amount by which the weighted average butterfat test of such handler's producer milk as computed pursuant to section 4 (f) is greater or less than 4.0 percent; (2) multiply such variance from 4.0 percent by the total hundredweight of such producer milk; (3) multiply the resulting amount of butterfat by the price for butterfat in Class IV milk as computed prior to the application of the proviso in section 5 (e) (2); and (4) add to the total value computed under (a) of this section if the weighted average butterfat test of such producer milk is less than 4.0 percent, or subtract from such value if such test is higher than 4.0 percent, the total amount computed in (3) of this paragraph.

(c) Notification of handlers. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall notify each handler of (1) the amount and value of his milk in each class as computed pursuant to section 4 (f) and (a) of this section, respectively, the totals of such amounts and values including any adjustments thereto, and the pool value computed pursuant to (b) of this section; (2) the uniform price computed pursuant to (d) of this section; (3) the amount due such handler from the producer-settlement fund or the amount to be paid by such handler to the producer-settlement fund, as the case may be; and (4) the amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to sections 8 and 9.

(d) Computation of uniform price. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute a uniform price per hundredweight for producer milk by:

(1) Combining into one total the values computed pursuant to (b) of this section for all handlers who made the payments required pursuant to section 7 for the previous delivery period;

(2) Adding an amount representing not less than one-half the unobligated balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(3) Dividing by the hundredweight of producer milk pooled; and

(4) Subtracting not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents. The result shall be known as the "uniform price" per hundredweight for producer milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content.

(e) Butterfat differential. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute (to the nearest one-tenth cent) a butterfat differential by dividing by 1,000 the price of butterfat in Class IV milk as computed pursuant to section 5 (e) (2) prior to the application of the proviso therein.

SEC. 7. Payment for milk—(a) Time and method of final payment. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to each producer for the hundredweight of milk received from such producer, an amount computed by multiplying such milk by not less than the uniform price, subject to the butterfat differential announced pursuant to section 2 (c) (9).

(b) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to (c) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to (d) of this section: Provided, That the market administrator shall offset any such payment due any handler against payments due from such handler.

(c) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator the amount by which the total value computed for him pursuant to section 6 (b) for such delivery period is greater than the sum required to be paid by such handler pursuant to (a) of this section.

(d) Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler the amount by which the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) of this section is greater than the total value computed for him pursuant to section 6 (b) for such delivery period: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available, and no handler who, on the 15th day after the end of the delivery period, has not received full payment for such delivery period from the market administrator pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to be in violation of (a) of this section if he reduces uniformly for all producers his payments per hundredweight thereunder by a total amount not in excess of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

(e) Adjustment of errors. Whenever audit by the market administrator of the payment required to be made by a handler to a producer pursuant to (a) of this section discloses payment of less than is required, the handler shall make up such payment not later than the time for making payment pursuant to (a) of this section next following such disclosure.

SEC. 8. Expense of administration. As his prorata share of the expense which necessarily will be incurred in the maintenance and functioning of the office of the market administrator, and in the performance of the duties of the market administrator, each handler, with respect to all receipts, during each delivery period, of skim milk and butterfat (except receipts from other handlers) in (1) producer milk and (2) other source milk at a fluid milk plant, shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 12th day after the end of such delivery period, that amount per hundredweight of such receipts not to exceed 2 cents, which is determined (subject to review by the Secretary) and announced by the market administrator on or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period.

SEC. 9. Marketing services—(a) Deductions. Except as set forth in (b) of this section, each handler for each delivery period shall deduct an amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight (the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the Secretary) from the payments made to each producer pursuant to section 7 (a), and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 12th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to check weights, samples, and tests of producer milk received by handlers and to provide producers with market information, such services to be performed by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) By cooperative associations. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association which, as determined by the Secretary, has its entire activities under the control of its members and meets the standards set forth in the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing, as determined by the Secretary, the services set forth in (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deductions specified in (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between such cooperative association and such producers and, on or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the cooperative association rendering such services.

SEC. 10. Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this order or any provision hereof, whenever he finds that this order or any provision hereof obstructs, or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall terminate, in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(1) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (i) continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements, and, when so directed by the Secretary, deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person to such person as the Secretary may direct, and (iii) if so directed by the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant hereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

SEC. 12. Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

SEC. 13. Separability of provisions. If any provisions of this order, or the application thereof to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the remainder of the order and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

GENERAL MOTORS CORP.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

The passenger automobile manufacturers and the Office of Price Administration are now engaged in determining what the maximum prices will be on sales of new passenger automobiles. While this determination is being made, the General Motors Corporation wishes to distribute the new automobiles it is currently producing. These automobiles will be distributed to dealers for use as showroom cars. The distribution will be made in part through distributors, key point dealers, and direct dealers. The order authorizing adjustable pricing, issued and effective October 17, 1945, for General Motors Corporation did not extend the authorization to distributors, key point dealers, direct dealers, and dealers under distributors and key point dealers. Such authorization is necessary for these resellers when they sell at wholesale if the automobiles are to reach the retail dealers for showroom purposes. This revised order extends the adjustable pricing authority to these resellers for sales at wholesale that was granted to General Motors Corporation in the previous order. Of course, the adjustable pricing authority does not extend to sales made to consumers.

Therefore, in accordance with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, It is ordered:

The order issued and effective October 17, 1945, authorizing adjustable pricing to the General Motors Corporation under Maximum Price Regulation 594 is redesignated revised order and is amended and revised to read as set forth herein:

(1) The General Motors Corporation, General Motors Building, Detroit, Michigan, is authorized to sell and deliver each 1945 or 1946 model year automobile it manufactures at the maximum price permitted under section 6 of Maximum Price Regulation 594 to be adjusted upwards after delivery is made by the amount of the difference between that maximum price and the maximum price it may be authorized by the Office of Price Administration to charge under section 7 or 8 of Maximum Price Regulation 594 for the same automobile.

(2) Distributors and dealers are authorized to sell and deliver to other distributors and dealers automobiles of 1945 or 1946 model year manufactured by General Motors Corporation at maximum prices permitted by sections 11 and 13 of Maximum Price Regulation 594 to be adjusted upwards after delivery is made by the amount of differences between those maximum prices and the maximum prices that may be authorized by the Office of Price Administration under section 7 or 8 of Maximum Price Regulation 594 for the same automobiles.

(3) This revised order applies to the General Motors Corporation, and also applies to its distributors and dealers only when they sell to other distributors and dealers. It does not apply to sales at retail.

(4) This revised order shall be effective as of October 24, 1945.

Issued this 24th day of October 1945.

PART 18—WAR SERVICE REGULATIONS

By virtue of the rescinding orders of the Chairman of the War Manpower Commission (10 F.R. 10166, 10342) and the authority vested in the United States Civil Service Commission, the following revision of the regulations is hereby prescribed:

Sec.

18.1 Examinations.
18.2 Qualifications of applicants.
18.3 Rating and eligibility.
18.4 Recruitment and placement.
18.5 Appointment.
18.6 Promotion.
18.7 Removal.
18.8 Reappointment or reinstatement.
18.9 Transfer.
18.10 Release for government employment.
18.11 Extent of regulations.
18.12 Application for reemployment following reduction in force.
18.13 Restoration after return from military service.

AUTHORITY: §§ 18.1 to 18.13, inclusive, issued under E.O. 9063, Feb. 16, 1942, E.O. 9243, September 12, 1942, 3 CFR, Cum. Supp., Chap. II, E.O. 9378, Sept. 13, 1943, 3 CFR, 1943 Supp., Chap. II, Veterans Preference Act of 1944, 58 Stat. 387, and order of the Chairman, War Manpower Commission of August 16, 1945, 10 F.R. 10342.

§ 18.1 Examinations. (a) Examinations for original appointment will be competitive except that when sufficient competent persons do not compete, noncompetitive examinations may be authorized. Examinations for promotion, reassignment, transfer, and reappointment may be noncompetitive.

(b) Competitive examinations. Competitive examinations for original appointment will be held at such times and places and in such manner as the needs of the service require.

(c) Reopened examinations. (1) An applicant granted ten-point preference under this part may file application at any time for any position he may specify for which there is an existing list or a list about to be established or to which any appointment has been made within the preceding three years.

(2) An applicant granted five-point preference under this part and whose relief from active duty or service was effected on or after December 7, 1941, may file application for examinations for which there are existing lists or lists about to be established, provided he makes application within one year of the effective date of this subparagraph, or within one year after relief from active duty or service or from hospitalization continuing after discharge for a period of not more than one year, whichever is later.

(3) Members of the armed forces who indicate that they are to be discharged or released from active service or who are in army or navy hospitals or separation centers awaiting discharge may also file application for examinations for which there are existing lists or for which lists are about to be established. Any certification of such applicants prior to the submission of proof of honorable discharge will be subject to submission of such proof prior to entrance on duty.

(4) Reopened examinations will be scheduled as the needs of the service require but in any case not less than once each month.

(d) Examinations restricted to preference applicants. In examinations for the positions of guards, elevator operators, messengers, custodians, and such other positions as the President may designate, competition shall be restricted to persons granted five- or ten-point preference under this part as long as such persons are available.

NOTE: For other examinations restricted to persons entitled to preference under the Veterans' Preference Act of 1944, see E.O. 9589 (10 F.R. 9063).

§ 18.2 Qualifications of applicants—(a) Citizenship. No person shall be admitted to a competitive examination unless he is a citizen of or owes allegiance to the United States. A noncitizen may be appointed through noncompetitive examination provided no citizen eligible is available and that the department or agency desiring his services has specific authority to employ noncitizens.

(b) Form of application. Application for examination must be made in such form and manner and accompanied by such certificates as the Commission may prescribe.

(c) Disqualifications. An applicant may be denied examination and an eligible may be denied appointment for any of the following reasons: (1) Dismissal from the service for delinquency or misconduct; (2) physical or mental unfitness for the position for which he applies: Provided, That, in the case of any person granted five- or ten-point preference under this part who is, in the opinion of the Commission, physically able to discharge efficiently the duties of the position for which examined or to which appointment is proposed, the Commission shall waive the physical requirements, after giving due consideration to the recommendation of any accredited physician, and the age, height, and weight requirements; (3) criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct; (4) intentional false statements as to any material fact, or deception or fraud in securing examination or appointment; (5) refusal to furnish testimony as required by Part 14 of this chapter; (6) habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess; (7) a reasonable doubt as to his loyalty to the Government of the United States; (8) any legal disqualification for appointment.

Any of the reasons stated in the foregoing subparagraphs from (2) through (8) inclusive, shall also be sufficient cause for removal from the service.

(d) Age limits. There will be no maximum age limits except where the appointing officer establishes to the satisfaction of the Commission that the interests of sound administration require such limits for a particular position.

A person retired under the age or optional provision of the Civil Service Retirement Act may be reemployed only in the event the appointing authority determines that he is possessed of special qualifications.

(e) Education. No minimum educational requirement will be prescribed in any examination except for such scientific, technical or professional positions the duties of which the Commission decides cannot be performed by a person who does not have such education.

NOTE: Part 25 of this chapter lists the positions for which formal education requirements have been prescribed and justifications filed.

§ 18.3 Rating and eligibility—(a) Rating. Examination papers shall be rated on a scale of 100: Provided, That, whenever positive or direct recruitment is undertaken for positions for which there is an insufficient supply of qualified persons, examination papers may be rated either "eligible" or "ineligible."

When an applicant granted five- or ten-point preference under this part is rated in examinations where experience is an element of qualifications, time spent in the military or naval service of the United States shall be considered as an extension of time spent in the position in which the applicant was employed immediately prior to his entrance into the military or naval service where such position was similar to that for which he is filing application. In all examinations to determine the qualifications of an applicant credit shall be given for all valuable experience, including experience gained in religious, civic, welfare, service, and organizational activities, regardless of whether any compensation was received therefor.

(b) Preference. In examinations for appointment or reappointment five points shall be added to the earned ratings of honorably discharged ex-service men and women who have served in any branch of the armed forces of the United States during any war or in any campaign or expedition (for which a campaign badge has been authorized). The following shall have ten points added to their ratings:

(1) Honorably discharged ex-service men and women who have served in any branch of the armed forces of the United States and who have established the present existence of service-connected disability or receipt of compensation, disability retirement benefits, or pension by reason of public laws administered by the Veterans' Administration, the War Department or the Navy Department.

(2) The wives of honorably discharged service-connected disabled ex-service men as have themselves been unable to qualify for any civil service appointment.

(3) The unmarried widows of honorably discharged deceased ex-service men who had served in any branch of the armed forces of the United States during any war, or in any campaign or expedition (for which a campaign badge has been authorized).

As used in this section "honorably discharged" shall mean any separation from active duty in any branch of the armed forces under honorable conditions. A transfer to inactive status, a transfer to retired status, the acceptance of a resignation, or the issuance of a discharge will be considered as covered by the above definition if such separation was under honorable conditions.

(c) Eligible lists. The names of all competitors rated eligible will be entered on appropriate lists in accordance with their ratings; except that the names of eligibles granted five- or ten-point preference under the regulations in this part shall be entered on lists of eligibles in accordance with their respective augmented ratings, and the name of a preference eligible shall be entered ahead of all others having the same rating; Provided, That except on lists of eligibles for positions in the professional and scientific services for which the basic entrance salary is over $3,000 per annum, the names of eligibles granted ten-point preference under this part shall be placed at the top of the appropriate eligible lists.

(d) Termination of eligibility. Eligibility on any list shall be terminated under the following conditions:

(1) By acceptance of appointment of other than temporary duration from such list or in accordance with the provisions of § 18.4 (h).

(2) By action of the Commission terminating the eligibility of all eligibles on such list: Provided, That this provision shall not operate to terminate the eligibility in less than one year for the following classes of persons, unless a new list is established on the basis of more exacting requirements which have been determined to be more appropriate for the position concerned: (i) Preference eligibles entered on such list as a result of reopened examinations; (ii) preference eligibles restored to the list after separation because of reduction in force or resignation; and (iii) preference eligibles entered on the list in accordance with §§ 18.7 and 18.13 (e).

(e) Restoration to registers of preference employees who have resigned. Any employee entitled to preference under this part who resigns shall, upon request, have his name reentered on the registers upon which his name formerly appeared, or any current registers which have succeeded those registers and for which the requirements are substantially the same as for the registers on which his name formerly appeared, in the order provided in paragraph (c) of this section, and shall be eligible for recertification and reappointment in accordance with the procedure provided in § 18.4: Provided, That whenever there is reasonable doubt as to the applicant's present qualifications for the position the Commission may impose further tests of fitness.

§ 18.4 Recruitment and placement—(a) Estimates of personnel needs. Each department and agency shall report to the Commission its estimated future needs for personnel, both in Washington and in the field, in such form and at such intervals as the Commission may prescribe.

(b) Developing sources of qualified personnel. The Commission shall in consultation with the department or agency concerned, work out a program for developing sources of supply of qualified personnel. This program shall be of such a nature that full utilization will be made by the Commission of any resources available to the department or agency concerned.

No activities for developing sources of supply of qualified personnel shall be carried on except with the prior approval of the Commission and under its direction.

(c) Publicity. No department or agency of the government shall give any publicity to its needs or prospective needs for personnel through the press, in periodicals, trade or professional journals, over the radio, or otherwise, without the express prior approval of the Commission or its authorized representatives. This paragraph shall apply to all positions which are subject to the war service regulations or to the Civil Service Act and rules.

(d) Furnishing of names. Upon receipt of a request for names of qualified persons, the Commission shall certify from the head of the appropriate list of eligibles a number of persons sufficient to permit the nominating or appointing officer to consider three names in connection with each vacancy: Provided, That no certification shall be made from a competitive list of eligibles, except of ten-point preference eligibles, when there are three or more names of eligibles granted five- or ten-point preference under this part on a reemployment list who are qualified and available for the position to be filled.

(e) Return of requisitions. Whenever a requisition for personnel from any department or agency specifies qualifications which are, in the judgment of the Commission, too exacting in the light of the requirements of the job and of present labor market conditions, the Commission will return the requisition. In returning such requisitions, the Commission will indicate its willingness to work out with the department or agency concerned some other solution of its need for personnel, such as the development of a suitable training program and the recruitment of necessary trainees for such a program.

(f) Direct recruiting. The Commission may, upon agreement with the department or agency concerned, recruit persons directly for the filling of specific vacancies.

(g) Sex. Requisitions for personnel shall be filled without regard to sex unless sex desired is specified by the appointing officer.

(h) Selection. The nominating or appointing officer shall, with sole reference to merit and fitness, make selections for appointment to each vacancy from not more than the highest three names available for appointment on the certificate: Provided, That the appointing officer need not consider any eligible who has been within his reach in connection with three separate appointments or against whom objections shall be made and sustained for any of the reasons stated in § 18.2 (c). The second and any additional vacancies shall be filled in like manner.

An appointing officer who passes over an eligible granted five- or ten-point preference under this part and tentatively selects a nonpreference eligible, shall file with the Commission his reasons in writing for so doing and the Commission shall determine the sufficiency or insufficiency of such submitted reasons. The Commission will not consider prior service in a temporary capacity in the position to be filled a satisfactory reason for pasing over a preference eligible in selection for indefinite appointment. The nonpreference eligible tentatively selected may not legally be appointed until the appointing officer has considered the findings of the Commission as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the reasons submitted for passing over the preference eligible. Upon receipt of a finding of the Commission that the reasons for passing over a preference eligible are sufficient, the nonpreference eligible tentatively selected may be appointed. If the Commission finds that the reasons submitted are insufficient the appointing officer may (1) submit additional information in support of his reasons, in which case the appointment of the nonpreference eligible may not be made until the appointing officer receives the findings of the Commission on the additional information; or (2) consider the findings of the Commission as to the insufficiency and appoint either the preference eligible or the tentatively selected nonpreference eligible.

When a certificate has been issued for filling several vacancies and the appointing officer submits reasons for passing over a preference eligible on such certificate and selecting a nonpreference eligible, he need not await receipt of the Commission's findings as to the sufficiency of such reasons before making appointment to one or more of the remaining positions: Provided, He holds open one of the vacancies for further consideration of the preference eligible in case the reasons for passing him over are found insufficient by the Commission. Where a seniority system of promotion is established by law, such appointment shall be made on a temporary basis until the vacancy held open is filled by indefinite appointment. A copy of the appointing officer's reasons and the Commission's findings shall, upon request, be sent to the eligible or his designated representative. If upon certification reasons deemed sufficient by the Commission for passing over his name shall three times have been given by appointing officers, certification of his name for appointment will thereafter be discontinued, prior notice of which shall be sent to the eligible. Any eligible who has been within reach in connection with three separate appointments in his turn, and any preference eligible who has been passed over three times for reasons deemed sufficient by the Commission, may be subsequently selected, subject to the approval of the Commission, from the certificate on which his name last appeared if the condition of the list has not so changed as to place him in other respects beyond reach of certification.

§ 18.5 Appointment—(a) Notification of eligibles. An eligible selected for appointment shall be duly notified in writing by the appointing officer.

(b) Status of appointees. Persons appointed under this part will not thereby acquire a classified (competitive) civil service status. Unless otherwise specifically limited such appointments may be for the duration of the present war and for 6 months thereafter.

(c) Trial period. Except for persons appointed for a specified period of one year or less, the first full year of service shall be a trial period, satisfactory completion of which shall be considered part of the entrance examination. If and when, after a full and fair trial during this period, the conduct or capacity of the trial appointee be not satisfactory to the appointing officer, the appointee may at any time thereafter during the trial period be so notified in writing and such notice shall terminate his service. In the case of substitutes and charmen and charwomen in the Postal Service, the trial period will be 2,024 hours of active duty.

(d) Appointment without examination. (1) In cases of extreme emergency where positions must be filled without delay, and where time does not permit the securing of prior authority, emergency appointments for not to exceed thirty days may be made without examination and without specific authority of the Commission. This authority shall not apply to positions in Washington, D. C., or to positions in cities where Regional Offices or Branch Regional Offices of the Commission are located. Such appointments may not be extended beyond the thirty-day period without the express prior approval of the Commission.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph, all existing special agreements between the Commission and any department or agency are continued in effect until further notice. Approval of the Commission or the Regional Director or his representative must be obtained for continuation of such appointments beyond the period authorized by such agreements.

(3) Except as provided in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, appointment without examination may be made only with the express prior approval of the Commission.

(4) In making appointments under this paragraph, the appointing officer shall give first consideration to those qualified applicants who are entitled to military preference under the provisions of this part.

(e) Temporary appointment in the absence of eligibles. (1) When the Commission is temporarily unable to furnish sufficient eligibles for consideration in filling a position, temporary appointment of a qualified person may be authorized for a period not to exceed six months.

(2) Where it is not anticipated that within six months there will be a supply of qualified eligibles to fill a position or where the exigencies of the reconversion program demand, temporary appointment not to exceed one year may be authorized.

(3) When, under compelling circumstances, in the absence of eligibles and at the specific request of an appointing officer, the Commission refers the names of subeligibles for consideration, selection may be made without regard to the provisions of § 18.4 (h). Appointment under this subparagraph will be authorized as temporary for a period not to exceed six months.

(f) Positions which become subject to the war service regulations. The following classes of employees may be given war service appointments without prior approval of the Commission.

(1) Any person holding a position in a public or private enterprise which is taken over by the Federal Government and who thereby becomes an employee of the Government and any person who left such a position to perform active military or naval service and who meets the conditions set forth in § 18.13 for reemployment in such position.

(2) Any Federal employee holding a position which is excepted from the Civil Service Act and rules and the war service regulations when his position is made subject to the Civil Service Act and rules or the war service regulations.

All war service appointments made under this paragraph shall be reported immediately to the Commission.

No person given a war service appointment under this paragraph shall acquire eligibility for a classified civil service status until six months after the end of the present war. At the expiration of six months after the war, such person may be recommended for a classified civil service status in accordance with § 2.6 of this chapter: Provided, (i) His position becomes a permanent position in the classified civil service; (ii) he has remained continuously employed in the same establishment in which appointed under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, or in the same agency in which appointed under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph; and (iii) he entered on duty in such establishment or agency prior to March 16, 1942, the effective date of the war service regulations.

This paragraph shall not apply to postal employees who become eligible for a classified civil service status in accordance with § 2.7 of this chapter.

NOTE: This paragraph is effective on and after April 7, 1943.

§ 18.6 Promotion—(a) Procedure in promotion. Employees appointed to indefinite positions under this part may be promoted within the same department or agency in the same manner and under the same procedures and standards as employees having a classified civil service status.

(b) Qualifications. In determining qualifications for promotion with respect to employees entitled to five- or ten-point preference under this part, any requirements as to age, height, and weight shall be waived provided any such requirement is not essential to the performance of the duties of the position. After due consideration has been given to the recommendation of any accredited physician, the physical requirements shall be waived in the case of any such employee provided he is found physically able to discharge efficiently the duties of the position for which promotion is proposed.

(c) Promotion of substitutes. Whenever in the Postal Service two or more substitutes are appointed on the same day, they shall be promoted to the regular force in the order in which their names appeared on the civil service register from which they were originally appointed whenever there are substitutes of the required sex who are available and will accept, unless such vacancies are filled by transfer or reinstatement.

§ 18.7 Removal. The provisions of Part 12 of this chapter shall apply to all persons appointed under the provisions of this part except (a) those appointed for periods specifically limited to one year or less; (b) those serving a trial period provided for in the regulations in this part; and (c) those appointed subject to a condition imposed by the Commission with which there has not been compliance.

There must also be compliance with the regulations governing appeals to the Commission under section 14 of the Veterans Preference Act of 1944 (58 Stat. 387, when applicable. The Commission may declare any preference eligible who may have been dismissed or furloughed without pay and who has appealed under such regulations, to be eligible to have his name placed on all lists for which he is qualified and available.

NOTE: For regulations governing appeals to the Commission under section 14 of the Veterans Preference Act of 1944, see Part 22 of this chapter.

§ 18.8 Reappointment or reinstatement—(a) Reappointment within thirty days of separation. (1) A former civilian employee who has been separated for less than thirty calendar days from a position in an agency in the Executive branch of the Federal Government, or in the General Accounting Office, the Government Printing Office, the Library of Congress, the District of Columbia Government, or the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, may be reappointed under this section: Provided, That such former employee has served under a war service indefinite, probational, or permanent civil service appointment, or had, immediately prior to such separation, completed one year or more of continuous Federal service under other than a temporary appointment.

(2) Such reappointment may be effected by a department or agency without the prior approval of the Commission; Provided, That (i) such former employee has been separated, because of reduction in force, or furloughed, or has been given an official release by his agency or the Commission stating that he is available for employment elsewhere, and (ii) he is being appointed to a position of the same or equivalent grade as, or a lower grade than, the position he last held, or to a higher grade position when the agency has been delegated authority to make similar promotions of its own employees without prior approval of the Commission; Provided further, That the prior approval of the Commission is required for reappointment to administrative positions in the fields of personnel, budget, administrative management, and information, in the CAF–13 (or equivalent) grade and higher grades in the departmental service and in the CAF–12 (or equivalent) grade and higher grades in the field service.

(3) All other reappointments under this paragraph shall be subject to the prior approval of the Commission.

(4) Any employee who, on or after March 16, 1942, has been appointed or reappointed under war service regulations within thirty calendar days after separation from a permanent or probational civil service appointment, shall be entitled to the same benefits he would have had under reinstatement in accordance with the provisions of Part 9 of this chapter. Such an employee has permanent tenure as a classified civil service appointee in the agency in which employed.

(b) Reappointment or reinstatement more than thirty days after separation. (1) Subject to the prior approval of the Commission a former civilian employee who has been separated from the service for thirty calendar days or more and who has a status for reinstatement under Part 9 of this chapter, may be (i) reappointed by war service appointment to any position for which he meets the standards as to experience and training established for such position, or (ii) reinstated by civil service appointment in accordance with Part 9 of this chapter. Appointment may be authorized, when necessary, under the war service regulations, pending reinstatement under Part 9 of this chapter.

(2) Subject to the prior approval of the Commission, a former civilian employee who has been separated from the service for thirty calendar days or more, who does not have a status for reappointment or reinstatement under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, may be reappointed by war service appointment subject to the following conditions:

(i) If he has served under a war service indefinite appointment and is entitled to veteran preference under this part, he may be reappointed to any position for which he meets the standards as to experience and training established for such position.

(ii) If he is not entitled to veteran preference under this part but has served at least one month under war service indefinite appointment, he may, within twelve months of separation from such an appointment, be reappointed to any position in the agency, or successor agency, in which such service was rendered, for which he meets the established standards as to experience and training.

(c) Conversion to civil service appointments of employees having civil service status. Any employee having a status for reinstatement under Part 9 of this chapter who is serving under war service regulations may, in the discretion of the head of the agency concerned, be reinstated as a permanent classified civil service employee in the position in which employed, without prior approval of the Commission: Provided, That the head of the agency concerned shall determine from its own records, supplemented where necessary, by a signed certificate of the employee, that such employee has a civil service status for reinstatement under Part 9 of this chapter: Provided further, That the reinstatement under Part 9 of this chapter of any such employee shall be subject to post-audit by the Commission. All conversion of appointments under this paragraph shall be reported to the Commission on the regular report of personnel actions.

(d) Actual service required. Reappointment under this section must be for actual service and not primarily for the purpose of bringing former employees within the provisions of the Civil Service Retirement Act, as amended.

(e) Trial period. Persons reappointed under this section will be required to serve a trial period of one year in accordance with § 18.5 (c). In the case of substitutes and charmen and charwomen in the Postal Service, the trial period will be 2,024 hours of active duty.

§ 18.9 Transfer—(a) Status of employees for transfer. A civilian employee of an agency in the Executive branch of the Federal Government, or in the General Accounting Office, the Government Printing Office, the Library of Congress, the District of Columbia Government, or the Administrative Office of the United States Courts will have a status for transfer provided he has served under a war service indefinite, probational, or permanent civil service appointment, or provided he has completed one year or more of continuous Federal service, under other than a temporary appointment, immediately prior to transfer.

(b) Inter-agency transfer. An employee having a status for transfer under paragraph (a) of this section may be transferred to a position in another Federal agency under the conditions set forth below:

(1) Transfer of such employee may be effected by a department or agency without prior approval of the Commission; Provided, That (i) the employee presents an official notice of his actual or impending separation because of reduction in force, an official notice of furlough, or an official release granted by his agency or the Commission stating that he is available for employment elsewhere; and (ii) he is transferred to a position of the same or equivalent grade as, or a lower grade than, the position he held prior to transfer, or to a higher grade position when the agency has been delegated authority to make similar promotions of its own employees without prior approval of the Commission; Provided further, That the prior approval of the Commission is required for transfer to administrative positions in the fields of personnel, budget, administrative management, and information, in the CAF–13 (or equivalent) grade and higher grades in the departmental service and in the CAF–12 (or equivalent) grade and higher grades in the field service.

(2) All other inter-agency transfers shall be subject to the prior approval of the Commission.

(3) An employee desiring to be transferred may file his application either with the Commission or with the agency to which he desires transfer. The Commission may, as the needs of the service require, restrict the receipt of applications from present Federal employees except where such applications are received in connection and in accordance with the terms of publicly announced examinations.

(4) The Commission may of its own motion initiate action to effect transfers under this paragraph.

(c) Intra-agency transfer or reassignment. An employee having a status for transfer under paragraph (a) of this section may be transferred or reassigned within a department or agency under the conditions set forth below:

(1) Such transfer or reassignment may be effected by the head of the department or agency without prior approval of the Commission: Provided, That the transfer or reassignment is to a position of the same or equivalent grade as, or a lower grade than, the position presently held, or to a higher grade position when the agency has been delegated authority to make similar promotions without prior approval of the Commission.

(2) All other transfers or reassignments under this paragraph shall be subject to the prior approval of the Commission.

(d) [Revoked.]

(e) Reemployment benefits. (1) Any person, except one who was holding a temporary position, who was transferred by the Commission with reemployment rights under authority of Executive Order 8973 or 9067 (3 CFR, Cum. Supp., Chap. II) or War Manpower Commission Directive No. X (7 F.R. 7298, 11050; 9 F.R. 3534) and who is subsequently involuntarily furloughed or separated without cause such as would reflect upon his suitability for employment in the Federal service or who meets the conditions of subparagraph (6) of this paragraph, shall be entitled to the rights specified below, provided he is still qualified to perform the duties of his position and that he makes application for reemployment within forty days after the termination of his services, but in no event later than six months after the end of the war:

(i) If his transfer was to another Federal department or agency, he shall be entitled to thirty days' notice from the department or agency to which he was transferred, prior to the termination of his services with such department or agency, unless such termination is for cause.

(ii) He shall be reemployed within thirty days of his application in the same department or agency and to the maximum extent practicable, in the same locality, in his former position, or in a position of like seniority, status, and pay, in such manner, to the extent consistent with law, that he does not lose any of the rights or benefits to which he would have been entitled had he not been transferred or released: Provided, That such a position then exists.

(iii) If he cannot be reemployed in the agency in which he has reemployment rights, he shall be eligible to apply to the Commission for certification for reemployment in positions elsewhere in the Government service for which he is eligible by reason of his civil service status and qualifications: Provided, That he so applies within sixty days of denial of reemployment by the agency in which he had reemployment rights, or, if such agency is no longer in existence, within sixty days of separation from the agency or enterprise to which he was transferred.

(2) In the event of the transfer of any employee under a series of transfers, all of which were with reemployment rights, such reemployment rights shall continue to be applicable only to the agency from which the employee was originally transferred.

(3) An employee who was transferred within the Government service with reemployment rights or an employee who was transferred with reemployment rights from a Government position for employment in an essential activity conducted by a public or private enterprise, and who, while employed in the agency or enterprise to which transferred, enters active service with the armed forces of the United States, shall be entitled to the same reemployment rights with respect to the Government position from which he was transferred as those to which he would have been entitled had he entered active military or naval service while employed in such Government position.

(4) A person initially appointed for the duration of the war who was transferred with reemployment rights will not be required to be reemployed at the cessation of the war in the department or agency in which he was originally employed in view of the fact that his position would no longer exist and in view of the fact that no position of like status would exist.

(5) Whenever the filling of any position by promotion from within for an indefinite period is being considered by any department or agency, employees who have been transferred with reemployment rights in such department or agency may be given the same consideration they would have received had they not been transferred, and may be selected for such promotion. In the event of such selection, if such employee is not authorized to return to the position to which promotion was made, his reemployment rights shall be applicable to the position to which promotion was made.

(6) An employee having reemployment rights by reason of transfer who has not been involuntarily terminated or furloughed by the agency or public or private enterprise to which so transferred may exercise such rights and may be reemployed in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph by the agency, in which he has reemployment rights whenever such action is agreed to by such agency, the employee, and his present agency or private or public enterprise: Provided, That such agreement is reached before termination of the employee's services or on or before the fortieth day following termination.

(f) [Revoked.]

(g) Status of transferred employees. In all transfers under this section, the employee shall retain for all intents and purposes under the civil service laws and rules the same civil service status which he had in the agency from which he was originally transferred. No employee who has been transferred from a probational or permanent civil service appointment during the period the war service regulations are in effect, shall, by reason of any transfer made under this section, lose his right to permanent tenure as a classified civil service appointee. No time limit administratively placed on the appointment to the position to which transferred shall affect the employee's right to permanent tenure as a classified civil service appointee in the agency in which employed; nor shall his right to permanent tenure be affected by any transfer made under special procedures adopted by the Commission during the war period or immediately thereafter.

Any transfer or reappointment of an employee who was originally appointed "subject to investigation" will be subject to the results of the investigation.

Any transfer or reappointment of an employee who had been recommended for classification in his former position, and whose suitability for classification was under investigation, shall be subject to the results of such investigation.

(h) [Revoked.]

(i) Post Office Department, field service. Transfers to or between positions in the field service of the Post Office Department of persons having a classified civil service status may be effected under civil service rules and regulations.

(j) Trial period. (1) Persons transferred under authority of this part from one Federal agency to another will be required to serve a trial period of one year in accordance with § 18.5 (c).

(2) Persons who have completed a trial or probationary period during their current continuous period of service will not be required to serve a new trial period upon transfer within a department or agency under this part. Persons transferred within a department or agency under this part prior to completion of a trial or probationary period may complete their trial or probationary period in the positions to which transferred subject to the provision of § 18.5 (c) as to termination of service. Other persons transferred within a department or agency under this part will be required to serve a trial period of one year in accordance with § 18.5 (c).

(3) In the case of substitutes and charmen and charwomen in the postal service, the trial period will be 2,024 hours of active duty.

(k) Preference employees in transfers of functions. When any or all of the functions of any agency are transferred to, or any agency is replaced by some other agency or agencies, all employees entitled to five- or ten-point preference under this part, in such transferred agency, available and qualified for positions in the replacing agency or agencies, shall first be transferred to such positions before such agency or agencies shall appoint additional employees from any other source for such positions, and the Commission will not certify eligibles for such positions as long as such qualified and available preference employees have not been transferred.

§ 18.10 Release for Government employment—(a) Consent for re-appointment, reinstatement and reemployment. No department or agency will effect the transfer or the appointment, reappointment, reinstatement, or reemployment within less than thirty days of separation from the service of any employee or former employee as the case may be of another department or agency without a release from such latter department or agency or from the Commission: Provided, That no release shall be required in the case of a person who is serving, or who last served, under an appointment limited to one year or less. An official notice of actual or contemplated separation for reduction in force, or furlough, will constitute a release for this purpose.

(b) Conditions under which release to be denied or granted. The Commission will deny a release where it is found that the operations of the employee's present agency will be unduly jeojardized by such release: Provided, That a release shall be granted whenever it is established that denial of a release would be an undue personal hardship upon the employee.

§ 18.11 Extent of regulations—(a) Regulations superseded. The regulations in this part shall supersede Parts 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10 of this chapter, and all provisions of joint regulations inconsistent with this part (unless otherwise specifically provided in this part) for all positions except:

(1) Positions other than those filled by civilian employees of the forces in the Police and Fire Department of the municipal government of the District of Columbia;

(2) Positions of policemen in the U. S. Park Police force of the Interior Department.

(3) Postmasters.

Section 2.6 of this chapter is suspended as to appointments made under § 18.5 (f) of this part but said § 2.6 of this chapter shall be applicable to postal employees who become eligible for a classified civil service status in accordance with § 2.7 of this chapter.

(b) Violations; revocation of delegated authority. Whenever the Commission shall find that any department or agency, or part thereof, has acted in violation of any provision of the civil service rules or of this part, the Commission may revoke in whole or in part any authority to act delegated to such department or agency, or part thereof.

§ 18.12 Application for reemployment, following reduction in force—(a) Persons who may file for reemployment. An employee or former employee who is to be, or has been, separated or furloughed for ninety days or more, because of reduction in force, from a position in the Executive branch of the Federal Government, the General Accounting Office, the Library of Congress, the District of Columbia Government, or the Administrative Office of the United States Courts may file application for reemployment within the period shown in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That (1) he has served under a war service indefinite, probational, or permanent civil service appointment, or had immediately prior to such separation or furlough, completed one year or more of continuous Federal service under other than a temporary appointment; (2) he is unqualifiedly recommended by his agency or former agency for further Federal employment; (3) he has a satisfactory service history; and (4) he has not been reemployed (except under temporary appointment) since becoming eligible to apply.

(b) Time limit. Application under this section may be made not earlier than thirty days before separation or furlough and not later than sixty days after absolute separation.

(c) Examination and entry of names on register. Applicants will be examined under the current competitive standards unless already examined and rated eligible under such standards. Names of eligible applicants will be entered on competitive registers in accordance with their earned ratings as augmented by any military preference which they may have been granted.

§ 18.13 Restoration after return from military service—(a) Persons entitled to restoration by law. Any civilian employee of the Executive branch of the Government covered by the Selective Training and Service Act or other statutes providing for reemployment after military service who has left or leaves his position (other than a temporary position) in order to perform active military or naval service for the United States and (1) is honorably separated from such service, (2) is still qualified to perform the duties of such position, and (3) makes application for reemployment within ninety days after he is relieved from such active duty or service or from hospitalization continuing after discharge for a period of not more than one year, shall be restored within thirty days to the position he left or, if that position does not exist to a position of like seniority, status, and pay: Provided, That failure of the agency to act within the said period will not affect the employee's right to restoration: Provided further, That the employee's tenure with the agency will determine whether he left other than a temporary position and the fact that the last position the returning veteran held through promotion or reassignment carried a time limitation will not of itself affect his right to be restored to that position or one of like seniority, status and pay.

(b) Persons not entitled to restoration by law. (1) Any person having appointment under the civil service rules or the war service regulations not limited to one year or less who left or leaves a temporary position (within the meaning of the statutes providing for restoration) in any department or agency of the Executive branch of the Federal Government in order to perform active military or naval service for the United States and (i) is honorably separated from such service, (ii) is still qualified to perform the duties of such position, and (iii) makes application for reemployment within ninety days after he is relieved from such active duty or service or from hospitalization continuing after discharge for a period of not more than one year, shall be reemployed within thirty days either in the position he left or in a position of like seniority, status, and pay in the same geographical locality in which he was employed formerly: Provided, That such reemployment will not require the removal through reduction in force of any employee in a higher retention group: Provided further, That reemployment under this paragraph shall not extend the limitation placed upon his original appointment: Provided further, That failure of the agency to act within the said period will not affect the employee's rights to restoration: Provided further, That the fact that the last position the returning veteran held through promotion or reassignment carried a time limitation will not of itself affect his right to be restored to that position or one of like seniority, status, and pay.

(2) Any person who, in order to perform active military or naval service for the United States, left or leaves a position in a public or private enterprise (other than a temporary position limited to one year or less) which was or is subsequently taken over by the Federal Government shall be entitled to the reemployment rights set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph upon meeting the conditions therein.

(c) Establishing proof of separation from military or naval service. When a person is reemployed after active military or naval service, the agency concerned shall submit proof of separation from such service and Preference Form 14 to the Civil Service Commission.

(d) Transfer of functions. Whenever a function or activity is transferred from one agency to another agency or agencies, arrangements shall be made by the agencies involved and, when necessary, by the Commission and the Bureau of the Budget, for the receiving agency or agencies to assume the reemployment obligations to those former employees who left such function or activity in order to enter the armed forces. The agency to which the reemployment obligation is transferred, together with the function, should notify the employee either through a copy of a regular journal or through a special letter that the employee's reemployment rights pertain to such agency.

Similar steps shall be taken by the head of an agency in connection with the transfer of functions or activities within his agency whenever this will assist the agency and the veteran in identifying the office having primary responsibility within the agency for his reemployment.

(e) Entry on lists. Any veteran eligible for restoration under paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of this section, or any person eligible for restoration to a position in the Executive branch of the Federal Government under Public Law 87—78th Congress (50 U.S.C. App. 1472) after service in the merchant marine, who has not been restored may file application with the Commission within one year of making application to his former agency for restoration. The names of applicants under this section will be entered on appropriate lists for positions for which they are qualified and available.

Effective immediately.

By the United States Civil Service Commission.

Order No. 505 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation 136 is redesignated Revised Order No. 505 and is amended and revised to read as follows:

(a) A reseller of Available trailers may sell, delivered at place of business, each Available semi-trailer, containing the chassis described in subparagraph (1) below at a price not to exceed the total of the suggested resale price in that subparagraph and the applicable charges in subparagraph (2) below (less the discounts the reseller had in effect on March 31, 1942):

FEDERAL LIGHT & TRACTION CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 24th day of October, A. D. 1945.

In the matter of Federal Light & Traction Company, Federal Realty Company, Stonewall Electric Company, and The Tucson Gas, Electric Light and Power Co., File No. 70-1163.

Notice is hereby given that applications or declarations (or both) have been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by Federal Light & Traction Company (Federal), a subsidiary of Cities Service Power & Light Company, both registered holding companies, and its subsidiary companies, Federal Realty Company (Realty), Stonewall Electric Company (Stonewall), and The Tucson Gas, Electric Light and Power Co. (Tucson);

All interested persons are referred to the aforesaid applications and declarations (or both) on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which may be summarized as follows:

Federal proposes to sell its entire interest in Tucson, consisting of all of the outstanding stock of such company (147,000 shares of no par value common stock) to Arizona Edison Company, Inc. (Arizona Edison), for a cash consideration of $5,040,812.79 subject to adjustments. Federal proposes to add the proceeds of this sale to its general funds and states that it is contemplated that the proceeds will ultimately be used to retire outstanding securities of Federal. In conjunction with and preliminary to the aforesaid sale, the following transactions are proposed to be consummated:

(a) Tucson proposes to acquire and Stonewall proposes to sell the property of Stonewall located in Arizona for a cash consideration, as of June 30, 1945, of $81,625.58, pursuant to an Option Agreement entered into between the parties dated June 20, 1939. The filing states that Federal will furnish to Tucson, as a capital contribution, the funds necessary to acquire said properties and that Stonewall will apply the proceeds of such sale to the payment of its mortgage indebtedness.

(b) Federal, as sole stockholder, proposes to liquidate and dissolve Realty. Upon such dissolution and liquidation, Federal proposes to acquire all the assets of Realty and proposes to transfer or cause Realty to transfer its principal asset, an office building, land and fixtures in Tucson, Arizona, to Tucson, as a capital contribution. Federal proposes to sell or cause Realty to sell its remaining property.

(c) Federal proposes to donate to Tucson, as a capital contribution, 4,488 shares of common stock, par value $10 per share of Tucson Rapid Transit Company (Rapid Transit) together with $114,700 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds of such company presently owned by Federal.

The filing has designated sections 9 (a), 10, 12 (b), 12 (c), 12 (d) and 12 (f) of the act and Rules U-42, U-43, U-45, and U-50 as being applicable to the proposed transaction. Federal seeks an exception from the requirements of Rule U-50 pursuant to paragraph (a) (5) thereof in respect of the sale of the common stock of Tucson.

Federal requests that any order approving the proposed transactions contain the recitals described in sections 371 (b), 371 (f) and 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matters and that said applications or declarations (or both) shall not be granted or be permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of the Commission.

It is ordered, That a hearing on said matters under the applicable provisions of the act and the rules of the Commission thereunder be held on November 14, 1945, at 11:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the office of the Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, in such room as the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will at that time advise. Any person proposing to be heard or otherwise to participate in these proceedings shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before November 2, 1945 a written request relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That Allen MacCullen, or any other officer or officers of this Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing on such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the proposed transactions are in furtherance of, and not inconsistent with, the orders of this Commission pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the act dated August 17, 1943 and March 30, 1944.

2. Whether the consideration to be received by Federal for the sale of its interest in Tucson is reasonable, and bears a fair relation to the sums invested in or to the earning capacity of the assets underlying the securities proposed to be sold.

3. Whether, in connection with the proposed sale of the common stock of Tucson by Federal, there has been maintenance of competitive conditions and whether the proposed sale shall be excepted from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50.

4. Whether the terms and conditions of the proposed transactions between affiliated companies of Federal, including the considerations to be paid and received, are detrimental to the public interest or to the interest of investors or consumers.

5. Whether the proposed capital contributions by Federal satisfy the applicable requirements of the act.

6. Whether the accounting entries to be made in connection with the proposed transactions are proper and in accordance with sound accounting principles.

7. Whether the fees, commissions or other remunerations to be paid in connection with the proposed transactions are fair and reasonable.

8. Whether it is necessary or appropriate to impose terms and conditions in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers, and, if so, what terms and conditions should be imposed.

9. Generally, whether the proposed transactions comply with all of the provisions and requirements of the act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

It is further ordered, That notice of said hearing is hereby given to the applicants and declarants and to all other persons; said notice to be given Federal Light & Traction Company, Federal Realty Company, Stonewall Electric Company, The Tucson Gas, Electric Light and Power Co., The Arizona Edison Company, Inc., Arizona Corporation Commission, The Mayor of the City of Tucson, Arizona, City Attorney for Tucson, Arizona, Town of South Tucson and Town Attorney for South Tucson, Arizona by registered mail and to all other persons by general release of this Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the act, and by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

A plan of recapitalization having been filed by Pennsylvania Power & Light Company on August 17, 1945, pursuant to section 11 (e) and other applicable sections of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 regarding, among other things: an increase in the stated capital for the preferred stock from $58,941,836.39 to $60,439,200 for the purpose of stating such capital for the preferred stock at the liquidating value thereof; the conversion of presently authorized but unissued preferred stock into 440,000 shares of new preferred stock of the par value of $100 per share and the increase of the presently authorized shares of common stock from 2,200,000 shares to 5,000,000 shares; the issuance, in exchange for 440,000 shares of presently outstanding $7, $6 and $5 preferred stock, of 440,000 shares of the new preferred and the redemption and retirement of the remainder of presently outstanding preferred stock; the issuance of 1,818,719 shares of new common stock, without nominal or par value, for $10 per share; and the reduction of the stated capital for the common stock by the net amount of $11,288,161.33 for the purpose of creating capital surplus in that amount to be utilized in meeting certain orders of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and the Federal Power Commission with respect to the company's accounts; and

Pennsylvania Power & Light Company having filed a declaration pursuant to Rule U-62 proposing to solicit authorizations from its stockholders for approval of the foregoing transactions; and

Pennsylvania Power & Light Company having requested that the declaration with respect to such solicitation of authority under Rule U-62 be permitted to become effective prior to the issuance of any orders by this Commission approving such proposed transactions in order to permit voting on the transactions at a special meeting of the stockholders scheduled for October 31, 1945; and

Said declaration, pursuant to Rule U-62, having contained copies of the proposed letter of solicitation, copies of all other documents proposed to be transmitted with such letter of solicitation, and a full statement of the manner in which the solicitation is proposed to be made; and

It appearing that the solicitation of proxies of the stockholders as proposed to be conducted does not make it necessary or appropriate in the interest or for the protection of investors or consumers or to prevent the circumvention of the provisions of the act or the general rules and regulations thereunder for the Commission to issue any order with respect thereto other than an order permitting the declaration with respect to such solicitation to become effective;

It is, therefore, ordered, That, without in any manner passing upon the merits of the proposed transactions, the declaration with respect to solicitation of proxies pursuant to Rule U-62 be and hereby is permitted to become effective forthwith.

The Dayton Power and Light Company ("Dayton"), a public utility subsidiary of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation ("Columbia"), a registered holding company, having filed, inter alia, an application, and amendments thereto, under section 6 (b) for exemption from the provisions of section 6 (a) and 7 of the act of the issue and sale, pursuant to the competitive bidding provisions of Rule U-50, of $28,850,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds to mature in 1975, the proceeds of said bonds to be applied, in part, to the redemption of Dayton's presently outstanding First Mortgage Bonds; and

The Commission having, by Order dated October 15, 1945, granted said application, as amended, except as to the price to be paid for said bonds, the redemption price therefor, the interest rate thereon, the underwriters' spread and its allocation, and all legal fees and expenses to be paid in connection with the transactions proposed, as to which matters jurisdiction was reserved; and

Dayton having filed a further amendment to the application in which it is stated that in accordance with the permission granted by the said order of the Commission dated October 15, 1945, it offered such bonds for sale pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 and on October 24, 1945, it received the following bids:

It is ordered, That jurisdiction heretofore reserved over the price to be paid for said bonds, the redemption price therefor, the interest rate thereon, the underwriters' spread and its allocation, and the expenses to be paid in connection with the proposed transactions, be, and the same hereby is, released, and said application be, and the same hereby is, granted, subject, however, to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and the reservation of jurisdiction heretofore made over all legal fees to be paid in connection with the proposed transactions.

If approved, the material will be placed directly in the mail by the Department of Commerce. If not approved, it will be returned to the sender.

(2) Express or freight. Shipments of technical data to be exported by express or freight must be accompanied by a covering letter as required in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (b).

Exporters who desire to have shipments forwarded by express or freight after examination by the Department of Commerce, Office of International Trade Operations, should make all necessary arrangements with the express or freight company so that the local branch of such company will pick up the shipment when requested to do so by the Department of Commerce, Office of International Trade Operations. If it is disapproved, it will be returned to the sender.

(3) Cables, telegrams and radiograms. Technical data to be exported by cable, telegram or radiogram, must be submitted to the Department of Commerce, Office of International Trade Operations, in triplicate (preferably on forms of the transmitting company), accompanied by a covering letter as required in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (b), including instructions regarding payment of the charges. If approved, the message will be sent by the Department of Commerce direct to the transmitting company. If disapproved, it will be returned to the sender.

(4) Personal messengers. Technical data which is to be carried out of the United States as part of the personal baggage of an individual must be submitted to the Department of Commerce, Office of International Trade Operations, for review and sealing. It must be accompanied by a covering letter as required in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (b), stating the name of the person who is to carry the material. It may be presented by the person who is to carry it out of the country, his agent, or by mail. If approved, the material will be appropriately sealed and returned. If it is not approved, it will be returned to the sender.

(5) Material not submitted for examination. Exportation of technical data without prior examination by the Department of Commerce will be authorized only where it is shown that such material is too bulky for submission, or that extreme urgency or time requirements make it impractical or impossible to submit it for examinatiton. In such cases a covering letter must be submitted as required in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (b), including in addition a statement of the reason for the nonsubmission of the material, a descriptive list, in duplicate, of the items to be exported, and the port from which shipment will be made. Prior approval must be obtained before effecting any exportation under this procedure.

(6) Exportation of technical data in foreign language. Technical data submitted in a foreign language to the Department of Commerce, Office of International Trade Operations, for exportation must be accompanied by a translation in the English language which has been duly certified as a true translation by an appropriate officer. The translation will be returned to the exporter after action has been taken.

(7) Patent applications. Technical data contained in papers relating to patent applications based on inventions made in a foreign country which are to be exported for informational purposes or for the purpose of filing in a foreign country; and technical data contained in papers relating to patent applications based on inventions made in the United States which are to be exported for informational purposes and not for the purpose of filing in a foreign country; must be accompanied by a covering letter containing the following information:

Whether application or amendment; country in which invention was made; U. S. serial number; title and brief abstract of invention; if an amendment to an application, whether or not the papers contain any new matter whatsoever; the name and address of the inventor as given in the original application and his present address, if known; and a statement as to whether or not the invention, patent or application therefor has been assigned and, if so, the name, address and nationality of the assignee.

Patent applications based on inventions made in the United States, amendments thereto, or other papers relating thereto, which are to be exported for the purpose of filing in a foreign country, are subject to regulations of the Commissioner of Patents, and, after licensing for filing by the Commissioner of Patents, are exportable under general license.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 32, as Amended Oct. 29, 1945]

INVENTORIES

(a) What this regulation does.

General Restrictions

(b) Restriction on delivery.
(c) Restrictions on receipts.
(d) Restriction on ordering more than needed.
(e) Adjusting outstanding orders when requirements change.
(f) Restriction on processing.

Exceptions

(g) In general.
(h) Receipts permitted after contract cancellations or cut-backs.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(i) Previous inventory authorizations.
(j) Separate inventories.
(k) Redistribution of excess inventories.
(l) Violations.
(m) Revisions of tables.
(n) Appeals, letters and questions.

§ 944.53 Priorities Regulation 32—(a) What this regulation does. This regulation contains the inventory rules formerly in § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1 and in CMP Regulation 2. Its purpose is to prevent excessive inventories by restricting ordering, deliveries, receipts and processing of materials in short supply. All kinds of materials are covered including raw or semi-fabricated materials, commodities, equipment, accessories, parts, assemblies or products of any kind, whether or not acquired with priorities assistance.

The general rule on receipts is in paragraph (c) (1), and this is controlling unless a more specific limitation or exception is indicated in Table 1 or 2 or a direction to this regulation, or unless Table 3 (formerly Order M–161) exempts the material entirely. Other exceptions to the inventory limitations are stated in paragraphs (g) and (h) and in directions to this regulation.

General Restrictions

(b) Restriction on delivery. No person may deliver any material if he knows or has reason to believe that acceptance of the delivery would be in violation of this regulation.

NOTE: For rule on making or delivering material earlier than required by customers, see Interpretation 3.

(c) Restrictions on receipts—(1) General rule. A person may not accept delivery of any material if his inventory of that material is, or will be, more than a practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary to meet his own deliveries or to supply his services on the basis of his current or scheduled method and rate of operation.

NOTE: For rule on when material is considered to be in inventory, see Interpretation 4; for rule as to seasonal industries, see Interpretation 1.

(2) Special rules in Tables 1 and 2. If Table 1 at the end of this regulation shows a special inventory limit on a particular material or product (either specifically or by reference to another WPB order or regulation), that limitation governs and the restrictions of paragraph (c) (1) above may be disregarded unless the applicable order or regulation (or a note in Table 1) also states that a practicable minimum working inventory may not be exceeded. The same is true with respect to particular classes of persons shown on Table 2. Where a specific period of time is shown on Table 1 or 2, no person affected may accept delivery of any material specified if his inventory of it is, or will be, more than he needs during the immediate period specified on the basis of his current or scheduled method and rate of operation. Even if an order or regulation is not listed on Table 1 or 2, any specific inventory limits imposed by it must be complied with. If an order or regulation listed on Table 1 or 2 is revoked or a listing removed from the tables all provisions of this regulation, including paragraph (c) (1), are automatically applicable.

(3) Early delivery of steel, iron products, copper and copper base alloys. Early delivery, up to 15 days before the requested delivery month, may be accepted from a producer of steel, iron products, copper or copper base alloys (in the forms listed on Table 1), but the producer may not make the early delivery if it would interfere with any rated orders. Other special rules on these materials are explained in Table 1.

(d) Restriction on ordering more than needed. (1) A person may not place any order, whether rated or unrated, for delivery of any material on earlier dates or in larger amounts than he would be permitted to receive under this regulation. Orders aggregating more than he is allowed to receive may not be placed with different suppliers even though he intends to cancel one or more of them before delivery. However, this restriction does not apply to materials listed on Table 3 of this regulation nor to purchases by ultimate consumers for personal or household use. The restriction does not forbid the placing of orders for delivery under the conditions explained in Interpretation 11 to Priorities Regulation 1, but such orders may not be scheduled for production as long as this restriction is effective.

(2) This restriction does not require immediate adjustment of orders placed before August 28, 1945. However, in view of its policy to prevent hoarding and speculative buying of materials in short supply, the WPB may direct adjustments or cancellations in individual cases where orders are in excess of reasonably anticipated needs especially where failure to do so might result in unbalanced distribution and curtail total production.

(3) If the inventory limits applying to any material are made more restrictive, whether by a change in Table 1 or otherwise, any person affected must immediately cancel, reduce or defer any order for the material to the extent that the scheduled delivery would result in an inventory greater than permitted by the new restriction and other applicable provisions of this regulation.

(e) Adjusting outstanding orders when requirements change. If because of a change in operations, slowing or stoppage of production, delayed delivery by a supplier, or any other change in requirements, a person who has ordered material for future delivery would, if he accepted delivery on the date specified, exceed the limits prescribed by this regulation, he must promptly adjust his outstanding orders, and, if necessary, postpone or cancel them. Paragraph (h) below describes what further deliveries may be accepted.

(f) Restriction on processing. No person may process, fabricate, alloy or otherwise alter the shape or form of any material if his inventory of the material in its processed, fabricated, alloyed or otherwise altered shape or form is, or will be, more than a practicable minimum working inventory. However, this does not restrict a person from altering the form of surplus materials by scrapping or reprocessing them, unless a WPB order specifically says otherwise.

Exceptions

(g) In general. This paragraph, paragraph (h) below, and certain directions to this regulation state general exceptions to the restrictions on acceptance of delivery described in paragraph (c) above, and to all other inventory restrictions on delivery and acceptance of delivery in WPB orders and regulations unless they contain specific provisions to the contrary. None of these or any other exceptions to WPB inventory restrictions on receipts permit a supplier to disregard any applicable WPB order or regulation which restricts production or delivery.

(1) Exemption of Table 3 materials. Materials listed on Table 3 at the end of this regulation may be delivered and accepted without regard to WPB inventory restrictions.

(2) Materials bought under PR–13. Priorities Regulation 13 provides a limited exemption from inventory restrictions in the case of items bought on special sales.

(3) Imported materials. A person may import any material without regard to WPB inventory restrictions, but if his inventory of it thereby becomes in excess of the amount permitted by this regulation, he may not receive further deliveries of it from domestic sources until his inventory is reduced to permitted levels. The inventory restrictions of this regulation do apply to any deliveries of the imported material he makes, and to the amount of it that any person accepting delivery from him may receive.

(4) Advance stockpiling for civilian production. A person may receive in anticipation of starting or resuming civilian production the minimum amount of material he would need during the first 30 days of such production, provided no priorities assistance is used to get the material. Records of such receipts and the basis on which they were computed must be preserved as required by § 944.15 of Priorities Regulation 1. This 30-day amount is a ceiling as far as advance stockpiling is concerned, and may not be considered as a "bonus" to be added to the amount of any material which a producer expects to have available for making his civilian product. Changes in this 30-day amount may be indicated for a particular material by a note in Table 1.

(5) Minimum sale quantities. Minimum sale quantities and production runs may be accepted to the extent permitted by Interpretation 2 to this Regulation. However, where Column 3 of Table 1 shows a specific amount of a particular material, that is considered to be the minimum sale quantity of it. Thus, if a person would be permitted under paragraph (c) to accept less than the amount shown, he may accept delivery of the full amount. In any event, after receiving a minimum sale quantity of any material, a person may not accept delivery of any additional quantities until his inventory of it is within applicable limits.

(6) Small inventory exemption for particular materials. If a note in Table 1 or 2 shows a specific amount of a particular material as a small inventory exemption, a person may accept delivery of any quantities of it as long as his total inventory of it after acceptance is no more than the specified amount.

(h) Receipts permitted after contract cancellations or cut backs. Where a person has promptly cancelled or cut back a contract with his supplier as required by paragraph (e) and the supplier is not otherwise prohibited from producing or delivering any material involved, delivery of it may be accepted and the inventory restrictions of paragraph (c) exceeded to the following extent only:

(1) Delivery may be accepted if the supplier has shipped the material or loaded it for shipment before the receipt of the instruction to cancel or cut back; or

(2) Delivery may be accepted of any special item which the supplier actually has in stock or in production or special components or special materials which he has acquired for the purpose of filling that contract. A special item, as used above, means one that the supplier does not usually make, stock, or sell, and which cannot readily be disposed of to others; or

(3) Even if the material is not a special item, delivery may be accepted from a producer if it has already been produced or is in production before receipt of the instruction to cancel or cut back, and it cannot be used to fill other orders on the producer's books.

NOTE: For special rules on continuing receipts of special items after contract cut backs, see Direction 3 to this regulation; and as to transfers of idle materials after cancellations or cut backs, see Direction 1. For effect of reduction in consumption rate on permitted inventories, see Interpretation 5.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(i) Previous inventory authorizations. Any specific authorizations, exceptions, or grants of appeals issued under § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1 or CMP Regulation 2 remain in effect according to their terms unless individually modified or revoked.

(j) Separate inventories. (1) In figuring his inventory, a person must include all material in his possession and all material held for his account by another person, but not material held by him for the account of another person.

(2) In the case of a person who on August 28, 1945, has more than one operating unit and keeps separate inventory records for them, this regulation applies to each such operating unit or division independently. A person may not make any further separation or consolidation of such operating units without special written approval of the War Production Board, unless it is purely incidental to a separation or consolidation which is made primarily for other than inventory purposes.

(k) Redistribution of excess inventories. Excess inventories of materials and products, including inventories of materials which are in such form as to be unusable by the holder, are subject to redistribution to other persons by voluntary action pursuant to Priorities Regulation 13, or if necessary for national defense, through requisitioning by the War Production Board.

(l) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this regulation, or who, in connection with this regulation, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(m) Revisions of tables. Tables 1, 2 and 3, attached to this regulation will be revised from time to time. As materials and products become in more ample supply, it is expected that they will be listed on Table 3. In special cases, particular materials or products may also be removed from Table 3 or added to Table 1. It is, therefore, important to be familiar with the latest revision of the tables.

(n) Appeals, letters and questions. Any appeal or other question regarding any provision of this regulation should be sent by letter in duplicate to the Office of Inventory Control and Surplus Utilization, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: PR 32, unless Table 1 or 2 attached to this regulation indicates otherwise with respect to particular materials or classes of persons.

Issued this 29th day of October 1945.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

TABLE 1—MATERIALS AND PRODUCTS SUBJECT TO SPECIFIC INVENTORY PROVISIONS

NOTE: Table 1 amended Oct. 29, 1945.

Explanation. Materials or products listed in Column 1 are subject to the specific inventory provisions shown, as explained in paragraph (c) (2) of the regulation, except to the extent that different rules may apply as to certain classes of persons under Table 2.

Column 2 shows either the WPB order or regulation which controls inventories of the material, or if no order is specified, there is shown a period of time representing the maximum inventory permitted as explained in paragraph (c) (2). An asterisk (*) indicates that the practicable minimum working inventory limit of paragraph (c) (1) also applies, that is, if it would be less than the specific limit indicated.

A figure in Column 3 shows the minimum sale quantity, that is, the amount of the particular material which a person may receive under the conditions stated in paragraph (g) (5), even if it is more than allowed under Column 2. If no figure is shown, the rule in Interpretation 2 must be followed.

Column 4 tells the Division or Office in the War Production Board to which should be sent any appeals or questions regarding the limitations described. However, if the applicable order says appeals are to be filed somewhere else, such as the nearest WPB field office, that provision controls.

Column 5 (Remarks) gives explanations, exemptions or other special rules applicable to the particular material or limitation.

Material (1)	Order or limitation (2)	Minimum sale quantity (3)	WPB division or office administering the control (4)	Remarks (5)
Aluminum. (See Table 3.)
Antimony	M–112		Tin, lead and zinc
Babbitt	M–43, Dir. 2		Tin, lead and zinc
Bristles	M–51		Textiles
Castings, malleable iron. (See Steel, including iron products.)
Copper and copper base alloys: NOTE: (1) The provisions of this regulation apply separately to each "item" of copper or copper base alloys in any class listed below which is different from all other items in that class by reason of one or more of its specifications, such as width, thickness, temper, alloy, finish, or method of manufacture. Differences in color of insulation do not differentiate items of wire mill products. (2) The restrictions in this Table 1 on receipts of copper and copper base alloys, apply only to users of such materials, i. e., persons, including Government operated consuming establishments, who use any item of those materials for production, construction, operating supplies or maintenance and repair. They do not apply to producers who acquire copper or copper base alloys, for the purpose of conversion into another listed form of these materials.	()			The limitations in Column 2 on copper and copper base alloys apply only within the 48 States and the District of Columbia. See Table 2 for certain classes of persons to whom the specific limitations of Column 2 on copper and copper base alloy do not apply.

TABLE 2—CLASSES OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SPECIFIC INVENTORY PROVISIONS

NOTE: Table 2 amended Oct. 29, 1945.

Explanation. The classes of persons listed in Column 1 are subject to the specific inventory provisions shown, as explained in paragraph (c) (2) of the regulation.

Column 2 shows either the WPB order or regulation which controls the inventories of the particular class of persons, or if no order is specified, there is shown a period of time representing the maximum inventory permitted as explained in paragraph (c) (2). An asterisk (*) indicates that the practicable minimum working inventory limit of paragraph (c) (1) also applies, that is, if it would be less than the specific limit indicated.

Column 3 tells the Division or Office in the War Production Board to which should be sent any appeals or questions regarding the limitations described. However, if the applicable order says appeals are to be filed somewhere else, such as the nearest WPB field office, that provision controls.

Column 4 (Remarks) gives explanations, exemptions or other special rules applicable to the particular class of persons or limitation. Where this column specifies certain materials, the limitation or exemption for the particular class of person applies only to the materials specified.

Transportation systems, operators of (MRO supplies).	()	Office of inventory control.	All provisions of this regulation apply, except that with respect to the materials on Table 1 (other than lumber) such operators are subject to paragraph (c) (1) instead of the specific limitations in Column 2 of Table 1. This does not prevent an operator from maintaining minimum stocks of material for emergency use, nor from acquiring reasonable stocks of ties and lumber for seasoning.
Utility producers (electric, power, gas, water and central steam heating).	()	Office of inventory control.	All provisions of this regulation apply, except that with respect to steel, iron products, copper and copper base alloys such producers are subject to the rule of paragraph (c) (1) instead of the specific limitation in Column 2 of Table 1.

INVENTORIES IN SEASONAL INDUSTRIES

Paragraph (c) (1) of Priorities Regulation 32 prohibits any person from accepting a delivery which will give him "more than a practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary to meet his own deliveries on the basis of his current or scheduled method and rate of operation". This does not prevent a person engaged in a seasonal industry who normally stocks up inventory in advance of the season from accepting delivery of his requirements of the inventory in question, provided (a) that he is not guilty of hoarding, and (b) that the deliveries accepted are no greater and no further in advance than those which he would normally accept in the ordinary course of his business to meet reasonably anticipated requirements. (Issued Aug. 28, 1945.)

MINIMUM SALE QUANTITIES AND PRODUCTION RUNS

(a) Applicable provisions of the regulations. Priorities Regulation 32 forbids the making or acceptance of a delivery which will give the customer more than the "practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary" for him to make his own deliveries. A similar provision in paragraph (c) (2) of Priorities Regulation No. 3 says that a customer who is applying a rating for which no specific quantities have been authorized may use it only to get the "minimum amount needed."

(b) Factors to be considered in determining how much can be ordered and delivered. In determining a customer's minimum inventory "reasonably necessary" under Priorities Regulation 32 or his "minimum amount needed" under Priorities Regulation No. 3, it is proper in some cases to consider not only the immediate needs of the customer's plant but also whether the amount which he orders will be a minimum production run for his supplier. The customer may order and receive (and the supplier may deliver) the customer's requirements for a longer period in advance than he actually needs at the time of delivery if, but only if, it is not practicable for him to get the item from any supplier in the smaller quantities which he presently needs. The supplier may reject his customer's order if it is less than the minimum which he regularly sells or less than his minimum production run of a product which is mass produced under the conditions explained in Interpretation 3 of Priorities Regulation 1.

(c) Relief in exceptional cases. If the conditions stated in paragraph (b) above cannot be satisfied but the customer wants to order or accept delivery of more than his actual needs at the time of delivery, he should apply to the War Production Board for permission, stating the facts and why it is not practicable to satisfy the condition of paragraph (b).

(d) Special provisions for certain materials. Where a specific minimum sale quantity is shown in Column 3 of Table 1 of Priorities Regulation 32 with respect to any material or product, that quantity controls instead of the rule in this interpretation.

(e) Specific limits on ratings may not be exceeded. This interpretation does not apply to the use of a rating where a specific quantity is stated in the instrument assigning the rating. If a person is assigned a rating for a specific amount of material, he may not use it to get more. If he finds that he can only get the material in larger quantities, he should apply for a modification of the rating.

(f) No effect on contractual rights. The times and amounts in which deliveries are to be made are to be determined by agreement between the supplier and the customer. Nothing in this interpretation relieves a supplier from fulfilling a contract to make deliveries at specified times in specified amounts. For example, if a customer has agreed to buy and a supplier has agreed to furnish 100 units a month for six months, this interpretation does not obligate the buyer to accept 600 units delivered during the first month, although it permits him to do so under the conditions described in paragraph (b). (Issued Oct. 1, 1945.)

MAKING OR DELIVERING MATERIAL EARLIER THAN REQUIRED BY CUSTOMERS

(a) Paragraph (b) of Priorities Regulation 32 prohibits a person from knowingly making a delivery which will give his customer more than the latter is permitted to receive under the regulation. Paragraph (f) of that regulation prohibits a person from processing or fabricating material if his inventory of the material in its processed or fabricated form will be more than a practicable minimum working inventory. These two restrictions should be borne in mind by any supplier who wants to make or deliver any material to his customer earlier or in greater quantities than required by the customer.

(b) For example: A supplier has accepted his customer's order of a product to be delivered at the rate of 100 a month for six months. The supplier would like to ship 200 a month for three months, or perhaps the entire 600 in the first month. Since the customer's requirements of 100 a month are presumably all he could accept within the inventory limitations of paragraph (c) of the regulation, the requirement that the supplier may not knowingly ship more than this would prevent him from delivering earlier than required by his customer, unless he received notice from his customer that the receipt of the larger amount would not cause him to have an excess inventory.

(c) Thus, before delivering a material or product substantially earlier or in greater quantities than is called for by his customer's order, a supplier is required to satisfy himself that the receipt by the customer of the changed quantities will be within the permissible inventory limitations applicable to the customer. The supplier may rely on any statement or notice to this effect from his customer, unless he knows or has reason to know that it is false.

(d) Similarly, assuming his customer would not be permitted to receive the larger quantities, the supplier should take this into account in his plans for processing the material or product so that he himself will not have an inventory greater than permitted by paragraph (f) of the regulation.

(e) This interpretation, of course, does not change the rule on delivery or acceptance of minimum sale quantities or production runs to the extent described in Interpretation 2 to this regulation, nor does it prevent earlier delivery of iron products, steel, copper and copper base alloys under the conditions described in paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation 32. Also, if any WPB order or regulation permits increased deliveries to the extent necessary to avoid shipping partly filled containers (such as paragraph (y) (4) of Order M-300), the rule in this interpretation does not prevent such deliveries. (Issued Oct. 1, 1945.)

INVENTORY MATERIAL

(a) Paragraph (c) of Priorities Regulation 32 prohibits a person from accepting delivery of material if his inventory of it is, or will be, greater than the maximum prescribed. For the purpose of this regulation, material is considered to be inventory until it is actually put into process or is actually installed or assembled. Putting into process does not include minor initial operations, such as painting, and does not include any shearing, cutting, trimming or other operation unless such initial operations are part of a continuous fabricating or assembling operation. Nor does it include operations such as inspection, testing and ageing nor segregation or earmarking for a specific job or operation.

(b) For example, if a manufacturer who uses wire or rod cuts a sufficient quantity of it to length at one time to maintain his operations for a considerable period of time, the cut pieces remain as inventory until processed into another form or until assembled or installed.

(c) If a manufacturer purchases and stores steel castings in the form purchased, the steel castings are not put into process when the castings are painted and stored. Consequently, the inventory of castings includes those painted and stored.

(d) If a manufacturer shears steel sheet and stocks in sheared form, such stock is still part of his inventory, if the material does not continue in production. (Issued Aug. 28, 1945)

EFFECT OF REDUCTION IN CONSUMPTION RATE ON PERMITTED INVENTORIES

(a) Paragraph (c) of Priorities Regulation 32 prohibits the acceptance of delivery of material if a person's inventory of it is, or will be, more than the amount permitted by the regulation. If material is acquired within these restrictions, the regulation does not prohibit the mere possession of an inventory if a change in circumstances makes it greater than the amount permitted. For instance, if based upon current rate of production a manufacturer's permitted inventory of one item of steel is 100 tons and he has in inventory 60 tons, he may receive a further delivery of 40 tons. If after receiving the delivery of 40 tons his rate of consumption, because of contract cancellation or the like, is reduced drastically, the mere fact that he has an inventory of 100 tons, although his permitted inventory may be only 10 tons, is not a violation of the regulation. He may not, of course, accept any further deliveries of that item of steel until his inventory has been reduced below 10 tons (except as provided in paragraph (h) of Priorities Regulation 32 and Direction 3 to that regulation, relating to material already shipped, special items, etc.)

(b) Similarly, the regulation does not affect the liability of a customer for material in inventory when the customer cancels his contract. Such liability is controlled by the provisions of the contract between the customer and his supplier and by contract law. (Issued Aug. 28, 1945)

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 579, Amdt. 13]

CERTAIN SPECIES OF FRESH AND FROZEN FISH AND SEAFOOD

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amount has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 579 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new section 3.12a is inserted between the sections 3.12 and 3.13.

SEC. 3.12a Winter allowance for certain items of frozen fish. (a) Any person making a sale of any of the items listed in paragraph (c) may add to the appropriate table price the applicable amount listed in that paragraph, but only if:

(1) Such fish has been landed and frozen in the United States. (This allowance may not be added for imported fish.)

(2) The seller has since September 30, 1945 sold without adding this allowance (on the basis of the summer prices) an amount equal to his inventory on September 30, 1945 plus an amount equal to his total domestic purchases of the item made since that date on the basis of the summer prices and his total imports of the item.

(3) The seller has complied fully with the reporting requirements in paragraph (b).

(4) The seller (other than a processor) has received an invoice setting out this allowance separately. (The allowance must be stated on the invoice pursuant to section 3.2 (c).)

(5) The seller has added no storage allowance under section 3.13 (b).

(6) Such fish is delivered to the customer prior to April 1, 1946 in the case of a sale by a processor and prior to April 16, 1946 in the case of a sale by a wholesaler.

(b) Reporting requirements. The allowances provided in this section 3.12a may not be added unless and until the seller has filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the following information:

(1) His inventory of any of the listed items on hand on September 30, 1945 where such inventory is over 1000 pounds.

(2) Monthly reports of his inventory of any of these items on hand at the end of the last day of each month beginning with October 31, 1945.

(3) Monthly reports of the quantity of each of these items purchased during each month beginning with the month of October 1945 (i) at prices including the allowances (winter prices), (ii) at prices not including the allowances (summer prices) and (iii) as imports. For each purchase of more than 500 pounds, the name and address of the person from whom the purchase was made, the price paid and the freezers or other places of business from which delivery was made and to which delivery was made must be set out.

(4) Monthly reports of the quantity of each of these items sold during each month beginning with the month of October (i) at winter prices; (ii) at summer prices. For each sale of more than 500 pounds, the name and address of the customer, the price charged and the freezers or other places of business to which delivery was made and from which delivery was made must be set out.

(5) Each report must be signed, dated and must contain the name and address of the person reporting. In the case of the inventory reports provided by Nos. 1 and 2 the report must contain the addresses of the places in which the inventories are stored stating separately the amount stored in each place. All monthly reports must be filed with the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C. before the 10th of each month. A seller must file monthly reports required by Nos. 2 through 4 with respect to any item only where his inventory (amount he owns) of the item for which no winter allowance may be added exceeds 1000 pounds at any time during the month for which or for the end of which a report is required. Note, however, that all sellers, whether or not they must file reports can take the allowance only if they meet all the requirements of paragraph (a). All sellers must of course, keep records in accordance with section 1.6.

It is further ordered, That an investigation be, and the same is hereby, instituted into the lawfulness of the rates, charges, classifications, regulations, practices, and services of Press Wireless, Inc., for and in connection with telegraph communication service between the United States and China.

It is further ordered, That in the event a decision as to the lawfulness of the charges herein suspended has not been made during the suspension period and said charges have gone into effect, Press Wireless, Inc., and any other carrier subject to the Commission's jurisdiction participating in the service provided under the tariff provisions herein suspended, shall, until further order of the Commission, each keep accurate account of all amounts charged, collected, or received by reason of any increase in charges effected thereby; that each such carrier shall specify in such accounts by whom and in whose behalf such amounts are paid; and each such carrier shall file with this Commission a report, under oath, on or before the 10th day of each calendar month, commencing February 10, 1946, showing the amounts accounted for as aforesaid during the previous calendar month;

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order be filed in the offices of the Commission with said tariff schedules herein suspended; that all carriers subject to the Commission's jurisdiction which are parties to such tariff schedules be, and they are hereby, each made a party respondent to this proceeding; and that copies hereof be served upon each such party respondent;

It is further ordered, That this proceeding be, and the same is hereby, assigned for hearing on the 9th day of November, 1945, beginning at 10:00 a. m., at the offices of the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 133, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. North Bros. Mfg. Co., of Lehigh Avenue and American Street, Philadelphia 33, Pennsylvania, may increase its maximum prices, in effect immediately prior to the issuance of this order, for sales to each class of purchaser of the mechanics' hand tools which it manufactures, by twenty percent.

(b) Maximum prices of purchasers for resale. This paragraph sets forth the methods by which persons purchasing the articles referred to in paragraph (a) shall determine their maximum resale prices.

(1) If the purchaser for resale has already established his maximum prices for his resales of these articles under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to the issuance of this order, he may increase such maximum prices by twenty percent.

(2) If the purchaser for resale had not established his maximum prices for his resales of these articles prior to the issuance of this order, he shall proceed to do so, and may increase the maximum prices established under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation by twenty percent. However, if the applicable pricing provision of the General Maximum Price Regulation is § 1499.3 (a) which requires his maximum prices to be computed on the basis of cost, the reseller shall use the actual invoice price to him as his cost, and the price so computed shall not be increased in any amount. Maximum prices established under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, if that is the applicable pricing provision, will reflect the supplier's maximum prices as adjusted under this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's customary terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials on sales to each class of purchaser.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to, the first invoice to a purchaser for resale showing a maximum price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify such purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) for determining adjusted maximum prices for resales of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(g) Effective date. This order shall become effective on October 26, 1945.

Issued this 26th day of October 1945.

An opinion accompanying this Amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Order 1 under Section 22 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591 is amended in the following respects:

1. Article V is amended by adding thereto a new section 5.4 reading as follows:

SEC. 5.4 Modification of maximum prices of gas appliance valves—(a) Scope of this amendment. This section modifies maximum prices for sales by manufacturers of gas appliance valves to manufacturers of commercial and industrial ranges, water heaters, space heaters, central heaters, and refrigerators.

"Gas appliance valve" means any manually-operated valve or device specially designed to control the flow of natural or manufactured gas, oil, or kerosene, or any derivative of the foregoing fuels, at any rate from none to full, attached to an appliance designed for heating or cooking purposes either at the point where such fuel is to be used or inserted in the fuel supply line of such an appliance.

The term "gas appliance valve" does not include the regular type of angle, gate, globe, or check valve, or any variation of these basic types, nor does it include devices commonly known as corporation cocks or service cocks.

(b) Maximum prices for manufacturers. The maximum prices for sales by a manufacturer of gas appliance valves to manufacturers of the types of the appliances set forth in (a) shall be the total of the following factors:

(1) The unit cost as of January 13, 1944 of direct materials used in the manufacture of the gas appliance valve at net invoice prices (all discounts deducted) laid down on the manufacturer's receiving floor or at any other comparable point, but in no event at prices exceeding the maximum prices permitted under any applicable maximum price regulation, schedule, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) The unit direct labor cost of producing a valve based upon labor rates in effect on January 13, 1944, but in no event exceeding legally permissible rates. The unit direct labor cost shall be determined as follows:

(i) Multiply the labor rate for each operation by the actual time expended on each operation; and

(ii) Divide the sum of the totals for all operations performed on each valve as computed in (i) by the total number of units produced.

(3) The dollar and cents gross mark-up. The dollar and cents gross mark-up shall be determined as follows:

(i) Subtract from the gross sales of gas appliance valves for the calendar year 1941, the direct actual material and labor cost expended in the production of gas appliance valves during such calendar year;

(ii) Divide the resulting difference by the direct actual material and labor costs expended in the production of gas appliance valves during the calendar year of 1941; and

(iii) Multiply the sum of the costs determined under (1) and (2) by the percentage thus obtained.

(c) Cash discounts, allowances and services. The maximum prices established by this section shall be subject to cash discounts and allowances and to the rendition of services at least as favorable as those which the manufacturer extended or rendered or would have extended or rendered to purchasers of the same class on similar sales during the period October 1–15, 1941.

(d) Records. Every person selling gas appliance valves subject to this section shall have available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, a record of each sale made under this section showing the date of the sale, the name and address of the purchaser, the plate number, the material and labor costs, the amount of gross mark-up, the maximum price permitted under this section, the transaction price or the discount allowed from the maximum price, and the point of delivery of the shipment.

(e) Reports. The following manufacturers, namely, W. J. Schoenberger Co., Cleveland, Ohio; Roberts Brass Mfg. Co., Detroit, Michigan; Detroit Brass and Malleable Works, Detroit, Michigan; Harper-Wyman Mfg., Chicago, Illinois; Lincoln Brass Works, Inc., Detroit, Michigan; selling gas appliance valves subject to this section shall file with the Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Cleveland, Ohio within 30 days after first offering for sale a gas appliance valve priced under this section the following data:

(1) Profit and loss statement reflecting entire company operations for the year ended December 31, 1941.

(2) Balance sheet with an analysis of Surplus as of December 31, 1941.

(3) Profit and loss statement covering gas appliance valve operations only, for the year ended December 31, 1941. This statement must include a breakdown of cost of goods manufactured and sold, segregated as to materials consumed, direct labor and manufacturing overhead, together with pertinent inventory adjustments, and of Selling, General and Administrative expenses applicable to this phase of operations.

(f) Notification of purchasers. Every manufacturer selling gas appliance valves subject to this section shall send a notice to every purchaser of gas appliance valves covered by this paragraph at the time of the first invoicing stating substantially as follows:

> The maximum price of this gas appliance valve has to our best knowledge and belief been established in accordance with section 5.4 of Order 1 under section 22 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591.

2. A new Article VII is added to read as follows:

ARTICLE VII—CONTROL EQUIPMENT

SEC. 7.1 Modification of maximum prices of automatic controls used in heating, air conditioning or refrigeration. The maximum price for sales by any manufacturer of the following types of automatic controls used in heating, air conditioning, or refrigeration shall be the highest price for which such controls were delivered, or if not delivered, at which they were offered for delivery to each class of puchaser on October 1, 1941, subject to the most favorable cash discounts which such manufacturer extended or would have extended to such class of purchaser during March 1942.

Low voltage electrical controls
110–220 volt electrical controls
Pneumatic controls (including air compressors, gauges, etc.)
Direct-acting controls (hydraulically operated)

This amendment shall become effective November 2, 1945.

Issued this 29th day of October 1945.

(c) Whenever an order establishing maximum prices for any of the items named in paragraph (b) above, has been issued after submission to and approval by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., it shall supersede the maximum prices established for any of the items affected in any existing maximum price regulation, schedule or order.

(d) Existing price levels shall be generally preserved in fixing dollar and cent prices for the items enumerated in paragraph (b) of this section, except:

(2) Where there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of the commodity; and such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting maximum prices for the commodity in the area; and such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or need for increase in prices, in another locality.

AUTHORITY: §§ 973.0 to 973.12, inclusive, issued under 48 Stat. 31, 670, 675; 49 Stat. 750; 50 Stat. 246; 7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.

§ 973.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 C.F.R. Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq.), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minnesota, marketing area. Upon the evidence introduced in such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The issuance of this part regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and all of the terms and conditions of this order, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk and the minimum prices specified in the said part are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient supply of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest;

(3) The said part regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a tentatively approved marketing agreement, upon which a hearing has been held; and

(4) All milk and milk products handled by handlers, as defined herein, are in the current of interstate commerce, or directly burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk or its products.

(b) Additional findings. (1) It is hereby found and proclaimed in connection with the execution of a tentatively approved marketing agreement and the issuance of this part regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, that the purchasing power of such milk during the pre-war period August 1909–July 1914 cannot be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture, but the purchasing power of such milk for the period January 1924–July 1929, can be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture, and the period January 1924–July 1929 is the base period to be used in connection with the said marketing agreement and this part in determining the purchasing power of such milk.

(2) It is hereby found that the necessary expenses of the market administrator for the maintenance and functioning of such agency will amount to approximately $60,000 per year; and the pro rata share of such expense to be paid by each handler is hereby approved in the maximum amount of 2 cents per hundredweight on all skim milk and butterfat received by such handler from producers during each delivery period and which is disposed of as Class I milk.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping milk covered by this part) of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk which is marketed within the said marketing area signed the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further found that:

(1) The issuance of this part is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the month of July 1945 (said month having been determined to be a representative period), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area; and

(2) The provision of this part providing for the payment to all producers delivering milk to the same handler of uniform prices for all milk delivered by them is approved or favored by at least three-fourths of the producers who, during the month of July 1945 (said month having been determined to be a representative period), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order Relative to Handling

It is hereby ordered, that such handling of milk and milk products by handlers operating in the Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minnesota, marketing area as is in the current of interstate commerce, or as directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products, shall from the effective date hereof be in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

§ 973.2 Market administrator—(a) Designation. The agency for the administration hereof shall be a market administrator who shall be a person selected by the Secretary. Such person shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

(b) Powers. The market administrator shall:

(1) Administer the terms and provisions hereof.

(2) Receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations of the terms and provisions hereof.

(3) Prepare and disseminate for the benefit of producers, consumers, and handlers, such statistics and information concerning the operations hereunder as do not reveal confidential information; and

(4) Make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions hereof.

(c) Duties. The market administrator, in addition to the duties hereinafter described shall:

(1) Within 45 days following the date upon which he enters upon his duties, execute, and deliver to the Secretary a bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, in an amount and with sureties thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(2) Pay out of the funds provided by § 973.9, the cost of his bond, his own compensation, and all other expenses necessarily incurred in the maintenafice and functioning of his office, except as provided by § 973.10.

(3) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for therein and surrender the same to his successor or to such other person as the Secretary may designate.

(4) Unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, publicly disclose within 30 days after such nonperformance becomes known to the market administrator, the name of any person who, within 20 days after the date on which he is required to perform such acts, has not (i) made reports pursuant to § 973.3 or (ii) made payments pursuant to § 973.8; and may at any time thereafter so disclose any such name if authorized by the Secretary; and

(5) Promptly verify the information contained in the reports submitted by handlers.

§ 973.3 Reports of handlers—(a) Periodic reports. On or before the 8th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler, who purchases or receives milk from producers or associations of producers, with respect to all skim milk and butterfat contained in milk, skim milk, cream, and milk products which were, during such delivery period received from (1) producers; (2) other handlers; (3) own farm production; and (4) any other source, shall report to the market administrator in the detail and on forms prescribed by him as follows:

(i) The receipts at each plant from producers who are not handlers;

(ii) The receipts at each plant from any other handler, including any handler who is also a producer;

(iii) The receipts at each plant from producer-handlers;

(iv) The receipts at each plant from such handler's own farm production;

(v) The receipts at each plant from any other source;

(vi) The utilization of all skim milk and butterfat disposed of; and

(vii) The quantity of skim milk and butterfat on hand at the beginning and end of the delivery period.

(b) Reports of producer-handlers and handlers who receive no milk from producers. Producer-handlers and handlers who receive no milk from producers or associations of producers shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require.

(c) Reports as to producers. Each handler, not a cooperative association, upon the request of the market administrator shall, within 25 days after the end of the delivery period, submit to the market administrator his producer pay roll for such delivery period which shall show for each producer (1) the total pounds of milk delivered with the average butterfat test thereof, and (2) the net amount of such handler's payments to such producer together with the prices, deductions, and charges involved.

(d) Verification of reports. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records, and the records of any other handler or person upon whose utilization the classification of milk depends. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of skim milk and butterfat and shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

(1) Verify the receipts and utilization of all skim milk and butterfat and, in the case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(2) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content, milk and milk products;

(3) Verify payments to producers; and

(4) Make such examination of operations, equipment, and facilities as the market administrator deems necessary.

§ 973.4 Classification of milk—(a) Basis of classification. All skim milk and butterfat received in milk, skim milk, cream, and milk products purchased or received by a handler shall be reported by the handler and shall be classified by the market administrator in the classes set forth in (b) of this section.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in (a) and (d) of this section, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat disposed of for consumption in the form of milk, skim milk, cream, sweet or sour (including any mixture of cream and milk or skim milk, containing less butterfat than the legal standard for cream), cultured buttermilk, and flavored milk drinks, and all skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat specifically accounted for as used to produce a milk product other than those specified in (1) of this paragraph and as actual plant shrinkage not in excess of 1 percent of the total receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers. In establishing the classification of milk as required in (b) of this section, the burden rests upon the handler who receives milk from producers to account for the skim milk and butterfat contained in such milk and to prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should not be classified as Class I.

(d) Transfers of milk and cream. (1) Skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I when disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream by a handler (i) to other handlers who receive milk from producers or associations of producers: Provided, That if the market administrator is furnished with a statement signed by both the buying and the selling handler that such skim milk or butterfat was used to produce a Class II product, it shall be classified accordingly subject to verification by the market administrator; (ii) to a producer-handler; and (iii) to a handler who purchases or receives no milk from producers or associations of producers.

(2) Skim milk and butterfat, when disposed of by a handler to a plant of a person, other than a handler, who processes or distributes milk or milk products, shall be classified as follows: (i) determine the classification of all skim milk and butterfat received by such person, and (ii) allocate the skim milk and butterfat disposed of by such handler to such person to the highest use classification remaining after subtracting, in series begining with the highest use classification, the receipts of skim milk and butterfat by such person direct from dairy farmers: Provided, That if moved to a plant located more than 100 miles from the marketing area, such skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I if moved in the form of milk or skim milk and as Class II if moved in any other form.

(3) Skim milk and butterfat received by a handler from an emergency source shall be classified in the lowest use classification of the receiving handler.

(e) Computation of the milk in each class. For each delivery period the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and other obvious errors the report submitted by each handler and shall compute on the basis of the corrected report the amount of milk disposed of in each class as defined in (b) of this section as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk received by adding into one sum the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat contained in the milk, skim milk, cream, and milk products received from all sources.

(2) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I by adding into one sum the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat disposed of in each of the several products of Class I, and the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat unaccounted for or accounted for as actual plant shrinkage in excess of 1 percent of the total receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II by adding into one sum the pounds of skim milk and butterfat used to produce each of the several products of Class II and the pounds of skim milk and butterfat accounted for as actual plant shrinkage not in excess of 1 percent of the total receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers.

(4) Determine the classification of milk of producers as follows: (i) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class II, the pounds of skim milk and butterfat which were received from sources other than producers, associations of producers, other handlers, own farm production, and emergency sources; (ii) subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class II the pounds of skim milk and butterfat which were received from emergency sources: Provided, That if the receipts of skim milk or butterfat from emergency sources are greater than the remaining pounds of skim milk or butterfat in Class II an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk or butterfat in Class I; (iii) subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class the pounds of skim milk and butterfat which were received from other handlers and allocated to each class pursuant to (d) (1) (i) of this section; (iv) subtract pro rata from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class the pounds of skim milk and butterfat which were received from the handler's own farm production; (v) if the remaining quantity of skim milk contains a greater quantity of skim milk or butterfat than the handler reported having received from producers an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted pro rata from the remaining pounds of skim milk or butterfat in each class; and (vi) the result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in each class.

§ 973.5 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Each handler shall, subject to the provisions of (c) and (d) of this section, pay at the time and in the manner set forth in § 973.8 not less than the prices set forth in this paragraph per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period at such handler's plant.

(1) For Class I milk. The price shall be the basic price determined pursuant to (b) of this paragraph plus 50 cents during the months of January, February, March, and April; plus 40 cents during the months of May and June; and plus 70 cents during the months of July, August, September, October, November, and December.

(2) For Class II milk. The price shall be that determined by the market administrator as follows: (i) multiply by 3.5 the average wholesale price per pound of 93-score butter at New York as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period in which such milk was received and add 20 percent thereof; (ii) multiply by 7.7 the average price of spray and roller process non-fat dry milk solids for human consumption, in carlots f. o. b. manufacturing plants as reported for the Chicago area by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period during which such milk was received; (iii) add into one sum the amounts obtained in (i) and (ii); and (iv) subtract 42 cents therefrom.

(b) Basic price. The basic price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I milk shall be the price for Class II milk computed pursuant to (a) (2) of this section or that derived from either of the formulas set forth in (1) and (2) of this paragraph, whichever is the highest.

(1) The average of the basic or field prices ascertained to have been paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices are reported to the market administrator by the listed companies or by the Department of Agriculture:

(2) (i) Multiply the average wholesale price of 93-score butter at New York for said delivery period as reported by the Department of Agriculture by six (6); (ii) add 2.4 times the weekly prevailing price of "Twins" during said delivery period on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, as reported by the Department of Agriculture: Provided, That if the price of "Twins" is not quoted on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange, the weekly prevailing price of "Cheddars" shall be deemed to be the prevailing price for "Twins" and shall be used in determining the price pursuant to this paragraph; (iii) divide the resulting sum by seven (7); (iv) add 30 percent thereof; and (v) multiply the resulting sum by 3.5.

(c) Location differential to handlers. With respect to milk purchased or received from producers at a plant of a handler located outside the marketing area and which is classified as Class I milk, the price per hundredweight computed pursuant to (a) (1) of this section shall be reduced one-half cent for each full mile that such plant is distant from the marketing area. Such deduction shall be based on the shortest highway distance from such handler's plant to the edge of the marketing area, as determined by the market administrator.

For purposes of this paragraph the milk which is classified as Class I milk during each delivery period shall be considered to have been first that which was received from producers at such handler's plants located within the marketing area, and then that milk which was received from producers at such handler's other plants located nearest to the marketing area.

(d) Butterfat differentials to handlers. (1) If the average butterfat content of the milk disposed of by any handler as net pooled Class I milk is more or less than 3.5 percent, such handler shall add to the Class I price per hundredweight computed pursuant to (a) (1) of this section for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class I milk is above 3.5 percent or shall subtract from such Class I price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class I milk is below 3.5 percent an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: To the average wholesale price per pound of 93-score butter at New York as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period add 25 percent and divide the sum obtained by 10.

(2) If the average butterfat content of the milk disposed of as net pooled Class II milk by any handler is more or less than 3.5 percent, such handler shall add to the Class II price computed pursuant to (a) (2) of this section for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class II milk is above 3.5 percent, or shall subtract for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class II milk is below 3.5 percent, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: To the average wholesale price per pound of 93-score butter at New York as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period add 20 percent and divide the sum obtained by 10.

(e) Emergency price provisions. (1) Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or for any milk product for the purpose of determining class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specific price the amount of any subsidy or other similar payment being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk or product associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any such subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price, or if the specified price is not reported or published and the Secretary determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to or comparable with the price specified.

(2) Whenever the Secretary finds and announces that the Class I price computed for any delivery period pursuant to (a) of this section is not in the public interest, the Class I price for such delivery period shall be the same as the Class I price for the preceding delivery period.

§ 973.6 Application of provisions—(a) Handlers who receive no milk from producers. Sections 973.4, 973.5, 973.7, 973.8, 973.9, and 973.10 shall not apply to the handling of milk by producer-handlers or by handlers whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers which are not cooperative associations of producers.

(b) Producer-handlers. Handlers shall furnish to the market administrator for his verification, subject to review by the Secretary, evidence of their qualifications as producer-handlers pursuant to § 973.1 (j), as of the effective date hereof, and they shall furnish evidence of subsequent changes made in the manner of producing or distributing that milk that affects their qualification as producer-handlers; such verification by the market administrator shall be made within 15 days of the receipt of the evidence and shall be retroactive to the effective date hereof in cases verified within 45 days of such effective date and shall be effective retroactively to the first day of the delivery period during which verification is made in subsequent cases.

(c) Sales of milk by a producer-handler. A producer-handler who sells or disposes of skim milk or butterfat to another handler or producer-handler shall be considered a producer with respect to such skim milk or butterfat.

(d) Handlers who receive milk from two groups of producers. In the case of a handler who is required by any health authority in the marketing area to separate his producers into two groups and to receive and handle separately the milk received from each group, the market administrator shall compute a uniform price for each group of producers in the manner provided in § 973.7, if the handler files separate reports for each group, and the milk is handled in such a manner and the records of the handler are so kept that the market administrator can verify the utilization of the milk received from each group.

(e) Payment for excess milk or butterfat. If a handler after subtracting receipts from his own farm production, from other handlers, from emergency sources, and from other sources, has disposed of skim milk or butterfat in excess of the skim milk or butterfat which has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator in computing the value of the milk of such handler pursuant to § 973.7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the value of such skim milk or butterfat in accordance with its utilization by the handler as determined pursuant to § 973.4 (e) (4) (v).

§ 973.7 Determination of uniform prices to producers—(a) Computation of the value of the milk of each handler. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the value of the milk received at all plants by each handler in the following manner:

(1) Multiply the net pooled milk in each class computed pursuant to § 973.4 (e) (4) by the class prices computed pursuant to § 973.5 (a) subject to the differentials set forth in § 973.5 (c) and (d).

(2) Add together the resulting amounts; and

(3) Add the value of any payments to be made pursuant to § 973.6 (e).

(b) Computation of the uniform price for each handler. The market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight for milk received during the delivery period by each handler as follows:

(1) To the value computed pursuant to (a) of this section add an amount equal to the total value of the location differentials computed pursuant to § 973.8 (c).

(2) From the sum obtained in (1) of this paragraph subtract, if the average butterfat content of all milk received from producers by such handler is more than 3.5 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 3.5 percent, an amount computed as follows: multiply the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 3.5 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 973.8 (b) and multiply the result by the total hundredweight of milk received from producers.

(3) Adjust the resulting sum by an amount representing the fraction used in adjusting the uniform price for the previous delivery period to the nearest cent.

(4) Divide the result by the total hundredweight of milk received from producers.

(5) Adjust the resulting figure to the nearest cent. This shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight for each handler for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content delivered to the marketing area.

(c) Announcement of class prices. On or before the 6th day after the end of each delivery period the market administrator shall mail to all handlers and make public announcement of the class prices computed pursuant to § 973.5 (a) and butterfat differentials computed pursuant to § 973.5 (d) and § 973.8 (b).

(d) Announcement of uniform prices. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period the market administrator shall notify each handler and make public announcement of the uniform prices computed pursuant to (b) of this section.

§ 973.8 Payments to producers—(a) Time and method of payment. (1) On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make payment to each producer for milk received from him during the delivery period at not less than the uniform price per hundredweight computed for such handler by the market administrator pursuant to § 973.7 (b), subject to the differentials set forth in (b) and (c) of this section.

(2) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make payment to a cooperative association for milk which it caused to be delivered to such handler for the account of such cooperative association in accordance with the classification of such milk at not less than the class prices set forth in § 973.5 (a), subject to the differentials set forth in § 973.5 (c) and (d), and less the amount of the payment made pursuant to (3) of this paragraph.

(3) On or before the 20th day of each delivery period each handler shall, at the request of the cooperative association, make payment to such association of the approximate value of the milk which such cooperative association caused to be delivered to such handler during the first 15 days of the delivery period.

(b) Butterfat differential to producers. If, during the delivery period, any handler has purchased or received from any producer, milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.5 percent, such handler in making the payments prescribed in (a) (1) of this section, shall add to the uniform price per hundredweight paid to such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of butterfat content in milk above 3.5 percent not less than, or shall deduct from the uniform price per hundredweight for each one-tenth of 1 percent of butterfat content in milk below 3.5 percent not more than an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: to the average wholesale price per pound of 93-score butter at New York as reported by the Department of Agriculture for the delivery period, add 20 percent and divide the resulting sum by ten (10).

(c) Location differential to producers. In making payments pursuant to (a) of this section for milk received from producers at a plant located outside the marketing area, each handler shall deduct from the uniform price payable to such producer an amount equal to one-half cent per hundredweight for each full mile that the plant where such milk was received is distant from the marketing area.

(d) Correction of errors in payments to producers. Errors in making any of the payments prescribed in this section shall be corrected not later than the date for making payments next following the determination of such errors. Any correction affecting all producers delivering to any handler during the period in which such error occurred shall be corrected in such manner as the market administrator shall determine to be equitable, either by (1) adjustment of the account of each individual producer who delivered during such period on the basis of a recomputation of the price of such handler, or (2) by addition or subtraction of the amount of such correction to or from the value of all milk received by such handler in the delivery period during which such error was determined, computed as set forth in § 973.7 (a).

(e) Statement to producers. In making the payments required by this section, each handler shall furnish each producer with a supporting statement in such form that it may be retained by the producer, which shall show:

(1) The delivery period and the identity of the handler and of the producer;

(2) The total pounds and the average butterfat content of milk delivered by the producer;

(3) The minimum rate or rates at which payment to the producer is required under the provisions of (a) and (d) of this section;

(4) The rate which is used in making the payment if such rate is other than the applicable minimum;

(5) The amount or the rate per hundredweight of each deduction claimed by the handler, including any deductions claimed under § 973.10, together with a description of the respective deductions; and

(6) The net amount of payment to the producer.

§ 973.9 Expenses of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his pro rata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler, on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator a sum not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight with respect to all skim milk and butterfat received from producers or cooperative associations of producers and which is disposed of as Class I milk during such delivery period by such handler, the exact rate to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the Secretary: Provided, That with respect to skim milk and butterfat which is caused to be delivered to a handler by a cooperative association and which is classified as Class I, the expense of administration shall be borne by the handler who receives such skim milk or butterfat from the cooperative association.

(b) Suits by the market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handlers pro rata share of expense set forth in this section.

§ 973.10 Marketing services—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in (b) of this section, each handler shall deduct an amount not exceeding 2 cents per hundredweight (the exact rate to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the Secretary) from the payments made to producers pursuant to § 973.8 with respect to all milk received by such handler from producers during the delivery period and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator not later than the 18th day after the end of the delivery period. Such money shall be used by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk received by handlers from producers during the delivery period and to provide such producers with market information, such services to be performed in whole or in part by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) Producers' cooperative associations. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association which the Secretary determines to be qualified under the provisions of the Act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act" is actually performing as determined by the Secretary, the services set forth in (a) of this section, no such deduction shall be made.

§ 973.11 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

§ 973.12 Effective time, suspension, and termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof or any amendments hereto shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. The Secretary shall suspend or terminate any or all the provisions hereof, whenever he finds that it obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If upon the suspension or termination of any or all of the provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate (1) shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; (2) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary shall direct; and (3) if so directed by the Secretary execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Chapter VI—Solid Fuels Administration for War

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

DIRECTION TO ALL SHIPPERS AND INDUSTRIAL CONSUMERS OF COAL PRODUCED IN DISTRICT 8

As a result of recent production losses, shipments of coal from District 8 during the month of November must be strictly controlled. To effectuate a fair distribution of the available production, it is necessary, pursuant to SFAW Regulation No. 1, as amended, to issue the following emergency direction:

1. No shipper of coal produced in District 8 shall ship during the month of November any such coal to any industrial consumer whose days' supply of bituminous coal on the last day of October 1945 was 45 days or more. See the Notice of Direction to All Persons Shipping Bituminous Coal Produced in Districts 1–4, Inclusive, and 6–8, Inclusive, and to Certain Dock Operators, Issued October 17, 1945 (10 F.R. 12983).

2. Shippers of coal produced in District 8 are required, notwithstanding the stock limitations set forth in Section 602.715 of SFAW Regulation No. 27, as amended, to reduce shipments during the month of November 1945 on orders which have been placed with them by industrial consumers to the extent necessary to assure that the days' supply of coal of an industrial consumer on November 30, 1945 conforms, so far as practicable, to the following Stock Limitation Table:

Type of consumer	Method of shipment to consumer
	All rail	Rail and tidewater rail and river
	Days	Days
Railroads	10	20
All other industrial consumers (including utilities and consumers of special purpose coal)	12	20

The above table and the provisions of this paragraph do not apply to shipments of coal ex-lake dock.

3. If more than one shipper of coal produced in District 8 is supplying such coal to an industrial consumer, each shipper shall prorate downward shipments on orders which have been placed with him by the industrial consumer to the extent necessary to assure that the days' supply of the industrial consumer on November 30, 1945, conforms, so far as practicable, to the Stock Limitation Table set forth in paragraph 2, above. In no event shall any, or all shippers combined, ship to an industrial consumer more than the amount of coal produced in District 8 required to meet his consumption requirements for the month of November 1945.

4. Industrial consumers are prohibited from receiving during the month of November 1945 any coal which is not permitted to be shipped to them in accordance with the provisions of this direction.

5. No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties under any contract for any default which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with the provisions of this direction.

This direction shall become effective immediately.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[PR 1, Direction 12]

USE BY SHIP CHANDLERS AND OTHER SHIP SUPPLIERS OF MATERIALS OBTAINED BY MEANS OF RATINGS ASSIGNED ON WPB-646

The following direction is issued pursuant to Priorities Regulation 1:

(a) What this direction does. The U. S. Maritime Commission under delegation of authority from WPB has been assigning ratings on Form WPB-646 to ship chandlers and other ship suppliers to enable them to get materials to hold in inventory for sale to certain vessels. This direction tells how the suppliers may dispose of the earmarked stocks obtained by use of these ratings.

(b) Disposition of earmarked inventories. Up to December 31, 1945, ship chandlers and other ship suppliers who have obtained materials or equipment by the use of ratings assigned on Form WPB-646 may sell these items for the maintenance, repair or operation of ocean-going merchant vessels, military vessels, naval vessels, coast guard vessels, commercial fishing vessels, vessels owned or operated by state, county or municipal governments, cargo-carrying vessels engaged in inland water and Great Lakes transportation or river and harbor floating maintenance equipment. Sales for any of these purposes may be made, in spite of any conditions or restrictions imposed on the WPB-646 form issued. Sales for any other purpose may not be made without the written permission of the WPB. Ship suppliers who wish to get permission for sales for purposes not allowed by this direction should write to the U. S. Maritime Commission, Washington, 25, D. C., Ref: WPB-646, giving full information as to the proposed sale and the reasons for making it.

Schedule I

(a) The purpose of this schedule.
(b) Definition of "newsprint".
(c) Newsprint consumption quotas for persons other than newspaper publishers.
(d) Newsprint delivery quotas for persons other than newspaper publishers.

Scope

§ 3133.6 Limitation Order L-240—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does four things: First, it limits the tonnage of print paper which may be used by a publisher in printing a newspaper. This is called his "consumption quota". Second, it limits the tonnage of print paper which may be ordered or accepted by a newspaper publisher. This is called his "delivery quota". A publisher's consumption quota is on a quarterly basis and his delivery quota is on a monthly basis. Third, Schedule I limits the tonnage of newsprint which a person may use or cause to be used for purposes other than the printing of a newspaper. Fourth, Schedule I limits the tonnage of newsprint which may be ordered or accepted by persons other than newspaper publishers and newsprint suppliers.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Newspaper. "Newspaper" means any publication generally recognized as a newspaper in the newspaper industry, regardless of the frequency of issuance. The term includes all supplements, inserts and other printed matter physically incorporated into a newspaper or delivered together with it.

Where two or more newspapers are published by the same publisher, whether in the same city or in different cities, each newspaper shall operate under a separate consumption quota and a separate delivery quota. In computing his consumption quota a publisher must make separate calculations for morning, evening and Sunday editions, but these figures must be consolidated into a single consumption quota for each newspaper, in accordance with the instructions contained in paragraph (k).

However, morning, evening, Sunday and other editions of the same newspaper shall operate under a single consumption quota and a single delivery quota.

In determining whether a publisher issues separate newspapers or separate editions of the same newspaper, the number and form of the reports filed by the publisher with the Audit Bureau of Circulations in 1941 will be controlling, in the absence of special circumstances. Thus, if a publisher in 1941 filed consolidated statements with the Audit Bureau of Circulations covering morning, evening and Sunday issues, even if these issues had different names, different formats and different staffs, they will ordinarily be considered as a single newspaper for the purposes of this order. If a publisher in 1941 filed separate statements with the Audit Bureau of Circulations covering his morning, evening, Sunday and other publications, they will ordinarily be considered as separate newspapers for the purposes of this order.

If a publisher is uncertain as to whether or not his publication is a newspaper as defined in this order or any of the items covered by Schedule I, he may ask the War Production Board for an official determination. The War Production Board may also make this determination upon its own motion. Such a determination, issued to the publisher in the name of the Recording Secretary of the War Production Board, shall be conclusive for the purposes of this order, unless revoked or modified by the same authority.

(c) Camp papers and free distribution publications. Army or Navy camp, post, station or unit "newspapers" or news sheets generally are not recognized as newspapers in the newspaper industry. They are covered by Schedule I, paragraph (c) (3) of this order. Shopping guides, want ad periodicals and publications in newspaper format distributed free or at nominal cost also are not recognized as newspapers within the meaning of this order and are governed by Schedule I, paragraph (c) (2) of this order. If a publisher issued a free distribution newspaper in 1941, his consumption quota shall be determined in accordance with Schedule I, paragraph (c) (2) of this order and that schedule shall govern even if the circulation of the publication has subsequently been changed in whole or in part to a net paid basis.

(d) Publisher. "Publisher" means a person who publishes a newspaper including an individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(e) Print paper "Print paper" means any grade, quality, type or basis weight of paper used in publishing a newspaper. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or unprinted waste, as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber. It also includes roll wrappers, newsprint used as wrappers, identification sheets and labels for newspapers, and production waste, whether or not this waste is subsequently salvaged for other uses.

(f) Use. All production waste shall be included in the tonnage of print paper "used" in printing a newspaper. Transit damage shall not be included in a publisher's "use" of print paper. A publisher may determine the dates on which paper is "used" under this order either on the basis of the dates when the paper is actually printed or the dates appearing on the respective issues of the newspaper, provided he continues to use the same method which he used in computing his 1941 base tonnages.

(g) Net paid circulation. "Net paid circulation" means the number of copies of a newspaper which have been sold (exclusive of bulk sales), as audited by the Audit Bureau of Circulations or (in the case of newspapers which are not members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations) as verified in accordance with the standards of the Audit Bureau of Circulations of January 1, 1942.

(h) Inventory. "Inventory" means all the print paper which is owned by a publisher or is available for his use. It includes the print paper which he has on hand, in storage, and in transit and paper held for his use by a paper merchant, warehouseman or other person, regardless of its physical location. However, it does not include print paper shipped by water and held in warehouse by a paper manufacturer or merchant as part of the inventory of the manufacturer or merchant; such paper does not become part of a publisher's inventory until it is delivered to him.

(i) Transfer of quotas.—(1) Quotas established under different paragraphs. Quotas established under paragraphs (k) or (m) of this order or the several subdivisions of paragraph (c) of Schedule I are not interchangeable. Thus, for example, a publisher may not use for the printing of a newspaper any part of a consumption quota established under Schedule I, and he may not permit any part of his consumption quota established under paragraphs (k) or (m) to be used for any purpose other than a newspaper. Moreover, a consumption quota established under any of the subdivisions of paragraph (c) of Schedule I may not be used for a purpose covered by any other subdivision of that paragraph or for a newspaper. If a newspaper publisher also conducts a job printing business he must keep these two operations separate for quota purposes.

(2) Transfer of quotas to different persons. The rules governing the assignability of quotas are set forth in Priorities Regulation 7a.

Consumption Quota

(j) Allowable consumption. In the fourth quarter of 1945 and in each calendar quarter after that, no publisher may use or cause to be used, in the publication of a newspaper, print paper in excess of:

(1) His quarterly consumption quota, which shall be computed in accordance with the instructions set forth in paragraph (k) or (m) plus

(2) Any less-than-quota savings carried over from previous calendar quarters, as provided in paragraph (l), plus

(3) Ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that quarter.

(k) Computation of consumption quota.—(1) Base tonnages. Ascertain separately, the tonnage of print paper comprising the net paid circulation of morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper in the corresponding quarter of 1941. Add 3 per cent to each figure. (This 3 per cent is an arbitrary allowance to compensate for production waste and should be added whether the actual production waste in 1941 was greater or less than 3 per cent). These are the "base tonnages" for morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper, which shall be adjusted in accordance with instructions 2, 3, and 4.

(2) Circulation increase. Ascertain separately, the percentage increase or decrease in average net paid circulation of morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper in the calendar year 1942 as compared with the calendar year 1941. (The average net paid circulation for each year shall be determined by adding together the average net paid circulation for each of the four quarters of the year and dividing by four).

(3) Tonnage equivalent of circulation increase. Apply, separately, the respective percentages of circulation increase or decrease determined under instruction number 2 to the respective base tonnages determined under instruction number 1 for morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper.

(4) Adjustment of base tonnages. Adjust the respective base tonnages determined under instruction number 1 by adding or subtracting the number of tons represented by the percentage circulation gain or loss determined under instruction number 3.

(5) Total adjusted base tonnage. Total the respective base tonnages for morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper determined under instruction number 1. Total the respective adjusted base tonnages for morning, evening, Sunday, or other issues of the newspaper determined under instruction number 4. The larger of these two totals is the publisher's "total adjusted base tonnage" from which the required reductions shall be applied.

(6) Sliding scale of reductions. Reduce the total adjusted base tonnage by the following sliding scale of percentage cuts:

(i) Deduct 2% of the amount over 25 tons but not over 125 tons.

(ii) Deduct 4% of the amount over 125 tons but not over 250 tons.

(iii) Deduct 6% of the amount over 250 tons but not over 500 tons.

(iv) Deduct 10% of the amount over 500 tons but not over 1000 tons.

(v) Deduct 12% of the amount over 1000 tons.

(7) Consumption quota. The balance remaining after subtraction of the above reductions from the total adjusted base tonnage determined under instruction number 5 is the publisher's consumption quota for the quarter.

(8) Adjustment for print paper lighter than 32-pound basis weight. If a publisher orders print paper lighter than 32-pound basis weight, his consumption quota for the current calendar quarter shall be reduced proportionately as follows: First, determine the percentage by which 32-pound paper exceeds such lighter paper in weight. Second, multiply the tonnage of lighter paper so ordered by this percentage. Third, subtract the result from the publisher's consumption quota. For example, if a publisher has a consumption quota of 200 tons and orders 100 tons of 30-pound basis weight paper, his consumption quota shall be reduced by 6⅔ tons, since 32-pound paper is 6⅔% heavier than 30-pound paper.

(9) [Deleted Oct. 30, 1945.]

(l) Carry-over. If a publisher uses less print paper than he is permitted to use in the fourth quarter of 1943, or in any calendar quarter after that, he may add this tonnage to his consumption quota but not to his delivery quota, in any succeeding quarter. This paragraph does not apply to the print paper which a publisher is permitted to use under paragraph (m) (2).

(m) Consumption quotas for certain types of newspapers. Excepted from the provisions of paragraph (k) are certain types of newspapers described in this paragraph (m), whose consumption quotas shall be computed as follows:

(1) Special types of newspapers. Any newspaper containing the equivalent of 8 standard-size pages or less which is authorized to be admitted to the mails as second-class matter under the provisions of section 521 of the Postal Laws and Regulations of 1940 (Title 39, U. S. C., sec. 229) pertaining to the publications of benevolent, fraternal, trades-union, professional, literary, historical, and scientific organizations and societies shall have a consumption quota of print paper in any calendar quarter equal to either:

(i) Its quarterly consumption of print paper in any one of the first three calendar quarters of 1944; or

(ii) Its consumption of print paper in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1943. If the publisher selects this latter method in any calendar quarter, he may increase his consumption quota in that quarter by that percentage by which the average number of copies per issue in the third quarter of 1944 exceeds the average number of copies per issue in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1943. For example, if a newspaper's consumption of print paper in the first quarter of 1943 was 5 tons with an average press-run in that quarter of 5,000 copies per issue, and its average press-run in the third quarter of 1944 was 6,250 copies per issue, his consumption quota for the first calendar quarter of 1945 is 6¼ tons.

(2) Small newspapers. During the fourth calendar quarter of 1945 and in each calendar quarter after that, any person may use or cause to be used 10 tons of print paper for a newspaper published weekly or less frequently, 11¼ tons of print paper for a newspaper published semi-weekly, 12½ tons of print paper for a newspaper published tri-weekly, 13¾ tons of print paper for a newspaper published four times a week, 15 tons of print paper for a newspaper published 5 times a week, 16¼ tons of print paper for a newspaper published 6 times a week, or 17½ tons of print paper for a newspaper published 7 times a week. It makes no difference whether he used that much print paper or any print paper in the publication of a newspaper during any previous period.

(3) Other newspapers using less than 25 tons per quarter. If, prior to October 1, 1944, a publisher used less than 25 tons of print paper per calendar quarter for civilian readers (whether or not he used additional paper for military readers), his total quarterly consumption quota for all types of readers shall be computed as follows:

(i) Ascertain the total number of copies of all issues printed in each of the seven calendar quarters between January 1, 1943 and September 30, 1944.

(ii) Ascertain the average number of pages per issue printed in each of the seven calendar quarters between January 1, 1943 and September 30, 1944.

(iii) Multiply the highest quarterly figure determined under subdivision (i) by the highest quarterly figure determined under subdivision (ii). The weight of paper required to produce this number of pages is the publisher's quarterly consumption quota; Provided, however, That if this figure is in excess of 25 tons, the publisher shall be limited to 25 tons per quarter plus the tonnage in excess of 25 tons which he used for military circulation in the third quarter of 1944.

(n) Allotment to Army and Navy. The War Production Board may from time to time delegate to the Army and the Navy authority to add to the consumption quotas of newspaper, magazine, and book publishers the tonnage consumed in publications which are distributed by the Army or Navy to United States Armed Forces personnel (1) in the Continental United States without charge or (2) outside the Continental United States with or without charge. This provision does not cover purchases by military exchanges or service departments as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 17 for distribution within the continental limits of the United States. All newspapers, magazines, and books sold to the military shall be charged against the publisher's consumption quota unless the publisher has received a specific grant from the Army or the Navy pursuant to this paragraph.

Delivery Quota

(o) Computation of delivery quota. In July 1945, and in each calendar month after that, no publisher may order or accept delivery of print paper in excess of his monthly delivery quota, which shall be computed in accordance with the following instructions:

(1) Monthly base. Total the publisher's consumption quotas for the third and fourth quarters of 1945 and add the ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted for the third and fourth quarters of 1945. Divide by 6. Do not add any carry-over from preceding quarters.

(2) Inventory ceiling. The above amount shall be reduced accordingly if a publisher's inventory is, or by virtue of such order or acceptance will become, on December 31, 1945, greater than: (i) 30 days' supply for publishers in the states named in List A, (ii) 50 days' supply for publishers in the States named in List B, or (iii) 60 tons for publishers who would be limited to a smaller amount by subdivision (i) or (ii) above.

Mississippi.	Wyoming.

3. Exclusions. In computing his monthly base under paragraph (o) (1), and in computing the maximum tonnage which he may have in his inventory on December 31, 1945 in accordance with paragraph (o) (2), a publisher shall exclude any less-than-quota savings under his consumption quota carried over from previous quarters. He shall also exclude print paper which he has received by Great Lakes or coastal water-borne shipments; provided on May 1 of any calendar year he shall have on hand or available for use not more than (i) a 30 days' supply if he is located in one of the States named on List A above, or (ii) a 50 days' supply if he is located in one of the States named in List B above and provided further that no publisher may order or accept delivery of a total amount of print paper by water, rail or otherwise in any calendar year (including both the open and closed navigation seasons) in excess of his permitted consumption for that calendar year.

(4) Computation of rate of consumption. The number of days' supply shall be computed at the average daily rate of allowable consumption for the last six months of 1945.

(5) Fractional carloads. If a publisher's delivery quota for any month is less than one carload, he may nevertheless order and accept, in that month, up to one full carload. If a publisher's delivery quota for any month is a whole number of carloads plus a fraction of another carload, the fraction may be added to his delivery quota for any succeeding month.

(6) Transit damage. If print paper in inventory is destroyed or damaged to such an extent that it becomes unusable in publishing his newspaper, whether this occurs while the paper is in transit or after it has reached its destination, the publisher may increase his delivery quota (but not his consumption quota) in the same or any subsequent month by an amount sufficient to replace such paper. It is immaterial whether or not the publisher is reimbursed for the destroyed or damaged paper by the shipper, the carrier, or an insurance company. It is also immaterial whether or not the publisher salvages all or part of the damaged paper for use other than in publishing his newspaper.

(7) Report on transit damage. Any publisher who increases his delivery quota to replace destroyed or damaged print paper in accordance with subparagraph 6 above shall, within 15 days after placing the order for such replacement, file a letter with the War Production Board stating the number of tons comprising the publisher's delivery quota for that month, the number of tons destroyed or damaged, the manner in which such print paper was rendered unfit for use in publishing his newspaper, and the number of tons ordered in excess of his delivery quota. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(p) Exceptions. Permission to order or accept delivery of print paper in excess of the tonnage allowed under paragraph (o) may be granted by the War Production Board upon a written request for specific authorization stating the number of tons and the number of days' supply of print paper which the publisher has in inventory, the number of tons comprising his delivery quota, the number of additional tons he desires to order and accept, and the reasons why the denial of the request would create undue hardship.

(q) Certification. No mill or other supplier may sell or deliver to any person, and no person may accept, any newsprint for use under Order L–240 or Schedule I of Order L–240 except on a delivery order bearing or accompanied by a certification substantially in the form set forth below. This certification must be signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 by the purchaser or by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

> The undersigned certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (a) of the U. S. Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board: (a) that he is permitted to place this delivery order and to accept the newsprint ordered; (b) that the newsprint will be used or delivered, or that it is required to replace in inventory newsprint previously used or delivered, under War Production Board Order L–240 or Schedule I to Order L–240.

The above certification must be placed on, or must accompany, each delivery order placed by any person for newsprint to be used under Order L–240, and the certification provided for in Priorities Regulation No. 7 may not be used in its place.

(r) Inventory reports and copies of orders. On and after July 1, 1945, the publisher of every newspaper which consumes 25 tons of print paper or more in any calendar quarter shall file with the War Production Board:

(1) A monthly statement of his inventory of print paper on Form WPB 4292 within three days after the close of each month, beginning with June 1945.

(2) Copies of all orders for the delivery of print paper placed by him or for his account. Such copies of orders must be mailed within three days after the orders are placed.

These reporting requirements have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(s) Intra-company transfers. The foregoing restrictions apply not only to deliveries from one person to another, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division, or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division, or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(t) Loans of print paper. Any loan of print paper made by a publisher shall be reported to the War Production Board by letter within 15 days after the date of the loan. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(u) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(v) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. Appeals by newspaper publishers shall be acted upon in accordance with Supplement I of this order.

(x) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 30th day of October 1945.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

SCHEDULE I

(a) The purpose of this schedule. This schedule limits the acceptance and use of newsprint (except as provided in paragraph (n) above) by all persons other than the publisher of a newspaper or a newsprint supplier.

(b) Definition of "newsprint". "Newsprint" means the grades of paper commonly known as "standard newsprint" and "superstandard newsprint."

(c) Newsprint consumption quota for persons other than newspaper publishers. (1) In the fourth calendar quarter of 1945 and in each calendar quarter after that no person may cause to be used in the publication of magazines or books more than 113.3 per cent of the newsprint which he lawfully used or caused to be used for that purpose in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1944 or the second calendar quarter of 1945, or 10 tons, whichever is greatest: Provided, however, That any person who did not publish magazines or books in 1942 may not cause any newsprint to be used for such purposes in any quarter in which he is associated directly or indirectly with any person, firm or corporation having a consumption quota under this paragraph.

(2) In the fourth calendar quarter of 1945 and in each calendar quarter after that no person may cause to be used in the publication of shopping guides, free distribution newspapers, want ad publications and free distribution publications in newspaper format more than 110 per cent of the newsprint which he lawfully caused to be used for that purpose in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1944 or the second calendar quarter of 1945, or 10 tons, whichever is greatest. However, no part of a consumption quota under this paragraph may be transferred to a different city or trading area.

(3) In the fourth calendar quarter of 1945 and in each calendar quarter after that no person may use (except for newspapers, magazines, books, shopping guides, free distribution newspapers, want ad publications and free distribution publications in newspaper format) more than 113.3 per cent of the newsprint which he lawfully used in the corresponding calendar quarter of 1944 or the second calendar quarter of 1945, or 10 tons, whichever is greatest. However, a printer is not limited in the amount of newsprint which he may use for printing (including official Army or Navy post, camp, station or unit newspapers) to be delivered to the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration directly, or as a part of a contract for an item purchased by one of those agencies.

(d) Newsprint delivery quotas for persons other than newspaper publishers. No person (other than the publisher of a newspaper or a newsprint supplier) may order or accept delivery of newsprint in any calendar quarter, if he has reason to believe, that by virtue of such order or acceptance his inventory of newsprint will be, on the last day of such calendar quarter, in excess of 33⅓ per cent of the newsprint which he lawfully used or caused to be used in the preceding calendar quarter, or 60 tons, whichever is greater.

(e) Transfer of quotas. Except under circumstances stated in Priorities Regulation No. 7A, the transfer of quotas from one person to another and the acquisition or use of one person's quota by any other person, directly or indirectly, is a violation punishable in accordance with paragraph (x). Quotas established by this order may not be bought or sold under any guise. Thus, for example, if A, a publisher with a newsprint quota under paragraph (c) (1), places his name in the masthead of a magazine, and otherwise identifies himself as its publisher, but B performs most of the customary publishing functions, this is an unauthorized use by B of A's quota.

(f) Additional restrictions concerning magazines. (1) The newsprint consumed in reprints containing 40% or more of the editorial content appearing in any issue of a magazine must be charged against the newsprint quota of the publisher from whose magazine the material was reprinted.

(2) Not more than one person's newsprint consumption quota may be used to publish the same or substantially the same magazine.

INTERPRETATION 2: Revoked Dec. 24, 1943.

INTERPRETATION 3: Revoked Dec. 24, 1943.

TRANSIT DAMAGE

Paragraph (f) of Order L–240 states in part: "Transit damage shall not be included in a publisher's 'use' of print paper." This provision which was inserted in the order on December 24, 1943, merely explained, and did not change, the existing rule.

At all times since the issuance of Order L–240 on December 31, 1942, a publisher has been obliged to charge against his consumption quota only the print paper which was actually "used" in publishing his newspaper; print paper which was destroyed or damaged in transit need not be charged against the publisher's consumption quota to the extent that such print paper was rendered unusable in the publication of his newspaper. However, at all times since the issuance of Order L–240 on December 31, 1942, production waste has been included in the tonnage of print paper which is "used" in publishing a newspaper. (Issued Oct. 30, 1944.)

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1418—TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

[RMPR 373,[1] Amdt. 42]

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES IN HAWAII

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Section 21 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 373 is amended as follows:

SEC. 21. Maximum prices for fresh fruits and fresh vegetables.—(a) Scope of section and definitions. This section fixes maximum prices for sales of fresh fruits and vegetables in the Territory of Hawaii. Paragraph (b) incorporates special pricing provisions to cover broken lot sales, sales by producers in the Island of Oahu, and sales by retailers to institutional buyers. Paragraph (c) establishes maximum prices for sales of mainland fresh vegetables, and paragraph (d) establishes maximum prices for sales of mainland fresh fruits. These two paragraphs, (c) and (d), apply only to sales in the Islands of Oahu, Hawaii, Maui, and Kauai. Paragraph (e) establishes maximum prices for sales of island-grown fresh fruits and vegetables in the Islands of Oahu, Hawaii, Kauai, Lanai, Maui, and Molokai.

(1) Definitions. When used in this section, the term:

(i) "Sale at retail" means a sale by any seller to an ultimate consumer.

(ii) A "retailer" is any individual or person, including a producer, who sells a commodity or commodities covered by this section to an ultimate consumer.

(iii) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale by any seller to any buiyer for purposes of resale or processing.

(iv) A "wholesaler" is one who acquires commodities covered by this section and who sells the same at wholesale as herein defined.

(v) A "producer", for the purposes of this section, shall mean and include any person engaged in the business of raising and producing natural resource products and specifically the commodities covered by this section and who sells the same in their natural state to any person.

(vi) "Ultimate consumer" means a person who buys commodities for consumption by himself or his family off the premises of the seller.

(vii) "Institutional buyers" means the United States, or any of its political subdivisions; the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or any agency of the foregoing; any religious, educational or charitable institution; any institution for the sick, deaf, blind, disabled, aged or insane; any school, hospital, library, hotel, restaurant, licensed boarding house, marine provisioner, and all commercial and industrial users.

(b) Special provisions.—(1) Wholesaler's broken lots sales of fresh fruits and vegetables imported from the mainland. Wholesale sales of fresh fruits and vegetables imported from the mainland may be made by broken lots, that is, a part of a bag, box or crate, but the aggregate price received from the sale of such parts may not exceed the wholesale ceiling for the entire bag, box or crate. For example, for sales made by the half box, quarter box, etc., the maximum price shall be computed by dividing the wholesale ceiling by two, four, etc.

(2) Sales by producers in the Island of Oahu of island-grown fresh fruits and vegetables. In the Island of Oahu specific prices are fixed for sales of island-grown fresh fruits and vegetables by producers. These prices apply to all sales by producers except sales to ultimate consumers. The prices are for roadside delivery at the producer's farm. If a producer delivers fresh produce to the premises of a buyer, other than an ultimate consumer, or to any point away from his farm at the buyer's direction, he may charge for cartage service at the rates provided by Office of Price Administration regulation. If a producer sells to an ultimate consumer, he may charge retail prices, but no extra charges for cartage or any other service may be made if such charges result in higher prices than the retail maximum prices.

(3) Sales by retailers to institutional buyers. (i) The maximum prices for sales of fresh fruits and vegetables by retailers to the United States, or any of its political subdivisions; the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or any agency of the foregoing; and to any institution operated by public funds, are the maximum prices for sales at wholesale established in this section.

(ii) In the Island of Oahu the maximum prices for sales of fresh fruits and vegetables by retailers to institutional buyers other than those mentioned in (i) are the maximum prices for sales at retail established in this section, less 10%.

(iii) In the Islands of Hawaii, Kauai, Lanai, Maui, and Molokai, the maximum prices for sales of fresh fruits and vegetables by retailers to institutional buyers other than those mentioned in (i) are the maximum prices for sales at wholesale established in this section. Nevertheless, a retailer may, during any calendar month, use the maximum prices for sales at retail established in this section, if 80% or more of his total dollar sales of fresh fruits and vegetables during the previous calendar month were retail sales to ultimate consumers.

(4) Gross income tax. In the case of a sale at wholesale to any buyer who does not pay a retailer's Territorial gross income tax the wholesaler may add to his ceiling prices his tax as is provided in Section 14 of this regulation.

(5) Extra charges. Except as otherwise provided in this section, no charges may be made for cartage or any other service rendered, or cost incurred in connection with the sale of the fresh fruits and vegetables covered by this section if such charges result in higher prices than the maximum prices established herein.

(c) Maximum prices for sales in the Islands of Oahu, Hawaii, Maui, and Kauai of fresh vegetable imported from the mainland. (1) Where the total price for the aggregate quantity of any commodity sold results in a fraction of a cent, such total price shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent, and shall be increased to the nearest higher cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more.

These specifications may be obtained at the University or at the Office of Price Administration, Honolulu, Hawaii, or at the District Offices of the Office of Price Administration, or from the County Agents on each island. "Merchantable quality" (MQ) means produce having not more than 15% serious damage and not more than ⅓ of this, (or 5%, shall be soft root. Size and appearance are not considered as important factors in this classification.

(2) Where the total price for the aggregate quantity of any item of produce sold results in a fraction of a cent, such total price shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent, and shall be increased to the nearest higher cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more.

(e) Maximum prices for sales in the Islands of Oahu, Hawaii, Kauai, Lanai, Maui, and Molokai of island-grown fresh fruits and vegetables. (1) All grades shall conform to the specifications therefor established by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Hawaii and contained in Agricultural Extension Circular No. 156 as amended November 15, 1943. These specifications may be obtained at the University or at the Office of Price Administration, Honolulu, Hawaii, or at the District Offices of the Office of Price Administration, or from the County Agents on each island. "Commercial quality" (CQ) means that stock is of generally good quality and condition and that size and appearance are acceptable to consumers. Generally good quality means that approximately 85% is desirable quality. Stock must not contain more than 10% serious damage nor more than 2% soft rot. "Merchantable quality" (MQ) means produce having not more than 15% serious damage and not more than ⅓ of this, (or 5%, shall be soft root. Size and appearance are not considered as important factors in this classification.

(2) Where the total price for the aggregate quantity of any item of produce sold results in a fraction of a cent, such total price shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent, and shall be increased to the nearest higher cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more.

(3) On the Island of Hawaii, where delivery is made by a wholesaler to an institutional buyer, a delivery charge not to exceed 5% of the wholesale maximum price fixed for sales to institutional buyers may be added.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 11 of this regulation, every person making sales of any of the commodities covered by this section 21 shall on and after the date any such produce becomes subject to this paragraph keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records as follows:

(i) Persons making sales at wholesale. Copies of the invoices or sales memoranda given to purchasers as required by subparagraph (3) below. Purchase records showing the date of purchase, name and address of supplier, kind and grade purchased, number of pounds or other unit of purchase, price per unit, total price paid and the quantity of each kind and grade on hand or order at the close of each calendar month.

(ii) Persons making sales at retail. Copies of the invoices and sales memoranda received from suppliers.

(2) Prices to be marked and posted. At all times any person offering to sell at retail any item of the fresh fruits and vegetables covered by this section shall post his current selling price for the item either on the item or at or near the place in the store where the item is offered for sale. Of course, this posted selling price must never exceed the retail maximum price fixed for the item under this section.

(3) Sales slips and receipts. (i) Every person selling at wholesale shall give the purchaser, at the time of delivery, an invoice or sales memorandum showing the date of sale, name and address of the seller, the name and address of the purchaser, and with reference to each item of produce sold the following: The kind and grade, the number of pounds or other unit of sale as specified in this section, the price per unit and the total price received.

(ii) Every person selling at retail who has customarily given purchasers sales slips or receipts or similar evidences of purchase shall continue to do so. However, upon request from a purchaser every such seller, regardless of previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date of sale, the name and address of the seller, the name and address of the purchaser, and with reference to each item of produce sold, the following: The kind and grade, the number of pounds or other unit of sale as specified in this section, the price per unit and the total price received.

Retailers selling to institutional buyers must, in all cases, give a bill of sale or delivery slip containing the following information:

1. Date of sale.
2. Name and address of seller.
3. Name and address of purchaser.
4. Kind and grade of item sold.
5. Number of pounds or other unit of sale as specified in this section.
6. Price per unit and total price received.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[MPR 188,[1] Amdt. 69]

MANUFACTURERS' MAXIMUM PRICES FOR SPECIFIED CONSUMERS' GOODS OTHER THAN APPAREL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

1. Section 1499.154 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1499.154 Maximum prices for articles of consumers' goods not finally priced before August 1, 1942. This section shall apply to articles first offered for sale before August 1, 1942, for which no maximum price was finally determined, and to all articles first offered for sale on or after August 1, 1942.

The maximum price for any such article shall be the price determined by the first one of the methods set forth in §§ 1499.155, 1499.157, and 1499.158 which applies to the article. New small-volume manufacturers, as defined in Order No. 4332 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, may obtain ceiling prices for their articles under the method provided by that order instead of the methods provided in §§ 1499.157 and 1499.158.

2. Section 1499.156 is hereby revoked.

3. Section 1499.157 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1499.157 Third pricing method: pricing by comparable articles. The maximum price of any article which cannot be priced under § 1499.155 and which is comparable to any article produced by the manufacturer for which a maximum price has already been established, shall be the price derived by the pricing formula set forth in this section.

NOTE: The meaning of certain terms used in this section is further explained in subsequent provisions of the section. The terms so explained are in quotation marks the first time that they appear in the text.

(a) Pricing formula. To establish a maximum price the manufacturer shall:

(1) Determine the "unit direct cost" for the article being priced.

(2) Select from his line of "comparable articles" for which maximum prices have already been established, two comparable articles: the one which has a unit direct cost immediately higher and the one which has a unit direct cost immediately lower than the unit direct cost of the article being priced. If a comparable article has the same unit direct cost as the article being priced, it shall be selected in addition to the comparable articles immediately above and below. If all comparable articles are either above or below, the one closest in unit direct cost shall be selected.

(3) Determine both the average percentage and the average dollar mark-up over unit direct cost for the comparable articles selected.

(4) Apply to the unit direct cost of the article being priced either the average percentage or the average dollar mark-up, whichever will yield the lower price. The resulting price shall be the maximum price.

(Example of the above computation)
Unit direct cost of the article being priced—$9.00

Unit direct costs of comparable articles selected according to (2)	Maximum selling price for each such article	Dollar markup for each such article	Average percentage markup for such articles
$10	$14	$4	$23 (sum of maximum prices).
7	9	2	−17 (sum of unit direct costs).
17	23	6+2=$3	6+$17=35.3%.

Unit direct cost+average percentage markup=$9+$3.18=$12.18.
Unit direct cost+average dollar markup=$9+$3=$12.
Maximum selling price of article being priced (the lower of above two sums) $12.

In calculating the markup over unit direct cost for the comparable articles selected, the manufacturer shall use the maximum prices for those articles applicable to the class of purchaser to whom he sold the largest quantities of those articles. The same class of purchaser shall be used for all the comparable articles. If the class of purchaser to whom he sold the largest quantities is not the same for all of the comparable articles, the manufacturer shall determine which of the comparable articles has the largest sales volume and use the maximum prices applicable to the class of purchaser to whom he sells that article in largest volume. The maximum price derived by the formula for the article being priced is the maximum price applicable to such largest volume class of purchaser. That price may be adjusted for other classes of purchasers according to § 1499.159.

(b) Computation of unit direct cost. To establish the unit direct cost of the comparable articles and of the article being priced, the manufacturer shall compute the cost per unit of direct labor and materials on the basis of the following wage rates, material prices, and operating conditions:

(1) Wage rates. The wage rates applicable to any article shall be the straight time wage rates for each class of labor involved in the production of the article prevailing in the manufacturer's plant at the time the report required by this section is filed.

(2) Material prices. The prices of materials used in the comparable article and the article being priced shall be the prices being paid by the manufacturer at the time the report required by this section is filed, but not in excess of legal ceiling prices. Material prices must be based on purchases in comparable quantities from the same or corresponding class of supplier for both the comparable article and the article being priced.

(3) Operating conditions. Using the wage rates and material prices determined under (1) and (2), the manufacturer shall compute the cost per unit of direct labor and materials for an article according to the methods customarily employed by him in computing his cost. He shall compute this cost on the basis of the same productive techniques, the same labor efficiency and the same volume of production for the comparable articles as for the article being priced.

(c) Computation of markup—(1) Percentage. The average percentage markup over unit direct costs shall be calculated by computing the percentage markup between the sum of the unit direct costs and the sum of the maximum prices of the comparable articles selected.

(2) Dollar markup. The average dollar markup over unit direct cost shall be calculated by averaging the individual dollar markups between the unit direct costs and the maximum prices of the comparable articles selected.

(d) Comparable articles. An article shall be deemed comparable to another article which although differing therefrom by more than minor changes within the meaning of § 1499.155 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, has the same general use as the other article and is recognized by the industry as being the same general type of product, even though different materials and construction are used; except that articles for which maximum prices were established under Order No. 4332 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 shall not be deemed to be comparable articles.

(e) Reports of maximum prices—(1) Articles first offered for sale before August 1, 1942. In the case of an article first offered for sale before August 1, 1942, for which a maximum price must be determined under this section, the manufacturer shall report the maximum price as computed by him to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on or before August 20, 1942. The report shall contain a description of the article being priced and of any innovation in manufacturing process involved and an explanation of the computation of the cost and the maximum price. It shall also describe each of the comparable articles, giving for each the maximum prices for all classes of purchasers and, if practicable, the volume of production for the three calendar months immediately preceding the filing of the report.

At any time prior to September 4, 1942, the manufacturer may offer for sale, sell, or deliver the article at a tentative price if he informs the purchaser that the maximum price must be determined under this section. In such case he must refund any amounts collected in excess of the price so determined. Fifteen days after mailing the report, in the absence of a contrary direction from the Office of Price Administration, he may offer for sale or complete the sale of the article at the price reported.

(2) Articles first offered for sale during August 1942. In the case of articles first offered for sale during August 1942, the manufacturer shall submit the report required in (1) on or before September 10, 1942.

At any time prior to September 25, 1942, the manufacturer may offer for sale, sell, or deliver the article at a tentative price if he informs the purchaser that the maximum price must be determined under this section. In such case he must refund any amounts collected in excess of the maximum price so determined. Fifteen days after mailing the report, in the absence of a contrary direction from the Office of Price Administration, he may offer for sale or complete the sale of the article at the price reported.

(3) Articles first offered for sale on or after September 1, 1942. Except as provided in the next paragraph of this subparagraph (3), in the case of an article first offered for sale on or after September 1, 1942, the manufacturer shall submit to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the report required in (1) prior to first offering the article for sale. Fifteen days after the mailing of the report, in the absence of a contrary direction from the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer may offer for sale the article at the price reported.

The report shall not be filed in the National Office, however, but rather in the appropriate District Office, if it is filed in conjunction with an application for an adjustment for which the manufacturer qualifies under Supplementary Order 119; or if the maximum prices of the comparable articles reported were established by a Regional or District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

In the case of an article for which a maximum price must be determined under this section for a sale to the United States Government or an Allied Government the manufacturer may at any time offer for sale, sell, or deliver the article at a tentative price to such a government or agency if he informs the purchaser that the maximum price must be determined under this section. In such case, he must refund any amounts collected in excess of the price so determined. The manufacturer shall submit the report required in (1) ten days after the formation of the contract. Fifteen days after the mailing of the report, in the absence of a notification to the contrary from the Office of Price Administration the reported maximum price shall stand approved.

4. Section 1499.158 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1499.158 Fourth pricing method; specific authorization by the Office of Price Administration—(a) Maximum prices. If a maximum price cannot be established under any of the preceding pricing methods of this regulation, the maximum price for sales of an article to a particular class of purchaser shall be the price in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation fixed by the Price Administrator or his duly authorized representative. For the purpose of this section, maximum prices established in accordance with Order No. 4332 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 shall not be considered to be representative of the level of maximum prices established by this regulation. The maximum price will be fixed by an order establishing a maximum price or a method of determining maximum prices. The order may also establish maximum prices for sales of the article by persons other than the manufacturer. Maximum prices so established for sales by persons other than the manufacturer supersede maximum prices fixed by other regulations for such sales.

(b) Reports of maximum prices. Before offering to make any sale for which a maximum price must be established under this section, the manufacturer shall submit a report in duplicate applying for the establishing of a maximum price or prices for his sales of the article. In the case of consumers' durable goods listed in paragraph (b) of Appendix A (§ 1499.166), the manufacturer shall submit the report to the District Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction over the area in which his principal place of business is located.

The report shall contain a description in detail of the article (including the manufacturing process), a statement of the facts which make it necessary to price the article under this section, and the proposed maximum price together with the facts which support the proposed maximum price. If the manufacturer applies for approval of a pricing formula for a line or group of related articles, he shall also include a statement of the pricing formula he proposes for such articles and the reasons why such a pricing formula will establish maximum prices in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

The manufacturer shall also submit a sample of the article being priced, if practicable. The sample should not be forwarded, however, until the manufacturer has been advised where to send it. If it is not practicable to submit a sample, the manufacturer shall submit with his application in lieu of a sample, a photograph, blueprint, or other illustration of the article being priced. In addition, the manufacturer shall submit such other relevant information to supplement his report as the Office of Price Administration may require.

Upon issuance of the order by the Price Administrator or his duly authorized representative, the manufacturer may offer the article for sale in accordance with the terms of the order. Authority to offer an article for sale and make deliveries before an order has been issued under this section, may be given by the Office of Price Administration by letter or telegram. Upon receipt of such an authorization the manufacturer may offer the article for sale and deliver the article in accordance with the terms of that authorization. Such an authorization will be given only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

In the case of an article for which a maximum price must be determined under this section for a sale to the United States Government or an Allied Government, the manufacturer shall submit the report required in the above paragraph of this paragraph (b) ten days after the formation of the contract. The manufacturer may at any time offer for sale, sell, or deliver the article at a tentative price, to such government or agency if he informs the purchaser that the maximum price must be determined under this section. In such case he must refund any amounts collected in excess of the price so determined. The price shall remain tentative until the maximum price has been determined in the manner provided in this regulation.

NOTE: Notwithstanding the above provisions, certain orders issued under § 1499.159b require the manufacturer to file a report with the National Office of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. These orders and the articles to which they apply are:

Order No. 1470—New Metal Cots and Double Deck Beds.
Order No. 1509—Upholstered Sofa Beds, Studio Couches, and all other Upholstered Dual Purpose Sleeping Equipment.
Order No. 1949—Inner Constructions for Sofa Beds, Studio Couches, and all other Upholstered Dual Purpose Sleeping Equipment.
Order No. 3145—War Bicycles.

5. Section 1499.158a is amended to read as follows:

§ 1499.158a Delegation of authority. Any Regional Administrator, or any District Director authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator, may act on reports filed under § 1499.157; may issue orders under §§ 1499.158 and 1499.159c establishing maximum prices in accordance with the terms of those sections; and may, in accordance with § 1499.158, authorize manufacturers to offer or deliver articles prior to the issuance of an order under that section.

6. Section 1499.159 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Price differentials. Every manufacturer shall continue all his allowances, discounts, and other price differentials in effect in March 1942. In the case of articles priced under §§ 1499.155, 1499.157, or 1499.159c of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, every manufacturer shall in the case of sales to different classes of purchasers adjust the maximum prices determined for one general class of purchaser to reflect all allowances, discounts, and other price differentials which he had the established practice of making during March 1942, or which were established for his sales by an order under § 1499.158. If a manufacturer does not have an established differential for sales to a particular class of purchaser or on particular terms or conditions of sale, he must apply under § 1499.158 for the establishment of maximum prices for such sales.

7. Section 1499.159 (b) is amended by deleting the reference to § 1499.156 contained in the last sentence of that section.

This amendment shall become effective on the 5th day of November 1945.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

§ 8.2 Prisoners; entitlement to industrial good time allowance. (a) The Surgeon General shall designate industries, and supporting activities, employment in which may form the basis for industrial good time allowances pursuant to this section.

(b) All prisoners regularly assigned by the medical officer in charge to such industries or activities shall be eligible for industrial good time allowances in addition to good conduct allowances, except parole or conditional-release violators while serving the balance of sentences originally imposed, and prisoners assigned to segregation quarters.

(c) The standard industrial good time allowance shall be:

(1) 2 days per month for the first year during which the prisoner is so assigned; 4 days per month during the second, third, and fourth years; 5 days per month during the fifth and succeeding years;

(2) One-half of the foregoing allowances when regularly assigned on a part-time basis.

(d) Allowances at less than the standard rate may be made a condition of the assignment to the designated industries or activities of (1) prisoners serving their second or subsequent terms under sentences of more than one year, (2) prisoners transferred from other institutions for disciplinary reasons or (3) parole or conditional-release violators while serving new sentences.

(e) The medical officer in charge shall either allow or disallow industrial good time to those eligible. Allowances shall be credited for each calendar month as earned. Where computations are made for fractions of a month, resulting allowances of a fraction of a day shall be considered as a full day. The award of industrial good time shall be subject to the approval of the Director of the Bureau of Prisons.

(f) Upon recommendation of the medical officer in charge, and approval by the Surgeon General and the Director of the Bureau of Prisons, prisoners who have performed extraordinarily meritorious service may be granted additional industrial good time allowances; the total industrial good time allowance, however, shall not exceed three days for each month of employment in designated industries or duties for the first year or part thereof, or five days for each such month in any succeeding year or part thereof.

§ 8.3 Prisoners, forfeiture and restoration of good conduct or industrial good time allowances; deductions from term of sentence; partial or total restoration. (a) When the medical officer in charge has reason to believe that a prisoner has violated the rules of the hospital, thereby warranting a forfeiture of deductions from sentence for good conduct or industrial good time, or both, he shall appoint a trial court, to be composed of three officers of the hospital to investigate the alleged violation. The prisoner shall be notified of the investigation and given an opportunity to cross-examine all witnesses, unless, in the opinion of the trial court, such cross-examination is not feasible, and he shall be permitted to call such witnesses as the court may deem necessary and proper. The prisoner may request the assistance of an officer of the Service to assist him in presenting his case. At the conclusion of the investigation, the trial court shall make formal findings of fact, and, if violations are found, recommendations as to the extent of the forfeiture to be imposed. The medical officer in charge may order further proceedings or upon the basis of the findings of the trial court that one or more violations have occurred shall determine the amount of the good conduct or industrial good time allowances that the prisoner shall forfeit. The determination of the medical officer in charge shall be transmitted through the Surgeon General to the Director of the Bureau of Prisons for approval.

(b) The medical officer in charge may recommend a partial or total restoration of forfeited good conduct or industrial good time allowances. Such recommendation, with reasons therefor, shall be transmitted through the Surgeon General to the Director of the Bureau of Prisons for approval.

§ 8.4 Continuation as ex-prisoner. When the medical officer in charge, upon examination of a prisoner not less than one month prior to the expiration of his maximum sentence, determines that the prisoner is still an addict and may be cured of such addiction by further treatment, he shall notify the prisoner, on a form prescribed by the Surgeon General, of the advisability of submitting to further treatment and of the estimated maximum time necessary to cure him of his addiction.

Such prisoner may apply for further treatment, on a form prescribed by the Surgeon General, signifying that if his application is accepted, and in consideration of such acceptance, he agrees and consents to submit to care and treatment for the estimated maximum period necessary to cure him or until such earlier date on which he is certified as cured, and to comply with any regulations or rules which may be adopted governing the operation of the hospital and his conduct therein.

§ 8.5 Prisoners, ex-prisoners, and probationers; cash and clothing furnished upon discharge. Every prisoner, ex-prisoner, and probationer shall, in the discretion of the medical officer in charge, be furnished upon discharge with cash in amounts not exceeding similar allowances currently made to Federal prisoners on release from a penal, correctional, disciplinary or reformatory institution, and with suitable clothing.

§ 8.6 Prisoners, ex-prisoners, and probationers; transportation furnished upon discharge. Every prisoner, ex-prisoner, and probationer shall be furnished with transportation, by the cheapest usually traveled route, to the place of conviction or of bona fide residence within the continental United States, or to such other place within the continental United States as, in the opinion of the medical officer in charge, may afford the best opportunity for permanent rehabilitation.

§ 8.7 Voluntary patients; admission. A person seeking admission as a voluntary patient to hospitals of the Service shall submit an application on a form prescribed by the Surgeon General and a medical certificate by a qualified physician as to the addiction of the applicant, the physical and mental condition of the applicant, and such other information as may be pertinent. The Surgeon General shall cause the applicant to be examined, shall determine whether he is an addict and whether he may be cured of his addiction by care and treatment in a hospital, shall estimate the maximum time necessary to effect such cure, and shall notify the applicant of such determinations.

If an applicant is determined to be eligible for admission, he shall signify in writing that if his application is accepted, and in consideration of such acceptance, he agrees and consents to submit to care and treatment for the maximum period which has been estimated to be necessary to cure him or until such earlier date on which he is certified as cured, to pay for his subsistence, care, and treatment at rates fixed by the Surgeon General, if required by the Surgeon General, and to comply with any regulations or rules which may be adopted governing the operation of the hospital and the conduct of voluntary patients treated therein.

§ 8.8 Contraband. Any article or thing not routinely furnished by the institution to patients or authorized by law or by hospital authorities to be in possession of patients, including any letter or message intended to be received by an inmate of the hospital and introduced by persons other than those authorized by law or by hospital authorities, is contraband.

Effective date; prior regulations superseded. The regulations in this part shall become effective upon the date of their publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and shall supersede the regulations issued pursuant to sections 6 and 11 of the act of January 19, 1929 (45 Stat. 1086, 1087, 21 U.S.C. 226, 231) and sections 1 of the Acts of June 23, 1936, May 14, 1937, March 26, 1938, and June 26, 1940, respectively. As of November 1, 1945, § 303.2 Uniform tanker voyage charter party "Warshipoilvoy" (General Order 2, Supp. 1) is hereby revised to read:

§ 303.2 Uniform tanker voyage charter for private carriage of liquid bulk cargoes, "Warshipoilvoy (Revised) 11/1/45". (a) On and after November 1, 1945 or as soon thereafter as printed forms shall be available, all voyage charters or trip charters entered into on behalf of the War Shipping Administration for the private carriage (as distinct from common carriage) of petroleum and/or its products in bulk on vessels operated by or on behalf of the War Shipping Administration shall, except as hereinafter provided, be on the form designated "Warshipoilvoy (Revised) 11/1/45".

(c) Agents may upon advice to the War Shipping Administration and upon previous approval by it incorporate special provisions in Part I of the charter party appropriate and necessary for the transportation of other liquid bulk cargoes, dry cargoes or for the particular vessel or trade. Special provisions are generally authorized by existing and future tanker operations regulations, rate orders, and rate advices. Other special provisions may be authorized by letter or other written communication from the Director, Tanker Operations Division, War Shipping Administration.

(d) The right is reserved to approve other forms of voyage charters and make general amendments or amendments appropriate to specific trades.

PART II

1. Warranty. The Owner shall, before and at the commencement of the voyage, exercise due diligence to make the Vessel seaworthy, properly manned, equipped, and supplied for and during the voyage, and to make the pipes, pumps, and heater coils tight, staunch, and strong and in every respect fit for the voyage, and to make the tanks, holds, and other spaces in which cargo is carried fit and safe for its carriage and preservation.

2. Time for naming loading port. The Charterer shall name the loading port twenty-four (24) hours prior to the Vessel's readiness to sail from the last previous port of discharge or from the bunkering port for the voyage, or upon signing this Charter, if the Vessel has already sailed. Any extra expense incurred by reason of the Charterer's delay in furnishing loading port orders shall be paid for by the Charterer and any time thereby lost to the Vessel shall count as used laytime.

3. Readiness and canceling date. Laytime shall not commence before the readiness date named in Part I, unless otherwise provided in this Charter, or unless the Charterer accepts a notice of readiness or orders or permits the Vessel to berth before that date, or otherwise waives the provisions of this paragraph. If the Vessel is not ready to load by 4:00 p. m. (local time) on the canceling date named in Part I, the Charterer shall have the option of canceling this Charter by giving the Owner notice of such cancellation within twenty-four (24) hours after the canceling date; otherwise this Charter shall remain in full force and effect. The Charterer may in its notice of cancellation specify that it will nevertheless accept the Vessel if she is ready to load on or before a date or time that Charterer may designate in such notice in which event the Owner may at its option either treat this Charter Party as cancelled or tender the Vessel on or before the date named by the Charterer in its notice, whereupon this Charter shall remain in full force and effect.

4. Notice of readiness and commencement of laytime. When the Vessel has arrived at the port of loading or discharge and is ready to load or discharge, a notice of readiness shall be tendered to the Charterer or its agent by the Master or Agent by letter, telegraph, wireless or telephone. The Vessel shall be deemed ready within the meaning of this clause whether she arrives during or outside of usual business hours, whether she is in or out of berth or whether or not she has ballast water or slops in her tanks. Laytime shall commence either at the expiration of six (6) running hours after tender of notice of readiness, Vessel in or out of berth, except that any delay to the Vessel in reaching her berth caused by the fault of the Vessel or Owner shall not count as used laytime; or immediately upon the Vessel's arrival in berth (i. e. finished mooring when at a sealoading or discharging terminal and all fast when loading or discharging alongside a wharf) with or without notice of readiness, whichever first occurs.

5. Laytime. The number of running hours specified as laytime in Part I shall be permitted the Charterer for loading, discharging, and used laytime; but any delay due to breakdown or inability of the Vessel's facilities to load or discharge the cargo within the time allowed shall not count as used laytime. If regulations of the Owner prohibit loading or discharging of the cargo at night, time so lost shall not count as used laytime; if the Charterer, shipper or consignee, or the port authorities prohibit loading or discharging at night, time so lost shall count as used laytime. The Vessel shall have the right to sail from all ports immediately upon the completion of loading or discharging whether or not laytime has expired.

6. Safe berth. Shifting. The Vessel shall load and discharge at any safe place or wharf, or alongside vessels or lighters reachable on her arrival, which shall be designated and procured by the Charterer, provided that the Vessel can proceed thereto, lie at, and depart therefrom always safely afloat, any lighterage being at the expense, risk and peril of the Charterer. The Charterer shall have the right of shifting the Vessel at ports of loading and/or discharge from one safe berth to another on payment of all towage and pilotage shifting to the next berth, charges for running lines on arrival at and leaving that berth, wharfage and dockage charges at that berth, additional agency charges and expense, customs overtime and fees, and any other extra port charges or port expenses incurred by reason of using more than one berth. Time lost to the Vessel on account of shifting shall count as used laytime except as otherwise provided in WSA Rate Orders and Rate Advices.

7. Pumping In and Out. Hoses. (a) The cargo shall be pumped into the Vessel at the expense, risk and peril of the Charterer, and shall be pumped out of the Vessel at the expense of the Vessel, but at the risk and peril of the Vessel only so far as the Vessel's permanent hose connections, where delivery of the cargo shall be taken by the Charterer or consignee. The Vessel after discharging shall, if requested by the Charterer, clear shore pipelines of oil by pumping water through them, the time consumed to count as used laytime. The Vessel shall furnish her pumps and the necessary steam for discharging in all ports where the regulations permit of fire on board, as well as necessary hands. Should regulations not permit fires on board, the Charterer or consignee shall supply, at its expense, all steam necessary for discharging as well as loading, but the Owner shall pay for steam supplied to the Vessel for all other purposes. If cargo is loaded from lighters, the Vessel, if permitted to have fires on board, shall, if required, furnish steam to lighters at Charterer's expense for pumping cargo into the Vessel.

(b) Hoses for loading and discharging shall be furnished by the Charterer and shall be connected and disconnected by the Charterer, or at the option of the Owner, by the Owner at the Charterer's risk and expense. Laytime shall continue until the hoses have been disconnected.

(c) Unless notation or exception is made in writing on the bill of lading, or other shipping document before departure of the vessel from the dock or place at which the said cargo is delivered, receipt of the cargo shall be deemed prima facie evidence of right delivery of the entire cargo as described in the bill of lading; further, that upon failure or refusal by the Charterer or its representative to execute or except to the ullage reports prepared by the vessel, the figures stated in said ullage reports shall be deemed prima facie correct and binding upon the parties hereto.

8. Products excluded. Flashpoint. (a) No product shall be shipped which fails to meet one or the other of the two following requirements: (1) The vapor pressure at one hundred degrees Fahrenheit (100° F.) shall not exceed thirteen pounds (13 lbs.) as determined by the A.S.T.M. Method (Reid Method) identified as D-323 current at the time shipment is made. (2) The distillation loss shall not exceed four per cent (4%) and the sum of the distillation loss and the distillate collected in the receiving graduate shall not exceed ten per cent (10%) when the thermometer reads one hundred twenty-two degrees Fahrenheit (122° F.) Note.—The distillation test shall be made by A.S.T.M. Method identified as D-86 current at the time shipment is made. When products other than Naphtha or Gasoline are tested, the distillation loss may be determined by distilling not less than twenty-five per cent (25%) and deducting from one hundred per cent (100%) the sum of the volumes of the distillate and the residue in the flask (cooled to a temperature of sixty degrees Fahrenheit (60° F.)).

(b) No petroleum or its products have a flashpoint under 150° Fahrenheit (Closed Cup Abel Test) shall be loaded from lighters but this clause shall not restrict the Charterer from loading or topping off crude oil from vessels or barges inside or outside the bar at any port or place where bar conditions exist.

9. Freight. (a) Full freight to the discharging port named in Part I or declared by the Charterer in accordance with this Charter shall be completely earned on all cargo as loaded and the Owner shall be entitled to receive and retain such freight irrevocably under all circumstances whatsoever ship and/or cargo lost or not lost, whether or not the cargo is damaged or unsound, or in the event the voyage is abandoned or broken up.

(b) The freight shall be at the rate stipulated or incorporated in Part I based on the intake quantity as shown by the Inspector's Certificate of Inspection, the services of the Petroleum Inspector to be arranged and paid for by the Charterer who shall furnish the Owner's Agent with a copy of the Inspector's Certificate.

(c) Freight, less any advances made to the Master at the port or ports of loading, shall, unless otherwise agreed in Part I, be paid in full without discount in United States currency to the Owner's Agent at the Agent's place of business upon receipt by the Agent of figures indicating the quantity of cargo loaded as provided in sub-paragraph (b) above. No deduction in freight shall be made for water and/or sediment contained in the oil.

(d) If, by mutual agreement between the parties hereto, the port or ports of discharge declared in accordance with the Charter Party are changed subsequent to the Vessel's sailing, the freight shall be as specified in the applicable War Shipping Administration Rate Orders or Rate Advices, on the basis of the port or ports at which the cargo is discharged in accordance with the said agreement; or, in the event the Vessel or cargo is lost or the voyage abandoned or broken up, on the basis of the port or ports to which the parties agreed that the vessel would be sent. The Charterer agrees to reimburse the Owner for all expenses resulting from the change of ports over and above the expenses that would have been incurred had the Vessel proceeded direct to the port or ports of actual discharge.

10. Deadfreight. Should the Charterer fail to supply or load the quantity or cargo stated in Part I the Vessel may at the Master's option and shall upon request of the Charterer proceed on her voyage: Provided, That the tanks in which cargo is loaded are sufficiently filled in the judgment of the Master to put her in a seaworthy condition. In that event deadfreight shall be completely earned and payable on the difference between the quantity loaded and the quantity specified in Paragraph B of Part I.

11. Demurrage. Charterer shall pay demurrage per running hour and pro rata for a part thereof at the rate stipulated in Part I for all time that loading and discharging and used laytime as elsewhere herein provided exceeds the allowed laytime herein specified. If, however, demurrage shall be incurred at ports of loading and/or discharge because of fire or explosion in or about the plant, or because of breakdown of machinery or loading or discharging facilities of the Charterer, shipper or consignee of the cargo, the rate of demurrage shall be reduced to one-half the rate stipulated in Part I hereof per running hour and pro rata of such reduced rate for part of an hour for demurrage so incurred.

12. Dues, wharfage, taxes. The Vessel shall be free of any wharfage, dockage, quay dues or similar charges at all loading and discharging ports. Entrance and clearance fees whether measured by the volume of cargo or not, towing and tug charges, pilotage, dues, and other usual port charges on the Vessel shall be paid by the Owner. All other dues, taxes, assessments, and charges on the cargo shall be paid by the Charterer including but without limitation any habilitation tax, customs overtime, taxes on freight at loading or discharging ports as well as any unusual taxes, assessments or governmental charges whether in effect at present or whether imposed on the Vessel or freight in the future and whether or not measured by the volume of the cargo, shall be paid by the Charterer, except as otherwise provided in W. S. A. Rate Orders or Rate Advices.

13. Advances. Cash shall be advanced by Charterer to the Master or Owner's Agents if required for ordinary disbursements at ports of loading at current rates of exchange. The Charterer shall not be responsible for the application of such advances.

14. Ice. The Vessel shall not be ordered to or bound to enter any icebound port or place or any place where lights, lightships, marks or buoys on Vessel's arrival are or are likely to be withdrawn by reason of ice or where there is risk that ordinarily the Vessel will not be able on account of ice to enter, reach or leave the place. The Vessel shall not be obliged to force ice. If on account of ice the Master considers it dangerous to enter or remain at any loading or discharging place for fear of the vessel being frozen in and/or damaged, he shall have the liberty to sail to another place or port which is free from ice and at which there are facilities for loading or discharging cargo and there await Charterer's further instructions. The whole of the time occupied from the time the Vessel is diverted by reason of ice or other conditions until her arrival at an ice-free port as well as any detention by reason of ice or any of the above causes shall be paid for by the Charterer at the demurrage rate stipulated in Part I.

15. Quarantine. (a) Should the Charterer send the Vessel to any port or place where a quarantine exists, any delay thereby caused to the Vessel shall count as used laytime; but should the quarantine not be declared until the Vessel is on passage to such port, the Charterer shall not be liable for any resulting delay. The Owner shall be entitled to all the liberties specified in Clause 28.

(b) If the Vessel, prior to or after entering upon this Charter, has docked or docks at any wharf which is not rat-free or stegomyia-free, she shall before proceeding to a rat-free or stegomyia-free wharf, be fumigated by the Owner at his expense, except that if the Charterer ordered the Vessel to the infected wharf he shall bear the expense of fumigation.

16. Cleaning. (a) The Owner shall clean the tanks, pipes, and pumps of the Vessel to the reasonable satisfaction of the Charterer's Inspector. Charterer's attention is called to the last two successive cargoes (stated in Part I) carried or to be carried by the Vessel preceding her entering upon this Charter and, if after steaming or butterworthing upon Charterer's request, the Charterer or its Inspector requires further cleaning, the Owner has the option either to perform further cleaning or to withdraw the Vessel from the service and cancel this Charter. Acceptance of the Vessel by the Charterer or loading the cargo shall be a complete fulfillment of the Owner's obligations under this clause.

(b) If the Vessel may not pump ballast water or slops overboard or otherwise dispose of them at or en route to the port of loading, the Charterer shall provide facilities for that purpose and charges for handling, storage or disposal of ballast water and/or slops shall be for the Charterer's account. Time consumed discharging ballast water or slops shall not count as laytime. Any delay by the Charterer in furnishing facilities for the disposal of ballast water or slops shall count as laytime.

17. Heating. If heating of the cargo is requested by the Charterer, the Owner shall exercise due diligence to maintain the temperatures requested. Notwithstanding any other provision herein the Owner shall not be responsible if such temperatures are not maintained by reason of any cause beyond the Owner's control and the laytime and demurrage provisions herein shall remain in full force and effect. The burden of proving the failure to exercise due diligence shall be on the Charterer or person claiming damage or other relief. Whenever the Owner's failure to maintain temperatures is excused under this or any other provision of this Charter, Charterer shall assume all risks of delay during discharge due to the nature or condition of the cargo and shall pay demurrage if any.

18. General exceptions clause. Neither the Vessel nor the Master or Owner shall be or shall be held liable for any loss of or damage or delay to the cargo or for any failure in performing hereunder arising or resulting from:—Any act, neglect or default of the Master, pilots, mariners or other servants of the Owner in the navigation or management of the vessel; barratry; fire, unless caused by the personal design or neglect of the owner; collision; stranding; perils, dangers or accidents of the seas or other navigable waters; saving or attempting to save life or property; wastage in weight or bulk or any loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality or vice of the cargo; any act or omission of the Charterer, shipper, consignee, owner of the goods or holder of the bill of lading, their agents and representatives; insufficiency of packing; insufficiency or inadequacy of marks; explosion, bursting of boilers, breakage of shafts or any latent defect in hull, machinery, equipment or appurtenances; unseaworthiness of the vessel whether existing at the beginning of the voyage or developing during the voyage unless caused by want of due diligence on the part of the Owner to make the vessel seaworthy or to have her properly manned, equipped, and supplied; leakage; shrinkage; evaporation; change in quality of the cargo; handling or transportation losses; difference between actual or reported intake and outturn quantities; stowage or contact with or leakage from other cargo; discoloration; contamination; deterioration; any consequence arising out of shipping more than one grade of cargo; or from any other cause arising without the actual fault or privity of the Owner. And neither the Vessel, her Master or Owner, nor the Charterer shall, unless otherwise in this Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss of or damage or delay to or failure to discharge or deliver the cargo arising or resulting from:—Act of God; act of war; act of public enemies, pirates or assailing thieves; arrest or restraint of princes, rulers or people; seizure under legal process provided bond is promptly furnished to release the vessel or cargo; strikes, lockouts, stoppage or restraint of labor from whatever cause whether partial or general; or riot or civil commotion. No exemption afforded the Charterer under this clause shall relieve the Charterer of or diminish its obligations for payment of any sums due the Owner under other provisions of this Charter.

19. Jason clause. In the event of accident, danger, damage, or disaster before or after commencement of the voyage resulting from any cause whatsoever, whether due to negligence or not, for which or for the consequence of which the Owner is not responsible by statute, contract, or otherwise, the cargo, shippers, consignees, or owners of the cargo shall contribute with the Owner in general average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses or expenses of a general average nature that may be made or incurred, and shall pay salvage and special charges incurred in respect of the cargo. If a salving ship is owned or operated by the owner, salvage shall be paid for as fully as if the salving ship or ships belong to strangers.

20. Both to blame collision clause. If the Vessel comes into collision with another ship as a result of the negligence of the other ship and any act, neglect or default of the Master, mariner, pilot or the servants of the Owner in the navigation or in the management of the Vessel, the owners of the cargo carried hereunder will indemnify the Owner against all loss or liability to the other or non-carrying ship or her owners insofar as such loss or liability represents loss of, or damage to, or any claim whatsoever of the owners of said cargo, paid or payable by the other or non-carrying ship or her owners to the owners of said cargo and set off, recouped or recovered by the other or non-carrying ship or her owners as part of their claim against the carrying ship or Owner. The foregoing provisions shall also apply where the owners, operators or those in charge of any ship or ships or objects other than, or in addition to, the colliding ships or objects are at fault in respect of a collision or contact.

21. General average. General average shall be adjusted, stated and settled, according to Rules 1 to 15, inclusive, 17 to 22, inclusive, and Rule F of York-Antwerp Rules 1924, at such port or place in the United States as may be selected by the Owner, and as to matters not provided for by these Rules, according to the laws and usages at the port of New York. In such adjustment, disbursements in foreign currencies shall be exchanged into United States money at the rate prevailing on the dates made and allowances for damage to cargo claimed in foreign currency shall be converted at the rate prevailing on the last day of discharge at the port or place of final discharge of such damaged cargo from the ship. Average agreement or bond and such additional security, as may be required by the Owner, must be furnished before delivery of the cargo. Such cash deposit as the Owner or his agents may deem sufficient as additional security for the contribution of the cargo and for any salvage and special charges thereon, shall, if required, be made by the cargo, shippers, consignees or owners of the cargo to the Owner before delivery. Such deposit shall, at the option of the Owner, be payable in United States money, and be remitted to the adjuster. When so remitted the deposit shall be held in a special account at the place of adjustment in the name of the adjuster pending settlement of the general average and refunds or credit balances, if any, shall be paid in United States money.

22. Deviation clause. The Vessel shall have liberty to call at any ports in any order, to sail with or without pilots, to tow or to be towed, to go to the assistance of vessels in distress, to deviate for the purpose of saving life or property or of landing any ill or injured person on board, and to call for fuel at any port or ports in or out of the regular course of the voyage. Any salvage shall be for the sole benefit of the Owner.

23. Limitation of liability. (a) Any provision of this Charter to the contrary notwithstanding, the Owner shall have the benefit of all limitations of, and exemptions from, liability accorded to the owner or chartered owner of vessels by any statute or rule of law for the time being in force. Nothing in this charter shall operate to limit or deprive the Owner of any statutory exceptions or limitation of liability on the theory of personal contract or otherwise.

(b) The Owner and the vessel in all matters arising under this Charter Party or any bill of lading issued hereunder shall be entitled to the like privileges, rights, and immunities as are contained in Sections 3 (6), 4, and 11 of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States approved April 16, 1936.

(c) Neither the Vessel or Owner, nor any corporation owned by, subsidiary to or associated or affiliated with the Vessel or Owner shall be liable to answer for or make good any loss or damage to the cargo occurring at any time and even though before loading on or after discharge from the Vessel, by reason or by means of any fire whatsoever, unless such fire shall be caused by the Owner's design or neglect.

24. Bills of lading. Bills of lading in the form appearing below for cargo shipped shall be signed by the Master as requested. Any bill of lading signed by the Master or Agent of the Owner shall be without prejudice to the terms, conditions and exceptions of this Charter and shall be subject to all such terms, conditions and exceptions. The Charterer shall indemnify the Owner, the Master, and the Vessel from all consequences or liabilities that may arise from the Charterer or its agents or the Master or Vessel's Agents signing bills of lading or other documents inconsistent with this Charter or from any irregularity in papers supplied by the Charterer or its agents, or from complying with any orders of the Charterer or its agents.

25. Lien. The Owner shall have an absolute lien on the cargo for all freight, dead freight, demurrage and costs, including attorney's fees, of recovering the same, which lien shall continue after delivery of the cargo into the possession of the Charterer, or of the holders of any bills of lading covering the same, or of any storageman.

26. Agents. The Owner shall appoint Vessel's agents at all ports.

27. Assignment. Subject to the approval of Owner, the Charterer shall have the option of subletting or assigning this Charter to any individual or company, but the Charterer shall always remain responsible for the due fulfillment of this Charter in all its terms and conditions.

28. Liberty clauses. (a) In any situation whatsoever and wheresoever occurring and whether existing or anticipated before commencement of or during the voyage, which in the judgment of the Owner or Master is likely to give rise to risk of capture, seizure, detention, damage, delay or disadvantage to or loss of the Vessel or any part of her cargo, or to make it unsafe, imprudent, or unlawful for any reason to commence or proceed on or continue the voyage or to enter or discharge the cargo at the port of discharge, or to give rise to delay or difficulty in arriving, discharging at or leaving the port of discharge or the usual place of discharge in such port, the Owner may before loading or before the commencement of the voyage, require the shipper or other person entitled thereto to take delivery of the cargo at port of shipment and upon their failure to do so, may warehouse the cargo at the risk and expense of the cargo; or the Owner or Master, whether or not proceeding toward or entering or attempting to enter the port of discharge or reaching or attempting to reach the usual place of discharge therein or attempting to discharge the cargo there, may discharge the cargo into depot, lazaretto, craft or other place; or the Vessel may proceed or return, directly or indirectly, to or stop at any such port or place whatsoever as the Master or the Owner may consider safe or advisable under the circumstances, and discharge the cargo, or any part thereof, at any such port or place; or the Owner or the Master may retain the cargo on board until the return trip or until such time as the Owner or the Master thinks advisable and discharge the cargo at any place whatsoever as herein provided or the Owner or the Master may discharge and forward the cargo by any means at the risk and expense of the cargo. The Owner may, when practicable, have the Vessel call and discharge the cargo at another or substitute port declared or requested by the Charterer. The Owner or the Master is not required to give notice of discharge of the cargo, or the forwarding thereof as herein provided. When the cargo is discharged from the Vessel, as herein provided, it shall be at its own risk and expense; such discharge shall constitute complete delivery and performance under this contract and the Owner shall be freed from any further responsibility. For any service rendered to the cargo as herein provided the Owner shall be entitled to a reasonable extra compensation.

(b) The Owner, Master and Vessel shall have liberty to comply with any orders or directions as to loading, departure, arrival, routes, ports of call, stoppages, discharge, destination, delivery or otherwise howsoever given by the government of any nation or department thereof or any person acting or purporting to act with the authority of such government or of any department thereof, or by any committee or person having, under the terms of the war risk insurance on the Vessel, the right to give such orders or directions. Delivery or other disposition of the cargo in accordance with such orders or directions shall be a fulfillment of the contract voyage. The Vessel may carry contraband, explosives, munitions, warlike stores, hazardous cargo, and may sail armed or unarmed and with or without convoy.

(c) In addition to all other liberties herein the Owner shall have the right to withhold delivery of, reship to, deposit or discharge the cargo at any place whatsoever, surrender or dispose of the cargo in accordance with any direction, condition or agreement imposed upon or exacted from the Owner by any government or department thereof or any person purporting to act with the authority of either of them. In any of the above circumstances the cargo shall be solely at their risk and expense and all expenses and charges so incurred shall be payable by the owner or consignee thereof and shall be a lien on the cargo.

29. Priority. All agreements of the Owner contained in this Charter Party shall be subject to any orders or instructions of priority or requisition issued by the United States Government or the Government of the flag of the Vessel or any agencies thereof, or the requirement of naval or military authorities or other Agencies of Government.

30. Members of Congress. No member of or delegate to the Congress, nor Resident Commissioner, shall be admitted to any share or part of this Charter or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, except as provided in Section 116 of the Act approved March 4, 1909.

31. Refund. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this Charter, the Owner may repay, refund or remit all or any part of the freight, deadfreight, demurrage or any other charges if in the judgment of the Owner, whose decision shall be final and conclusive, the charterer is entitled to relief.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[Rev. S. O. 99]

PART 97—ROUTING OF TRAFFIC

REROUTING OF TRAFFIC; APPOINTMENT OF AGENT

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of October, A. D. 1945.

It appearing, that upon representations from the Office of Defense Transportation, and due to the fact that certain railroads have recently been unable to transport promptly carload traffic offered to them so as to properly serve the public; and that an emergency exists requiring immediate action to best promote the service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people; it is ordered, that:

Rerouting of carload freight traffic and empty cars; appointment of agent. (a) Homer C. King, Deputy Director, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington, D. C., is hereby designated and appointed an Agent of the Interstate Commerce Commission and vested with authority to divert or reroute all carload freight traffic and empty freight cars from the line of any railroad or railroads subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, which in his opinion cannot currently accept and move such traffic or empty cars, over the line or lines of any other railroad or railroads less congested which are more able to handle the traffic or empty cars. Such rerouting or diversion shall be made regardless of the routing shown on the bill of lading designated by either shipper or carrier. Such diversion or rerouting shall be made by said Agent either at point of origin or as soon as possible after the shipment has left the point of origin.

(b) As Agent he is authorized to set up, subject to the approval of the Commission, an Advisory Committee on which shall be at least one representative of the Office of Defense Transportation, and one representative of the Association of American Railroads.

(c) As Agent he is hereby directed to avail himself of the facilities of the Association of American Railroads, its various departments. field forces, records, and reports.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic by said Agent is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Application. The provisions of this order shall apply to intrastate as well as interstate commerce.

(g) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., November 1, 1945.

(h) Expiration date. This order shall expire at 11:59 p. m., April 30, 1946, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled by order of this Commission. (40 Stat. 101, Sec. 402, 418, 41 Stat. 476, 485, Secs. 4, 10, 54 Stat. 901, 912; 49 U.S.C. 1 (10)–(17), 15 (4))

It is further ordered, that a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon each State railroad regulatory body, all common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, and upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

By the Commission, Division 3.

Secretary.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

STAR BROADCASTING CO., INC., ET AL.

NOTICE OF DESIGNATION FOR HEARINGS OF RELATED GROUPS OF APPLICATIONS (STANDARD BROADCAST)

On October 23, 1945, the Commission designated for hearing a total of 231 applications for (1) new standard broadcast stations in various localities in the United States and (2) changes in assignments of existing broadcast stations. These consolidated groups involve a total of 61 hearings. These applications were consolidated because of obvious problems of objectionable interference.

Due to the unprecedented number of applications now pending, in consolidating the various groups it was not possible in every instance for the Commission to determine the interference which may be expected with existing broadcast services or marginal problems of interference with other applications for proposed stations. In some cases, therefore, specific issues covering such problems will not be included among the other issues upon which notices of hearing are to be promulgated. Therefore, if any licensees or applicants believe that the granting of any of the applications involved in these hearings would adversely affect their existing or proposed broadcast services due to the probability of objectionable interference, such parties may file petitions requesting intervention and the enlargement of the issues in such hearings, supported by appropriate engineering studies to show such objectionable interference, as defined by the Commission's Standards of Good Engineering Practice. All such petitions will be given careful consideration by the Commission.

[Region III Order G–74 Under RMPR 122]

SOLID FUELS IN CLEVELAND REGION

For the reasons stated in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region III of the Office of Price Administration by § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. This Basic Order puts into one document the provisions common to all area coal orders establishing flat (dollars-and-cents) maximum prices for coal issued by the Cleveland Regional Office, Region III, Office of Price Administration. The orders issued pursuant to and under the authority of the provisions of this basic order are referred to herein as "adopting orders" and, when issued, will expressly adopt the provisions of this basic order. These provisions will be applicable only to the areas specified in such adopting orders.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any obligation, no person subject to this basic order and an appropriate adopting order shall

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy solid fuels listed in such adopting order at prices higher than the maximum prices set by the applicable adopting order, but less than maximum prices may at any time be charged, paid, or offered;

(2) Obtain a higher than maximum price by

(i) Charging for a service which is not expressly requested by the buyer or which is not specifically authorized by the applicable adopting order;

(ii) Charging a price for any service higher than that authorized by the applicable adopting order;

(iii) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, except that a dealer may comply with requirements or schedules with respect to deliveries which have been or may be issued by an agency of the United States Government.

(iv) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained, directly or indirectly.

(3) Sell, or offer to sell, any solid fuel listed in an adopting order at prices higher than those permitted by such adopting order, at the time of delivery; but contracts to sell at the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery may be made.

(c) Descriptive terms. The descriptions of price groups, classifications, size groups, mine index numbers, producing sub-districts, etc., contained in Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 as the same now reads or may be amended, are hereby incorporated by reference into this order and shall, wherever applicable, be the controlling descriptions of all such terms used herein or used in any adopting orders issued hereunder.

(d) Transportation tax. The Transportation Tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be collected in addition to the maximum prices set by the applicable adopting order, provided the dealer states it separately from the price on his invoice or statement. However, such tax need not be so separately stated on sales to the United States or any agency thereof, the District of Columbia, any state government, or any political subdivision thereof.

(e) Addition of increases in suppliers' maximum prices prohibited. The maximum prices set by an applicable adopting order may not be increased by a dealer to reflect an increase in his purchase cost or his supplier's maximum prices after the effective date of said adopting order except as provided in paragraph (f) below.

(f) Adjustments in selling price—(1) Adjustments on solid fuels from new supply source allocated by Solid Fuels Administrator for War. In the event the Solid Fuels Administrator for War allocates to the area covered by an applicable adopting order a solid fuel, previously handled by a particular dealer, from a new source of supply having a higher delivered cost, such dealer, upon purchasing such solid fuel for sale to consumers, may adjust his maximum selling price established by such adopting order by an amount not to exceed the difference between the respective delivered costs of solid fuel from the new source of supply and from the normal (old) source of supply. Before making any sales at prices so adjusted, the dealer shall file a report in duplicate with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction of the area in which his place of business is located. Each report thus filed shall set forth the following:

(i) The size and kind of solid fuel purchased from the new supply source;

(ii) The normal source of his supply of that size and kind of solid fuel including mine index number, where applicable; cost (per ton) f. o. b. supplier's shipping point; and the freight cost (per ton).

(iii) The new supply source of that size and kind of solid fuel including mine index number, where applicable; cost (per ton) f. o. b. supplier's shipping point; and the freight cost (per ton).

(iv) The difference between the delivered cost (mine cost plus freight) of the solid fuel from the normal source of supply and the delivered cost of the solid fuel from the new source of supply, both on a per ton basis and on the basis of such quantities of less than one ton as are customarily sold by the dealer.

(2) Adjustments on customary sizes of coal where an individual mine price increase is granted under Maximum Price Regulation No. 120. Whenever an individual mine price increase is granted under Maximum Price Regulation No. 120, thus increasing the f. o. b. mine cost, a dealer purchasing such coal for resale to consumers may increase his maximum selling price, established by the applicable adopting order, by an amount not to exceed such mine price increase. Before making any sales at prices so adjusted, the dealer shall file a report in duplicate with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction of the area in which his place of business is located. Such report thus filed shall set forth the following:

(i) The name of the producer, mine index number and producing district;

(ii) The Office of Price Administration Order Number granting the mine price increase and the date of the order;

(iii) The size or sizes of coal purchased by the dealer from the mine to which the adjustment has been granted;

(iv) The new f. o. b. mine price for each size and the freight rate per ton;

(v) The amount of the increase for each size of coal;

(vi) The new selling price for each class of customer. The amount of the increase reflected in such new selling price shall not exceed the amount of the increase granted the mine.

(3) District wide mine price increases granted under Maximum Price Regulation No. 120. Whenever a producing district wide mine price increase is granted under Maximum Price Regulation No. 120, increasing the f. o. b. mine price of solid fuel produced in such district, a dealer purchasing solid fuel from such district for resale to consumers may thereupon increase his maximum selling price, established by the applicable adopting order, by an amount not to exceed such mine price increase.

(4) Price increases on solid fuels produced at a coke oven or briquette plant. Whenever an increase is granted by the Office of Price Administration in the producer's selling price of coke or briquettes, f. o. b. a coke oven or a briquette plant, a dealer purchasing such coke or briquettes for resale to consumers may increase his maximum selling price, established by the appropriate adopting order, by an amount not to exceed such increase in the producers' selling price.

(5) Disapproval, correction or modification of adjusted prices. The Regional Administrator of the Cleveland Regional Office may at any time disapprove, correct or modify any maximum price adjusted and/or reported under the provisions of this paragraph (f).

(g) Solid fuels not listed in an adopting order. Dealers' maximum prices for sales within a specified pricing area of kinds or sizes of solid fuels not listed in the price schedule of the adopting order issued for such area pursuant to this Order No. G–74, shall be determined under the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.

(h) Classes of purchasers not specified in an adopting order. Unless otherwise specifically provided in the adopting order issued for a specified pricing area pursuant to this Order No. G–74, dealers' maximum prices for sales within such area to classes of purchasers other than domestic consumers shall be determined under the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.

(i) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of this order or of any applicable adopting order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that this petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(j) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules, regulations or orders. A seller whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(k) Right of amendment or revocation. The Regional Administrator or Price Administrator at any time may amend, modify, revoke, or rescind this order, or any provision thereof, and any adopting order issued pursuant to this order, or any provision of such adopting order.

(l) Records. Every person making a sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is set by an applicable adopting order issued pursuant to this order shall keep a record of such sale showing: the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged and the type and kind of solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the applicable adopting order. The record shall also separately state each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(m) Posting of maximum prices. Each dealer subject to an applicable adopting order shall post all the maximum prices set thereby for all his types of sales. He shall post his prices in his place of business in a manner plainly visible to, and understandable by, the purchasing public. He shall also keep a copy of this order, of all applicable adopting orders, and amendments available for examination by any person inquiring as to his prices for solid fuel.

(n) Sales slips. Every dealer selling solid fuels subject to this order and an applicable adopting order shall, either at the time of, or within thirty days after the date of, a sale or delivery of solid fuels governed by this order and an applicable adopting order, give to his purchaser an invoice, sales slip or receipt, and shall keep an exact copy thereof for so long as this order is in effect or for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall permit, whichever period is longer, showing the following information:

The name and address of the seller and the purchaser; the kind, size and quantity of the solid fuels sold, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged. In addition, he shall separately state on each invoice, sales slip or receipt, the amount, if any, of the required discount, authorized service charges and taxes which must be deducted from or which may be added to the established maximum prices: Provided, That a dealer who is authorized to make a special service charge for chemical or oil treatment of coal need not separately state the amount of such service charged if he clearly indicates on the invoice that such coal is so treated.

(o) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order or of an adopting order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order or of an applicable adopting order are urged to communicate with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction of the area in which the dealer's place of business is located.

Provided, however, That the maximum price per net ton for deliveries to domestic consumers in the cities and towns of Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Dedham, Dover, Hingham, Holbrook, Hull, Lexington, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Milton, Needham, Newton, Norwood, Quincy, Randolph, Reading, Revere, Stoneham, Wakefield, Waltham, Watertown, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth, Winchester, Winthrop and Woburn shall be the foregoing Class I price for the particular kind of coal plus One Dollar ($1.00) per ton.

NOTE: The maximum prices established in Price Schedule II for Pennsylvania Bituminous (applicable to coals from both deep and strip mines) are based upon a mine price of $3.60 per net ton. As to Pennsylvania bituminous purchased under Area Schedule I in paragraph (b) above, at a price higher than the otherwise applicable specific maximum price set forth therein pursuant to the provisions of the "Note" to said Price Schedule I contained in said paragraph (b) the amount per net ton in excess of the otherwise applicable specific maximum price set forth in said Price Schedule I may be added to the specific price set forth in this Price Schedule II. As to Pennsylvania Bituminous purchased at the mine and received via all-rail shipment into the yard of a retail dealer, when the mine price is in excess of $3.60 per net ton, the amount of such excess per net ton may be added to the specific selling price herein above set forth for Pennsylvania bituminous coal. Provided, That, in either case, the dealer shall report promptly to the Boston Office of the Office of Price Administration the following: the cost price (i. e. the selling price at dock or at mine), the name of the supplier or mine, the Producing District, the size and the quantity of coal so purchased.

(2) Maximum authorized service charges. The foregoing prices apply to "direct deliveries" and are inclusive of any trimming that may be necessary. If a carry or wheel is necessary in order to effect delivery into the consumer's bin or storage facilities, and the buyer requests such service of him, the dealer may charge an additional 50¢ per ton if such charge is separately stated on the invoice or similar document rendered to the purchaser.

(3) Classes of purchasers. Quantities refer to the consumer's annual purchase in net tons, but apply only when the minimum delivery is one ton. Prices for deliveries of less than one ton are governed by subparagraph (c) (4). The consumer's annual purchases determine his classification whether or not he purchases all of his requirements from a single dealer, except that a dealer may charge the Class I price to any consumer, regardless of his general classification, who purchases less than 4 tons from said dealer during the course of a year.

Class I. Less than 4 tons.

Class II. Four tons or more, but less than 1000 tons, regardless of the number of points within the area at which delivery is received by the purchaser.

Class III. One thousand tons or more, regardless of the number of points within the area at which delivery is received by the purchaser.

Class IV. Three thousand tons or more, but less than 7,000 tons, delivered to a single point.

Class V. Seven thousand tons or more, delivered to a single point. If the purchaser's proper classification cannot be determined at the time of the delivery (as for example, in the case of a purchaser who converts from oil to coal), an estimate shall be made of his probable consumption, he shall be tentatively classified upon the basis of that estimate, and the dealer or dealers supplying him shall make an appropriate refund and may require that the purchaser agree to pay an appropriate additional amount if, when his actual classification has been determined, it appears that he was entitled to a lower price or could properly have been charged a higher one.

(4) Maximum prices for half and quarter-tons. (i) The maximum price for delivery of one-half ton shall be the result arrived at by dividing the Class I price by 2, adjusting the quotient to the nearest multiple of 5¢ and adding 50¢.

(ii) The maximum price for delivery of one-quarter ton shall be the result arrived at by dividing the maximum price for delivery of one-half ton (determined pursuant to the preceding subparagraph) by 2, adjusting the quotient to the nearest multiple of 5¢ and adding 25¢.

If, in either case, the quotient is an exact multiple of 2½¢, the next higher multiple of 5¢ shall be considered the nearest multiple thereof.

(d) Chemical or oil treatment. (1) If bituminous coal from Districts 1, 2, 3, 7 or 8 has been subjected to oil or calcium chloride treatment by the producer to allay dust or to prevent freezing, and the producer has properly made a charge for such treatment in accordance with the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 120, the dealer selling such coal may add to the applicable maximum price established by this appendix a treatment charge at the rate of ten cents (10¢) per ton.

(2) If any bituminous coal which has not been so treated by the producer is subject to this appendix, the dealer selling such coal may add to the applicable maximum price established by this appendix, a treatment charge at the rate of ten cents (10¢) per ton; Provided, That no dealer shall require a purchaser to buy coal which has been so treated by the dealer.

(3) In all cases in which such a treatment charge is made, the dealer shall state it separately from all other items on his invoice.

(e) Sales to brokers—(1) F. o. b. sales. The maximum price for a sale to a broker who purchases f. o. b. transportation facilities at seller's yard, dock or other terminal facilities and resells without physically handling the coal, shall be 10% per ton less than the price applicable to a direct sale to a purchaser of the class of which the broker's customer is a member. The broker shall, when he places the order with the dealer, supply the name of his customer and a statement of his classification.

(2) Delivered sales. The maximum price for a sale by a dealer to a broker who orders coal to be delivered by the dealer directly to the broker's customer shall be 10¢ per ton less than the price applicable to a direct sale to a purchaser of the class of which the broker's customer is a member. The broker shall, when he places the order with the dealer, supply a statement of his customer's classification.

(f) Terms of sale. Terms of sale may be C. O. D. However, if credit is extended no additional charge shall be made if payment is received by the tenth day of the month following the month in which the coal is loaded on transportation facilities, in the case of f. o. b. sales, or delivered, in the case of sales on a delivered basis. For the extension of credit beyond said tenth day of the following month, interest may be charged at a rate not to exceed one-half of one per cent per month on the unpaid balance.

(g) Definitions of coals. The names of the kinds of coals which are listed in paragraphs (b) and (c) shall, for the purposes of this appendix, have the following meanings:

It shall not include the coal commonly sold by the dealers in the Worcester, Massachusetts, Area as "Lumpy run of mine," and which is bituminous coal produced in Producing District 1 and defined by the Bituminous Coal Division as "Domestic, dealer, modified, or screened run of mine."

(b) Schedule of maximum prices. All prices are per net ton. Customer classifications also refer to net tons, and are defined and explained in paragraph (d), below.

(d) Customer classifications. The classification of a customer in one of the tonnage classifications set forth in the table of prices in section (a) shall be made upon the basis of that customer's total annual consumption even though he may purchase portions thereof from two or more dealers.

In the event that it is impossible for any reason to determine the customer's proper classification at the time of the sale or delivery (as, for example, in the case of a customer who converts from oil to coal), an estimate shall be made of his probable consumption, he shall be tentatively classified upon the basis of that estimate, and the dealer or dealers supplying him shall make an appropriate refund and may require that the customer agree to pay an appropriate additional amount if, when his actual classification has been determined, it appears that he was entitled to a lower price or could properly have been charged a higher one.

CONSOLIDATED ELECTRIC AND GAS CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDMENTS, ORDER FOR SEVERANCE OF CONSOLIDATED PROCEEDINGS, AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARINGS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 26th day of October, A. D., 1945.

In the matters of Consolidated Electric and Gas Company, File No. 54–131; Federal Water and Gas Corporation, Southern Natural Gas Company, File No. 70–1145.

On September 27, 1945, this Commission issued a notice of filing, notice of and order for hearing and order consolidating hearings in the above captioned matters filed under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. That order, among other things, directed that a consolidated hearing be held on October 29, 1945, regarding a filing of Consolidated Electric and Gas Company ("Consolidated"), a registered holding company, and a filing of Federal Water and Gas Corporation ("Federal") and Southern Natural Gas Company ("Southern"), both registered holding companies, Southern being a direct subsidiary of Federal.

Notice is hereby given that Consolidated, and Federal and Southern, have filed amendments to their original filings. These amendments are primarily concerned with the elimination from the original proposals of the sale by Consolidated and the acquisition by Southern of the common stock of Atlanta Gas Light Company. All interested persons are referred to said amended filings which are on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized briefly as follows:

I. Consolidated proposes pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act to satisfy, discharge and retire all of its bond indebtedness by payment in cash of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest thereon to the date of payment. As at June 30, 1945, the bond indebtedness of Consolidated consisted of Collateral Trust Bonds as follows: 6% Series, due August 1, 1957, $1,557,000 principal amount ("6% Series Bonds"); and 3%–6% Series, due August 1, 1962, $13,269,000 principal amount ("3%–6% Series Bonds"), $11,930,500 principal amount thereof being designated as Series A and $1,338,500 principal amount thereof being designated as Series B.

The 6% Series Bonds are by their terms redeemable at the option of Consolidated at their principal amount and accrued interest to the date of redemption. The 3%–6% Series Bonds are by their terms redeemable at the option of Consolidated at 103% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the date of redemption. By the terms of the plan of Consolidated, filed under section 11 (e) of the act, Consolidated will satisfy and retire all of its outstanding bonds by payment in cash of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest thereon to the date of payment but without the payment of the redemption premium applicable to the 3%–6% series bonds.

The proposed payment and satisfaction of the outstanding Collateral Trust Bonds of Consolidated are to be accomplished by the use of funds to be obtained by the divestment by Consolidated of certain of its portfolio securities or assets underlying said securities; by a bank loan which will in turn be discharged by such divestment; or by a combination of divestments and bank loans to be discharged by subsequent divestments. Appropriate amendments will be made to the instant filings in connection with these matters.

Consolidated requests that this Commission, in the event that it approves said plan and at such times as Consolidated shall inform the Commission that it has the necessary funds available and all other regulatory requirements of this Commission applicable thereto have been satisfied, apply to an appropriate Federal court in accordance with the provisions of sections 11 (b) and 18 (f) of the act to enforce and carry out the terms and provisions of said plan applicable to the payment, satisfaction and discharge of the 3%–6% Series Bonds. Consolidated has not requested court enforcement of the provisions of the plan relating to the payment, satisfaction and discharge of the 6% Series Bonds which are being redeemed pursuant to their terms. Within ten days after the entry of an appropriate court order regarding the plan Consolidated proposes to give notice to the effect that it will satisfy and retire all of its 3%–6% Series Bonds. The date of payment is to be at least 30 days after the first publication of said notice and shall be on the first day of a month. The holders of the 3%–6% Series Bonds are to have the right to receive cash equal to the principal thereof and interest to the date fixed for payment at any time after the first publication of notice upon surrendering their bonds to Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, trustee under the indenture securing said bonds. The plan further provides that from and after the date designated for payment no further interest is to accrue upon any of the 3%–6% Series Bonds.

Consolidated further proposes that it have the right subsequent to the issuance of an order of this Commission approving said plan, if such approval is given, to purchase 3%–6% Series Bonds in the open market through brokers or from the holders thereof but without solicitation by payment of cash equal to the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest thereon to the date of purchase.

II. Southern proposes to acquire and Federal proposes to sell to Southern 12,500 shares (all) of the common stock, no par value, of Mississippi Public Service Company ("Mississippi") for a base cash consideration of $1,173,484. Southern further proposes to acquire and Federal proposes to sell to Southern 7,500 shares (all) of the common stock, $100 per share par value, of Chattanooga Gas Company ("Chattanooga") for a base cash consideration of $1,000,000.

Southern proposes to issue new common stock "• • • at a total sales price of not less than $2,500,000 • • • [and] First Mortgage Pipe Line Sinking Fund Bonds and/or serial notes in amounts sufficient to produce from the sale of all new securities to be issued a total of not less than $21,500,000 nor more than $23,000,000."

The details of the proposed financing are to be supplied by further amendment to these proceedings. The general program of financing, as indicated in the instant filings, will provide that the new common stock will be offered for pro rata subscription by the stockholders of Southern. Transferable warrants evidencing subscription rights are to be issued with an expiration date 30 days from the date of their issue. Federal is to acquire the number of shares of new common stock to which it is entitled as holder of 765,000 shares of presently outstanding common stock of Southern plus all or any part of the number of additional shares which are not subscribed for by the other stockholders of Southern prior to the expiration of the subscription warrants. Federal also proposes to acquire in the open market or directly from holders thereof all or any part of the subscription warrants to be issued by Southern and all of the common stock of Southern issued upon exercise by Federal of such warrants.

Federal requests that such order or orders as this Commission may issue herein regarding the proposed sale by it of the stocks of Mississippi and Chattanooga and the proposed purchase of new stock of Southern recite that these transactions are necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which Federal and Southern are members and that such order or orders conform to the requirements of sections 371 (b), 371 (f) and 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code as amended and contain the recitals and specifications required thereby.

III. The order of this Commission dated September 27, 1945, among other things, reserved jurisdiction "• • • to separate, either for hearing, in whole or in part, • • • of any issues or questions which may arise in these proceedings • • •" and directed that Consolidated "• • • give written notice of this hearing in such form as the Commission shall approve to the holders of its bonds and preferred stock (insofar as the identity of such security holders is known or is available to Consolidated) at least fifteen days prior to October 29, 1945 • • •." It now appearing that these proceedings, as amended, no longer involve common questions of law and fact and should be severed for purposes of public hearing and that the hearing regarding the application of Consolidated should be held on October 29, 1945 and that the hearing on the joint application-declaration of Federal and Southern should be held on October 30, 1945;

It is ordered, That the proceedings heretofore consolidated be, and they hereby are, severed.

It is further ordered, That public hearings regarding the amended plan of Consolidated (File No. 54–131) be held as previously scheduled on October 29, 1945, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said filing particular attention be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the transactions as proposed by Consolidated are necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and are fair and equitable to all persons affected thereby and particularly whether the proposal that the indebtedness represented by the 3%–6% series bonds be satisfied by payment of the principal amount thereof with accrued interest to date of such payment in cash but without payment of any redemption premium thereon is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) and is fair and equitable to the holders of said bonds, to the remaining security holders of Consolidated and to all other persons affected thereby;

(2) Whether and in what manner the proposed plan should be modified to ensure adequate protection of the public interest and the interests of investors and consumers and compliance with all the applicable provisions of the act and rules promulgated thereunder;

(3) Whether the plan appropriately provides for the payment of fees and expenses by Consolidated in connection with the plan.

It is further ordered, That a hearing under the applicable provisions of the act and rules of the Commission promulgated thereunder be held on October 30, 1945, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, regarding the amended filings of Federal and Southern (File No. 70–1145).

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said amended filing particular attention be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the proposed acquisitions by Federal of shares of the common stock of Southern and subscription warrants for such shares in the manner and under the circumstances proposed meet all of the applicable requirements of the act and rules promulgated thereunder;

(2) Whether the consideration proposed to be paid by Southern and received by Federal for the securities of Chattanooga and Mississippi are in all respects reasonable and appropriate;

(3) Whether the acquisition by Southern of the securities of Mississippi and Chattanooga will be detrimental to the public interest or the interests of investors or consumers or the proper functioning of the Southern holding company system; and whether the proposed acquisitions will serve the public interest by tending towards the economical and efficient development of an integrated public utility system and will not otherwise be detrimental to the carrying out of the provisions of section 11 of the act;

(4) Whether the accounting entries to be made in connection with the proposed transactions are proper;

(5) Whether the fees, commissions or other remunerations to be paid directly or indirectly in connection with the proposed transactions are reasonable; and

(6) Generally whether the proposed transactions comply with all of the applicable provisions and requirements of the act and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers or to prevent the circumvention of any provisions of the Act or rules, regulations or orders thereunder to impose terms and conditions in connection with any of the proposed transactions.

By the Commission.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9651

AMENDING EXECUTIVE ORDER 9599,[1] PROVIDING FOR ASSISTANCE TO EXPANDED PRODUCTION AND CONTINUED STABILIZATION OF THE NATIONAL ECONOMY DURING THE TRANSITION FROM WAR TO PEACE, AND FOR THE ORDERLY MODIFICATION OF WARTIME CONTROLS OVER PRICES, WAGES, MATERIALS AND FACILITIES

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the statutes of the United States and particularly the Stabilization Act of 1942 as amended, and for the purpose of carrying out the guiding policies of Executive Order 9599 of August 18, 1945, and amplifying the provisions of part IV thereof, Executive Order 9599 is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following part VI:

"VI.

"1. The Stabilization Administrator, designated pursuant to Executive Order No. 9620 of September 20, 1945, shall approve, under section 2 of part IV of this order, a wage or salary increase falling into any of the following three classes in any case in which such increase has been found by the National War Labor Board or other designated agency to be necessary to correct a maladjustment or inequity which would interfere with the effective transition to a peacetime economy:

"a. Increases where the percentage increase in average straight time hourly earnings in the appropriate unit since January 1941 has not equalled the percentage increase in the cost of living between January 1941 and September 1945.

"b. Increases necessary to correct inequities in wage rates or salaries among plants in the same industry or locality, with due regard to normal competitive relationships.

"c. Increases necessary to insure full production in an industry, designated by the Stabilization Administrator, which is essential to reconversion and in which existing wage rates or salaries are inadequate to the recruitment of needed manpower.

"The Stabilization Administrator shall continue to approve wage or salary increases approved by the National War Labor Board or other designated agency in cases in which such increases satisfy standards in effect prior to August 18, 1945.

"The Stabilization Administrator may define additional classes of wage or salary increases which the National War Labor Board or other designated agency is authorized to approve as necessary to correct a maladjustment or inequity under section 2 or part IV of this order.

"Nothing in the foregoing shall be construed to require the National War Labor Board or other designated agency to approve any wage increase unless, in its judgment, the increase is necessary, on the facts of the particular case, to correct a maladjustment or inequity which would interfere with the effective transition to a peacetime economy.

"In making findings under this section the National War Labor Board or other designated agency shall be subject to directives issued by the Stabilization Administrator under the authority conferred by Executive Orders 9250 and 9328 or other applicable Executive Orders.

"2. Nothing in this order shall be construed to prevent an employer from putting a wage or salary increase into effect and thereafter applying for approval of such increase, under the standards of this order, so that it may be used as the basis for seeking an increase in price ceilings, or for resisting otherwise justifiable reductions in price ceilings, or, in the case of products or services being furnished under contract with a federal procurement agency, for increasing the costs to the United States.

"3. Notwithstanding the fact that a wage or salary increase has not been approved in accordance with this order, the Price Administrator shall, after the expiration of a reasonable test period, which save in exceptional cases shall be six months after the wage or salary increase has been made, take such increase into account in determining whether an increase in price ceilings is then required under the established standards governing increases in price ceilings."

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Amendments to the rules of practice, edition of Aug. 1, 1945. Effective November 1, 1945. This section is issued pursuant to the authority contained in Section 1111, Internal Revenue Code of 1939.

Section 701.1 is amended to read as follows:

It appears appropriate to eliminate the reporting requirements by producers and consumers of coal produced in districts located west of the Mississippi River. Accordingly, it is deemed advisable to issue the following amendment to SFAW Regulation No. 27:

Paragraph (a) of § 602.709 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) If you are a producer of coal in Districts 1-4, inclusive, 6-11, inclusive, or 13, and coal from your mine is shipped by rail or river, you shall report on or before the last day of each calendar month preceding the month during which the coal is to be shipped that information which is required to be reported on Form SFA No. 79.

The first sentence of paragraph (a) of § 602.712 is amended to read as follows:

"If you are a consumer, you are prohibited from receiving any coal (other than "surplus coal" offered by producers pursuant to § 602.706 *) producer in Districts 1-4, inclusive, 6-11, inclusive, or 13, under any order, unless you file such order with your supplier on or before the 24th day of the calendar month preceding the month of shipment."

This amendment shall become effective immediately. It shall not affect any civil or criminal liability incurred under the provisions of the regulation previously in effect.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 31, as Amended Oct. 1, 1945, Amdt. 3]

BLANKET REVOCATION OF CERTAIN WPB ORDERS

Section 944.52 Priorities Regulation 31, is amended by adding to the list of orders revoked the following orders:

LIST OF ORDERS REVOKED AND EFFECTIVE DATE OF REVOCATION

GOVERNMENT

Section 3287.21, L-286, Ammunition, October 31, 1945.

CHEMICALS

Section 3293.1072, Sch. 72 to M-300, Methanol, October 31, 1945.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

ETHYL ALCOHOL

§ 3293.1071 Schedule 71 to General Allocation Order M-300—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Ethyl alcohol" means the product of that name, from whatever source derived. The term includes mixtures of ethyl alcohol and denaturants, including the product known as "proprietary solvent." The term does not include ethyl alcohol which has been tax paid for beverage purposes, nor does the term include ethyl alcohol imported into the continental United States unless it was imported tax free for industrial purposes under section 3125 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) "Anti-freeze" means any mixture containing ethyl alcohol, which mixture is designed and intended for use, without further processing, to depress the freezing point of coolant water in internal combustion engines.

(3) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of ethyl alcohol under an industrial alcohol permit issued by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and includes any importer and any person who has ethyl alcohol produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(4) "Distributor" means any person who has purchased or purchases ethyl alcohol for purposes of resale.

(5) "Supplier" means a producer or a distributor, as defined in this schedule. This definition of supplier is different from the term as defined and used in the text of Order M-300 and the other schedules under M-300. This definition governs with respect to ethyl alcohol.

(b) General provisions. Ethyl alcohol is subject to the provisions of General Allocation Order M-300 as an Appendix C material. The initial allocation date is October 1, 1943 when ethyl alcohol first became subject to allocation under Order M-30. As of midnight, December 31, 1944, Order M-30 will be revoked. Beginning January 1, 1945, the allocation period under this schedule is the calendar month, which represents a different period than that covered by allocations under Order M-30.

(1) Beginning January 1, 1945, the small order exemption per person per month is 54 gallons regardless of the type of ethyl alcohol involved. This includes proprietary solvents.

(2) Persons ordering more than the small order exemption, but not more than 3500 gallons from all suppliers, for delivery in any calendar month, must furnish their suppliers with the use certificate referred to in paragraph (h) of this schedule. There is one exception to this rule however. Distributors operating under paragraph (f) (1) of this schedule must furnish their suppliers with the distributor's certificate referred to in paragraph (i) of this schedule.

(3) Persons ordering more than 3500 gallons in the aggregate from all suppliers, for delivery in any calendar month, must obtain authorization in the way described in paragraph (g) of this schedule.

(4) Suppliers must apply for authorization on Form WPB-2947 before making any deliveries. However, distributors operating under paragraphs (f) (1) and (2) of this schedule are exempt from the filing of Form WPB-2947.

(c) Transition to M-300. Regular and interim allocations of ethyl alcohol issued under Order M-30, are effective until midnight, December 31, 1944. Applications for permission to deliver, accept delivery of or use ethyl alcohol on and after January 1, 1945, shall be filed in accordance with instructions in paragraphs (e) and (g) of this schedule.

(d) Special provisions—(1) Tax payment, and deliveries in bond, for beverage purposes. Any person may tax pay ethyl alcohol for beverage purposes, and any producer may deliver ethyl alcohol in bond to any person authorized under the rules and regulations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue to receive ethyl alcohol in bond for the purpose of tax paying the same for beverage purposes.

(2) Acceptance of delivery in bond for beverage purposes. Any person may accept delivery of ethyl alcohol in bond for the purpose of tax paying the same for beverage purposes if that person is authorized to do so under the rules and regulations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

(3) Transactions outside the United States. This order does not apply to deliveries of ethyl alcohol which are both made and received outside of the forty-eight states and the District of Columbia, or to the use of ethyl alcohol outside such states and District.

(4) [Deleted Oct. 29, 1945.]

(5) Manufacture and distribution of anti-freeze. (i) Effective midnight, December 31, 1944, Order L-51 will be revoked. All authorizations issued on Form WPB-1069 pursuant to Order L-51 to manufacture anti-freeze, remain effective until March 31, 1945. All directives to deliver anti-freeze, issued pursuant to Order L-51 remain effective until March 31, 1945, unless otherwise directed pursuant to paragraph (d) (5) (ii) of this schedule.

(ii) War Production Board may from time to time issue special directives concerning the distribution or delivery of anti-freeze. It will be the policy of the War Production Board to obtain an equitable distribution of the available supply of anti-freeze. In issuing these special directives, the War Production Board will take into account vehicle registrations and weather conditions throughout the United States.

(6) [Deleted June 25, 1945.]

(7) Supplier's notification to consumers. In the event a supplier does not deliver the entire quantity of alcohol called for on a purchase order accompanied by a certificate specifying more than one end use, the supplier shall notify the purchaser in writing (either on the invoice or otherwise) what portion of the total amount of alcohol delivered to the purchaser may be used or resold (in case the purchaser is a distributor) for each end use appearing on the purchaser's certificate.

(e) Suppliers' applications on WPB-2947. Each supplier seeking authorization to deliver shall file application on Form WPB-2947 (formerly PD-602). Filing date is the 15th day of the month before the month in which delivery is proposed to be made. Send four copies (one certified) to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-300-71. The unit of measure is gallons. In Column 1 list the names and delivery destination of customers who have filed WPB-2945 forms with the applicant and in Column 1-a specify "WPB-2945". Fill in Columns 4 and 5-a as indicated and in Column 7 indicate grade and type of alcohol. Next in order, specify proposed deliveries of ethyl alcohol against purchase orders accompanied by end use certificates. The various end uses are set forth below in this paragraph (e), under headings entitled "Group A, B, C" etc. If purchase orders have been received for any end uses listed in Group A, specify "Group A" in the middle of the page and in Column 1 list the end uses appearing in Group A for which you have received purchase orders and opposite each specified end use, report in Column 4 the total quantity requested for that end use. Fill in Column 5a as indicated, and in Column 7 indicate grade and type of alcohol. Purchase orders received for end uses falling in Groups B, C, D, E, F, G, and H need not be broken down in the same detailed manner as those falling in Group A. Thus, for example, if purchase orders have been received for one or more end uses falling within Group B, specify in Column 1 "Group B" and opposite it in Column 4 report the total quantity of ethyl alcohol for which purchase orders accompanied by certificates have been received for all the various end uses falling within Group B. Fill in Column 5-a as indicated, and in Column 7 indicate grade and type of alcohol. The same lump sum reporting method should be used for purchase orders accompanied by certificates covering end uses in the remaining groups C through H. This reporting method for Groups A to H, inclusive, refers only to purchase orders (accompanied by certificates) of customers ordering between 54 and 3500 gallons for delivery in any calendar month.

- All other products not listed above, or not classified in Groups B to H, inclusive, should be separately listed and the total quantity requested for each product should be reported in Column 4.

(f) Special exemption for certain distributors from filing Form WPB-2947. (1) Each distributor ordering for resale between 54 and 3500 gallons per month of proprietary solvent, completely denatured, or pure alcohol, in the aggregate from all suppliers, may resell such alcohol without obtaining War Production Board permission on Form WPB-2947 if he furnishes his suppliers with a certificate in the form prescribed in Appendix D of Order M-300, stating (a) that the alcohol is to be resold and, (b) the groups of end uses for which it will be resold and the quantity for each group of end uses. These groups of end uses are those listed in paragraph (e) of this schedule. It is not necessary to break down quantities by end uses appearing in any group. Merely specify "Group A end uses", "Group B end uses", etc., whichever is the case. This certificate may be based upon actual certified purchase orders on hand from customers of the distributor, or upon anticipated purchase orders. In the event that the distributor's certificate specifies more than one end use group and the supplier delivers the entire quantity of alcohol called for on the distributor's order, the distributor shall not resell such alcohol for any other end use groups than those appearing on his certificate, nor shall he resell a greater quantity for a particular group than that appearing on his certificate opposite that group. In the event that the distributor's certificate specifies more than one end use group and his supplier does not deliver the entire quantity of alcohol called for on his purchase order, the distributor shall not resell a greater quantity for a particular group than the supplier notifies him is being delivered to him for resale for that group.

(2) Each distributor ordering for resale between 3500 and 3888 gallons (minimum drum carload) per month of proprietary solvent, completely denatured or pure alcohol, in the aggregate from all suppliers, may resell such alcohol without obtaining War Production Board authorization on Form WPB-2947, provided he reports on his Form WPB-2945 (which he must file in order to get that quantity of alcohol) the end use group or groups for which the alcohol will be resold and the quantities for each group. For example, in filling out Form WPB-2945, specify in Column 1 the grade (viz. proprietary solvent, completely denatured or pure), in Column 2 the quantity, in Column 3 specify "resale", and in Column 4 specify the particular group or groups of end uses (appearing in paragraph (e) of this schedule) for which that quantity will be resold. It is not necessary to break down quantities by end uses appearing in any group. Merely specify "Group A end uses", "Group B end uses", etc., whichever is the case.

(g) Customers' applications on WPB–2945. Each person seeking delivery of more than 3500 gallons of ethyl alcohol per month in the aggregate from all suppliers, or seeking specific authorizations to use more than 3500 gallons of ethyl alcohol, shall file application for authorization on Form WPB–2945 (formerly PD–600). Filing date is the 5th day of the month preceding the month for which allocation is requested. Separate sets of forms shall be filed for each supplier. Send three copies (one certified) to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–300–71, and one copy (reverse side blank) to the supplier. The unit of measure is gallons. Fill in Column 3 in terms of the following:

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED, AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

FRESH FISH AND SEAFOOD

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 418 includes Amendment 50, effective November 5, 1945. The text added or amended by Amendment 50 is underscored. Deletions, redesignations, and changes in tables are indicated by notes.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, that maximum prices be established for the sale by producers and wholesale distributors of fresh fish and seafood.

So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has consulted and advised with representative members of the industry which will be affected by the regulation. In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the prices established are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Act. The prices established are not below the average prices of fresh fish and seafood in the year 1941.

ARTICLE I—PURPOSE AND SCOPE OF REGULATION

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. (a) This regulation fixes maximum prices at which producers and wholesalers may sell fresh fish or seafood of the species listed in section 22. It sets prices for various types of sales by wholesalers to other wholesalers, retail chain store warehouses, Government agencies, retailers and purveyors of meals.

A wholesaler is a person who buys fresh fish or seafood and resells more than 20 percent of such fresh fish or seafood to persons other than ultimate consumers.

A retailer is a person other than a purveyor of meals who buys fresh fish and seafood and resells 80 percent or more of such fresh fish or seafood to ultimate consumers.

This regulation also sets prices for sales at retail of the species of fresh fish or seafood listed in section 22 by such producers and wholesalers as are not covered in Maximum Price Regulation No. 507[3] and Maximum Price Regulation No. 439.[4]

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 46, 10 F.R. 9432, effective 8–15–45. (Effective date provision of Am. 46 amended by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 9880, effective 8–7–45)]

(b) Brokers. The maximum prices established by this regulation include all brokerages, commissions or other customary selling fees, transportation and other expenses incurred in making sales for which no additional charge may be made. In accordance with trade custom every broker or other agent is considered the agent of the seller and not of the buyer. The amount paid by the buyer to the seller plus any amount paid by the buyer to a broker or other agent shall not exceed the seller's maximum price plus any applicable allowance provided by this regulation for transportation actually paid by the broker or other agent.

(c) Prohibition against selling or buying above maximum prices. Regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, or buy or receive in the course of trade or business any fresh fish or seafood at a price higher than the maximum prices established for it by this regulation; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

However, prices lower than the maximum prices may be charged and paid.

[Sec. 1 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 10086, effective 7–19–43; Am. 32, 9 F. R. 6452, effective 6–17–44 and as otherwise noted]

SEC. 2. Sales by producers.—(a) Maximum prices. The maximum price for a sale of fresh fish, ex-vessel or otherwise, by a producer who is not also a wholesaler (see paragraph (b)), to any person other than an ultimate consumer, is the price listed in Table A for that species and month. The Table A price is the producer's maximum price at the port of entry for the designated species in bulk, ex-vessel, i. e., in the customary way in which the particular species is landed at that port, and of the customary size where size is a factor in the price. The prices in Table A for sales by producers apply irrespective of whether the fish are sold through an agent of any kind.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 3, 8 F.R. 10939, effective 8–4–43; Am. 13, 8 F.R. 14475, effective 10–23–43; Am. 16, 8 F.R. 15257, effective 11–9–43; Am. 18, 8 F.R. 16293, effective 12–6–43; Am. 32, 9 F.R. 6452, effective 6–17–44; Am. 46, 10 F.R. 9432, effective 8–15–45 and Am. 50, effective 11–5–45. (Effective date provision of Am. 46 amended by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 9880, effective 8–7–45) Section heading amended by Am. 50.]

(b) Sales by producers who are also wholesalers. A producer who performs the functions of a primary fish shipper wholesaler or other wholesaler at his established place of doing business, and who for the substantial portion of the year prior to July 13, 1943, was engaged in performing the functions of a primary fish shipper wholesaler or other wholesaler at his established place of doing business, may sell at the prices provided in Table B, C or D depending on the character of the sale.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 17, 8 F.R. 16131, effective 12–2–43; Am. 32, 9 F.R. 6452, effective 6–17–44 and Am. 50, effective 11–5–45]

(c) Sales to canners. The applicable prices in Table A shall apply to sales of fresh fish and seafood to canners by any person.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 11734, effective 8–25–43]

(d) Regional adjustments of producers' prices. Any regional office of the Office of Price Administration may by order modify the maximum price established by Table A for any species and style of dressing wherever, and to the extent that, it determines such modification to be necessary to prevent the avoidance of the prices established by Table A or to prevent disruption of the customary methods of landing and selling fish: Provided, That, the prices as thus modified shall be in line with the prices established by Table A for the particular species, making allowance for the differences in the method by which, or the place at which, the fish are removed from the vessel of delivered to the buyer. No modification may be issued which would require an increase in the prices established by any other table or by any other regulation. Such modification shall apply to sales at such areas or localities within the jurisdiction of the regional office as it may determine. No order of modification shall be issued until it shall have been submitted to the Office of Price Administration in Washington and approved. If the price is modified for any species which is customarily landed in any other region, the order of modification shall not be submitted to Washington until it has been submitted to the regional office for such other region.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 11687, 12025, effective 8–20–43]

The maximum price for such a sale of head-on shrimp is the price listed in Table D in section 22, plus the appropriate container allowance, if any, provided in section 21, plus the allowance provided in section 6 for a service and delivery sale where such sale is made.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 34, 9 F.R. 11273, effective 9–18–44]

(d) Branch warehouse sales. The maximum price for a primary fish shipper sale of fresh fish or seafood (except shrimp) to a retailer or purveyor of meals where the sale is negotiated or made at a branch warehouse as herein defined and where the fish or seafood is sold and delivered from the stock of a primary fish shipper wholesaler's branch warehouse which is remote from his main place of doing business, and at which warehouse the primary fish shipper employs two or more full-time employees who are stationed at and engaged in making sales and performing services solely for the primary fish shipper from such warehouse is the price listed in Table D in section 22 plus the allowance provided in section 6 for a service and delivery sale, where such a sale is made, plus the transportation allowance in section 9, plus the appropriate container allowance in section 21. The maximum price for such a sale of shrimp, is the price listed in Table C in section 22 plus the allowance provided in section 6 for a service and delivery sale, where such a sale is made, plus the transportation allowance in section 9, plus the appropriate container allowance in section 21.

SEC. 4. Port sales. (a) A port sale of fresh fish or seafood is a sale by a wholesaler which is made at or which involves delivery from any place in the United States or outside the United States within 50 miles from the point where the fish or seafood was landed. A port sale is also a sale which is made at or which involves delivery from a place within a port area with respect to any species and period as established by the Administrator or otherwise established by order in accordance with paragraph (b).

(b) Regional designation. Any regional office of the Office of Price Administration or any such other office as may be authorized by the appropriate regional office may by order designate as a port area, for any species and any period, any area within its jurisdiction in which a substantial volume of that species is landed or to which a substantial volume is shipped by producers.

(c) Port sales to wholesalers and chain store warehouses. The maximum price for a port sale of fish or seafood other than fillets to a wholesaler or chain store warehouse is the price listed in Table B in section 22 plus the transportation allowance provided in section 9, plus the appropriate container allowance provided in section 21.

(b) To retailers. For a service and delivery sale of any fresh fish or seafood to a retailer by a primary fish shipper wholesaler, his agent or branch warehouse, or by a wholesaler other than a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, whose supplier's ceiling was based on Table B, such wholesaler may add 1½ cents per pound to the price as determined in section 3 (c) (based on Table C) or section 5 (b) (based on Table D), whichever is applicable, plus the allowance in section 9 (b) when applicable. For other service and delivery sales to retailers, the wholesaler may add 2½ cents per pound to the price as fixed in section 5 (b) plus transportation allowance in section 9 (b) when applicable.

SEC. 9. Allowance for transportation. (a) When a wholesaler may add his transportation cost to the listed prices. Any wholesaler in the United States buying fresh fish or seafood from another wholesaler in the United States may add to the price fixed in section 22 for such fish or seafood his actual transportation cost (excluding local trucking, hauling and handling charges) from the seller's shipping point to such wholesaler's receiving point, but only when he records the transportation cost in an invoice to the customer purchasing the fish or seafood. A purchasing wholesaler or subsequent wholesalers of that fish or seafood may pass on such transportation cost as part of the maximum selling price, but only if they in turn record it on an invoice to their customers. In no case may the added transportation cost exceed the common carrier rate from the shipping point to the wholesaler's receiving point. Where a wholesaler has a branch warehouse located at a remote point from his principal place of business as well as at a remote point from the nearest domestic port producing the greatest volume of a particular species and such wholesaler ships fresh fish or seafood of such species from his principal place of business to the branch warehouse, such branch warehouse may for the purpose of transportation allowance be considered a wholesaler who purchases fish and seafood from another wholesaler.

(b) Service and delivery sales. When a service and delivery wholesaler delivers by means other than a common carrier to an individual retail store or purveyor of meals located at a distance of more than 25 air miles from the point of shipment, he may add to his maximum price the appropriate charge listed below.

Distance:	Allowance in cents per pound
26 to 75 miles	½
76 to 150 miles	¾
151 to 250 miles	1
Over 250 miles	1¼

[Paragraph (b) added by Am. 28, 9 F.R. 3388, effective 4–3–44. Former (b) redesignated (e) by Am. 28]

(c) Transportation allowance for imported fish. Any importer or agent of a foreign consignor of fresh fish or seafood may add as a transportation allowance to the appropriate table price the lowest amount determined on the following three bases:

(1) The actual cost of transportation (exclusive of local trucking, hauling and handling charges) from the seller's shipping point to the importer's receiving point;

(2) The actual cost of transportation (exclusive of local trucking, hauling and handling charges) to the importer's receiving point from the point at which the fresh fish or seafood entered the United States or the carload rail rate for fresh fish or seafood from the point in the United States nearest the foreign shipper's shipping point whichever is designated by the seller;

(3) The actual cost of transportation (exclusive of local trucking, hauling and handling charges) to the importer's receiving point from the nearest domestic port where the greatest volume of that species is landed.

In determining the transportation allowance common carrier rates shall be used, and the importer may add the allowance only when he records it on an invoice to the customer purchasing the fish or seafood, designating which of the three bases he is using. A purchasing wholesaler or subsequent wholesalers of that fish or seafood may pass on such transportation allowance, but only if they, in turn, record it in an invoice to their customers. This paragraph (c) does not apply to Canadian lake fish listed in Schedules 3–10.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 46, 10 F.R. 9432, effective 8–15–45 and Am. 50, effective 11–5–45. (Effective date provision of Am. 46 amended by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 9880, effective 8–7–45)]

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 28 and amended by Am. 32, 9 F.R. 6452, effective 6–17–44]

(d) Canadian lake fish. Any importer or agent of a foreign consignor of fish covered in Schedules 3–10 inclusive may add the actual transportation cost (excluding local trucking, hauling and handling charges) from the point of shipment to the receiving point in the United States, but in no event more than the common carrier rate from the City of Winnipeg in the Province of Manitoba, Canada, to such receiving point. He may add such transportation cost only if he records it on an invoice to the customer purchasing the fish or seafood. A purchasing wholesaler or subsequent wholesalers of such fish or seafood may pass on such transportation cost, but only if they in turn record it on an invoice to their customers.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 28, 9 F.R. 3388, effective 4–3–44 and amended by Am. 38, 9 F.R. 14497, effective 12–16–44 and Am. 50, effective 11–5–45]

[Example amended by Am. 46 and deleted by Am. 50, effective 11–5–45]

(e) Authorization to regional offices to fix transportation allowances. Any regional office of the Office of Price Administration, and such other offices as may be authorized by the appropriate regional office, may by order determine and fix for any area or locality within its jurisdiction, a transportation allowance applicable to any species of fresh fish or seafood. The allowance shall be ascertained by reference to the principal source or sources from which the particular species is shipped to the area or locality and the method of transportation generally used. The transportation allowance thus fixed shall be used by all wholesalers in lieu of the actual transportation cost, in determining their maximum prices for the sale, in the area or locality, of the designated species of fresh fish or seafood. The transportation allowance may be made effective for such time as the appropriate office finds proper, and may be changed from time to time to reflect changes in the principal sources of designated species of fish or seafood or methods of shipment which occur in the regular course of business. In determining the maximum prices for sales of fresh fish and seafood in any area or locality for which a transportation allowance is not established, wholesalers shall add actual transportation cost as provided in paragraph (a) of this section. Any transportation allowance established pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph shall have the same force and effect as if specifically established in this regulation.

[1] When a producer delivers head-on shrimp from a port of entry to New Orleans, Louisiana, he may add the actual cost of such transportation, not to exceed $1.50 per barrel (210#) of head-on shrimp, to the prices listed in Table A. This addition may be passed on only by subsequent sellers of head-on shrimp. When sold per pound, divide the listed Table A price by 210.

[2] For sales of head-on shrimp and prawn by a retailer-owned cooperative, add 1¼ cents to the prices listed in Table C.

[3] The provisions of this regulation so far as they apply to Schedules 2 (a) and 2 (b)—Lake Herring—in Tables A, B, C and D are hereby suspended.

[4] The prices listed for this species of fish apply only to fish caught in Lake Superior, Lake Michigan, Lake Huron, and waters tributary thereto but not in Saginaw Bay, except that the Table prices for Bluefin lake herring, weighing one pound or more in the round and caught in Green Bay, are the prices listed in Schedule No. 2 (a).

[5] The listed prices apply to these species caught or landed in Canada except that they do not apply to fish caught in Lake of the Woods and any other body of water east of that lake which is partly in Canada and partly in the State of Minnesota or which constitutes the boundary line between Canada and the State of Minnesota; Lake Superior, Lake Huron, Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie, Lake Ontario and any of the waters connecting these five lakes; and the St. Lawrence River where it constitutes the boundary line between New York State and Canada.

The prices listed for these species for the months of April through October apply to sales where delivery to the purchaser is made in November prior to November 8. The prices listed for the months of November through March apply to sales where delivery to the purchaser is made in April prior to April 8.

To these prices may be added duty. Any person who processes these species in a fresh state may add to his selling price the amount which will recover the full amount of the duty which he paid for the particular lot of fish involved in the processing.

[6] The provisions of this regulation so far as they apply to schedules 3 through 10 (covering various species of Canadian lake fish) of Tables B, C and D are hereby suspended.

ARTICLE I—EXPLANATION OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1.1 Scope of this regulation—(a) Kinds of garments covered. This regulation applies to all items of staple work clothing. "Staple work clothing" means men's and boys' garments of the classifications listed in (1) below which are made of cotton body materials of the constructions listed in (2) below.

(1) Classification of garments.

(i) Bib overalls.
(ii) Overall jackets.
(iii) Waistband overalls or dungarees.
(iv) Work shirts (except shirts made of napped fabrics).
(v) Work pants.
(vi) One-piece work suits.
(vii) Work breeches.
(viii) Coats and jackets lined with cotton blanket material.

[Subparagraph (viii) added by Am. 4, 10 F.R. 2873, effective 3-20-45]

(2) Construction of body materials.

(i) Denims, including striped denims.
(ii) Carded yarn shirting chambrays and coverts.
(iii) Carded yarn pants coverts.
(iv) Jeans, drills, and twills, finished and unfinished.
(v) Cottonades, whipcords and moleskins.
(vi) Carded yarn poplins.
(vii) Ducks, excepting water-repellent.
(viii) Pin checks and pin stripes.
(x) Cheviots.

The terms "work shirts" and "work pants" include all shirts and pants which are made of the listed materials that have been obtained under WPB conservation orders relating to work clothing fabrics.

[Above paragraph added by Am. 7, 10 F.R. 11709, effective 9-17-45]

(b) Kinds of sales covered. This regulation applies to all sales including sales at retail, sales at wholesale and sales by manufacturers. These kinds of sales are defined as follows:

(1) Sales at retail. All sales to individual consumers are "sales at retail." Such sales may, of course, be made by someone who is primarily a wholesaler or a manufacturer.

Sales to industrial, commercial, governmental, and charitable institutions which do not resell are also considered "sales at retail" if made by a person who sells principally to individual consumers, and only incidentally to institutions of these kinds. If not made by such a person, sales to these institutions are considered sales at wholesale or sales by manufacturers.

(2) Sales at wholesale. A sale at wholesale is any sale which is neither a sale at retail as explained in (1) nor a sale by a manufacturer as explained in (3). For example, a sale by a jobber, who buys work clothing from a manufacturer and resells it to a retailer or to an industrial user, is a sale at wholesale. Sales from jobber to jobber, and from retailer to retailer are also sales at wholesale, but are called "special sales", as explained in section 3.3.

(3) Sales by a manufacturer. A sale by a manufacturer is a sale of work clothing by a person:

(i) Who fabricated the clothing sold; or
(ii) Who sold or consigned to the fabricator of the clothing any of the principal materials from which it was made; or
(iii) Whose business is directly or indirectly under the same ownership or control as the person who fabricated the clothing.

(c) Where this regulation applies. This regulation covers sales in the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

ARTICLE II—HOW TO FIND CEILING PRICES FOR SALES BY MANUFACTURERS

SEC. 2.1. Explanation of pricing rules for manufacturers. This section explains how to find ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers of all staple work clothing, except "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls." Ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers of these latter garments, as well as definitions of such garments, are provided in Appendices D and E which appear at the end of this regulation.

The ceiling price for sales by a manufacturer of a garment of staple work clothing, which is not a "war model" or a "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overall", is found according to the rules given below. There are five rules. In finding the ceiling price for a particular garment, the manufacturer must use the first rule which applies.

Rule 1 explains how a manufacturer finds his ceiling prices for garments which are the "same" as garments shown on a specified price list which he may have issued during or before March 1942. "Same garment" is defined in section 2.2 (b) (2).

Rule 2 is used if the garment is the "same" as one which the seller manufactured during the twelve months preceding April 1, 1942, but cannot be priced under Rule 1.

Rule 3 is used if the garment cannot be priced under Rules 1 or 2 and is the "same" as one priced under Rule 1, except for "replacements" or "curtailments" in body materials.

Rule 4 applies if the garment cannot be priced under any of the above three rules because of unusual dimensions, or substandard quality.

Rule 5. If the garment cannot be priced under any of the above four rules, its ceiling price is a price authorized by the Office of Price Administration, under Rule 5.

However, deliveries by a manufacturer of all garments of staple work clothing (including "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls") are subject to a special quota rule stated in section 2.7. Thus, after finding the correct ceiling price for each garment, a manufacturer should turn to section 2.7 and follow its provisions.

SEC. 2.2. List prices (Rule 1). The ceiling price for a garment priced under this section is the "base price", determined under paragraph (a) below, plus or minus the amount indicated in Appendix B.

(a) How to find the base price. (1) The "base price" for a garment is the price at which the same garment was offered to a purchaser of the same class on the manufacturer's last issued written price list:

(i) Which was generally circulated among the manufacturer's customers or representatives, during or before March 1942; and

(ii) Pursuant to which the manufacturer delivered one or more garments of the same classification during or before March 1942.

(2) If the manufacturer did not offer the same garment to a purchaser of the same class on the last issued written price list described above, the "base price" is the price at which the same garment was offered to a purchaser of another class on that price list, adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's "average differential" (defined in (b) (3) below) between the two classes of purchasers.

(b) Meaning of terms—(1) "Purchasers of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for staple work clothing for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers, (for example, wholesaler, retailer, government agency, public institution, or individual consumer), or for purchasers located in different areas, or for different quantities or grades, or under different conditions of sale.

(2) "Same garment." A garment is considered the "same" as another when:

(i) The garment belongs to the same classification (as defined in section 1.1);

(ii) The garment contains body material which is the same with respect to construction, weight and thread count (within the tolerance of the Worth Street Rules), finish (including shrinkage treatment), and color fastness ("seconds" of body materials shall not be considered the same as such fabrics in first quality);

[Subparagraph (ii) amended by Am. 7, 10 F.R. 11709, effective 9-17-45]

(iii) The garment consumes substantially the same average yards per dozen and has substantially the same body dimensions;

(iv) The garment contains trimmings of fairly equivalent serviceability;

(v) The garment is constructed and assembled with the same standards of workmanship and inspection.

Differences in color which ordinarily have not been the basis of differences in price shall be disregarded.

A "simplified model" (defined in Appendix A) of any garment is considered the "same" as such garment before simplification, except when such garment becomes the same (under the above definition) as a lower-priced garment in which the seller dealt during or before March 1942.

(3) "Average differential." The manufacturer's "average differential" to any purchaser is the average difference between the prices charged this purchaser and the prices charged the class of purchaser for whom a base price was determined under paragraph (a) (1) above, on all orders accepted during 1941, on the same material and labor cost basis, for the garment being priced; or if data are not available for that garment, for the most closely comparable garment of the same classification for which data are available. If the differential cannot be determined on orders from this purchaser, it shall be determined on orders from all purchasers of the same class.

SEC. 2.3. "In-line" prices (Rule 2)—(a) When this section applies. The ceiling price for a garment shall be determined under this section only if the garment is the "same" as one which the seller manufactured during the twelve months preceding April 1, 1942, but cannot be priced under Rule 1.

(1) How to find the formula price. To establish the formula price for a garment to a purchaser of any class, the seller shall:

(i) Determine the unit direct cost of the garment being priced. "Unit direct cost" is defined in paragraph (c) below.

(ii) Select from garments of the same classification, for which the base price to a purchaser of the same class can be determined under Rule 1, the one which has a "unit direct cost" immediately higher and the one which has a "unit direct cost" immediately lower than the unit direct cost of the garment being priced. If all such garments are either above or below, the one closest in "unit direct cost" shall be selected, and if any such garment of the same classification has the same "unit direct cost" as the garment being priced it shall be selected in addition to the garments immediately above and below.

(iii) Determine the average percentage markup over unit direct cost included in the base prices of the garments selected.

(iv) Apply to the "unit direct cost" of the garment being priced this average percentage markup.

An example of the calculations under Rule 2 is contained in the report form in paragraph (d) below.

(c) How to compute "unit direct costs." To establish the unit direct cost, a seller shall add costs per unit of materials and direct labor, determined as follows:

(1) Material costs shall be calculated at the maximum net price which the seller could lawfully be charged for such materials if purchased on his customary terms from the source of supply most used by him in purchasing materials of the same type during the six months ending March 31, 1942, under the price schedules and maximum price regulations of the OPA in effect on March 22, 1944.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

(2) Wage rates shall be calculated at the rates paid by the seller on March 31, 1942, plus any increase subsequent thereto made pursuant to a collective bargaining contract or other wage agreement which was entered into on or before April 27, 1942, and which provides for an unconditional increase in wage rates of a fixed amount or percent.

(3) Amounts of labor and material used shall be calculated on the basis of the seller's most recent cost records of the manufacture of each garment during the year preceding April 1, 1942, and labor costs shall be confined to labor used in cutting, sewing, assembling and inspecting the garment.

(4) A "unit" is a dozen articles, or any other number customarily used as a basis for calculating costs and prices.

(d) Report of "in-line" prices. The maximum price for a garment priced under Rule 2 shall be reported to the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. (Men's Clothing Section). The report shall contain information in the detail set forth in the example below, and shall be in a form similar to the one provided in the example.

For any garment priced under this Rule 2, no sale or delivery of the garment may be made until the report required by this paragraph (d) is filed.

The Office of Price Administration may, at any time, disapprove or revise maximum prices reported under this rule so as to bring them into line with the level of maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation.

An example of a report under Rule 2 follows. All figures are illustrative only.

[Above text amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

(2) How to find "cost of body materials." For the purposes of this section, the cost of any body material means the maximum net price which the seller could lawfully be charged for such material if purchased on his customary terms from the source of supply most used by him in purchasing materials of the same type during the six months ending March 31, 1942, under the price schedules and maximum price regulations of the Office of Price Administration in effect on March 22, 1944. However, in calculating the maximum price for a garment made of first quality fabrics, other than denim, chambray and covert, made to military specifications and released by the military for use in civilian garments, "cost of body material" means the maximum net price which the seller could lawfully be charged for such material if purchased on his customary terms from his customary source of supply under the price schedules and maximum price regulations of the Office of Price Administration in effect on September 1, 1945.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 7, 10 F. R. 11709, effective 9-17-45 and Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

(c) Report of Rule 3 prices. The maximum price for a garment priced under Rule 3 shall be reported to the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. (Men's Clothing Section). The report shall contain information in the detail set forth in the example below, and shall be in a form similar to the one provided in the example.

For any garment priced under this Rule 3, no sale or delivery of the garment may be made until the report required by this paragraph (c) is filed.

The Office of Price Administration may, at any time, disapprove or revise maximum prices reported under this rule so as to bring them into line with the level of maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation.

An example of a report under Rule 3 follows. All figures are illustrative only.

SEC. 2.5. Garments of unusual dimensions or substandard quality (Rule 4).—(a) Special size and special order garments. The maximum price of any garment of staple work clothing which cannot be priced under Rules 1, 2, or 3 by reason of its unusual size or dimensions shall be the maximum price of the most closely comparable garment of regular size priced under those rules plus the percentage premiums:

(1) Which the seller customarily allowed for such garments during March 1942; or

(2) If the seller allowed no such discounts, which he customarily offered for such garments during March 1942; or

(3) If the seller neither allowed nor offered such discounts, which were customarily offered during March 1942 by the most closely competitive seller of the same class who did offer such discounts.

SEC. 2.6. Maximum prices in other cases (Rule 5). The maximum price of a garment of staple work clothing which cannot be priced under Rules 1, 2, 3, or 4 shall be a price, in line with the level of prices established by this regulation, determined by the Office of Price Administration upon application by the seller. The application shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. (Men's Clothing Section). Pending action on such an application, a person must not sell or deliver the garment except in accordance with the provisions of section 5.6 (b) (Adjustable pricing agreements).

Maximum prices authorized by orders issued under this section prior to December 1, 1945 may be adjusted, as follows, when the garments contain (a) denim, covert or chambray purchased on or after June 21, 1945, (b) cottonade or whipcord purchased on or after August 31, 1945, or (c) pinchecks or pinstripes purchased on or after September 17, 1945:

Step 1. Subtract from the adjustment listed in Column B of Table II of Appendix B for the body material contained in the garment, the adjustment listed in Column B of Table I of Appendix B for that material.

Step 2. Multiply the amount found in Step 1 by the number of yards of body material contained in the garment (as stated in the order of authorization).

Step 3. Add the amount found in Step 2 to the maximum price (or prices) authorized by the order for the garment.

The unit direct costs have been calculated in accordance with section 2.3(c), and the ceiling price has been calculated according to the instructions in section 2.3 (b)(2), of R.M.P.R. 208.

1 The adjustment of +1.5¢ per yard in this example assumes that the body material (8 oz. sanforized denim) was purchased prior to June 21, 1945, and that the base prices of Lot Nos. 901 and 867 were established pursuant to a price list issued after January 1, 1942. Accordingly, Part 2 of Column A of Table I in Appendix B is applicable.

In all reports under Rule 2, the manufacturer must state, in connection with the computation of the adjustment under Appendix B, the date of purchase of the body material and which table of Appendix B he used in figuring the adjustment.

[Footnote 1 amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

SEC. 2.4. Replacements and curtailments of body materials (Rule 3).—(a) When this section applies. The ceiling price for a garment shall be determined under this section if the garment cannot be priced under Rules 1 or 2, and is the same as one priced under Rule 1 except for one or both of the following characteristics:

(1) One weight, finish or construction of body material is replaced by another;

(2) The yardage of body material consumed is curtailed in order to comply with War Production Board General Limitation Order L–181 as amended (§ 3204.1),[1] and remains within 2 percent of the maximum yardage permitted by that order.

(b) How to calculate the ceiling price. The ceiling price for a garment priced under this section is the formula price, determined under (1) below, plus or minus the amount indicated in Appendix B.

(1) How to find the formula price. The formula price for a garment is found by taking the base price to a purchaser of the same class, of that garment priced under Rule 1 which is nearest in cost of body materials, and is the "same" except for the replacement or curtailment, and adding (or subtracting if the material cost of the garment being priced is lower) a sum calculated as follows:

(i) Find the difference between the "costs of body materials" in the two garments; and

(ii) Multiply this difference by 105 percent in finding a price for sale to wholesalers and to purchasers of classes who are customarily charged the same price as wholesalers or a lower price; and by 110 percent in calculating a price for sale to purchasers of classes who are customarily charged more than the price to wholesalers.

For example: Order No. L–150 under Section 2.6 established for the X Manufacturing Company a maximum price of $11.92 per dozen for a men's dungaree containing 32 yards per dozen of 8-ounce sanforized denim. When these dungarees contain denim purchased on or after June 21, 1945, the maximum price of $11.92 may be adjusted as follows:

The adjustment listed in Column B of Table II in Appendix B for 8-ounce (2.00) sanforized denim is plus 3.75 cents. The adjustment in Column B of Table I for this fabric is plus 2.00 cents. 3.75 minus 2.00 equals 1.75 cents. Multiplying 32 (yards per dozen) by 1.75 cents equals 56 cents. Accordingly, X Manufacturing Company may add 56 cents to its authorized ceiling price of $11.92, arriving at a new maximum price of $12.48 per dozen.

SEC. 2.7 Special quota rule on deliveries made by manufacturers.—(a) Explanation of the special quota rule. Each manufacturer who delivered staple work clothing at "wholesale prices" (this term is defined in (b) (1) below) in 1941 must, during the remainder of 1944 and during each subsequent calendar year, make at least a certain quota of his deliveries of staple work clothing (including "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls") at "wholesale prices." During the period from August 26, 1944 to the end of 1944, this quota is that percentage of his total deliveries during this period of garments covered by this regulation which is equal to his "wholesale percentage" (found under paragraph (b) below). During each subsequent calendar year, this quota is that percentage of his total deliveries during that year of garments covered by this regulation which is equal to his "wholesale percentage" (found under paragraph (b) below).

Example: X, a manufacturer of overalls, has a "wholesale percentage" of 40%, and he expects to deliver 300,000 dozen garments of staple work clothing during the period from August 26, 1944 to the end of 1944. Accordingly, during this period, at least 120,000 dozen garments (40% of 300,000=120,000) must be delivered at "wholesale prices." 180,000 dozen garments or less may be delivered at other than "wholesale prices."

X also expects to deliver certain additional quantities of work clothing garments to the Department of the Navy during the remainder of 1944. He is not permitted to include these garments in calculating the total number of garments delivered during 1944, nor does he include these deliveries in figuring whether he has met his quota, since deliveries of garments made to military specifications to war procurement agencies are not covered by this regulation but are covered by Maximum Price Regulation 157.

If, at the end of a year, a manufacturer fails to meet his quota, he has exceeded his ceiling prices to the extent of the deficiency, and will be liable to civil and criminal penalties accordingly.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44]

(b) How a manufacturer finds his "wholesale percentage".—(1) Definitions of "wholesale percentage" and "wholesale price." A manufacturer's "wholesale percentage" is the percent of his 1941 deliveries of staple work clothing which were made at "wholesale prices." Deliveries to any agency or department of the United States Government shall not be included.

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44]

A "wholesale price", for the purposes of determining a wholesale percentage, means any price at or below which a manufacturer, during 1941, normally supplied wholesalers, or any other large volume purchaser (e. g., chain stores and mail order houses) commonly known or regarded as "wholesale trade." For the purposes of complying with the special quota rule described above, a "wholesale price" means any price provided under this regulation for sales by a particular manufacturer to wholesalers or any other large volume purchaser commonly known or regarded as "wholesale trade." In determining whether certain sales were made at "wholesale prices," allowance must be made for differences in garments sold.

Example: During 1941, V, a work clothing manufacturer, sold a number to jobbers for $10.00 a dozen. He also sold to a chain store for $10.25 a dozen, a number which was similar except for an extra feature that was worth 25¢ a dozen.

Both the $10.00 and the $10.25 sales would be considered sales at wholesale prices.

(i) Find the number of dozens of staple work clothing garments covered by this regulation delivered in 1941 to all purchasers other than agencies or departments of the United States Government.

[Subparagraph (i) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44]

(ii) Find the number of these which were delivered at wholesale prices in 1941.

(iii) Divide the number delivered at wholesale prices by the total of all deliveries (divide (ii) by (i)). The resulting figure, expressed as a percent, is the manufacturer's "wholesale percentage."

Example 1: P, a work clothing manufacturer, delivered 10,000 dozen garments of staple work clothing in 1941. All these were delivered at prices generally charged to independent retailers, and none at "wholesale prices."

P's "wholesale percentage" is zero.

Example 2: R, a work clothing manufacturer, delivered 100,000 dozen garments of staple work clothing in 1941. All these deliveries were made to volume purchasers including jobbers, chain stores and industrial users and none were delivered at higher prices.

R's "wholesale percentage" is 100%.

Example 3: S, a work clothing manufacturer, delivered 50,000 dozen garments of staple work clothing in 1941. 20,000 of these were delivered to his volume trade at "wholesale prices," and 30,000 to independent retailers at higher prices.

S's "wholesale percentage" is 40% (20,000÷50,000).

(c) How a manufacturer uses his "wholesale percentage"—(1) What deliveries are counted. In figuring the quota of deliveries which must be made at wholesale prices in 1944, the manufacturer takes all deliveries from August 26, 1944 to December 31, 1944, inclusive. In any subsequent year, all deliveries for the entire calendar year will be included.

Example: In 1941 the ABC Company sold 70% of its staple work clothing at "wholesale prices" and 30% at higher prices. Its "wholesale percentage" is 70%. From August 26, 1944, to December 31, 1944, its anticipated deliveries of work clothing are 250,000 dozen. The ABC Company will determine its obligation as follows:

	Dozen
Anticipated deliveries	250,000
Quota to be delivered at wholesale prices (70% of 250,000)	175,000
Remainder which may be sold at other than wholesale prices	75,000

For convenience in meeting the quota of deliveries which must be made at wholesale prices, it is suggested that a manufacturer keep a current record of deliveries made after August 25, 1944, in this form:

Date	Number of dozens delivered at wholesale prices	Number of dozens delivered at other than wholesale prices	Total number of dozens delivered

At periodic intervals (e. g., at the end of each month), the manufacturer should total deliveries made at wholesale prices and all deliveries. He should then divide the former total by the latter. If the proportion of deliveries at wholesale prices is below his wholesale percentage, it would be advisable for him to ship only at wholesale prices until the proportion of deliveries at these prices equals the wholesale percentage. The procedure should be repeated for subsequent periods, until the end of the year.

(2) Calculating and filing the "wholesale percentage." Every manufacturer of staple work clothing, whose "wholesale percentage" is less than 100%, must keep available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration the records and the tabulation or work sheets which he used in figuring his "wholesale percentage". Every manufacturer is also required to file a statement of his wholesale percentage, as provided in section 5.2 (b) (1) (ii).

(d) Inability to calculate a wholesale percentage. Any manufacturer who sells staple work clothing but did not do so in 1941, or who, because of inadequate records, is unable to determine a wholesale percentage, must apply to the Office of Price Administration, (Men's Clothing Section), Washington 25, D. C., for the authorization of a "wholesale percentage." The application must set forth: (1) The manufacturer's name and address; (2) the date when he commenced business; and (3) the total number of dozens of staple work clothing delivered to each class of purchaser during the most recent 12 months of business, or, if the manufacturer does not have one year's experience, during such other portion of time as he has been in business. Until this authorization is granted, the manufacturer must make all deliveries at or below wholesale prices.

ARTICLE III—HOW TO FIND CEILING PRICES FOR SALES AT WHOLESALE

SEC. 3.1. Explanation of pricing rules for sales at wholesale. Under this regulation, there are two kinds of sales at wholesale, "regular sales" and "special sales". "Regular sales" are explained in section 3.2, while "special sales" are explained in section 3.3. Different methods of pricing are provided for these two kinds of sales.

SEC. 3.2. Regular sales—(a) What is a regular sale. A "regular sale" is a sale by a wholesaler to a person who sells principally at retail or is an industrial user, and whose business is not under the same ownership and control as the seller's.

A "wholesaler" is a person or business organization to which all the following statements apply:

(1) It sells goods to retailers in general, and not primarily to a single retailer or to a group of retailers which are under common ownership.

(2) It buys and sells goods in "wholesale quantities" as understood in the trade, and sells through traveling salesmen or circulated price lists or catalogs.

(3) It carries at all times at its principal place of business a representative stock of staple work clothing and makes at least 50% of its staple work clothing deliveries from stock (as opposed to drop shipments).

(4) It is not, directly or indirectly, under the same ownership or control as the person who fabricates the work clothing it sells.

(5) It extends credit, and carries its own accounts. It may, of course, entrust or assign its delinquent accounts to others for collection.

(6) It is not (i) a buying office or other agency representing retailers, (ii) a stock-carrying affiliate of retailers, (iii) a central office or warehouse for stores which are commonly owned or controlled, (iv) a drop shipper, (v) a broker, (vi) a commission-merchant, (vii) a selling-agent or (viii) a job-lot dealer.

A person who wishes to qualify as a "wholesaler" but was not such a wholesaler in 1941, must, before making any sales at ceilings for regular sales at wholesale, send a statement by registered mail to the Office of Price Administration (Men's Clothing Section), Washington 25, D. C. The statement must give the "wholesaler's" name and address, and the date on which he commenced business as a wholesaler.

(b) Where to find ceiling prices for "regular sales." Ceiling prices for "regular sales" of "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls" are provided in Appendix D (section 6.3) and Appendix E (section 7.2) respectively.

Ceiling prices for "regular sales" of staple work clothing, except "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls", are provided in column (2) of the tables in Appendix C. There are five tables of prices in Appendix C—a separate table for each of the enumerated different types of garments. The wholesale ceiling prices in each table are arranged according to each different supplier's net selling price, rather than according to particular garment specifications.

Before using these tables, the wholesaler must determine: (1) The type of garment which he is pricing, and (2) his supplier's net selling price for that garment. The supplier's net selling price can be found from the wholesale ceiling price list which, under section 5.1 (c), each supplier is required to furnish his buyer at the time garments are delivered. The wholesaler should then refer to the appropriate table in Appendix C, and follow down Column (1), which contains a list of suppliers' net selling prices, until he comes to the bracket of prices which includes his supplier's net selling price for the garment being priced. The price in Column (2) parallel to this bracket is the wholesaler's ceiling price for the garment being priced.

(c) Purchase by wholesalers of identical lot number from different manufacturers. If a wholesaler purchases the same garment with the identical lot number from different manufacturers at different prices, the wholesaler may, at his option, compute an "average supplier's price" for the garment according to the instructions set forth in section 4.2 (b) (3) for such computation by Group I retail sellers.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44]

SEC. 3.3. "Special sales". Sales at wholesale which are not "regular sales," as explained in section 3.2, are "special sales." They include (but are not confined to) sales by wholesalers to wholesalers, sales by retailers to retailers, and all sales by brokers, commission merchants, job-lot dealers, and like persons.

Example 1: G, a large retailer, buys a dozen bib overalls from a manufacturer at $16.00 per dozen, the manufacturer's ceiling price, and pays 50¢ per dozen for freight. He now wants to resell them to H, a second retailer. G's ceiling price for this sale is $16.50 per dozen (or $1.37½ per garment), his cost plus freight.

Example 2: L, a wholesaler, buys a dozen dungarees from a manufacturer at $11.80 per dozen, the manufacturer's ceiling price. L now liquidates and resells the garments to auctioneer M for $11.50 per dozen. Now M wants to resell the garments to another wholesaler.

In figuring his price for this second special sale, M finds his ceiling by taking the net selling price of L, which is $11.80, and adds freight paid by him. If M pays 50¢ for freight, M's ceiling is $12.30.

(b) Disclosure in special sales. In any special sale, the seller must mark the bill or invoice with the words "special sale," and must disclose any information required by the provisions of section 5.2 (a) (1).

ARTICLE IV—HOW TO FIND CEILING PRICES FOR SALES AT RETAIL

SEC. 4.1. Explanation of pricing rules for retailers. Ceiling prices for sales at retail of "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls" are provided in Appendix D (section 6.2) and Appendix E (section 7.2) respectively.

Ceiling prices for sales at retail of staple work clothing (except "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls") are found as follows. In most cases a retailer will find his ceiling prices by following the instructions in section 4.3. In some cases a retailer must price under section 4.4. In order to find which section applies a retailer should use the following steps:

Step 1. A retail seller must first determine whether he is a Group I or a Group II retail seller, according to the instructions given in section 4.2 (a) below.

Step 2. Next, the seller must determine the type of garment which he is pricing (i. e., whether it is a bib overall, a chambray, covert, cheviot or sheeting work shirt, etc.).

Step 3. Thirdly, the seller must find his supplier's net selling price for the garment, according to the instructions given in section 4.2 (b) below.

Step 4. If the seller has previously determined a maximum price for the "same" garment under the General Maximum Price Regulation, the seller must then:

(i) Find the difference between his GMPR ceiling price and his supplier's net selling price on October 31, 1945.

[Step 2 and Step 4 (i) amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

(ii) Figure his markup on selling price for that garment by dividing the difference found in (i) by the GMPR ceiling price;

(iii) If the resultant percentage markup is equal to, or below, the markup listed in the table below for garments of the same type sold by the group to which the seller belongs, the seller shall find his retail ceiling price for the garment under section 4.4.

(iv) If the resultant percentage markup is above the appropriate markup indicated in the table, the seller shall proceed to Step 5.

Type of Garment	Percent markup for Group I retail seller	Percent markup for Group II retail seller
All chambray, covert, cheviot and sheeting work shirts	22	24.5
Other work shirts and work pants (sold separately or as matched sets), work breeches, one-piece work suits, and coats and jackets lined with cotton blanket material	24.5	27
Bib overalls and overall jackets	12.5	19.5
Waistband overalls (dungarees)	16	23.5

[Table amended by Am. 4, 10 F.R. 2873, effective 3-20-45]

Example 1: A Group II retail seller desires to find his ceiling price for a men's bib overall. His supplier's net selling price for the garment on October 31, 1945 is $19.56 per dozen, or $1.63 per garment. The retailer also finds that he had a ceiling price for this garment under the GMPR of $1.98 per garment. The difference between his GMPR ceiling price and his supplier's net selling price, therefore, is 35¢, and his mark-up on selling price is figured by dividing 35¢ by $1.98. The result is 17.7%.

In the table above, the markup for bib overalls for Group II retail sellers is 19.5%. Accordingly, since the resultant markup of 17.7% is below the appropriate markup in the table, this retailer must figure his retail ceiling price for the overall under section 4.4.

Example 2: If the retailer in example 1 had a GMPR ceiling price for this overall of $2.25, his markup on selling price would be 27.5% (the difference, 62¢, divided by the GMPR ceiling price.) Accordingly, since the resultant markup of 27.5% is higher than the appropriate markup in the table (19.5%), he proceeds to step 5 below.

Step 5. If a ceiling price for the garment being priced has not previously been determined under the GMPR, or if the percentage found in Step 4 is above the appropriate percentage indicated in the table, the seller shall find his retail ceiling price for the garment according to the instructions in section 4.3.

NOTE: If the garment is bought at a "special sale," the retail seller should disregard the above steps and price it under section 4.5 below.

SEC. 4.2. Definitions which a retail seller must know in order to price—(a) Groups of retail sellers—(1) Group I retail seller. Any one who deals in staple work clothing at retail is a "Group I retail seller" if he is described by any one of the following subdivisions:

(i) In either 1941, 1942 or 1943, he made annual sales of staple work clothing (as defined in section 1.1) totaling $250,000.00 or more. For example, a retail seller which sold $50,000.00 worth of work clothing in 1941, $150,000.00 in 1942 and $300,000.00 in 1943, is a "Group I retail seller."

(ii) In either 1941, 1942, or 1943, he bought more than half of his supply of staple work clothing from manufacturers who regularly supplied wholesalers (whether or not they also supplied other classes of trade), and paid prices no higher than those manufacturers' prevailing prices to wholesalers. For example, a mail order house would be a "Group I retail seller" if in 1941 it bought 55% of its work clothing from a manufacturer who had regular wholesale and mail order customers and charged mail order houses no more than the wholesalers. In comparing prices, allowance is to be made for differences in specifications.

(iii) In either 1941, 1942 or 1943, he purchased more than one-fourth of the total production of staple work clothing of a single manufacturer. For example, a chain of stores, which does not qualify under (i) above, might have purchased its work clothing from a manufacturer who did not regularly deal with wholesalers, so that subdivision (ii) would not apply either. Yet, if the chain in any one of those years, bought more than one-fourth of the manufacturer's entire production, it would be a "Group I retail seller."

(2) Group II retail sellers. Every person who deals in staple work clothing at retail and who is not a "Group I retail seller", as defined above, is a "Group II retail seller." This group includes most independent retailers. For example, a retailer with one store, who sold approximately $5,000.00 worth of staple work clothing in 1941, 1942 and 1943, and bought most of his supplies from jobbers, would be a "Group II retail seller."

(3) Meaning of seller. A "seller" includes all the departments or selling establishments in a group which is under common ownership or control.

(b) Supplier's net selling price—(1) Supplier's price list. Section 5.1 requires that a supplier furnish each customer with a price list which shows for each garment supplied: (i) the lot number; (ii) a detailed description; (iii) the supplier's net selling price; (iv) the retail ceiling price. Thus, except in cases explained in (2), (3) and (4) below, a retailer can find his supplier's net selling price for a garment by merely consulting this price list.

(2) Purchase of identical lot number from manufacturer and wholesaler. If a retailer buys the same garment of staple work clothing with the identical manufacturer's lot number from a wholesaler and also from the manufacturer, he must take the manufacturer's net selling price, not the wholesaler's price, to figure his retail ceiling price for this number.

Example. B, a Group II retail seller, buys bib overalls of lot number 963, manufactured by the X company, from a wholesaler for $20.90 per dozen, which is the wholesaler's net selling price. Later he buys more overalls of lot number 963 direct from the manufacturer, who charges him $18.00 per dozen, the manufacturer's net selling price.

In figuring his retail ceiling for overalls of this lot number, B takes $18.00 as his supplier's net selling price, and finds $2.00 per garment as his ceiling price for this lot number.

(3) Purchase by Group I retail seller of identical lot number from different manufacturers. If a Group I retail seller purchases the same garment with the identical lot number from different manufacturers at different prices, instead of figuring a different ceiling price for each different supplier's net selling price, he may at his option figure his retail ceiling price on the basis of the average of his different suppliers' net selling prices for this garment according to the instructions set forth in Appendix F.

If a Group I retail seller finds his "average supplier's price" for a garment, he must (except as indicated in Appendix F) keep that price in figuring his retail ceiling price for all future sales of that garment. However, if a seller is unable to figure his "average supplier's price" for a garment, either because there were no deliveries of this garment during the period January 1, 1944 to June 30, 1944, or because his records are incomplete and the calculation described in Appendix F cannot be made, he must figure a different retail ceiling price for each different supplier's net selling price for the garment. Moreover, if the garment being priced is made from sheeting or cheviot body materials, the seller may not figure his average supplier's price for the garment, but must figure a different retail ceiling price for each different supplier's net selling price.

Every Group I retail seller who has figured a retail ceiling price on the basis of his "average supplier's price" must keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration a record of the computation of that price, together with all invoices or other records upon which such computation was based.

(4) Where retail sale is made by manufacturer. Where a sale at retail is made by a manufacturer, the seller's ceiling price is determined as follows:

(i) Determine the ceiling price for the particular garment for sales to each class of purchaser under the applicable pricing rule in Article II.

(ii) If a ceiling price for sales to ultimate consumers can be found under (i), the ceiling price for a sale at retail is the price found in (i) for sales to ultimate consumers.

(iii) If a ceiling price for sales to ultimate consumers cannot be found under (i) above, the ceiling price for a sale at retail is found from Column (3) of the tables in Appendix C (Sales at retail by Group I retail sellers) by taking as the "supplier's net selling price" the lowest ceiling price for the garment found under (i) above.

[Subparagraph (4) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44]

SEC. 4.3. How to find retail ceiling prices from the tables in Appendix C. Except as provided in section 4.1 (Step 4), ceiling prices for sales at retail of staple work clothing (other than "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls") are provided in Columns (3), (4) and (5) of the tables in Appendix C. There is a separate table of prices in Appendix C for each of the enumerated different types of garments. As indicated, each table has three sets of retail ceiling prices; Column (3) is for Group I retail sellers; Column (4) is for Group II retail sellers who purchased the garment from the manufacturer; and Column (5) is for Group II retail sellers who purchased the garment at wholesale.[3a]

The retail ceiling prices in each table are arranged according to each different supplier's net selling price. For example, column (3) of Table I shows the retail ceiling price for Group I sellers, which corresponds to each different supplier's net selling price for chambray, covert, cheviot and sheeting work shirts. Column (4) of Table V shows the retail ceiling price for Group II sellers who purchased from the manufacturer, which corresponds to each different supplier's net selling price for work pants, work breeches, coats and jackets lined with cotton blanket material, and one piece work suits made of denim, covert, cottonade, whipcord, pinchecks and pinstripes.

Accordingly, the retail seller, after following Steps 1, 2 and 3 outlined in section 4.1, should then refer to the appropriate table in Appendix C, and follow down Column (1), which contains a list of supplier's net selling prices, until he comes to the bracket of prices which includes the supplier's net selling price of the garment being priced. The price in Column (3) parallel to this bracket is the Group I retail seller's ceiling price for the garment being priced; the price in Column (4) parallel to this bracket is the Group II retail seller's ceiling price for the garment being priced when the garment is purchased from the manufacturer; the price in Column (5) parallel to this bracket is the Group II retail seller's ceiling price for the garment when purchased from a wholesaler.

[Sec. 4.3 amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

SEC. 4.4. How to find retail ceiling prices in other cases. If, under Step 4 in section 4.1, the retail seller has found that the percentage markup, between his supplier's net selling price for the garment being priced and the ceiling price established under the GMPR[4] for the same garment, is equal to, or below, the appropriate percentage indicated in the table in section 4.1, the retail ceiling price for that garment must be calculated to provide a percentage markup on selling price equal to the appropriate markup specified in the table. The price is calculated as follows:

(a) Subtract from 100% the percentage indicated in the table for garments of the same type as the garment being priced, sold by the group to which the seller belongs.

(b) Divide the result into the supplier's net selling price for the garment (already found by Step 3 in section 4.1).

Example: A Group II retail seller desires to find his ceiling price for a men's bib overall. His supplier's net selling price for the garment on October 31, 1945, was $19.56 per dozen. The retailer also finds that he had a ceiling price under the GMPR for this garment of $1.98 per garment. That ceiling price provides, over the supplier's net selling of $1.63 ($19.56 per dozen ÷ 12 = $1.63 per garment), a markup of 35¢, or 17.7% on selling price (.35 ÷ 1.98 = 17.7%).

The table in section 4.1 shows for bib overalls a percentage markup for Group II retail sellers of 19.5%. Since 17.7% is below 19.5% this retailer must price this overall under section 4.4 and use a markup of 19.5% in calculating his ceiling price for this garment.

Accordingly, he calculates his ceiling price by subtracting the margin of 19.5% from 100%, which gives 80.5%. His supplier's net selling price is now $20.28 per dozen, or $1.69 per garment. By dividing $1.69 by 80.5 he arrives at a ceiling price of $2.10 per garment.

[Example amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44 and Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

SEC. 4.5. Where garments are bought at a "special sale." If the retailer buys a garment at a "special sale," he does not figure his ceiling price by taking the price of his own supplier. Instead, he takes the net selling price (not to exceed the ceiling price) of the supplier of the person who made the "special sale." (The difference between a "regular sale" and a "special sale" is explained in sections 3.2 and 3.3). If a succession of special sales has been made he takes the net selling price of the supplier of the person who made the first of these special sales. Thus, the retail ceiling price of a garment is the same as if the retailer had bought directly from the original supplier, without any special sale intervening.

Example 1: C, a retail chain, buys one dozen dungarees from a manufacturer at $10.00 per dozen, which is the manufacturer's ceiling price. C sells them to D, a Group I retail seller, at $10.35 (which is equal to C's cost plus freight actually paid by him).

In figuring his retail ceiling, D assumes his supplier's net selling price to be $10.00 (the net selling price of C's supplier) not $10.35 (the price D actually paid). Consequently, D's retail ceiling is $1.04 per garment, the price in Table IV for Group I retail sellers.

Example 2. E, an independent retailer, buys chambray work shirts from a jobber at $11.00 a dozen (the jobber's ceiling). He decides to liquidate and sells them to an auctioneer for $10.00 a dozen. The auctioneer resells them to F, a Group II retail seller, for $11.25 (this being the price paid by E, plus transportation charges incurred by the auctioneer).

In figuring his retail ceiling, F takes $11.00 as his supplier's net selling price, so that his retail ceiling is $1.31 (not $1.34 based on $11.25).

ARTICLE V—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 5.1. Marking of garments and ceiling price lists. This section explains the marking and ceiling price lists which must be furnished in connection with sales of all garments of staple work clothing except "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls". The marking and informational requirements for sales of these latter garments are provided in Appendix D (section 6.5) and Appendix E (section 7.4) respectively.

(a) Marking required at retail. On and after October 16, 1944, every person is forbidden to sell or offer to sell at retail or display in a retail store any garment of staple work clothing which is not marked as required by this section. The marking must contain the following elements:

(1) The manufacturer's lot number or brand name for the garment.

[3a] In Table II, however, only two columns of retail prices are listed—Column (3) for Group I retail sellers; Column (4) for all Group II retail sellers, irrespective of whether the garment is purchased from the manufacturer or at wholesale.

[4] 9 F.R. 1385, 5169, 6106, 8150, 10193, 11274.

(2) The retail ceiling price.

(3) Defects (if any).

(b) Ceiling price lists required from wholesalers. Every person who sells staple work clothing at wholesale must supply each purchaser for sale at retail with a list of retail ceiling prices for the garments supplied him, on or after August 16, 1944, as well as those supplied since June 15, 1944. This list must be forwarded by the wholesaler not later than the first invoicing or billing of any garment, or before September 8, 1944 (whichever is later). The wholesaler must keep this list up to date thereafter by sending supplemental lists to each retailer at the time of shipment of any new garments subsequently sold or by sending corrected lists if the wholesaler's net selling price is changed. The list must be in substantially the following form:

(Group II Retail Ceiling Prices for Staple Work Clothing Bought From A B C Company, Wholesale Distributors)

Manufacturer's lot No. or brand name	Description of garment	Wholesaler's net selling price (per dozen)	Group II retail ceiling price (per garment)[1]

[*Items amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

NOTICE: OPA requires that each garment must be marked with the retail ceiling price. A garment must not be sold above the ceiling price, but may be sold for less. This list must be promptly displayed to any person on request during regular business hours.

The retail ceiling prices indicated in the list are those provided in the tables in Appendix C of RMPR 208. However, under that regulation, you may be required to sell at a lower price on the basis of the procedure outlined in section 4.4 of RMPR 208. Accordingly, you should ascertain whether section 4.4 of RMPR 208 is applicable to your case before selling at the prices indicated on this list.

Copies of RMPR 208 can be obtained from your nearest OPA office.

[1] The retail ceiling price indicated in this column must be the ceiling price listed in the appropriate table in Appendix C, based on the wholesaler's net selling price, and must reflect the differentials, if any, allowed for shipments between the "East and Central" and the "Mountain and Pacific" regions.

If a wholesaler so desires, he may list two columns of retail ceiling prices, one each for the two geographical regions, and indicate in the heading to each column the area in which the prices listed in each column apply.

(c) Marking and ceiling price lists required from manufacturers. On and after August 26, 1944, every manufacturer is forbidden to deliver a garment of staple work clothing unless the garment is marked with the manufacturer's lot number or brand name and a statement of defects (if any). If the garment has been simplified as provided in Appendix A, the lot number shall be the number used during or before March 1942, prefixed by the symbol "-S-". No person shall use on any garment a lot number which he used in March 1942 for a different garment.

In addition, each manufacturer who sells staple work clothing must supply each wholesaler and retail purchaser with a list of wholesale or retail ceiling prices, as the case may be, for the garments supplied him on or after August 26, 1944, as well as those supplied since May 15, 1944. This list must be forwarded by the manufacturer not later than the first invoicing or billing of any garment, or before September 2, 1944 (to wholesalers) and before September 6, 1944 (to retailers) (whichever is later). The manufacturer must keep this list up to date thereafter by sending supplemental lists to each customer at the time of shipment of any new garments subsequently sold to him, or by sending corrected lists if the manufacturer's net selling price is changed. The list to be sent to retailers must be in substantially the form suggested in (1) below, while that to be sent to wholesalers should follow the form suggested in (2) below.

(1) Form of retail ceiling price list to be furnished by the manufacturer.

GROUP I RETAIL CEILING PRICE LIST [1] AS REQUIRED BY THE OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION

(Group I Retail Ceiling Prices for XYZ Company Staple Work Clothing)

The following list enumerates the garments of staple work clothing (other than "war models" and "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls") which we have shipped to you, and indicates your retail ceiling price based on our net selling price listed in Column (c). However, if you are using the "average supplier's price" provision of section 4.2 (b) (3) of RMPR 208, disregard the retail ceiling prices on this list, and determine your ceiling prices by use of the tables provided in Appendix C of RMPR 208, according to the instructions contained in section 4.2 (b) (3).[2]

(a) Manufacturer's lot No. or brand name	(b) Description of garment	(c) Manufacturer's net selling price (per dozen)	(d) Group I retail ceiling price (per garment)
S1072	Men's 3.90 chambray shirt, sanforized	$8.54	*$0.96
S1075	Men's 3.90 covert shirt, sanforized	8.87½	*1.01

[*Items amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

NOTICE: OPA requires that each garment must be marked with the retail ceiling price. A garment must not be sold above the ceiling price, but may be sold for less. This list must be promptly displayed to any person on request during regular business hours.

The retail ceiling prices indicated in the list are those provided in the tables in Appendix C of RMPR 208. However, under that regulation, you may be required to sell at a lower price on the basis of the procedure outlined in section 4.4 of RMPR 208. Accordingly, you should ascertain whether section 4.4 of RMPR 208 is applicable to your case before selling at the prices indicated on this list.

[1] In appropriate cases, the list would be entitled "Group II Retail Ceiling Price List."

[2] This sentence concerning "average supplier's price" should be omitted from "Group II Retail Ceiling Price Lists."

[3] The retail ceiling price indicated in this column must be the ceiling price listed in the appropriate table in Appendix C on the basis of the manufacturer's net selling price, and must reflect the differentials allowed for shipments between the "East and Central" and the "Mountain and Pacific" regions. Manufacturer's net selling price (supplier's net selling price) is defined in Instruction 3 to the tables in Appendix C; "East and Central" and "Mountain and Pacific" are defined in Instruction 4 to the tables.

If a manufacturer so desires, he may list two columns of retail ceiling prices, one each for the two geographical regions, and indicate in the heading to each column the area for which the prices in each column apply.

(2) Form of wholesale ceiling price list to be furnished by the manufacturer.

WHOLESALE CEILING PRICE LIST AS REQUIRED BY THE OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION

(Wholesale Ceiling Prices for XYZ Company Staple Work Clothing)

The following list enumerates the work clothing which we have shipped to you, and indicates in column (d) your ceiling price for regular sales at wholesale of each garment.[1] In addition, column (e) indicates the Group II retail price for these garments in those cases in which your net selling price to the Group II retail seller is the same as your ceiling price for the particular garment.

You are required, under RMPR 208, to furnish each of your retail customers with a "retail ceiling price list", similar to the one described in section 5.1(b) of RMPR 208. If your net selling price to a retailer is less than your ceiling price listed below for a particular garment, you must determine from the tables in Appendix C of the regulation the correct retail ceiling price and enter that price on the list which you supply the retailer.

(a) Manufacturer's lot No. or brand name	(b) Description of garment	(c) Mfr's net selling price (per dozen)	(d) Ceiling price for sales at wholesale [2] (per dozen)	(e) Group II retail ceiling price if sold at wholesale ceiling price (per garment)
602	Boys' 2.20 denim bib overall, mill finish	$9.92	*$11.50	*$1.28
-S-1072	Men's 3.90 chambray shirt, sanforized	9.90	*12.10	*1.44
S Brand	Men's 2.50 drill work pants, mill finish	10.72	13.20	1.67

[*Items amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

NOTICE: A garment must not be sold above the ceiling price, but may be sold for less. This list must be promptly displayed to any person on request during regular business hours.

[1] Manufacturers may, if they desire, list their entire line of garments, and should indicate in the first sentence that the list constitutes their entire line.

[2] The wholesale ceiling price indicated in this column must be the ceiling price listed in the appropriate table in Appendix C on the basis of the manufacturer's net selling price, and must reflect the differentials allowed for shipments between the "East and Central" and the "Mountain and Pacific" regions. Manufacturer's net selling price (supplier's net selling price) is defined in Instruction 3 to the tables in Appendix C; "East and Central" and "Mountain and Pacific" are defined in Instruction 4 to the tables.

If a manufacturer so desires, he may list two columns of wholesale ceiling prices, one each for the two geographical regions, and indicate in the heading to each column the area for which the prices in each column apply.

(d) Elements of marking. The elements required to be marked are explained in this paragraph.

(1) Lot number or brand name. The lot number or brand name must be different for each garment having a different manufacturer's ceiling price.

(2) The retail ceiling price. This must be the correct ceiling price for the circumstances in which the garment is offered for sale at retail.

(3) Defects, if any. If the garment is a "second" or imperfect, it must be so marked.

(e) Manner of marking. The required markings must be attached to each garment. The required marking must be attached by stitching, adhesive, pins or staples, except where some other method is authorized. The required markings may be in one or more parts, and may be accompanied by other information, but all portions must be clearly visible to the purchaser.

EXAMPLE OF MARKING
LOT NO. 903
Retail ceiling---------- $1.17

(f) Exemption from marking. In the case of sales at retail of garments of staple work clothing, which are based on orders received by mail pursuant to a mail order catalog, the retail seller need not mark each garment, as required by section 5.1 (a) if he forwards with the garment a sales memorandum stating the retail purchase price (not exceeding the ceiling price), and the identity of the garment.

SEC. 5.2. Informational requirements—(a) Disclosure—(1) Information for pricing. Any person who has sold for resale any staple work clothing may be required to supply any purchaser with any information needed by him for the marking or pricing of the garments. This information must be furnished in writing promptly upon receipt of a written request from the buyer.

(2) Sales slips and receipts. Any seller who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase must continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser any seller, regardless of previous custom, must give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the lot number of the garment or other description (e. g., men's 8 oz. denim bib overall, sanforized), and the price received for it.

(3) Wholesale and retail ceiling price lists. Any retailer who has received from his supplier a "retail ceiling price list," must display the list promptly to any person who requests to see it during regular business hours. If the seller operates more than one department or selling establishment, a copy of the list must be made available in each separate unit where staple work clothing is sold.

(4) Invoices. Every manufacturer selling staple work clothing and every person selling staple work clothing at wholesale must give the purchaser an invoice showing: (i) the date; (ii) the manufacturer's lot number or brand name for each different garment sold; (iii) the quantity sold, and the selling price, of each different lot number or brand name; and (iv) the terms of sale (e. g., net 30 days, f. o. b. factory).

(5) Disclosure by purchasers for resale. Every person who buys or offers to buy staple work clothing for resale may be requested by the seller to furnish a signed statement showing the group of seller to which he belongs. Within ten days after receiving such a request in writing, the buyer must supply the seller with this statement.

(b) Records and reports—(1) Manufacturers. (i) Manufacturers who have priced garments under Rules 2 or 3 must report the calculation of the maximum prices in accordance with the instructions set forth in those rules, and must retain a copy of each report.

(ii) Every manufacturer whose wholesale percentage is less than 100% must keep the records and work sheets from which he figured his "wholesale percentage" as provided in section 2.7 (b). These records must include a list showing: (a) each lot number of staple work clothing covered by this regulation delivered during 1941; (b) a description of each such number (e. g., men's 3.90 chambray work shirt, sanforized); (c) each class of purchaser (e. g., jobbers, chain stores, mail order houses, independent retailers, industrial users) to which each number was delivered; (d) the quantity (in dozens) delivered to each class of purchaser; and (e) the prices at which delivery was made to each class of purchaser. The records required by this subdivision must be prepared on or before November 1, 1944, and thereafter must be kept and made available on request to the OPA. Further, the manufacturer must file with the office of Price Administration (Men's Clothing Section), Washington 25, D. C., on or before November 1, 1944, a statement showing the total number of dozens of staple work clothing delivered by him in 1941, and the number delivered at wholesale prices.

[Subparagraph (ii) amended by Am. 3, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44]

(iii) In addition, every manufacturer is subject to the information and record requirements of § 1389.210 (a) and (b) of MPR 208.

(2) Retailers. (i) Every retailer shall keep and make available on request to the OPA all records relating to ceiling prices established for staple work clothing, required by the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(ii) Every Group I retail seller who has figured a retail ceiling price on the basis of his average supplier's price under section 4.2 (b) (3) must keep and make available on request to the OPA the record described in that section.

(3) All sellers. Every person selling staple work clothing shall keep and make available on request to the OPA, a copy of each invoice delivered or received pursuant to section 5.2 (a) (4).

SEC. 5.3. When taxes may be added. If a statute or ordinance imposes a tax upon a particular sale or delivery (such as a sales tax, gross proceeds or gross receipts tax or compensating use tax) and permits such tax to be stated separately from the selling price, the seller may collect such tax in addition to the maximum price under this regulation, provided that he states the amount of the tax separately. However, this provision does not apply to any tax imposed on a prior sale or delivery of the same article.

SEC. 5.4. Transfer of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade of any seller of staple work clothing have been or shall be transferred on or after April 28, 1942, and the transferee shall carry on the business, or continue to deal in staple work clothing, in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligations to keep, make available, prepare and file records shall be the same. The transferor shall either prepare and make available or turn over to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 5.5. Excessive prices forbidden. On and after the effective date of this regulation, the following practices are forbidden regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) Charging more than ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to sell or deliver any staple work clothing at a price higher than the ceiling price set by this regulation. A lower price may, of course, be charged.

(b) Buying for more than the ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to buy or receive any staple work clothing, in the course of trade or business, at a price higher than the price set by this regulation.

(c) Combination sales. Every person is forbidden to require any purchaser to buy or agree to buy any other article, service, package or wrapper, in connection with the sale or delivery of any staple work clothing. But any seller may refuse to sell less than a minimum quantity of any one style number, if this minimum has been customary for the seller.

(d) Indirect price increases. Every person is forbidden to do any other act which directly or indirectly increases above the ceiling price the consideration paid by the purchaser for any staple work clothing. Any practice which is a device to secure the effect of a higher than ceiling price is as much a violation as outright raising of the ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation charges, premiums, taxes, special provisions, tying agreements, trade understandings and all similar practices; and to the reduction of the size range in which a garment is offered from the size range in which it was offered during March 1942.

No manufacturer shall so change the allowances, discounts or other price differentials which he customarily made during March 1942 as to require any purchaser to pay a higher net price.

(c) Indirect violations. Every person is forbidden to offer, attempt or agree to do any of the acts forbidden by this section.

SEC. 5.6. Adjustable pricing agreements. Adjustable pricing agreements may be entered into notwithstanding the provisions of section 5.5 to the extent permitted by this section.

(a) When regulation fixes a ceiling price. In cases where this regulation fixes a ceiling price, a person may sell at that ceiling price, subject to an agreement with the buyer to charge a higher price if it becomes the legal ceiling price by the time of delivery. But one must never charge a price which is higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Moreover, unless specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration, a person must not deliver or agree to deliver at a price which is to be adjusted upward in accordance with action by the Office of Price Administration after delivery.

(b) Where regulation does not fix a ceiling price. In cases where a ceiling price is not fixed by the regulation, a person must not make any contract or sale unless the price is expressly subject to adjustment in accordance with any action which may be taken by the Office of Price Administration. Moreover, unless specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration, a person must not make any delivery until a ceiling price has been fixed by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) When specific authorization will be given. Specific authorization to deliver or agree to deliver at a price which is to be adjusted in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery will be given only where: (1) A request for the fixing or changing of a ceiling price has been filed; and (2) the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production; and (3) it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

This authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any other official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the power to grant such authorization has been delegated, and may be given by order, letter or telegram.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 6, 10 F.R. 9334, effective 7-26-45; amended by Am. 7, 10 F.R. 11709, effective 9-17-45 and revoked by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

SEC. 5.7. Licensing and enforcement—(a) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[8] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or this regulation. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(b) Penalties. Any person who violates any provisions of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 5.8. Relation to other regulations—(a) Regulations superseded. The coverage of this regulation is stated in section 1.1. Where this regulation applies, it supersedes (except as indicated below) the provisions of the following regulations:

General Maximum Price Regulation;
Maximum Price Regulation 208 (Staple Work Clothing).

Exception: Mail order catalogs.—The provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation and of MPR 208 shall continue to apply to sales at retail of garments of staple work clothing, which are based on orders received by mail, pursuant to a mail order catalog, the printing of which was completed or substantially completed (i. e., the printing plates have been made) prior to August 16, 1944.

(b) Contractors' services. This regulation does not apply to charges for contractors' services, which are governed by Maximum Price Regulation 172[9] (Charges of Contractors in the Apparel Industry).

"Contractor" is defined in § 1389.52 of that regulation.

(c) War procurement agencies. This regulation does not apply to sales of staple work clothing made according to military specifications, when the sales are made to any war procurement agency as defined in Maximum Price Regulation 157[7] (Sales and Fabrication of Textiles, Apparel and Related Articles for Military Purposes).

(d) Export sales. This regulation does not apply to export sales of staple work clothing. Such sales are covered by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[8]

(e) Import sales. The provisions of this regulation do not apply to deliveries made from points outside the 48 states and the District of Columbia. Such sales and deliveries are governed by the provisions of the Maximum Import Price Regulation.[9] This regulation does, however, apply to domestic sales when the articles sold were originally imported.

SEC. 5.9 Amendments and adjustments—(a) Petitions for amendment. Any person who seeks a modification of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment of general applicability in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[10] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Manufacturers' applications for adjustment—(1) Who may apply. Any manufacturer required to produce a garment of staple work clothing by the War Production Board, pursuant to Conservation Order No. M-379 (issued July 10, 1944) and General Direction No. 1 to Conservation Order No. N-379 (as amended October 12, 1944), may apply for an adjustment of his ceiling price on such garment.

(2) Amount of adjustment. Existing ceiling prices will be adjusted as follows when, and to the extent that, existing ceiling prices are found by the Office of Price Administration to be lower than:

(i) A price equal to the total unit cost of the garment, or

(ii) A price equal to the total unit cost of the garment plus 2% of such cost, if current net profits before taxes (computed in relation to net worth) realized by the applicant from his total operations are either (a) less than 6.2% or (b) less than double the average percentage realized by the applicant during the years 1936 to 1939, inclusive. However, if current net profits before taxes (computed in relation to net worth) realized by the applicant from his total operations are 12.4% or over, the adjustment shall be limited to a price equal to the total unit cost of the garment.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 5, 10 F.R. 7048, effective 6-18-45]

(3) Filing of applications. Applications must be filed in accordance with subpart B of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, and must contain, unless they are on file with the Office of Price Administration:

(i) Balance sheets and profit and loss statements for the years 1936 to 1939, inclusive, the most recent calendar or fiscal year, and the most recent interim period;

(ii) A statement in detail of the applicant's current total unit cost (material, direct labor, factory overhead, selling and administrative expense, in accordance with applicant's usual accounting practice) for the garment for which an adjustment is being sought.

(4) Denial of applications. An application may be denied, notwithstanding the standards in paragraph (2), if price relief under an alternate method has been provided for the applicant or his industry, or if the Price Administrator determines that granting the application would not accord with the purpose of the directive issued by the Director of the Office of Economic Stabilization on November 16, 1943, and any supplements or amendments thereto.

(5) Orders issued prior to December 1, 1945. Maximum prices adjusted by orders issued under this section prior to December 1, 1945, may be adjusted, as follows, when the garments contain (i) denim, covert or chambray purchased on or after June 21, 1945, (ii) cottonade or whipcord purchased on or after August 31, 1945, or (iii) pinchecks or pinstripes purchased on or after September 17, 1945:

Step 1. Subtract from the adjustment listed in column B of Table II of Appendix B for the body material contained in the garment, the adjustment listed in Column B of Table I of Appendix B for that material.

Step 2. Multiply the amount found in Step 1 by the number of yards of body material contained in the garment (as stated in the order of adjustment).

(b) Changes not permitted. A garment shall not be considered a "simplified model" when it is altered as follows:

(1) By a change in the weight, finish or construction of body materials;

(2) By a reduction in body dimensions;

(3) By elimination or substantial reduction in the use of slide fasteners;

(4) By elimination of double thickness in shoulders, front or back, or in elbows;

(5) By elimination of double thickness in knees or in seats.

APPENDIX B—TABLES OF ADJUSTMENTS TO BE MADE IN BASE PRICES OF GARMENTS PRICED UNDER SECTION 2.2 AND IN FORMULA PRICES OF GARMENTS PRICED UNDER SECTIONS 2.3 AND 2.4.

(a) The amount of the adjustment to be made in the base price of a garment being priced under section 2.2, or in the formula price of a garment being priced under section 2.3 or 2.4, to find its ceiling price, is given in the tables below. Two tables are listed. The table to be used depends upon the type of body material of which the garment is made. The tables are to be used as follows:

(1) For garments made of the following fabrics, Table I is always used:

(i) Jeans

(ii) Drills

(iii) Moleskins (plain or black and white)

(iv) Poplins

(v) Government twills

(vi) Ducks

(vii) Sheetings

(viii) Cheviots

(2) For garments made of denim, chambray and shirting or pants covert,

(i) Table I must be used if the garment is made from material which the manufacturer purchased prior to June 21, 1945;

(ii) Table II is to be used if the garment is made from material which the manufacturer purchased on or after June 21, 1945.

(3) For garments made of cottonade and whipcord:

(i) Table I must be used if the garment is made from material which the manufacturer purchased prior to August 31, 1945;

(ii) Table II is to be used if the garment is made from material which the manufacturer purchased on or after August 31, 1945.

(4) For garments made of pinchecks and pinstripes:

(i) Table I must be used if the garment is made from material which the manufacturer purchased prior to September 17, 1945;

(ii) Table II is to be used if the garment is made from material which the manufacturer purchased on or after September 17, 1945.

(b) Within a given table, the amount of the adjustment is dependent upon the following three factors:

(1) The body material from which the garment is made, and the weight of such material. As indicated in the tables, the amount of the adjustment differs for each type of body material, and, in some cases, for each weight of a particular body material.

(2) The date of the "last issued written price list" pursuant to which the base prices were established for garments priced under section 2.2. If the base prices for garments priced under section 2.2 were established pursuant to a price list issued on or after January 1, 1942, the seller must use Column A in the tables. If they were established pursuant to a price list issued prior to January 1, 1942, he uses Column B.

(3) Whether the garment is made in a men's size range or a boys' size range (but only when Column A is to be used). Part 1 of Column A contains the adjustments to be made in determining the ceiling prices for men's garments, and Part 2 the adjustments in determining the ceiling prices for boys' garments.

The total amount of the adjustment is the product which results from multiplying the number of yards of cloth used in the garment, before simplification (if any), by the number of cents indicated in the appropriate table below, for the body material of which such garment is made. If the product of the multiplication is a minus quantity, that quantity is to be subtracted from the base or formula price; if the product is a plus sum, that sum is to be added to the price.

Example 1. Manufacturer X desires to determine his ceiling price for a men's 8-oz. (2.00) sanforized denim dungaree. Under section 2.2, Rule 1, he has found a base price of $10.80 per dozen for this garment. This base price was derived from a price list issued December 15, 1941. Moreover, the body material contained in the garment was purchased on August 6, 1945. Therefore, under the instructions given above, X will determine his adjustment for this garment under Table II.

X consults Column B of Table II (Column B because the base price was established pursuant to a price list issued prior to January 1, 1942, and Table II since the body material was purchased after June 21, 1945) and finds that he must adjust the base price by plus 3.75¢ per yard. Since X uses 32 yards of denim to a dozen dungarees, the total amount of X's adjustment is plus $1.20 per dozen garments. Adding $1.20 to the base price of $10.80 gives $12.00 per dozen, which is X's ceiling price for the dungarees.

Example 2. Manufacturer Y desires to determine his ceiling price for a man's 3.60 sanforized chambray shirt. Under section 2.2, Rule 1, he has found a base price of $8.95 per dozen for this shirt. This base price was derived from a price list issued February 15, 1942. Moreover, the body material contained in the shirt was purchased prior to June 21, 1945. Therefore, under the instructions given above, Y will determine his adjustment for this shirt under Table I.

Y consults Table I (Column A, Part 1), and finds that he must adjust the base price by plus 1.75¢ per yard. Since Y uses 30 yards of chambray to a dozen shirts, the total amount of Y's adjustment is plus 52½¢ per dozen shirts. Adding 52½¢ to the base price of $8.95 gives $9.47½ per dozen, which is Y's ceiling price for the shirts.

Example 3. Manufacturer Z desires to determine his ceiling price for a boys' 2.50 finished drill work pants. Under section 2.3, Rule 3, he has found a formula price of $13.50 per dozen for this garment. The base price of the garment priced under section 2.2 which was used in arriving at the Rule 3 price of $13.50 was established by a price list issued March 1, 1942. Therefore, under the instructions given above, Z will determine his adjustment for this garment under Table I, Column A, Part 2.

Z consults Table I, and finds that he must adjust the formula price by minus 1½¢ per yard. Since Z's drill pants contain 26 yards of material, the total amount of Z's adjustment is minus 13¢ per dozen garments. Subtracting 13¢ from the formula price of $13.50 gives $13.37 per dozen, which is Z's ceiling price for the pants.

Appendix C—Tables of Ceiling Prices for Regular Sales at Wholesale and Sales at Retail of Garments Other Than "War Models" and "30 Yard Minimum Boys' Bib Overalls"

Instructions

1. The tables in this appendix list the maximum prices for regular sales at wholesale and sales at retail of all items of staple work clothing except "war models" (which are priced under Appendix D) and "30 yard minimum boys' bib overalls" (which are priced under Appendix E). In using these tables, a wholesaler should bear in mind the rules for pricing which are stated in section 3.2 ("Regular sales at wholesale"), and a retailer should bear in mind the rules which are stated in sections 4.1 and 4.3.

NOTE: A retailer, before using these tables, should pay close attention to Step 4 in section 4.1 and find whether the ceiling price of the particlar garment being priced must be figured under section 4.4 rather than by use of the tables.

2. Each of the tables lists wholesale and retail ceiling prices for specified types of garments only. The garments to be priced under each table are specified in the heading of each table. The coverage of each table includes both men's and boys' garments. Accordingly, you must first find which of the tables applies to the garment which you desire to price.

[Appendix heading and above paragraph amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

3. In each table, the ceiling price is given according to the "Supplier's net selling price." In finding your ceiling price, therefore, you must determine your supplier's "net selling price" for the garment which you desire to price. "Supplier's net selling price" means the net invoice cost to you, after deducting all discounts available, and shall not include transportation costs paid by you. If transportation costs are included in the amount shown on the invoice, you must deduct from the net invoice cost the amount of transportation charges to find your supplier's net selling price.

4. The ceiling prices listed in the tables apply to you when you and your supplier are both in the East and Central region, or both in the Mountain and Pacific region. If you are in one region and delivery is made from the other region, you locate in the appropriate table your ceiling price for the garment and then may add a specified amount. The amounts to be added vary by type of garment, and are listed in a footnote to each table.

"East and Central" includes all points which are in or east of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, except that points in the following counties of Texas shall not be included: Loving, Ward, Reeves, Peco, Brewster, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Culberson, Hudspeth, and El Paso.

"Mountain and Pacific" includes all points which are in or west of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, and the following counties in Texas: Loving, Ward, Reeves, Peco, Brewster, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Culberson, Hudspeth, and El Paso.

5. When you have found your supplier's "net selling price", look in Column 1 of the appropriate table for the bracket which contains this price. (Note that whether a retailer buys direct from a manufacturer or from a wholesaler, his "supplier's net selling price" is found in Column 1.) If you are a wholesaler, the figure opposite this bracket in Column 2 is your ceiling price. If you are a Group I retail seller, the figure opposite this bracket in Column 3 is your ceiling price. If you are a Group II retail seller, your ceiling price is listed opposite this bracket in Column 4 (if you bought the garment from a manufacturer) or in Column 5 (if you bought the garment from a wholesaler).

For example. Suppose your supplier's net selling price is $10.38 per dozen for boys' dungarees. Your ceiling price will be found in Table IV since all dungarees are covered by Table IV. Follow down Column 1 in Table IV until you find the bracket $10.35–$10.42+. Opposite this bracket of figures you will find your ceiling price for these dungarees. If you make sales at wholesale, your ceiling price is $12.30 per dozen. If you are a Group I retail seller, your ceiling price is $1.08 per garment. If you are a Group II retail seller and purchased the garments direct from the manufacturer, your ceiling price is $1.19 per garment; if you purchased the garments from a wholesaler, your ceiling price is $1.21 per garment.

[Instruction No. 5 amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

6. If your supplier's "net selling price" for any garment is higher than the highest price listed in Column 1 of the table which covers the garment you are pricing, your ceiling price is found as follows: (a) take one-half of the supplier's net selling price, and find your ceiling price in the appropriate table for a garment with a net selling price to you of that amount; (b) multiply the ceiling price so found by 2.

For example, suppose your supplier's net selling price is $24.22 per dozen for denim one piece work suits. Your ceiling price will be found in Table V. The highest price listed in Column 1 of Table V is $22.26. Accordingly, you will find the bracket in Column 1 containing a supplier's net selling price of ½ of $24.22, or $12.11. This bracket is $12.07–12.14+. If you make sales at wholesale, your ceiling price listed in Column 2 opposite this bracket is $14.70; multiply $14.70 by 2 to arrive at your ceiling price of $29.40 per dozen. If you are a Group I retail seller, your ceiling price is 2 times $1.41, or $2.82 per garment. If you are a Group II retail seller, your ceiling price is 2 times $1.46, or $2.92 if you bought the garments from the manufacturer; your ceiling price is 2 times $1.50, or $3.00 if you bought the garments from a wholesaler.

If your supplier's "net selling price" for any garment is lower than the lowest price listed in Column 1 of the Table which covers the garment you are pricing, your ceiling price is found as follows: (a) multiply your supplier's net selling price by 2, and find your ceiling price in the appropriate table for a garment with a net selling price to you of that amount; (b) divide ceiling price so found by 2.

7. Prices in Columns 1 and 2 are stated per dozen garments, while those in Columns 3, 4 and 5 are stated per garment. All prices are stated f. o. b. seller's place of business.

[Instructions No. 7 amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

8. Prices stated in Column 2 are net 30 days. If the wholesaler wishes, he may extend more favorable terms. But he may not change these terms if the change would result under any circumstances in a higher net price.

APPENDIX D—WAR MODELS

SEC. 6.1. Definitions—(a) What is a war model? A "war model" of staple work clothing is any garment which the manufacturer voluntarily designates as such by identifying or labeling it as required by section 6.5, and which conforms to the specifications for a first or second quality war model in section 6.6. Ceiling prices for the sale of war models, by manufacturers, at wholesale and at retail, are set forth in sections 6.2, 6.3, and 6.4.

(b) East and Central. "East and Central" refers to sales in which the seller's place of business is located in or east of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, except that the following counties of Texas shall not be included in East and Central: Loving, Ward, Reeves, Peco, Brewster, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Culberson, Hudspeth and El Paso.

(c) Mountain and Pacific. "Mountain and Pacific" refers to sales in which the seller's place of business is located in or west of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, and the following counties of Texas: Loving, Ward, Reeves, Peco, Brewster, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Culberson, Hudspeth and El Paso.

SEC. 6.2. Ceiling prices for sales at retail of war models—(a) What this section covers. This section gives the ceiling prices for "war models" of staple work clothing when sold at retail. ("Sale at retail" is defined in section 1.1 (b) (1).) A retailer should also pay particular attention to section 4.5 (Where garments are bought at a "special sale"), and to section 6.5 (Identification of war models).

(b) How to find your ceiling price. The ceiling prices stated in this section apply only if the garment you are selling is designated by the manufacturer as a "war model". If it is, you must first find the weight and finish of the material which will be shown by the label or given to you by the manufacturer, and then find the line in the table at the end of this section which gives the ceiling price for a garment of that weight and finish.

Next, you must determine if the garment is labeled with the letter "-C-". If the garment has the letter "-C-", its retail price will be found in Column C of the tables below. If the garment is not labeled with the letter "-C-", its retail price will be found in Column D of the tables below.

Finally, you must know whether you are a "Group I retail seller" or a "Group II retail seller." These terms are defined in section 4.2. If you are a Group I retail seller, your ceiling price is given in part 1 of the appropriate column of prices. If you are a "Group II retail seller," your ceiling price depends on whether you bought the garment at wholesale, or bought it from the manufacturer of the garment. If you bought it from the manufacturer, your ceiling price is given in part 2 of the appropriate column of prices. If you bought it at a "regular sale at wholesale," your ceiling price is in part 3 of the appropriate column. If you bought it at a "special sale," your ceiling is found by following section 4.5. If you are selling at retail a garment which you yourself fabricated or had fabricated for you by an agent or contractor, your ceiling price is the one shown for sales by "Group I retail sellers."

Although the manufacturer will supply you with a label containing the retail ceiling price, you must determine for yourself what price is correct in your case.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

(c) Tables of ceiling prices. All prices given in the following tables are

NOTE: The ceiling price of a war model "second" is found by taking the ceiling price of a first quality war model and deducting 10%.

[Table amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

(b) "Special sales." The definition of "special sale at wholesale" set forth in section 3.3, and the rule provided in that section for finding ceiling prices for such sales shall apply to special sales at wholesale of war models.

SEC. 6.4. Ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers of war models. The following tables give ceiling prices for sales of war models by manufacturers. ("Sale by a manufacturer" is defined in section 1.1 (b) (3).) All prices are per dozen garments, f. o. b. seller's place of business, net 30 days. Manufacturers of "war models" must also observe the special quota rule set forth in section 2.7.

The prices in the table below apply to sales by manufacturers located in the East and Central region. If the manufacturer's place of business is in the Mountain and Pacific region, he may add to the appropriate ceiling price found in the table 50¢ per dozen for bib overalls and overall jackets, and 35¢ per dozen for waistband overalls or dungarees.

Two columns of ceiling prices are listed. If the garment is made from denim material purchased by the manufacturer prior to June 21, 1945, its ceiling price is determined under Column C. If the garment is made from denim material purchased by the manufacturer on or after June 21, 1945, its ceiling price is determined under Column D.

Each column is divided into two parts. Part 1 contains ceiling prices for sales to Group I retail sellers and wholesalers. Part 2 contains ceiling prices for sales to Group II retail sellers. Also, sales by manufacturers to any person who is not a wholesaler (as defined in section 3.2) or a Group I or Group II retail seller must be made at prices listed in part 1 of the appropriate column.

SEC. 6.3. Ceiling prices for sales at wholesale of war models—(a) "Regular sales". The following tables give ceiling prices for "regular sales" at wholesale of war models. (The term "regular sale at wholesale" is defined in section 3.2). All prices are per dozen garments, f. o. b. seller's place of business, net 30 days.

The prices in the table apply to regular sales by wholesalers located in the East and Central region. If the wholesaler's place of business is in the Mountain and Pacific region, he may add to the appropriate ceiling price found in the table 50¢ per dozen for bib overalls and overall jackets, and 35¢ per dozen for waistband overalls or dungarees.

Two columns of ceiling prices are listed. If the garment has the letter "–C–" on the label attached to it, the wholesale ceiling price will be found in Column C. If it does not have the letter "–C–" on the label, its wholesale ceiling price will be found in Column D.

SEC. 6.5. Identification of war models—(a) What labeling is required. Every "war model" of staple work clothing must be marked as required by this section. This marking must be made on one or more labels or tickets which are firmly and visibly attached to the garment. A war model must never be sold at retail without the required label or ticket attached.

(b) What must be on the label. The label or ticket must contain the following information:

(1) The weight of the principal fabric, in yards per pound, or in ounces per yard, by market designation, prorated to a width basis of 28 to 29 inches.

(2) The shrinkage treatment or lack of any, as follows:

(i) If the fabric is shrunk, the word "shrunk" or "preshrunk" or any other words of like effect. These terms must be accompanied by the qualifying statements required by the Trade Practice Rules for the Shrinkage of Woven Cotton Yard Goods (7 F.R. 1593), issued by the Federal Trade Commission.

(ii) If the fabric is unshrunk, the words "unshrunk" or "allow for shrinkage."

(3) If the garment is made from denim material purchased by the manufacturer prior to June 21, 1945, the letter "–C–" must follow the description of the fabric weight. If the garment is made from denim material purchased on or after June 21, 1945, no letter shall be used.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

(4) The retail ceiling price which applies to the kind of retail sale at which the garment is to be resold. If a manufacturer does not know which retail ceiling price applies, he may request a written statement from the purchaser, and may rely on this statement unless he has reason to believe it is erroneous. Anyone who sells or offers to sell at retail must have the garment marked with the correct ceiling price for the particular transaction. The higher ceiling price for Mountain and Pacific sales may be indicated as an addition to the East and Central price (see example below).

(5) If the required information is not obscured, it may be contained in more than one label, and may be combined with other information. At the manufacturer's option, the garment may also be marked with the words "war model". Here are two examples of possible labels:

(On a bib overall to be nationally distributed through jobbers and independent retailers.)

Waist 34, Inseam 32

[Label example amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

(c) Other markings—(1) Source. Each war model of staple work clothing must be marked by the manufacturer with his name, or with the name of the wholesaler or retailer who distributes it, or with a trademark of the manufacturer or distributor which has been registered with the United States Patent Office, or with an identification number which will be assigned upon request by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(2) Quality. Any war model of work clothing which is not of first quality must be clearly marked with the word "seconds".

SEC. 6.6. Specifications for war models—(a) Effect of specifications. This section gives minimum specifications for war models. Any seller may, of course, supply as a war model a garment which more than meets the specifications (for example, having stronger thread, or larger dimensions than are required). War models are either first quality or "seconds".

(1) First quality. A first quality war model must not be defective when graded by the standards which the manufacturer followed in 1941, and must conform to the specifications in this section, except for the following tolerances:

(i) If a garment is patterned to conform to these specifications, a deviation of ¼ inch in the finished garment by reason of error in cutting or sewing will not disqualify it as a "first quality" war model.

(ii) A bib or waistband overall with a substandard front or back "rise" is still a "first" if the total of its front and back rises is equal to the total of the rises shown in the table.

(2) Seconds. A garment is a war model "second" if it was designed to conform to specifications for a first quality war model, but deviates in excess of the tolerance or is defective by the standards of grading followed by the manufacturer in 1941.

(b) Fabric standards—(1) Weight. Weight of cloth is expressed in yards per pound, by market designation, or in the corresponding number of ounces per yard, to the nearest quarter ounce. The width basis for denim is 28 to 29 inches. Any garment of heavier weight fabric may be sold at the maximum price fixed for a garment containing a lighter weight of the same fabric construction and finish. For example, an 8½-ounce sanforized overall meeting all other specifications could be sold at the price fixed for an 8-ounce shrunk overall.

(2) Shrinkage. A fabric is called "shrunk" if it has been so treated that the residual shrinkage does not exceed 2 percent. This is to be measured by the test for shrinkage of cotton fabrics described in Commercial Standards CS 59-41, issued by the National Bureau of Standards. All other fabrics are called "unshrunk".

(c) Construction standards for all men's overalls. War models of bib overalls, waistband overalls and overall jackets must be constructed with the following minimum standards:

(1) Stitches. 8 stitches per inch on hems at bottoms of pant legs. 10 stitches per inch on all other hems and joinings. 42 stitches to a bar tack.

(2) Thread. On all joinings and hems, thread not finer than 40/3 cord in needle and 50/2 cord in looper. On bar tacks, not finer than 40/3 cord.

(3) Buttons. All buttons to be metal, open top or closed top, attached with single or double prong tack.

(d) Specifications for particular men's garments (minimum requirements)—(1) Bib overalls—(i) Bar tacks or rivets. 13 if hip pockets are sewn into side seams. 15 in all other cases.

(ii) Buttons. 1 on each side opening. 2 on fly through size 38, 3 on fly for size 40 and over.

(iii) Banding. Denim on denim (but may be lighter than body material).

(iv) Bib reinforcement. Hem, banding or double-thickness corners under bib buttons.

(v) Trimmings. 2 front swing pockets, 6½" x 11½". 2 hip pockets, each having a total area of 56 sq. in. 1 or 2 bib pockets having total area of 64 sq. in. Rule pocket, 10½" x 3½", in 1 or 2 pieces. Hammer loop, 1½" x 3".

(vi) Fly. With hemmed button facing, not less than ¾" wide.

(vii) Side opening. Hemmed.

(2) Overall jackets—(i) Buttons. 4 on front. 1 on each cuff.

(ii) Trimmings. 2 patch pockets, each having area of 56 sq. in.

SEC. 7.3. Ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers of thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls. The following table gives ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers of thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls. The prices listed apply to sales in the East and Central region. If the seller's place of business is in the Mountain and Pacific region, he may add 35¢ per dozen. All prices are f. o. b. seller's place of business, net 30 days. Manufacturers of these garments must also observe the special quota rule set forth in section 2.7.

Two columns of ceiling prices are listed. If the garment is made from denim material purchased by the manufacturer prior to June 21, 1945, its ceiling price is determined under Column C. If the garment is made from denim material purchased by the manufacturer on or after June 21, 1945, its ceiling price is determined under Column D.

Part 1 contains ceiling prices for sales to Group I retail sellers and wholesalers. Part 2 contains ceiling prices for sales to Group II retail sellers. Sales by manufacturers to any person who is not a wholesaler (as defined in section 3.2) or a Group I or Group II retail seller must be made at prices listed in Part 1.

tion 1.1 (b) apply to sales of thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls.

APPENDIX E—THIRTY YARD MINIMUM BOYS' BIB OVERALLS

SEC. 7.1. Definitions—(a) What is a thirty yard minimum boys' bib overall. Any boys' bib overall which consumes an average of at least thirty yards of eight ounce shrunk denim per dozen when cut in a range of sizes from 4-16 may be designated by a manufacturer as a "thirty yard minimum boys' bib overall" and may be priced under section 7.3 of this regulation, provided that each purchaser is offered a range of sizes from 4-16 and is notified according to the requirements of section 7.4 that the overalls are being priced under Appendix E. Wholesalers and retailers receiving such notice must then price thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls under section 7.2.

(b) Definitions incorporated in this appendix. The definitions of "East and Central" and "Mountain and Pacific" contained in section 6.1, and the definitions of kinds of sales contained in sec-

This notice is sent to you as required by Appendix E of RMPR 208, which covers sales of certain boys' bib overalls. We have been allowed to price these overalls, Lot. No. — under that appendix since they conform to the prescribed yardage requirements. Whether you are a wholesaler or retailer, this notice tells you how to find your maximum prices. You must be certain to follow the method set forth below in order to comply with the law.

HOW TO COMPUTE YOUR MAXIMUM PRICES

Take the highest price you charged for a boys' bib overall, which you delivered in March, 1942, and divide that price by the net invoice cost of that garment to you. If you did not deliver any boys' overalls during March 1942 take the highest price you charged for a men's bib overall which you delivered during March 1942 and divide that price by the net invoice cost of that garment.

Multiply the percentage so obtained by the net invoice cost of the garment being priced. The resultant figure shall be the maximum price of the boys' overall being priced, but in no event shall the maximum price for a retailer be higher than $1.61 a garment in the East and Central area (refers to sales in which the seller's place of business is in a state east of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, and the following counties of Texas: Loving, Ward, Reeves, Peco, Brewster, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Culberson, Hudspeth, and El Paso) and $1.64 a garment in the Mountain and Pacific area (refers to sales in which the seller's place of business is in the states or counties previously enumerated, or farther west. The maximum price for a wholesaler shall in no case be higher than $14.88 per dozen for sales in the East and Central area, and $15.13 per dozen for sales in the Mountain and Pacific area.

"Net invoice cost" means the price on the face of the invoice less all discounts available, but adding transportation or delivery charges.

If you did not deliver any boys' or men's bib overalls during March 1942, your maximum price shall be:

Sales at wholesale:

$15.13 per dozen in the Mountain and Pacific area.

Sales at retail:

$1.61 per garment in the East and Central area.

$1.64 per garment in the Mountain and Pacific area.

[Above prices amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

The pricing method outlined above does not apply to "special sales." Sections 3.3 and 4.5 of RMPR 208 tell you how to determine ceiling prices when there is a "special sale."

Every wholesaler must furnish his retailers with the above notice either by forwarding separate printed, typewritten or mimeographed copies attached to the invoice to accompany each shipment of overalls priced under this appendix or have the notice stamped on the invoice if that is more convenient. Any manufacturer who sells either to a retailer or wholesaler is likewise obliged to furnish such a notice with each shipment.

(b) Marking of thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls—(1) Marking required at retail. On and after October 16, 1944, every person is forbidden to sell or offer to sell at retail or display in a retail store any thirty yard minimum boys' bib overall which is not marked as required by this section. The marking must contain the following elements:

(i) The manufacturer's lot number or brand name for the garment.
(ii) The retail ceiling price.
(iii) A statement of defects (if any).

(2) Marking required by manufacturers. On and after September 29, 1944, every manufacturer is forbidden to deliver a thirty yard minimum boys' bib overall unless the garment is marked with the manufacturer's lot number or brand name and a statement of defects (if any).

(3) Elements and manner of marking. The provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of section 5.1 relating to the explanation of the elements and manner of marking shall apply to the marking of thirty yard minimum boys' bib overalls.

[Paragraph (b) added by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44]

APPENDIX F—HOW GROUP I RETAIL SELLERS AND WHOLESALERS MAY COMPUTE "AVERAGE SUPPLIER'S PRICE"

A Group I retail seller or a wholesaler may, at his option, compute the "average supplier's price" for a garment as follows:

[Appendix heading and above paragraph amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 11960, effective 9-29-44]

(a) The seller should first find from his invoices or other records and information the quantities of the garment shipped to him between January 1, 1944 and June 30, 1944, and the total net costs of all the lots shipped (that is, the total net invoice costs of all the lots after deducting all discounts available and deducting any transportation costs paid by him).

(b) The seller should then divide the total of these costs by the total number of garments in all the lots. The resulting figure is the "average supplier's price" for the garment, unless the garment's body materials consist of chambray, covert, denim, whipcord, cottonade, pincheck or pinstripe. In this case, the seller should also perform the calculation indicated in (c) below.

(c) If the garment is made of chambray, covert, denim, whipcord, cottonade, pincheck or pinstripe body material, the seller may in some instances make certain additions to the figure found in (b) above. The amount of the addition is determined as follows:

(1) For garments made of chambray, covert or denim which the manufacturer has priced by using the adjustment in Table I of Appendix B, the seller may add to the figure found in (b) above the product which results from multiplying the average number of yards of material used in the garment by the number of cents for that cloth indicated in Column B of Table I in Appendix B.

(2) For garments made of chambray, covert, denim, whipcord, cottonade, pincheck or pinstripe which the manufacturer has priced by using the adjustment in Table II of Appendix B, the seller may add to the figure found in (b) above the product which results from multiplying the average number of yards of material used in the garment by the number of cents for that cloth indicated in Column B of Table II in Appendix B.

(3) If the seller purchases a garment, from one manufacturer, which would be adjusted under either subparagraphs (1) or (2) above, and purchases the identical lot number from another manufacturer which would be adjusted under a different subdivision, the seller must make separate adjustments for each garment. Accordingly, he will arrive at different average supplier's prices for each garment, with correspondingly different ceiling prices.

Section 5.2 requires that each supplier, upon request by the buyer, must furnish such information as is necessary to enable the buyer to make these calculations.

Example: X, a Group I retail seller, purchases a men's 3.60 sanforized chambray shirt from the Y Manufacturing Company at $8.50 per dozen. He also purchases the same garment from the Z Manufacturing Company at $8.62½ per dozen, and from the A Manufacturing Company at $8.75 per dozen. All of these garments bear the same lot number.

X determines his "average supplier's price" for this garment as follows:

(1) Lots of this garment shipped between Jan. 1, 1944 and June 30, 1944	(2) Net cost per dozen on each lot	(3) Total net cost
1. 120 dozen	$8.50	$1,020.00
2. 60 dozen	8.62½	517.50
3. 240 dozen	8.75	2,100.00
Total 420 dozen		3,637.50

Column (3) ÷ column (1) = $8.66 per dozen.

Adjustment of $8.66:

(1) If these are shirts which the manufacturer has priced by using the adjustment in Table I of Appendix B, the addition is figured as follows:

Average yards per dozen shirts	29
Cents per yard adjustment (from column B of Table II in Appendix B)	2¼¢
Total adjustment	65¢

Therefore, "average supplier's price" for these shirts is $9.31 per dozen ($8.66 + .65).

(2) If these are shirts which the manufacturer has priced by using the adjustment in Table II of Appendix B, the addition is figured as follows:

Average yards per dozen shirts	29
Cents per yard adjustment (from column B of Table III in Appendix B)	3⅛¢
Total adjustment	90½¢

Therefore, "average supplier's price" for these shirts is $9.56½ per dozen ($8.66 + .90½).

(3) If, for instance, some of these shirts are adjusted under (1) and others under (2), X will have different average supplier's prices for the garments ($9.31 and $9.56½) and consequently will have different ceiling prices for the shirts.

[Paragraphs (b) and (c) amended by Am. 8, effective 11-5-45]

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF THIS REGULATION

SECTION 1. Purpose of this regulation. This regulation authorizes specified price increase factors by which manufacturers of radios may increase their prices in effect between July 15, 1941 and October 15, 1941. It contains provisions under which ceiling prices for sales by all persons—manufacturers, distributors and dealers—are to be determined. This regulation is issued in accordance with Directive No. 78 issued by the Office of Economic Stabilization on August 25, 1945, since the Price Administrator has found that radios are a reconversion product under the standards set forth in § 1499.159c of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, and the issuance of this regulation will effectuate the objectives of that section as related to that product. This regulation, by provisions similar to and consistent with those authorized by § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, sets forth new methods of ceiling price determination by all sellers which will effectuate the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250, 9328, and 9599.

NOTE: Certain terms used in this regulation have special meanings which are explained in subsequent sections. Those terms are in quotation marks the first time they appear in the text.

SEC. 2. Articles covered. This regulation covers all new consumer type radio receivers and electric phonographs. This includes, among others, articles such as household, portable, and automobile receivers (including television receivers); electrically amplified phonographs, wired or wireless record players, sound recording and reproducing devices alone or in combination with a radio receiver; as well as chassis for those articles. The articles covered by this regulation are referred to as "radios".

SEC. 3. Persons and transactions covered. (a) This regulation covers all sales and deliveries of radios by any person.

(b) As used in this regulation:

(1) "Manufacturer" means the person who makes the first sale of a radio, including any person who ordinarily operates as a distributor or dealer.

(2) "Distributor" means any person who buys radios and resells them in the same form to persons other than consumers.

(3) "Dealer" means a person who buys radios and resells them in the same form to consumers.

(4) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, or any other organized group, their legal successors or representatives.

(5) "Class of purchaser" means any purchaser or group of purchasers to whom the seller had an established practice during the period July 15–October 15, 1941, inclusive, of selling the same type of article at prices different from those charged other purchasers, or groups of purchasers. A class of purchaser may be a single purchaser or a kind of purchaser (for example mail order establishments, department stores, etc.) or purchasers located in a particular area (for example, distributors in the west coast area, etc.) or purchasers who buy in particular quantities (for example dealers who buy in quantities of 5 or more) or purchasers who buy under particular conditions of sale (for example, long term credit, 2% cash discounts, etc.).

Any purchaser, kind of purchaser, or purchaser on certain terms or conditions of sale, which the trade has generally recognized as constituting a separate class of purchaser, and for sales to which the seller does not have a ceiling price established by or under this regulation is a new class of purchaser under this regulation. A manufacturer's ceiling prices for sales to a new class of purchaser must be established under section 8 of this regulation.

(6) "Special brand" means a radio of a brand not offered for sale by the manufacturer to the general trade, but manufactured for a particular mail order house, automobile manufacturer, or another radio manufacturer, and which is distributed by such sellers under their own brand names.

(7) "Special brand purchaser" means a mail order house, automobile manufacturer, or radio manufacturer who purchases a special brand radio from the manufacturer.

(8) "Mail order house" means an establishment selling at retail which makes offerings through catalogs or printed price lists, receives orders by mail and makes deliveries by mail, express or other common carrier.

An establishment which also makes retail sales in a manner other than that described above is a "mail order house" only with regard to those radios which it sells in the described manner.

SEC. 4. Revocation of certain ceiling prices. Regardless of any provision of the General Maximum Price Regulation, Revised Price Schedule No. 83, Maximum Price Regulation No. 430 and Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, or any written approval or order previously issued thereunder by the Office of Price Administration, including Order No. 4332 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, all ceiling prices established by any seller before October 30, 1945, for radios first offered for sale after October 15, 1941, are revoked as to all sales and deliveries after November 29, 1945. New ceiling prices for sales and deliveries of these radios after that date must be established in accordance with the applicable sections of this regulation.

ARTICLE II—MANUFACTURERS' CEILING PRICES

SEC. 5. Manufacturers' ceiling prices for radios sold between July 15 and October 15, 1941. Manufacturers' ceiling prices for sales to all classes of purchasers, of radios for which they have "established prices", shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(a) Price increase factors. (1) A manufacturer's ceiling prices for sales of a radio for which he has an established price to distributors, are determined as follows:

(i) The ceiling price for sales to distributors is the manufacturer's established price for sales to the particular class of distributor increased by:

(a) 15% on radios for which his established price to the class of distributor which purchases in the largest volume is less than $11.01.

(b) 12% or $1.65, whichever is greater, on radios for which his established price to the class of distributor which purchases in the largest volume is more than $11.00 but less than $30.01.

(c) 10.5% or $3.60, whichever is greater, on radios for which his established price to the class of distributor which purchases in the largest volume is more than $30.00.

(ii) The ceiling prices for sales of the radio to a dealer shall be determined by applying the manufacturer's differential established in accordance with section 8, to his ceiling prices for sales to a distributor determined as above. However, regardless of any higher price computed in this way, the manufacturer's ceiling price for a sale to a dealer may not exceed a distributor's ceiling price, as fixed by section 10 (b), for a sale of the same radio to a dealer.

(2) A manufacturer's ceiling prices for sales of a radio for which he does not have an established price for sales to distributors are determined as follows:

(b) 12% or $1.95, whichever is greater, on radios for which his established price to the class of dealer which purchases in the largest volume is more than $13.00 but less than $35.41.

(c) 10.5% or $4.25, whichever is greater, on radios for which his established price to the class of dealer which purchases in the largest volume is more than $35.40.

(ii) The ceiling price for sales of the radio to a distributor shall be determined by applying the manufacturer's differential, (as established in accordance with section 8), to the ceiling price for sales to a dealer, determined as above.

(3) No increase in a manufacturer's established price for the sale of a radio to a consumer is authorized by this section.

(4) A manufacturer's ceiling price for radios for which he does not have established prices shall be determined in accordance with the following sections of this regulation.

(b) "Established price". For the purpose of this section, "established price" means:

(1) The f. o. b. factory price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) to a particular class of purchaser of a radio which the manufacturer sold or offered for sale between July 15 and October 15, 1941, and which the manufacturer has previously reported to the Office of Price Administration on Form 183.4 in accordance with the provisions of § 1336.51 (a) of Revised Price Schedule No. 83; or

(2) The highest f. o. b. factory price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) at which the manufacturer sold the radio to a particular class of purchaser between July 15 and October 15, 1941, if he reports that price to the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., together with copies of sales invoices or other evidence showing sales at that price. However, that price may not be used as the established price until the Office of Price Administration has acknowledged in writing the receipt of the report.

(c) Balanced production. Orders may be issued under this section denying a manufacturer permission to adjust his established prices by all or part of the increases authorized by this regulation when it appears that the manufacturer has discontinued or will discontinue production of his low-priced models or has decreased or will decrease the proportion of low-priced to high-priced models which he manufactures, so that his present or prospective production is not representative of his sales during the period July 15 to October 15, 1941. The average price at which the manufacturer's radios will be sold, will be considered in determining how much, if any, of the increases will be granted to such a manufacturer.

SEC. 6. Manufacturers' ceiling prices for new model radios; comparable method—(a) Calculation of prices. A manufacturer shall calculate his ceiling price for a new model radio, which is "comparable" to a radio for which he has a ceiling price under section 5, 7, 8 or 18 of this regulation as follows:

Step 1: He finds his current "unit direct costs" of the comparable radio for which he has a ceiling price under section 5, 7, 8 or 18 of this regulation and for the new model radio which is being priced.

If the current unit direct cost of the new model does not vary by more than 3% from the current unit direct cost of the comparable radio, the ceiling price of the new model is the same as the ceiling price of the comparable radio. In such a case the manufacturer should file the report required by paragraph (c) of this section, but need not complete the next two steps. If the current unit direct cost of the new model does vary from the current unit direct cost of the comparable radio by more than 3%, the ceiling price of the new model shall be determined in accordance with the next two steps.

Step 2: He finds his mark-up factor by dividing the unit direct cost of the comparable radio into its f. o. b. factory ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) to the class of purchaser which normally accounts for the largest volume of his sales.

Step 3. He multiplies the unit direct cost of the radio being priced by that mark-up factor. The result is the f. o. b. factory ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) to the same class of purchaser.

(b) Meaning of terms. For the purpose of this regulation:

(1) "Comparable" radio means the one which is of the same type as the radio being priced (for example, plastic cabinet table model, wood cabinet table model, table model combination radio phonograph, personal portable, other portable, console, console combination, auto radio, etc.), which is closest to it in basic features (for example, short wave band, push button tuning, etc.), and which is closest to it in unit direct cost. In addition, a comparable radio must be one which was regularly sold under the same brand name as the radio being priced. A radio for which the manufacturer has determined his ceiling price under this section is not a comparable radio for pricing another new model under this section.

(2) "Unit direct cost" of the comparable radio and of the radio being priced is the cost per unit of direct labor and materials, on the basis of the following wage rates, material prices and operating conditions:

(i) Wage rates. The wage rates applicable to any radio shall be the straight time wage rates for each class of labor involved in the production of the radio prevailing in the manufacturer's plant at the time the report required by this section is filed. However, no wage or salary adjustment instituted under the authority of section 1 of Title IV of Executive Order 9599 may be included in labor costs if such adjustments have not been the same for all types of labor and the proportion between the various types of labor used in the new model radio varies substantially from that in the comparable radio.

(ii) Material prices. The prices of materials used in the comparable radio and the radio being priced shall be the current replacement costs at the time the report required by this section is filed, but not in excess of legal ceiling prices. If the same materials are secured from different sources at different costs, the average prices paid shall be used. Material prices must be based on purchases in comparable quantities from the same or corresponding classes of suppliers for both the comparable radio and the radio being priced.

If a manufacturer fabricates a part of either the comparable radio or of the new model radio he may report its current intra-company or inter-company billing or transfer price as a direct material cost if he similarly reports it for the other model used in his computations.

(iii) Operating conditions. Using the wage rates and materials prices determined under (i) and (ii), the manufacturer shall compute the cost using the same labor efficiency and the same volume of production for the comparable radio as for the radio being priced.

(c) Reporting and waiting provisions. (1) If a manufacturer uses this section to find his ceiling price, he may not without special authorization, sell, offer to sell, or deliver the radio until his ceiling price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. To receive that approval, a manufacturer must comply with the reporting and waiting provisions which are stated below.

(2) The manufacturer must report the price which he has arrived at under this section on OPA Form 6069–2618 provided for that purpose, giving all the information called for by that form. These forms may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and his report must be filed there. With the form he must include an illustration and specifications of both the new and comparable model. If he receives a written acknowledgment and approval of his report, he may then proceed to sell the radio at the reported price. Fifteen days after the day on which he mailed the report or any additional information requested by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer may treat his reported price as his ceiling price, provided: (i) He has not been notified that his reported price has been disapproved; and (ii) he has reported the correct ceiling price of the comparable radio used in the computation, and (iii) he has used reasonable care and good faith in selecting and reporting the comparable model used in his computation, and (iv) he has used reasonable care and good faith in arriving at and reporting all unit direct costs computed and reported in accordance with the provisions of this section. If the manufacturer has not met all of these conditions, a sale at the reported price, if it is higher than the correctly determined price, is in violation of this regulation, even though the manufacturer did not hear from the Office of Price Administration within 15 days or even though his reported price was approved.

(d) Revision of certain prices reported or fixed under this section. Any price reported or fixed under this section may, at any time, be disapproved or revised downward by an order under this section so as to bring it into line with the general level of ceiling prices otherwise established by this regulation.

Such a price may be revised upward, so as to bring it into line with the general level of ceiling prices otherwise established by this regulation, by an order under this section if it appears that the ceiling price is below the general level of ceiling prices otherwise established by this regulation and results in undue hardship, caused only by the operation of the pricing method, and not because the manufacturer is subject to financial hardship with respect to the production and sale of the comparable radios.

SEC. 7. Manufacturers' ceiling prices for new model radios; in line method. If a manufacturer cannot determine his ceiling prices for a particular sale under section 5, 6, or 8 because he is a new manufacturer or does not have a comparable radio or for any other reason, his ceiling price is the price specifically authorized by an order of the Office of Price Administration. Orders will be issued under this section establishing ceiling prices or a method of determining ceiling prices which will be in line with the level of ceiling prices fixed by this regulation. Applications for the establishment of such prices must be made to the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. A manufacturer may not sell or deliver a radio for which a price must be fixed under this section prior to specific authorization by the Office of Price Administration.

Manufacturers' applications for ceiling prices under this section should also be made on OPA Form No. 6069–2618. All information called for by that form regarding the new model and its specifications should be given, and an illustration of the new model should accompany the application. The manufacturer should also state why he cannot use any other section of this regulation to find his ceiling price in the particular case.

SEC. 8. Manufacturers' ceiling prices for sales to different classes of purchasers. A manufacturer who has a ceiling price for sales of a radio to one class of purchaser, shall determine his ceiling prices for sales to other classes of purchasers by applying the differentials which he had in effect between July 15, 1941, and October 15, 1941. However, regardless of any higher price computed in this way, a manufacturer's ceiling price for sales to ultimate consumers may not exceed the retail ceiling price calculated under section 9; nor may his ceiling price to a dealer exceed a distributor's ceiling price to a dealer fixed by section 10 (b).

If the manufacturer had no established practice of making sales during the period July 15–October 15, 1941, to a particular class of purchaser, he shall apply for the establishment of ceiling prices or a method of determining his ceiling prices for sales to that new class of purchaser. The application shall be made by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and shall indicate the classes of purchasers for sales to whom prices are to be fixed. In addition, the application shall set forth the manufacturer's proposed ceiling prices for those sales. An order will be issued under this section establishing ceiling prices or a method of determining ceiling prices in line with the level of ceiling prices fixed by this regulation.

ARTICLE III—DISTRIBUTORS' AND DEALERS' CEILING PRICES

SEC. 9. Dealers' ceiling prices for radios other than "special brand" radios. Every manufacturer is required to calculate the retail ceiling prices of all radios, except "special brand" radios, which he sells to distributors or dealers, in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(a) The retail ceiling price in "Zone I" for a radio for which the manufacturer has a ceiling price to distributors is the total of the following, adjusted upward to the nearest five cents:

(1) His "ceiling price" to that class of distributor to which he sells radios in the largest dollar volume.

(2) The applicable amount of the following:

74% of that ceiling price if it is less than $11.01.

86% of that ceiling price if it is more than $11.00 but less than $30.01.

105% of that ceiling price if it is more than $30.00.

(3) The amount of the Federal excise tax paid on the sale to that class of distributor.

(b) The retail ceiling price in Zone I for a radio for which the manufacturer does not have a ceiling price to distributors is the total of the following, adjusted upward to the nearest five cents:

(1) His ceiling price to that class of dealer to which he sells radios in the largest dollar volume.

(2) The applicable amount of the following:

49% of that ceiling price if it is less than $13.01.

62% of that ceiling price if it is more than $13.00 but less than $35.41.

70% of that ceiling price if it is more than $35.40 but less than $150.01.

90% of that ceiling price if it is more than $150.00.

(3) The amount of the Federal excise tax paid on sales to that class of dealer.

(c) The retail ceiling price for sales of a radio in "Zone II" is the retail ceiling price in Zone I increased by 5% and adjusted to the nearest five cents.

(d) For the purpose of this section:

(1) A manufacturer's "ceiling price" is his f. o. b. factory ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) as established under sections 5, 6, 7, 8, or 18 of this regulation, or his adjusted f. o. b. factory ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) as authorized under Supplementary Orders Nos. 118 or 119, unless the Office of Price Administration specifically prohibits the use of such an adjusted price as a basis for determining retail ceiling prices under this section.

(2) "Zone I" is that area of the following two in which the radio is manufactured. The other area is "Zone II".

(i) One area consists of the states of Arizona, New Mexico, California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and the following counties in Texas: El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Brewster, Terrell, Pecos and Reeves.

(ii) The other area consists of the remaining counties of Texas, all the other states in the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 10. Distributors' ceiling prices for radios other than special brand radios. Every manufacturer is required to calculate distributors ceiling prices to dealers of all radios of his manufacture (except special brand radios), in accordance with the provisions of this section, and to notify distributors of their ceiling prices.

(a) A distributor's ceiling price, to that class of dealer to whom he sells radios in the largest dollar volume, for a radio for which the manufacturer has calculated the retail ceiling prices in accordance with section 9, above, is calculated as follows:

(1) Find the retail ceiling price for sales in the same zone as that in which the distributor's point of shipment is located.

(2) Deduct from that price the amount of the Federal excise tax included in it.

(3) Deduct from the remainder the applicable discount of the following:

(i) 31% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is less than $22.01.

(ii) 34% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is more than $22.00 but less than $55.81.

(iii) 38% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is more than $55.80.

(4) To the figure resulting from the above computations, add the amount of Federal excise tax originally deducted.

(5) The result is the distributor's ceiling price for sales to that class of dealer to whom he sells in the largest dollar volume.

(b) A distributor's ceiling price for the sale of a radio to a class of dealer other than the one to which he sells in the largest dollar volume shall reflect the distributor's customary differentials for sales to different classes of purchasers. However, in no case may a distributor's price to a dealer reflect less than the following discounts from the retail ceiling price (exclusive of Federal excise tax) of the radio.

28.5% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is less than $22.01.

31.5% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is more than $22.00 but less than $55.81.

35% when that retail ceiling price in Zone I is more than $55.80.

SEC. 11. Resale ceiling prices for special brand radios. Every "special brand purchaser", is required to apply for the establishment of ceiling prices in accordance with the provisions of this section. In addition, special brand purchasers who offered special brand radios for sale during the period July 15–October 15, 1941, and who apply for the establishment of ceiling prices for special brand radios are required to file the report described in paragraph (b) of this section.

(a) Applications for resale prices to be filed by all special brand purchasers. The ceiling price for sales to each class of purchaser, by any person other than the manufacturer, of a special brand radio is the price specifically authorized for such sale by the Office of Price Administration. Such a ceiling price will be established by an order under this section, in line with the level of ceiling prices fixed by this regulation. Applications for the establishment of such prices must be made in writing to the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., by the special brand purchaser. No person may sell, offer to sell or deliver a radio for which a ceiling price must be established under this section prior to the establishment of a ceiling price for his sale, or other specific authorization issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(1) Applications under this section must contain the following information with regard to the radio being priced:

(i) The manufacturer's name and address.

(ii) The manufacturer's model designation or other identification.

(iii) The date on which the manufacturer established his ceiling price for sales to the special brand purchaser.

(iv) Its net cost showing Federal excise tax separately, (indicating whether f. o. b. factory or "landed").

(v) The applicant's model designation, brand name and other identification.

(vi) Proposed ceiling prices for the applicant's sales to each class of purchaser.

(vii) Proposed resale ceiling prices, if applicant will sell to purchasers for resale.

(2) The model designation, brand name, and other identification of the applicant's most comparable special brand radio which he offered for sale during the period July 15–October 15, 1941, if any.

(3) The special brand purchaser's type of business (mail order house, automobile manufacturer, or radio manufacturer).

(b) Reports to be filed by certain special brand purchasers. Every special brand purchaser who offered special brand radios for sale during the period July 15–October 15, 1941, shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., prior to or at the time of his first application for ceiling prices under this section.

That report may be made by letter and shall give the following information:

(1) The special brand purchaser's name and address.

(2) The special brand purchaser's type of business (mail order house, automobile manufacturer, or radio manufacturer).

(3) A list of all radios offered for sale by the special brand purchaser during the period July 15–October 15, 1941, together with the following information for each radio:

(i) A detailed description including type of cabinet, over-all dimensions, shipping weight, number of tubes, number of tuning bands, and all other major specifications.

(ii) A photograph or other illustration.

(iii) Its highest net cost showing Federal excise tax separately (indicating whether f. o. b. factory or "landed").

(iv) Total number sold.

(v) Name and address of supplier.

(vi) The special brand purchaser's highest offering or selling price in effect during the period July 15–October 15, 1941, for sales to each class of purchaser.

(vii) If the special brand purchaser is a radio manufacturer or automobile manufacturer, the resale prices, if any, which he suggested for sales by distributors and dealers, together with a statement as to whether or not those resale prices were generally charged.

SEC. 12. Credit charges on dealer sales. Charges for the extension of credit may be added to the retail ceiling prices established by this regulation, or by any order issued under this regulation unless such order provides otherwise. No such credit charge may exceed that permitted by this section.

(a) Dealers who in March 1942 collected a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit on sales of radios, may collect a charge for the extension of credit on sales under this regulation, not exceeding such charge in March 1942 on a similar sale on similar terms to the same class of purchaser. Dealers who did not then so state and collect an additional charge, may collect a charge for the extension of credit only on installment plan sales; and the charge shall not exceed the separately stated additional charge collected for the extension of credit on a similar sale on similar terms to the same class of purchaser in March 1942 by the dealer's closest competitor who made such a separately stated charge.

An installment plan sale as used in the above paragraph means a sale where the unpaid balance is to be paid in installments over a period of either (1) six weeks or more from the date of sale in the case of weekly installments, or (2) eight weeks or more in the case of other than weekly installments.

(b) All charges for the extension of credit shall be quoted and stated separately. Any charge which is not quoted and stated separately or which otherwise does not conform to this section, shall for the purpose of this regulation, be considered to be part of the price charged for the article sold.

(c) No dealer may require as a condition of sale that the purchaser must buy on credit.

ARTICLE IV—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 13. Retail price tags. (a) On and after November 14, 1945, no person who is required to compute or apply for the establishment of the retail ceiling price for a radio may ship such a radio unless there is attached to it a retail ceiling price tag or label. That tag or label shall state the manufacturer's name or the brand name; the model designation of the radio; the retail ceiling price (inclusive of Federal excise tax) for sales in each zone or for sales in the zone in which the radio will be sold to consumers; the states in each zone for which a retail ceiling price is shown; and that it may not be removed until after the radio is delivered to a consumer.

(b) On and after November 29, 1945, no person, except a mail order house, may display, offer for sale, sell or deliver at retail any radio covered by this regulation unless there is attached to it a retail ceiling price tag or label containing all the information required by the preceding paragraph.

SEC. 14. Sales invoices and records. (a) Every manufacturer, distributor, and dealer who sells a radio after October 30, 1945, shall furnish every purchaser with an invoice showing the date of sale, the name and address of both the buyer and seller, the model number of each radio sold, the price charged, the quantity of each model sold, the terms of sale, and the nature and amount of any additional charges.

(b) Every seller must retain the following records:

(1) A copy of each report or pricing application which he prepares and files in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

(2) A copy of all communications to or from the Office of Price Administration or a supplier regarding prices, terms and conditions of sale of radios covered by this regulation.

(3) A copy of each sales invoice.

(4) A copy of each purchase invoice of a purchaser for resale.

These records shall be kept available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

SEC. 15. Discounts, allowances, terms, conditions of sale. The ceiling prices established under this regulation are subject to each seller's customary delivery terms, installation charges, conditions of sale, terms, discounts, and other price differentials in effect between July 15, and October 15, 1941, or thereafter properly established under OPA regulations.

SEC. 16. Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a distributor each seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the maximum resale prices and conditions established by this regulation.

SEC. 17. Reports, catalogs and price lists. (a) Every manufacturer or special brand purchaser of radios covered by this regulation must notify the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., whenever he changes the model designation of any radio in his line. This report may be made by letter and shall give the new and the old model designation. This report shall be mailed within 5 days after the change has been made.

(b) Every manufacturer must file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., a copy of every catalog and price list for radios, issued by him on and after July 1, 1945. In addition, every manufacturer must file a copy of every notification he issues to the trade after the effective date of this regulation concerning new prices, changes in prices, or changes in terms, discounts or allowances. Copies of these notifications must be filed within ten days after they have been issued to the trade.

SEC. 18. Establishment of ceiling prices in certain cases. If a person is required by this regulation to file a report under sections 6 or 10, or to apply for the establishment of a ceiling price under sections 7, 8, or 10, or to calculate a ceiling price and fails to do so, or he fails to provide any of the information required by this regulation, the Office of Price Administration may, on its own motion, issue orders under this section fixing ceiling prices in line with the level of ceiling prices established by this regulation. Ceiling prices so established will apply to all sales and deliveries made on and after the effective date of this regulation.

SEC. 19. Relation of this regulation to other price regulations. (a) The provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 and the General Maximum Price Regulation do not apply to sales and deliveries covered by this regulation; except that the provisions of § 1499.5 (Transfers of business or stock in trade) of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall continue to be applicable to sales by manufacturers, distributors, and dealers, and all records which sellers were required to keep under those regulations must be retained and made available by them for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect.

(b) The ceiling price at which any person may export any article covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation. Sales by the United States are governed by Supplementary Order No. 94.

SEC. 20. Compliance with the regulation—(a) No buying or selling at over ceiling prices. Prices established by this regulation are ceiling prices. Prices lower than ceiling prices may be charged and collected at any time. However, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell, offer to sell, or deliver, and in the course of trade or business, no person shall purchase or accept delivery of a radio at a price higher than the ceiling price fixed by this regulation or before the manufacturer has properly determined his ceiling price under this regulation.

If, in violation of this provision, a sale, offer to sell, or delivery of a radio is made before its ceiling price has been properly established in accordance with this regulation, the ceiling price applicable to the sale, offer to sell or delivery shall be the correct ceiling price for the radio, properly determined in accordance with this regulation.

(b) Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(c) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(d) Certain practices forbidden. It shall be a violation of this regulation to charge a price above the applicable maximum price in connection with any sale of a radio, either alone or in conjunction with any other consideration even though the price increase appears only indirectly.

The following is illustrative of the things a seller is not permitted to do. A seller is not permitted to require the purchaser, as a condition of the sale or transfer of a radio, to make payment over a period of time; to require him to finance the purchase through any particular lending agency; to require him to purchase any equipment, accessories, repairs, parts, or services so as to increase the total compensation above the radio's ceiling price; to require him to purchase any other commodity or service; or to require him to make payment in whole or in part by exchanging, transferring, or trading in any other radio, product or commodity. Where there is an exchange transfer or trade-in in connection with a sale, it is a violation for the seller to give the purchaser an allowance for the radio, product or commodity exchanged, transferred, or traded in, which is less than its reasonable value.

SEC. 21. Modification of provisions of this regulation. The provisions of this regulation as applied to articles or persons subject thereto, may be modified by orders of general applicability issued under this section.

SEC. 22. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable in the forty-eight states and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective October 30, 1945.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 30th day of October 1945.

The maximum prices set forth above include all brokerage charges and commissions paid to any person. These prices are based on an ocean freight rate from India to U. S. port of discharge of $25.00 per 40 cubic feet or $25.00 per 16 cwt., a charge of ½ of 1% for war risk insurance and a charge of 1% for marine insurance, and must be adjusted downward to reflect any downward change in these rates. Charges actually paid for war risk insurance or marine insurance or for ocean freight in excess of the amounts specified above may be added to the maximum prices set forth: Provided, That in no event may such charges be added for war risk or marine insurance based upon an insured valuation in excess of (1) the maximum price specified for such burlap, plus (2) the premium for war risk or marine insurance at the applicable rate, computed upon a valuation equivalent to such specified maximum price for such burlap: Provided further, That if any such excess war risk or marine insurance or ocean freight charges are added to the applicable maximum price, an invoice or similar document shall be delivered to the purchaser showing the amount of such charges.

The maximum prices set forth above do not apply to burlap sold in quantities of less than one bale.

The maximum price for re-sewn burlap which contains more than one of the above constructions shall be the maximum price for the construction contained therein which has the lowest established maximum price.

(b) Sales by an agency of the United States Government. The maximum prices at which an agency of the United States Government may sell and deliver burlap of the constructions described in paragraph (a), above, shall be the prices specified in the table therein except that such prices shall be ex dock, purchaser's normal port of entry. If the burlap is supplied to the purchaser from a point other than the purchaser's normal port of entry, or at the purchaser's normal port of entry in a less-than-carload quantity, an adjustment shall be made in the price charged so that the total of the price charged for the burlap plus the applicable rail freight (exclusive of the federal tax on transportation) from such point to the city or town in which the purchaser's point is located does not exceed the sum of the applicable price specified in the table contained in paragraph (a) plus rail freight at the carload import rate (exclusive of the federal tax on transportation) chargeable for an identical shipment from the purchaser's normal port of entry to the city or town in which the purchaser's plant is located.

The term "purchaser's normal port of entry" means the burlap port of entry having the lowest carload import rail rate to the city or town in which the purchaser's plant is located.

This amendment shall become effective October 30, 1945.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

The landlord shall file a report of such accommodations on the form provided therefor, between April 1, 1945 and May 31, 1945, inclusive.

Such authority may be secured only by a written request of the tenant to the area rent office and shall be granted by order of the Administrator if he finds that such payments in excess of the maximum rent will not be inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof. After entry of such order the landlord shall be authorized to demand, receive and retain payments provided by the lease in excess of the maximum rent for periods commencing on or after the effective date of regulation. After entry of such order, the provisions of the lease may be enforced in accordance with law, notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation: Provided, however, That if at the termination of the lease the tenant shall not exercise the option to buy, the landlord may thereafter remove or evict the tenant only in accordance with the provisions of section 6 of this regulation. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to authorize the landlord to demand or receive payments in excess of the maximum rent in the absence of an order of the Administrator as herein provided. Where a lease of housing accommodations has been entered into on or after the effective date of regulation (or on or after October 20, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date), and the tenant as a part of such lease or in connection therewith has been granted an option to buy the housing accommodations which are the subject of the lease, the landlord, prior to the exercise by the tenant of the option to buy, shall not demand or receive payments in excess of the maximum rent, whether or not such lease allocates some portion or portions of the periodic payments therein provided as payments on or for the option to buy.

(d) Security deposits—(1) General prohibition. Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person on or after September 1, 1944 shall demand or receive a security deposit for or in connection with the use or occupancy of housing accommodations within the Defense-Rental Area or retain any security deposit received prior to or on or after September 1, 1944 except as provided in this paragraph (d). The term "security deposit," in addition to its customary meaning, includes any prepayment of rent except payment in advance of the next periodic installment of rent for a period no longer than one month but shall not include rent voluntarily prepaid subsequent to possession by a tenant under a written lease for his own convenience.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 67, 10 F.R. 11666, effective 9–15–45]

(2) Maximum rent established under section 4 (a) or (b). Where the maximum rent of the housing accommodations is or initially was established under section 4 (a) or (b), no security deposit shall be demanded, received, or retained except in the amount (or any lesser amount) and on the same terms and conditions (or on terms and conditions less burdensome to the tenant) provided for in the lease or other rental agreement in effect on the date determining the maximum rent established under section 4 (a) or (b).

(3) Maximum rent established under section 4 (c) or (d). Where the maximum rent of the housing accommodations is or initially was established under section 4 (c) or (d) no security deposit shall be demanded, received, or retained except in the amount (or any lesser amount) and on the same terms and conditions (or on terms and conditions less burdensome to the tenant) provided for in the lease or other rental agreement under which the accommodations were first rented or in any order heretofore or hereafter issued with reference to such security deposit. Where such lease or other rental agreement provided for a security deposit, the Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease in the amount of such deposit or may order its elimination.

(4) Maximum rent established under section 4 (e) or (j). Where the maximum rent of the housing accommodations is or initially was established under section 4 (e) or (j), no security deposit shall be demanded or received.

(5) Maximum rent established under section 4 (f). Where the maximum rent of the housing accommodations is or initially was established under section 4 (f), no security deposit shall be demanded, received, or retained.

(6) Maximum rent established under section 4 (g) or (h). Where the maximum rent of the housing accommodations is or initially was established under section 4 (g) or (h), no security deposit shall be demanded or received, except in the amount (or any lesser amount) and on the same terms and conditions (or on terms and conditions less burdensome to the tenant) provided for in the lease or other rental agreement in effect on September 1, 1944. Where such accommodations are first rented after September 1, 1944, no security deposit shall be demanded, received, or retained.

(7) Deposits to secure the return of certain movable articles. Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this paragraph (d), any landlord may petition for an order authorizing the demand and receipt of a deposit to secure the return of movable articles. If the landlord shows that he has a special need therefor, the Administrator may enter an order authorizing a security deposit, not in excess of ten dollars, to secure the return of the movable articles specified in the order.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 33, 9 F.R. 10633, effective 9–1–44 and amended by Am. 37, 9 F.R. 12414, effective 10–12–44]

SEC. 5. Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required.

In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services, an increase or decrease in the number of subtenants or other occupants, or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on the maximum rent date, the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change: Provided, however, That no adjustment shall be ordered where it appears that the rent on the date determining the maximum rent was fixed in contemplation of and so as to reflect such change.

In all other cases except those under paragraphs (a) (7), (a) (12), (a) (13), (c) (6), and (c) (9) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date: Provided, That in cases under paragraphs (a) (6) and (c) (5) of this section the adjustment may be on the basis of the rental agreement in force on the date determining the maximum rent: And provided further, That in cases under paragraph (c) (8) of this section due consideration shall be given to any increased occupancy of the accommodations since that date by subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant.

In cases involving construction, due consideration shall be given to general increases in costs of construction, if any, in the defense-rental area since the maximum rent date.

In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on the maximum rent date.

[Above paragraphs amended by Am. 20, 9 F.R. 3422, effective 3-29-44]

In cases under paragraph (a) (12) of this section, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be in the amount the Administrator finds necessary to relieve the substantial hardship: Provided, That the adjustment shall not result in a maximum rent higher than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

In cases under paragraph (c) (9) of this section, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be in the amount the Administrator finds warranted by the modification or elimination of the necessity for the increase in the maximum rent granted under paragraph (a) (12) of this section: Provided, That no decrease shall be ordered in an amount greater than the adjustment ordered under paragraph (a) (12) of this section.

[Above paragraphs added by Am. 32, 9 F.R. 10188, effective 9-1-44]

In cases under paragraph (a) (13) of this section the adjustment shall be in the amount of the difference between the rent on the date determining the maximum rent and the rent agreed upon by the landlord and tenant as a result of a continuous process of bargaining on interrelated matters.

[Above paragraph added by Am. 34, 9 F.R. 11335, effective 9-13-44]

(a) Grounds for increase of maximum rent. Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) Major capital improvement after effective date. There has been on or after the effective date of regulation a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) Change prior to maximum rent date. There was, on or prior to the maximum rent date, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance or a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, and the rent on the maximum rent date was fixed by a lease or other rental agreement which was in force at the time of such change or increase.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 34, 9 F.R. 11335, effective 9-13-44]

(3) Substantial increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment. There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent. No increase in the maximum rent shall be ordered on the ground set forth in this paragraph (a) (3) unless the increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment occurred with the consent of the tenant or while the accommodations were vacant: Provided, That an adjustment may be ordered, although the tenant refuses to consent to the increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, if the Administrator finds that such increase (i) is reasonably required for the operation of a multiple dwelling structure or other structure of which the accommodations are a part or (ii) is necessary for the preservation or maintenance of the accommodations.

(4) Special relationship between landlord and tenant. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date: Provided, That no adjustment under this subparagraph increasing the maximum rent shall be made effective with respect to any accommodations regularly rented to employees of the landlord while the accommodations are rented to an employee, and no petition for such an adjustment will be entertained until the accommodations have been or are about to be rented to one other than an employee.

(5) Lease for term commencing one year or more before maximum rent date. There was in force on the maximum rent date, a written lease, for a term commencing on or prior to the date one year before the maximum rent date, requiring a rent lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date; or the housing accommodations were not rented on the maximum rent date, but were rented during the two months ending on that date and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, for a term commencing on or prior to the date one year before the maximum rent date, requiring a rent lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

(6) Varying rents. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

[Subparagraphs (5) and (6) amended by Am. 67, 10 F.R. 11666, effective 9-15-45]

(7) Seasonal rents. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand, or seasonal variations in the rent, for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(8) Substantial increase in occupancy. There has been, since the maximum rent date, either (i) a substantial increase in the number of subtenants or other persons occupying the accommodations or a part thereof under a rental agreement with the tenant, or (ii) a substantial increase in the number of occupants, in excess of normal occupancy for that class of accommodations on the maximum rent date, or (iii) an increase in the number of occupants over the number contemplated by the rental agreement on the date determining the maximum rent, where the landlord on that date had a regular and definite practice of fixing different rents for the accommodations for different numbers of occupants.

(9) On the date determining the maximum rent the housing accommodations were temporarily exempt from real estate taxes, the landlord was passing the benefit of this tax exemption on to the tenant, and as a result the rent on that date was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

[Subparagraph (9) added by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 12660, effective 9-15-43]

(10) Priority rating granted on September 1941 application form of Office of Production Management. The maximum rent for the housing accommodations is established under section 4 (f), the application for priority rating for the construction of the housing accommodations was filed on the September 1941 form in use by the Office of Production Management prior to the revision of this form on December 15, 1941, the landlord did not make, prior to the maximum rent date or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, prior to the first renting of the accommodations after that date, a written request to the appropriate agency of the United States to approve a higher rent than the rent initially approved because of increased costs of construction, and the maximum rent for the accommodations is substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable accommodations on the maximum rent date, giving due consideration to general

[1] The first paragraph of section 5 (e) reads as follows: "Where, at the expiration or other termination of an underlying lease or other rental agreement, housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the landlord may rent the entire premises for use by similar occupancy for a rent not in excess of the aggregate maximum rents of the separate dwelling units, or may rent the separate dwelling units for rents not in excess of the maximum rents applicable to such units."

increases in costs of construction, if any, in the defense-rental area since the maximum rent date.

This paragraph (a) (10) shall apply only to housing accommodations which were first rented prior to March 29, 1944.

[Subparagraph (10) added by Am. 20, 9 F.R. 3422, effective 3-29-44; and amended by Am. 21, 9 F.R. 4028, effective 4-15-44]

(11) Peculiar circumstances. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by peculiar circumstances and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

[Subparagraph (11) added by Am. 29, 9 F.R. 8054, effective 7-17-44]

(12) Substantial hardship from increase in property taxes or operating costs. Substantial hardship has resulted from a substantial decrease in the net income (before interest) of the property for the current year as compared with a representative period prior to the maximum rent date, due to a substantial and unavoidable increase in property taxes or operating costs.

For the purposes of this paragraph (a) (12) the term:

(i) "Net income (before interest)" means the amount determined by subtracting unavoidable property taxes and operating costs actually paid or accrued from total income earned.

(ii) "Property taxes and operating costs" includes all expenses necessary to the operation and maintenance of the property actually paid or accrued and properly allocated, including depreciation but excluding interest.

(iii) "Property" includes one or more structures operated as a single unit or enterprise.

(iv) "Total income earned" includes rental and other income earned from the property and the rental value of housing accommodations in the property occupied without the full payment of rent.

(v) "Current year" means the most recent calendar or fiscal year used by the landlord or the twelve calendar months immediately prior to the filing of the petition for adjustment; Provided, That it shall begin on or after the maximum rent date: And provided, further, That it shall be the twelve calendar months immediately prior to the filing of the petition where the most recent calendar or fiscal year would begin prior to the effective date of regulation.

This section 5 (a) (12) shall not apply to maximum rents established under section 4 (f) where the accommodations are first rented after the maximum rent date or to maximum rents established under section 4 (c), (d), (e), or (j).

[Subparagraph (12) added by Am. 32, 9 F.R. 10188, effective 9-1-44; amended by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 2401, effective 3-1-45]

(13) Rented to an employee of landlord. The housing accommodations were rented to an employee of the landlord both on the date determining the maximum rent and at the time the order under this paragraph (a) (13) is issued, and after the date determining the maximum rent but prior to the effective date of regulation the landlord and tenant agreed, as the result of a continuous process of bargaining on interrelated matters, upon a wage increase and a rent increase, and the wage increase agreed upon has been put into effect.

[Subparagraph (13) added by Am. 34, 9 F.R. 11335, effective 9-13-44]

(b) Decreases in minimum services, furniture, furnishings and equipment—(1) Decreases prior to effective date. If, on the effective date of regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than the minimum services required by section 3, the landlord shall either restore and maintain such minimum services or, within 30 days (or, for housing accommodations within the Los Angeles Defense-Rental Area, within 60 days) after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. If, on such effective date (or on December 1, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date), the furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with housing accommodations are less than the minimum required by section 3, the landlord shall, within 30 days after such date, file a written report showing the decrease in furniture, furnishings or equipment.

(2) Decreases after effective date. Except as above provided, the landlord shall, until the accommodations become vacant, maintain the minimum services, furniture, furnishings, and equipment unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease the services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment he shall file a petition within 10 days after the change occurs. When the accommodations become vacant the landlord may, on renting to a new tenant, decrease the services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment below the minimum; within 10 days after so renting the landlord shall file a written report showing such decrease.

(3) Adjustment in maximum rent for decreases. The order on any petition under this paragraph (b) may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent; and any maximum rent for which a report is required by this paragraph (b) may be decreased in accordance with the provisions of section 5 (c) (3).

If the landlord fails to file the petition or report required by this paragraph (b) within the time specified, or decreases the services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment, without an order authorizing such decrease where such order is required, the rent received by the landlord for any rental period commencing on or after such decrease or the effective date of regulation (or December 1, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date), whichever is the later, shall be received subject to refund to the tenant of any amount in excess of the maximum rent which may later be fixed by any order decreasing the maximum rent on account of such decrease in services, furniture, furnishings, or equipment. Such amount shall be refunded to the tenant within 30 days after the date of issuance of the order. If the Administrator finds that the landlord was not at fault in failing to comply with this paragraph (b), the order may relieve the landlord of the duty to refund. The foregoing provisions and any refund thereunder do not affect any civil or criminal liability provided by the Act for failure to comply with any requirement of this paragraph (b).

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 2401, effective 3-1-45]

(c) Grounds for decrease of maximum rent. The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable only on the grounds that:

(1) Rent higher than rents generally prevailing. The maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraph (c), (d), (e), (g), or (j) of section 4 is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 9020, effective 7-1-43]

(2) Substantial deterioration. There has been a substantial deterioration of the housing accommodations other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) Decrease in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment. There has been a decrease in the minimum services, furniture, furnishings or equipment required by section 3 since the date or order determining the maximum rent.

(4) Special relationship between landlord and tenant or peculiar circumstances. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal, or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant, or by peculiar circumstances, and as a result was substantially higher than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date.

[Subparagraph (4) amended by Am. 29, 9 F.R. 8054, effective 7-17-44]

(5) Varying rents. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a lower rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

[Subparagraph (5) amended by Am. 67, 10 F.R. 11666, effective 9-15-45]

(6) Seasonal rent. The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand, or seasonal variations in the rent, for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(7) Substantial decrease in occupancy. There has been a substantial decrease in the number of subtenants or other occupants since an order under paragraph (a) (8) or (c) (8) of this section.

(8) Rent established under section 4 (i). The maximum rent is established under section 4 (i) and is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date, taking into consideration any increased occupancy of such accommodations since that date by subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant: Provided, That no decrease shall be ordered below the rent on the maximum rent date.

(9) Modification or elimination of necessity for increase under section 5 (a) (12). There has been a modification or elimination of the necessity for the increase in the maximum rent granted under paragraph (a) (12) of this section, since the order issued under that paragraph.

[Subparagraph (9) added by Am. 32, 9 F.R. 10188, effective 9-1-44]

(d) Orders where facts are in dispute, in doubt, or not known. If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, or the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the accommodations on the date determining the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within thirty days after the effective date of regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact, or determining the services, furniture, furnishings, and equipment provided with the accommodations on the date determining the maximum rent or both. If the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact, or facts, he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations on the maximum rent date and, where appropriate, may determine the services, furniture, furnishings and equipment included in such rent.

[Subparagraph (d) amended by Am. 67]

(e) Sale of underlying lease or other rental agreement. Where huosing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the tenant may petition the Administrator for leave to exercise any right he would have except for this regulation to sell his underlying lease or other rental agreement. The Administrator may grant such petition if he finds that the sale will not result, and that sales of such character would not be likely to result, in the circumvention or evasion of the Act or this regulation. He may require that the sale be made on such terms as he deems necessary to prevent such circumvention or evasion.

(f) Interim orders. Where a petition is filed by a landlord on one of the grounds set out in paragraph (a) or (d) of this section, or a proceeding is initiated by the Administrator under paragraph (d), the Administrator may enter an interim order increasing or fixing the maximum rent until further order, subject to refund by the landlord to the tenant of any amount received in excess of the maximum rent established by final order in such proceeding. The receipt by the landlord of any rent authorized by such interim order shall constitute an agreement by the landlord with the tenant to refund to the tenant any amount received in excess of the maximum rent established by final order. The landlord shall make such refund either by repayment in cash or, where the tenant remains in occupancy after the effective date of the final order, by deduction from the next installment of rent, or both.

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 12, 8 F.R. 16032, effective 11-25-43]

(g) Adjustments in case of options to buy. No adjustment in the maximum rent shall be ordered on the ground that the landlord, since the date or order determining the maximum rent, has, as a part of or in connection with a lease of housing accommodations, granted the tenant an option to buy the accommodations which are the subject of the lease. Where a lease of housing accommodations was in force on the date determining the maximum rent, and the landlord had on that date, as a part of or in connection with such lease, granted the tenant an option to buy the accommodations which are the subject of the lease, the Administrator may, on or after the termination of such lease, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, enter an order fixing the maximum rent on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the defense-rental area for comparable housing accommodations not subject to an option to buy on the maximum rent date.

SEC. 6. Removal of tenant—(a) Restrictions on removal of tenant. So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant shall be removed from any housing accommodations, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and regardless of any contract, lease, agreement or obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into which provides for entry of judgment upon the tenant's confession for breach of the covenants thereof or which otherwise provides contrary hereto, unless:

(1) Tenant's refusal to renew lease. The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year, or if the lease was for a term of more than three months and was non-seasonal in character, for a term of not more than one year, for a rent not in excess of the maximum rent, but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement, except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this regulation; or

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 48, 10 F.R. 2401, effective 3-1-45; and Am. 67, 10 F.R. 11666, effective 9-15-45]

(2) Tenant's refusal of access to landlord. The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the housing accommodations for the purpose of inspection or of showing the accommodations to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee, or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the accommodations is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) Violating obligation of tenancy or committing nuisance. The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) Subtenants on expiration of tenant's lease. The tenant's lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination the occupants of the housing accommodations are subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, and no part of the accommodations is used by the tenant as his own dwelling; or

(5) [Revoked]

[Subparagraph (5) revoked by Am. 67, 10 F.R. 11666, effective 9-15-45]

(6) Occupancy by landlord. The landlord owned, or acquired an enforceable right to buy or the right to possession of, the housing accommodations prior to the effective date of regulation (or prior to October 20, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date, or prior to November 6, 1942 for housing accommodations within the Hastings Defense-Rental Area), and has an immediate compelling necessity to recover possession of such accommodations for use and occupancy as a dwelling for himself, or has served during the period of the war emergency in the armed forces of the United States and in good faith seeks possession for his own occupancy. If a tenant has been removed or evicted under this paragraph (a) (6) from housing accommodations, the landlord shall file a written report on a form provided therefor before renting the accommodations or any part thereof during a period of six months after such removal or eviction.

[Subparagraph (6) amended by Am. 67]

(b) Administrator's certificate—(1) Removals not inconsistent with act or regulation. No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the act or this regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof. The certificate shall authorize the pursuit of local remedies at the expiration of six months after the date of filing of the petition unless the Area Rent Director has determined that a three months' period is adequate for the purposes of the act in the particular area in issuing certificates under section 6 (b) (2), in which event the applicable period shall be three months. Within the discretion of the Area Rent Director the certificate may authorize the pursuit of local remedies for the removal or eviction of the tenant at a time less than six or three months, as the case may be, after the date of the filing of the petition if the petitioner establishes that unusual hardship would otherwise result, or that a lesser period in the particular case is consistent with the purposes of the regulation and the act.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 67, 10 F.R. 11666, effective 9-15-45]

(2) Occupancy by purchaser. A certificate shall be issued authorizing the pursuit of local remedies to remove or evict a tenant of the vendor, for occupancy by a purchaser who has acquired his rights in the housing accommodations on or after the effective date of regulation (or on or after October 20, 1942 where the effective date of regulation is prior to that date, or on or after November 6, 1942 for housing accommodations within the Hastings Defense-Rental Area), only as provided in this paragraph (b) (2).

(i) Where the Administrator finds that the payment or payments of principal made by the purchaser aggregate twenty per cent or more of the purchase price, he shall, on petition of either the vendor or purchaser issue a certificate authorizing the vendor or purchaser to pursue his remedies for removal or eviction of the tenant in accordance with the requirements of the local law. Except as herein provided and unless the Area Rent Director shall determine that a three months' period is adequate for the purposes of the act in the particular defense-rental area, the certificate shall authorize the pursuit of local remedies at the expiration of six months after the date of filing of the petition.

The payment or payments of principal may be made by the purchaser conditionally or in escrow to the end that they shall be returned to the purchaser in the event the Administrator denies a petition for a certificate.

Any payments of principal made from funds borrowed for the purpose of making such payments shall be excluded in determining whether twenty per cent of the purchase price has been paid, unless the Administrator finds that the inclusion of such payments is consistent with the purposes of this paragraph (b) (2) and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

Where property other than the housing accommodations which are the subject of the purchase is mortgaged or pledged to the vendor to secure any unpaid balance of the purchase price, the payment requirement shall be deemed satisfied if the value of such security, plus any payments of principal made from funds not borrowed for the purpose of making such principal payments, equal twenty per cent or more of the purchase price.

(ii) Where the Administrator finds (a) that equivalent accommodations are available for rent into which the tenant can move without substantial hardship or loss, or (b) that the vendor has or had a substantial necessity requiring the sale and that a reasonable sale or disposition of the accommodations could not be made without the removal or eviction of the tenant, or (c) that other special hardship would result, or (d) the purchaser has, during the period of the war emergency, served in the armed forces of the United States and requires possession of the accommodations for the adequate housing of himself and family, a certificate may be issued although less than twenty per cent of the purchase price has been paid and may authorize the vendor or purchaser to pursue his remedies for removal or eviction of the tenant at a time less than six or three months as the case may be in any particular area after the date of filing of the petition.

[Subparagraph (ii) amended by Am. 67, 10 F.R. 11666, effective 9-15-45]

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 7, 8 F.R. 12693, effective 9-16-43; Am. 25, 9 F.R. 6359, effective 6-9-44; and as otherwise noted]

(iii) The payment of twenty per cent or more of the purchase price shall not be a condition to the issuance of a certificate under this paragraph (b) (2) where the purchaser has obtained a loan to be used in purchasing the housing accommodations which is guaranteed in whole or in part by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs pursuant to the provisions of Title III of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944.

[Subparagraph (iii) added by Am. 41, 9 F.R. 14987, effective 12-27-44]

(3) Occupancy by purchaser of stock in a cooperative. (i) This paragraph (b) (3) applies to the issuance of a certificate for occupancy of housing accommodations in a structure or premises owned or leased by a cooperative corporation or association (hereinafter called "cooperative") by a purchaser of stock or other evidence of interest (hereinafter called "stock") in such cooperative who is entitled by reason of ownership of such stock to a proprietary lease of such housing accommodations. It applies only to the issuance of a certificate authorizing the pursuit of local remedies to remove or evict one who was a tenant of the housing accommodations at the time of such purchase.

(ii) Where the cooperative was organized as such or acquired its title or leasehold interest in the structure or premises on or after February 17, 1945, or the effective date of regulation, whichever is the later, or where the purchased stock originally was issued on or after that date, no certificate shall be issued, unless on such date the cooperative was in the process of organization and the Administrator finds that substantial hardship would result from the failure to issue a certificate, or unless, at the time of issuance of the certificate, stock in the cooperative has been purchased by persons who are then tenants of at least 80% of the dwelling units in the structure or premises and are entitled by reason of stock ownership to proprietary leases of dwelling units in the structure or premises.

(iii) Where the cooperative was organized and acquired its title or leasehold interest in the structure or premises before February 17, 1945, or the effective date of regulation, whichever is the later, and on that date stock in the cooperative allocated to more than 50% of the dwelling units in the structure or premises was held by the cooperative, or by another person owning more shares than those allocated to a single dwelling unit, or both, no certificate shall be issued for occupancy by a purchaser of stock so held or owned on such date, unless, at the time of issuance of the certificate, stock in the cooperative is owned or has been purchased by persons who are then tenants of at least 80% of the dwelling units in the structure or premises and are entitled by reason of stock ownership to proprietary leases of dwelling units in the structure or premises.

(iv) In all other cases, including those excepted from paragraph (b) (3) (ii) and (iii), the issuance of a certificate shall be pursuant to paragraph (b) (2).

[Subparagraph (3) added by Am. 47, 10 F.R. 1973, effective 2-17-45]

(c) Exceptions from section 6—(1) Subtenants. The provisions of this section do not apply to a subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant.

(2) Housing subject to rent schedule of War or Navy Department. The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

(3) One or two occupants in landlord's residence. The provisions of this section shall not apply to an occupant of a furnished room or rooms not constituting an apartment, located within the residence occupied by the landlord or his immediate family, where such landlord rents to not more than two occupants within such residence.

(4) Renting to family in landlord's residence. The provisions of this section shall not apply to a family which on or after August 1, 1943 moves into a furnished room or rooms not constituting an apartment located within the residence occupied by the landlord or his immediate family, where such landlord does not rent to any persons within such residence other than those in the one family.

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 3, 8 F.R. 10618, effective 8-1-43]

(d) Notices required—(1). Notices prior to action to remove tenant. Every notice to a tenant to vacate or surrender possession of housing accommodations shall state the ground under this section upon which the landlord relies for removal or eviction of the tenant. A written copy of such notice shall be given to the area rent office within 24 hours after the notice is given to the tenant.

No tenant shall be removed or evicted from housing accommodations by court process or otherwise, unless at least ten days (or, where the ground for removal or eviction is non-payment of rent, the period required by the local law for notice prior to the commencement of an action for removal or eviction in such cases, but in no event less than three days) prior to the time specified for surrender of possession and to the commencement of any action for removal or eviction, the landlord has given written notices of the proposed removal or eviction to the tenant and to the area rent office, stating the ground under this section upon which such removal or eviction is sought and specifying the time when the tenant is required to surrender possession: Provided, however, That the requirement of this sentence shall not apply to housing accommodations within the City of Baltimore, Maryland, the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area, or the Trenton Defense-Rental Area, when the ground for the removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent.

Where the ground for removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent, every notice under this paragraph (d) (1) shall state the rent for the housing accommodations, the amount of rent due and the rental period or periods for which such rent is due. The provisions of this paragraph (d) (1) shall not apply where a certificate has been issued by the Administrator pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) Notices at time of commencing action to remove tenant. At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant, including an action based upon non-payment of rent, the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the area rent office stating the title of the case, the number of the case where that is possible, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant, and the ground under this section on which removal or eviction is sought.

(e) Local law. No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

SEC. 7. Registration—(a) Registration statement. On or before the date specified in Schedule A of this regulation, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in triplicate a written statement on the form provided therefor to be known as a registration statement. The statement shall identify each dwelling unit and specify the maximum rent provided by this regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain such other information as the Administrator shall require. The original shall remain on file with the Administrator and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord. In any subsequent change of tenancy the landlord shall exhibit to the new tenant his stamped copy of the registration statement, and shall obtain the tenant's signature and the date thereof, on the back of such statement. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a notice on the form provided therefor, on which he shall obtain the tenant's signature, stating that there has been a change in tenancy, that the stamped copy of the registration statement has been exhibited to the new tenant and that the rent for such accommodations is in conformity therewith.

When the maximum rent is changed by order of the Administrator, the landlord shall deliver his stamped copy of the registration statement to the area rent office for appropriate action reflecting such change.

Where, since the filing of the registration statement but prior to May 5, 1945, there has been a change in the identity of the landlord, by transfer of title or otherwise, the present landlord, on or before May 31, 1945, shall file a notice of such change on a form provided for that purpose, to be known as a notice of change in identity. Where such change occurs on or after May 5, 1945, or the effective date of regulation, whichever is the later, the new landlord shall file such notice within thirty days after the change: Provided, That this sentence shall not apply where a petition has been filed under section 6 (b) (2) seeking a certificate for occupancy by the new landlord. If the new landlord indicates on the notice of change in identity that he has not obtained the landlord's copy of the original registration statement, the Administrator shall cause to be prepared and delivered to him a true copy of said original, which may be used to satisfy all requirements of this paragraph (a).

[Above paragraph added by Am. 56, 10 F.R. 5089, effective 5-5-45; amended by Am. 67, 10 F.R. 11666, effective 9-15-45]

Any notice, order or other process or paper directed to the person named on the registration statement as the landlord at the address given thereon, or, where a notice of change in identity has been filed, to the person named as landlord and at the address given in the most recent such notice, shall, under the circumstances prescribed in Revised Procedural Regulation No. 3, constitute notice to the person who is then the landlord.

[Above paragraph added by Am. 56]

(b) Receipt for amount paid. No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

(c) Exceptions from registration requirements—(1) Housing under section 4 (g). The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations under section 4 (g). The owner of such housing accommodations shall file a schedule or schedules, setting out the maximum rents for all such accommodations in the Defense-Rental Area and containing such other information as the Administrator shall require. A copy of such schedule or schedules shall be posted by the owner in a place where it will be available for inspection by the tenants of such housing accommodations.

(2) Housing subject to rent schedule of War or Navy Department. The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including any civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

(3) Housing in Cincinnati Defense-Rental Area. The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations in the Cincinnati Defense-Rental Area so long as the maximum rent for such accommodations is established solely under paragraph (a) or (b) of section 4: Provided, however, That no payment of rent need be made by any tenant of such accommodations unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

(d) Housing in Puerto Rico Defense-Rental Area. The provisions of this section 7 (d) shall be substituted for the provisions of section 7 (a) for housing accommodations in the Puerto Rico Defense-Rental Area.

On or before the date specified in Schedule A of this regulation, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in the area rent office a form provided by the area rent office for this purpose. The form shall identify each dwelling unit and shall specify the maximum rent provided by this regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain such other information as the Administrator shall require.

(1) Notice of maximum rent. The landlord shall prepare the form known as "Notice of Maximum Rent" if the maximum rent for the dwelling unit is determined under paragraph (a) of section 4. The landlord shall prepare the notice in duplicate and shall send one copy to the tenant and one copy to the area rent office.

(2) Registration statement. The landlord shall prepare the form known as "Registration Statement" if the maximum rent for the dwelling unit is determined under any paragraph of section 4 other than paragraph (a), (g), or (h). The landlord shall prepare the Registration Statement in triplicate and shall send the three copies to the area rent office. The Administrator shall retain one copy on file, and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord.

(3) Change in tenancy. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a form provided by the area rent office for this purpose. The landlord shall state the maximum rent for the dwelling unit, and he shall obtain the new tenant's signature on this form.

(4) Where, since the filing of the notice of maximum rent or the registration statement but prior to June 1, 1945, there has been a change in the identity of the landlord, by transfer of title or otherwise, the present landlord, on or before June 25, 1945 shall file a notice of such change on a form provided for that purpose, to be known as a notice of change in identity. Where such change occurs on or after June 1, 1945 the new landlord shall file such notice within thirty days after the change: Provided, That this sentence shall not apply where a petition has been filed under section 6 (b) (2) seeking a certificate for occupancy by the new landlord. If the new landlord indicates on the notice of change in identity that he has not obtained the landlord's copy of the original registration statement, the Administrator shall cause to be prepared and delivered to him a true copy of said original, which may be used to satisfy all requirements of this paragraph.

Any notice, order or other process or paper directed to the person named on the registration statement or on the notice of maximum rent as the landlord at the address given thereon, or, where a notice of change in identity has been filed, to the person named as landlord and at the address given in the most recent such notice, shall, under the circumstances prescribed in Revised Procedural Regulation No. 3, constitute notice to the person who is then the landlord.

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 59, 10 F.R. 6074, effective 6-1-45]

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 206, effective 2-1-44]

(e) Housing in the Malvern, Arkansas Defense-Rental Area. The first three sentences of section 7 (a) shall not apply to housing accommodations in the Malvern, Arkansas Defense-Rental Area for which a registration statement was filed between October 1, 1942 and November 30, 1943, inclusive, except where the maximum rent established under this regulation is different than the maximum rent which was in effect on November 30, 1943.

(f) On or before April 15, 1945, in the Matagorda Bay Defense-Rental Area, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file a registration statement in addition to the statement required by paragraph (a) of this section, or he shall file his copy of the original registration statement. Where the landlord files his copy of the original registration statement, the Administrator shall duplicate such copy for his files and shall return the original copy to the landlord.

[Paragraph (f) added by Am. 50, 10 F.R. 2685, 2973, effective 3-10-45]

SEC. 9. Evasion—(a) General. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this regulation shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of housing accommodations, by way of absolute or conditional sale, sale with purchase money or other form of mortgage, or sale with option to repurchase or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges or by modification of the services furnished with housing accommodations, or by tying agreement, or otherwise.

(b) Purchase of property as condition of renting. Specifically, but without limitation on the foregoing, no person shall require a tenant or prospective tenant to purchase or agree to purchase furniture or any other property as a condition of renting housing accommodations unless the prior written consent of the Administrator is obtained.

PART 1410—WOOL

WOOLEN AND WORSTED CIVILIAN APPAREL FABRICS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 163 is amended in the following respect:

In § 1410.102 (d), subparagraph (3) is added to read as follows:

(3) Redetermination of ratio. (i) If since 1941 any manufacturer has "changed his method of operation" he may have the option to calculate his 1941 ratio as follows:

He may increase his 1941 ratio by one-half of the amount by which his ratio, computed as though subparagraph (2) permitted him to use as his weighted average manufacturing cost the cost which would have been incurred has the "changed method of operation" been in effect in 1941, exceeds his ratio computed in accordance with subparagraph (2) above. No manufacturer may avail himself of this subparagraph (3) unless the foregoing would result in a net increase of at least one percentage point in the ratio to be used by him. "Changed his method of operation" means, in the case of worsted manufacturers, a change from the use of purchased yarn as the basic raw material to purchased top or to purchased raw wool, or a change from the use of purchased top to purchased raw wool, and in the case of woolen manufacturers, a change from the use of purchased yarn to purchased raw wool or other wool stock.

(ii) A manufacturer may avail himself of this subparagraph (3) only so long as the changed method of operation continues to exist.

(iii) Within 10 days after a manufacturer has redetermined his maximum price for a new fabric pursuant to this subparagraph (3), he shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. a revised report on Form No. 666-553b furnished by the Office of Price Administration, substituting the weighted average manufacturing cost calculated in accordance with this subparagraph (3) for that cost computed pursuant to subparagraph (2) above, in item No. 17 of the Form. The word "Revised" shall be written across the top of the form.

This amendment shall become effective November 5, 1945.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 30th day of October 1945.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Gen. RO 5,[1] Amdt. 121]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

General Ration Order 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1.1 (b) is amended by changing the parenthetical sentences to read as follows: "(For example, if sugar is used in a bakery to bake pies which it sells to consumers, such use is an industrial use since the bakery does not "serve" the pies. If at the same place, pie is served to consumers who eat there, the use of rationed foods to make such pie is an institutional use.)"

2. Section 1.4 is revoked.

3. Section 3.1 (d) is amended by deleting the parenthetical sentence at the end thereof.

4. Section 3.2 is revoked.

5. Section 3.3 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 3.3 Opening inventory of sugar. (a) At the time of an institutional user's registration, the amount of sugar, as of February 28, 1943 which the board or boards with which he was registered for sugar would have been required to deduct from certificates issued for his future institutional user allotments or allowances under Ration Order 3, was his "opening inventory of sugar." If the institutional user was previously registered at a board or boards other than the one with which he was registered under this order, he was required to notify the latter board or boards of the board or boards with which he was registered and of his opening inventory of sugar at each of those boards.

(b) If an institutional user has establishments in more than one group, their opening inventory of sugar may be divided among the groups as he chooses. If he has more than one establishment in a group, and registers them separately, his opening inventory of sugar may be divided among them, as he chooses.

(c) An institutional user who registered on OPA Form R-310, as both an industrial and an institutional user of sugar, may divide his opening inventory of sugar between these uses in proportion to his use of sugar in each.

6. Section 3.4 is amended by changing "Board" to "District Office."

7. Section 3.5 is revoked.

8. Section 3.6 (c) and section 3.6 (d) are revoked.

9. Section 3.8 and section 3.9 are revoked.

10. Section 4.2 (b) is revoked.

11. Section 5.3 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5.3 Institutional users must apply for allotments. (a) An institutional user must apply for an allotment for each period for which he needs one. (An institutional user may use rationed foods only up to the amounts of the allotments he gets. His allotment establishes his right to use rationed foods—it is not just a method by which he gets those foods. Therefore, he may need an allotment even if his stocks on hand are adequate.)

(b) Applications for allotments, beginning with November 1, 1945, are to be made to the District Office, in person or by mail, during the first fifteen (15) days of each allotment period, on OPA Form R-1309 (Revised). The District Office shall issue allotments on and after the sixteenth day of the allotment period. (Applications for supplemental allotments may, however, be made at the times and under the conditions specified in Article II.)

(c) The District Office may, in its discretion, permit an application for an allotment to be made later than the time fixed in the last paragraph. In such case, it shall reduce the allotment by an amount corresponding to the part of the allotment period which has elapsed at the time of the application, except in cases where a petition for permission to file on a later date is granted in accordance with the next paragraph.

(d) An institutional user may apply, in writing, to the District Office for permission to file applications for allotments later than the time fixed in paragraph (b) if, because of the nature of his operations, he is unable to secure the information which he needs for those applications in time to file them within the period permitted in paragraph (b). His application must state the address of each establishment and the reason why he cannot secure such information within the required time. If the District Office is satisfied that the nature of his operations is such that he cannot reasonably compile the information required on his application for allotments within the first fifteen (15) days of an allotment period, it may extend his time for filing for such period of time as it finds necessary but not beyond the first thirty (30) days of the allotment period. (An institutional user who obtained permission from the Board to file later than the time fixed in paragraph (b), need not reapply for such permission under this section, as amended.)

12. Sections 5.4 (a) and (b) are amended by changing the word "Board" to "District Office" wherever it appears in those sections.

13. Section 7.1 (f) is amended to read as follows:

(f) The amount of sugar used is figured in pounds. The amount of foods covered by Revised Ration Order 16 is figured in points, and their point value is to be computed in the same way as the opening inventory of those foods is computed in section 3.6 (b).
